INTRODUCTION.

This new English Edition of the Liber Usualis gives a brief summary of the Rules for the proper execution and interpretation of the Vatican Edition of the Roman Chant, according to the Solesmes Method.

The Vatican Edition contains the Official Musical Text. To ensure uniformity in the rendering of the Chant of the Church, ecclesiastical legislation provides that this musical text may be used "with the addition of the Solesmes Rhythmic signs", as an aid.

The use of these signs is officially authorised by the Congregation of Rites. Musicians, generally, have long since experienced the wisdom and even the necessity of this official sanction to the Solesmes Method as the sure means to secure a desired and uniform system of interpretation.

As in all Art-forms, so in Plainsong, rules are the outcome of a wide practical experience, insight and research. The Rules presented here have been worked out and co-ordinated by the Benedictine monks of the Solesmes Congregation. Based as they are on the ancient Manuscript Records, which have been thoroughly examined in their application to the Vatican text, those Rules have for some fifty years proved their efficacy as a convincing guide to the proper unified execution of the Gregorian melodies in the daily carrying out of the Liturgy by the monks of Solesmes themselves.

Our Holy Father, Pope PIUS XI, in an autograph letter to His Eminence Cardinal Dubois, on the occasion of the Founding of the Gregorian Institute, at Paris, in 1924, writes: "We commend you no less warmly for having secured the services of these same Solesmes monks to teach in the Paris Institute; since, on account of their perfect mastery of the subject, they interpret Gregorian music with a finished perfection which leaves nothing to be desired".

With this quotation of an august commendation, the present Edition is now offered by the Solesmes monks, that the Roman Chant may be a profitable instrument "capable of raising the mind to God, and better fitted than any other to foster the piety of the Nations".

This Edition with complete musical notation includes the following:

1. The Kyriale with Cantus ad libitum.
2. The Mass of the Sundays and Feasts including those of double rank throughout the year, with Vespers and Compline for the same.
3. Prime, Terce, Sext, None, for Sundays and Feasts of the First and Second Class.
4. Matins of Christmas, Easter, Pentecost, Corpus Christi; Lauds for Feasts of the First Class.
5. The Litanies: the Mass of Rogation Days, Ember Days, Easter and Whitsun weeks; the Vigils of Christmas, Epiphany and Whitsun.
6. The services of Ash Wednesday, the Triduum of Holy Week and Easter Day.
7. The principal Votive Masses and the Offices for the Dead.

In the beginning of the book will be found the Common Tones of the Mass and Office. Chants for special occasions, e. g. the Blessing of the Holy Oils, Ordinations, etc, are included in the Appendix.

A practical feature of this work should be noticed and will, it is hoped, be much appreciated: all the Vesper Psalms are set out with the various Tones to which they are sung (see pp. 128-218). The Intonation, Flex and Cadences are clearly marked for each Psalm. This has not been done for Lauds and the Hours, since these are generally sung by more experienced Choirs.

A small number of Chants for Benediction has been added; the scope of this manual does not allow of a larger number than those in current use. Where greater variety is needed, recourse may be had to special publications and Benediction Manuals already in existence.

The sources of this Compendium are the Missal, the Ritual, the Gradual and the Antiphony. Recent decisions of the Congregation of Rites have been taken into account. Pieces which have not yet appeared in the Vatican Edition are taken from the approved publications of the Benedictines of Solesmes.

PREFACE TO THE VATICAN EDITION

OF THE ROMAN CHANT.

The place of honour in this Solesmes Edition of the Vatican Official text is given to the Vatican Preface. Its wise counsels and general Principles of interpretation are embodied, elucidated and enlarged upon in the Rules given further on.

Holy Mother the Church has received from God the charge of training the souls of the faithful in all holiness, and for this noble end has ever made a happy use of the help of the sacred Liturgy. Wherein — in order that men's minds may not be sundered by differences, but that, on the contrary, the unity which gives vigour and beauty to the mystical body of Christ might flourish unimpaired — she has been zealous to keep the traditions of our forefathers, ever trying diligently to discover and boldly to restore any which might have been forgotten in the course of the ages.

Now among those things which most nearly touch the sacred Liturgy, being as it were interwoven therein and giving it splendour and impressiveness, the first place must be assigned to the Sacred Chant. We have, indeed, all learnt from experience that it gives a certain breadth to divine worship and uplifts the mind in wondrous wise to heavenly things. Wherefore the Church has never ceased to recommend the use of the Chant, and has striven with the greatest assiduity and diligence to prevent its decline from its pristine dignity.

To this end liturgical music must possess those characteristics which make it preeminently sacred and adapted to the good of souls. It must surely emphasise above all else the dignity of divine worship, and at the same time be able to express pleasantly and truly the sentiments of the christian soul. It must also be catholic, answering to the needs of every people, country and age, and combine simplicity with artistic perfection.

All these characteristics, however, are nowhere to be found in a higher degree than in Gregorian Chant — the special Chant of the Roman Church, who has received it alone by inheritance from the Fathers, has kept it carefully throughout the ages in her records, and commends it to the faithful as her own, ordering its exclusive use in certain parts of the Liturgy. (Motu Proprio. Nov. 22. 1903. n. 3.)

Certainly in the course of time the Gregorian Chant incurred no small loss of purity. This was chiefly because the special rules of the Chant, as traditionally received from the Fathers, were either negligently overlooked or allowed to be altogether forgotten. Hence arose an evident decline in the spirit which is spoken of as "liturgical", and the "spirit of prayer", while at the same time the beauty and grace of the sacred melodies, if they did not wholly disappear, were certainly affected for the worse.

But the Sovereign Pontiff, Pius X. — may his enterprise be crowned with good fortune and success! — emulating herein the zealous endeavours of his predecessors, determined and took measures to prevent any further decadence in the Gregorian Chant. Wherefore, in his Motu Proprio, issued on November 22nd, 1903, he accurately and clearly laid down the principles (surely the first step of reform) whereon the ecclesiastical Chant is based and whereby it is controlled; he gathered together at the same time the principal regulations of the Church against the various abuses which had crept into the Chant in the course of time. And then appeared the Decree of the Congregation of Sacred Rites, issued on January 8th, 1904, wherein clearer directions were given for the restoration of the Gregorian Chant.

x. Preface to the Vatican Edition of the Roman Chant.

Nevertheless it remained for the Roman Church and the other Churches which follow her Rite, to provide themselves with books containing the true melodies of the Gregorian Chant. His Holiness, Pius X, had this in view when, in his Motu Proprio, promulgated on April 25th, 1904, he declared: the Gregorian melodies were to be restored in their integrity and identity, after the authority of the earliest manuscripts, taking account of the legitimate tradition of past ages, as well as of the actual use of the Liturgy of to-day.

Guided by these rules and standards, those who had taken the task in hand at the bidding of the Pope set to work to revise the books then in use. The first thing they had to do was to undertake a thorough and well considered examination of the primitive manuscripts. This procedure was clearly a wise one; for documents of this kind are not merely to be esteemed on account of their antiquity, which unites them so closely to the beginnings of the Gregorian Chant, but chiefly because they were written in the very ages in which the Chant was most flourishing. For although the more remote the origin of the melodies and the longer they have been in use amongst the ancients, the more worthy they might be of finding a place in the new edition which was in hand, nevertheless, what gives them the right of being included is their religious and artistic flavour, and their power of giving suitable expression to liturgical prayer.

Therefore, in studying the manuscripts, this was the primary object which was kept in view: not indeed to admit off-hand, on the sole ground of antiquity, whatever happened to be most ancient, but, since the restoration of the ecclesiastical Chant had to depend not only on paleographical considerations, but also was to draw upon history, musical and Gregorian art, and even upon experience and upon the rules of the sacred liturgy, it was necessary to have regard to all of these things at the same time; lest a piece, composed perhaps with the learning of antiquity, should fall short in some of the other conditions, and do injury to Catholic tradition by depriving many centuries of the right of contributing something good, or even better than itself, to the patrimony of the Church. For it is by no means to be admitted that what we call the Gregorian tradition may be confined within the space of a few years; but it embraces all those centuries which cultivated the art of the Gregorian Chant with more or less zeal and proficiency. The Church, says the Holy Father in the Motu Proprio already mentioned, has cultivated and fostered the progress of the arts unceasingly, allowing for the use of religion all things good and beautiful discovered by man in the course of the ages, provided that liturgical rules be observed.

The work of the present edition has been carried out in accordance with these wise directions delivered by Our Most Holy Lord Pope Pius X.

The Church certainly gives freedom to all the learned to settle the age and condition of the Gregorian melodies, and to pass judgment upon their artistic skill. She only reserves to herself one right, to wit, that of supplying and prescribing to the Bishops and the faithful such a text of the sacred Chant as may contribute to the fitting splendour of divine worship and to the edification of souls, after being restored according to the traditional records.

Enough has already been said above to show how solidly based was the work so wisely undertaken of restoring the ancient and legitimate melodies of the Church to their integrity. But for the convenience of those who will be using the choir books edited in accordance with what has already been laid down, it is well to add here a few remarks about the proper notes and figures of the Gregorian Chant as well as about the right way of interpreting them.

For the proper execution of the Chant, the manner of forming the notes and of linking them together, established by our forefathers and in constant and universal use in the Middle Ages, is of great importance and is recommended still as the norm for modern Editors. The following tables give the principal forms of these notes or neums along with their names :

Punctum	Virga	Bivirga	Punctum inclinatum (Diamond)

Podatus or Pes	Clivis or Flexa	Epiphonus	Cephalicus

Scandicus	Salicus	Climacus	Ancus

Torculus	Porrectus	Torculus resupinus	Porrectus flexus

Pes subpunctis	Scandicus subpunctis	Scandicus flexus	Climacus resupinus

Strophicus	Pes strophicus	Clivis strophica or Clivis with an Oriscus	Torculus strophicus or Torculus with an Oriscus

Pressus	Other Pressus or apposed neums		Trigon

Quilisma		Longer or compound Neums

To avoid all error and doubt in the interpretation of the above notation, the following observations are to be noted :

1. Of the two notes of the Podatus, the lower one must be sung before the upper note immediately above it.

xij. Preface to the Vatican Edition of the Roman Chant.

2. The heavy slanting line of the Porrectus stands for the two notes which it links together, so that the first note is given at the top of the line and the lower note at the lower end of the line :

3. The half-note, which terminates the Cephalicus and the Epiphonus, only occurs at the end of a syllable when the next syllable leads on to the combination of two vowels like a diphthong. as e. g... AUTem, EMus, alleLUNA : or to the juxtaposition of several consonants, e. g. OMnis, SANctus. For in such cases the nature of the syllables obliges the voice, in passing from one to the other, to flow or become "liquescent", so that, being confined in the mouth, it does not seem to end, but to lose half its force rather than its duration. (Cf. Guido. Microl. Cf. XV.)

When, however, the nature of the syllables requires a sound which is not liquescent but emitted in full, the Epiphonus becomes a Podatus, the Cephalicus a Clivis :

It sometimes happens that two notes follow another higher note or Virga in the manner of a Climacus; they may then be liquescent, at any rate the last of them. In this case they are represented by two diamond shaped notes of smaller size ♪, ♫, or they are changed into a Cephalicus following below the Virga. This kind of neum, which is akin to the Climacus, is called an Ancus.

4. When several simple notes as in the Strophicus or the Pressus or the like are in apposition, that is to say, so written on the same line as to be near one another, they must be sustained for a length of time in proportion to their number. There is, however, this difference between the Strophicus and the Pressus, that the latter should be sung with more intensity, or even, if it be preferred, tremolo; the former more softly, unless the tonic accent of the corresponding syllable require a stronger impulse.

5. There is another kind of tremolo note, i. e., the Quilisma, which appears in the chant like a "melodic blossom". It is called "nota volubilis" and "gradata", a note with a trill and gradually ascending. If one has not learnt how to execute these tremolo or shaken notes, or, knowing how to render them, has nevertheless to sing with others, he should merely strike the preceding note with a sharper impulse so as to refine the sound of the Quilisma rather than quicken it.

6. The tailed note which marks the top of the Climacus, Clivis and Porrectus, is a distinguishing characteristic of these neumatic forms as they have been handed down by our forefathers. This particular note often receives a stronger impulse, not because it is tailed, but because it is not joined to any preceding note, and therefore it gets a direct vocal impulse. The little line which

xiv. Preface to the Vatican Edition of the Roman Chant.

3. A brief pause or small division indicates a short sustaining of the voice, and permits, if necessary, the taking of a very short breath. Should the singer require to take breath at more frequent intervals, he may snatch one wherever the words or music allow an interstice, but he must never make any break in the words or neums themselves.

4. A double line closes either a piece of the Chant or one of its principal parts.

In books of Chant another rôle is also assigned to this double line : for it is used in addition to mark the place where, after the beginning, the whole choir takes up the singing, or where the chanting alternates and changes sides. But since this sort of sign incorporated in the midst of the musical text often does injury to the coherence of the Chant, it has been thought more fitting to replace it with an asterisk *, as may be seen in the above example of the Kyrie eleison.

There, and in similar places, a single asterisk will be found, to show that one side of the choir is to be followed by the other side singing alone; but a double asterisk  will be seen where the full choir ought to take up the Chant, so as to end, as is right, with the combined voices of the whole choir.

It is to be noted that B-flat, when it occurs, only holds good as far as the next natural (♮), or dividing line, or new word.

When these points have been thoroughly understood, those who take part in divine worship should also learn all the rules of the Chant and be diligent in their observance, but in such a way that their mind is ever in accord with their voice.

First of all, care should be taken that the words to be sung are clearly and thoroughly understood. (Benedict XIV). For the Chant ought not to weaken but to improve the sense of the words. (St Bernard. Ep. 312).

In all texts, whether of lessons, psalmody or chants, the accent and rhythm of the word are to be observed as far as possible, for thus it is, that the meaning of the text is best brought out. (Instituta Patrum.)

Moreover, great care must be taken not to spoil the sacred melodies by unevenness in the singing. No neum or note should ever be unduly shortened or prolonged. The singing must be uniform, and the singers should listen to one another, making their pauses well together. When the musical movement is slower, the pause must be lengthened. In order that all the voices may be one, which is most essential, each singer should attempt in all modesty to allow his own voice to become merged in the volume of sound of the choir as a whole. Neither are those to be imitated who hurry the Chant thoughtlessly or who drag out the syllables heavily. But every melody, whether it be sung slowly or quickly, must be executed with fluency, roundness and in a melodious manner. (Hucbald. Nicetas. Instit. Patrum.)

The above rules have been drawn from the holy Fathers, some of whom learnt this way of singing from the Angels, while others received it from the teaching of the Holy Spirit speaking to their hearts in contemplation. If we set ourselves to practice these principles with diligence, we too shall appreciate the subtle charm of the Chant, singing to God in our heart and spirit and mind. (Instituta Patrum.)

Moreover, those whose duty it is to sing in the Church of God must also be well instructed in the rubrics of their office. Wherefore the principal rules with reference to the Gradual are given below.

RUBRICS FOR THE CHANT OF THE MASS.

I. When the priest goes towards the altar, the cantors begin the Introit. On Ferias and Simples the Intonation is to be sung by one cantor as far as the sign * : on other Feasts and Sundays, there should be two cantors : but on Solemn Feasts there should be four, if as many as four are available. The choir continues until the Psalm. The first part of the Verse of the Psalm as far as the asterisk, and the Ÿ. Gloria Patri, are sung by the cantors, the full choir taking up the rest of the verse. Afterwards, the Introit as far as the Psalm is repeated by the full choir.

If the priest and ministers have some way to go in the church before reaching the altar, there is no reason why several Verses of the Introit Psalm should not be sung after the Antiphon and Verse. In that case the Antiphon may be repeated after every Verse or two Verses. When the priest reaches the altar, the Psalm is if necessary interrupted at the end of a Verse, Gloria Patri is sung, and finally the Antiphon.

II. When the Antiphon is over, the choir sings the Kyrie eleison thrice, the Christe eleison thrice, and again the Kyrie eleison thrice, alternately with the cantors, or with the other half of the choir. But the last Kyrie eleison is divided into two or three parts, marked by a single or double asterisk. If there be only two parts, and hence only a single asterisk, the first part is sung by the cantors or by the first half of the choir, the second part by the full choir. If there are three parts, the first being marked by the simple asterisk, and the second by the double one, then, the first part is sung by the same side as in the former case : but the second part, which repeats the melody of the first part, is sung by the other half of the choir : and the third part is by both sides together. Sometimes there are even five parts : then the manner of dividing the alternations in the chanting is marked by the single or double dividing sign being several times inserted ; what has been said above sufficiently explains the execution.

III. The priest alone in a clear voice gives the Intonation of the Gloria in excelsis Deo, and then Et in terra pax hominibus, etc., is continued by the choir divided into two parts, which answer each other, or else the full choir sings in alternation with the prechantors. Then follows the response of the choir to the Dominus vobiscum.

IV. After the Epistle or Lesson one or two cantors give the Intonation of the Responsory, which is called the Gradual, as far as the sign *, and all, or at any rate the cantors chosen, conclude the chant with due care. Two sing the Verse of the Gradual, and, after the final asterisk, the full choir finishes it ; or else, if the responsorial method is preferred, the full choir repeats the first part of the Responsory after the Verse is finished by the cantors or cantor.

If Alleluia, Alleluia is to be said with the Verse, the first Alleluia is sung by one or two voices as far as the asterisk * : and then the choir repeats the Alleluia, continuing with the neum or jubilus which prolongs the syllable a. The cantors next sing the Verse, which is finished by the full choir, as before, beginning at the asterisk. When the Verse is finished, the cantor or cantors repeat the Alleluia, and the full choir sings only the closing neum.

After Septuagesima, the Alleluia and the following Verse are left out, and the Tract is sung, its Versicles being chanted alternately by the two sides of the choir answering each other, or else by the cantors and the full choir.

In Paschal Time, the Gradual is omitted and in its place the Alleluia, Alleluia is sung with its Verse as above. Then one Alleluia immediately follows, which must be begun by one or two cantors until the neum is reached, when it is not repeated, but finished by the full choir. The Verse and one Alleluia are sung at the end, in the manner above described.

xvj. Preface to the Vatican Edition of the Roman Chant.

The Sequences are sung alternately, either by the cantors and the choir, and or else by the alternate sides of the choir.

V. When the Gospel is finished, the priest gives the Intonation of the Credo (if it is to be sung), the choir continuing with the Patrem omnipotentem, the rest, according to custom, being sung either in full choir or alternately.

VI. The Offertory is begun by one, two or four cantors, in the same way as the Introit, and is finished by the full choir.

After the Offertory Antiphon the choir may sing to the ancient Gregorian chants those Verses which it was once customary to sing at this place.

If the Offertory Antiphon is taken from a Psalm, other Verses of the same Psalm may be sung. In that case the Antiphon may be repeated after every Verse or two Verses. When the Offertory is over, the Psalm ends with Gloria Patri, and the Antiphon is repeated.

If the Antiphon is not taken from a Psalm, some Psalm suitable to the feast may be chosen. After the Offertory Antiphon some other Latin piece may be sung suitable for this part of the Mass; which, however, must not be prolonged after the Secret.

VII. When the Preface is finished, the choir goes on with Sanctus and Benedictus. If these are sung to Gregorian chant they must be given without a break; if not, Benedictus may follow the Consecration. During the Consecration all singing must cease, and (even if there is a custom to the contrary) the organ or other instrument is silent. It is preferable that there should be silence from the Consecration until Pater noster.

VIII. After the Response at the Pax Domini, the Agnus Dei is sung thrice: either by the full choir, the Intonation being given by one, two or four cantors each time: or alternately, but in such a way as to have the Dona nobis pacem, or the word sempiternam in the Mass of the Dead, sung by the full choir.

After the Communion, the full choir sings the Antiphon which is thus named, the Intonation being sung by one, two or four cantors as in the case of the Introit.

The Communion Antiphon is sung while the priest is consuming the Blessed Sacrament. When there are other communicants, the Antiphon is begun when the priest distributes Communion. If the Antiphon is taken from a Psalm, other Verses of the same Psalm may be sung. In that case the Antiphon may be repeated after every Verse or two Verses; and when the Communion is ended Gloria Patri followed by the Antiphon is sung.

If the Antiphon is not taken from a Psalm, some Psalm suitable to the feast and to this part of the Mass may be chosen.

After the Communion Antiphon, especially if the Communion takes a long time, some other Latin piece suitable to the occasion may be sung.

IX. The priest or the deacon sings the Ite Missa est, or the Benedicamus Domino, and the choir answers with the Deo gratias in the same tone.

In the Mass of the Dead, the choir answers Amen to the Requiescant in pace.

X. It is possible that for a good reason some piece assigned to cantors or choir cannot be sung as noted in the liturgical books; for instance, the singers are too few, or not sufficiently skilful, or the chant or the rite is too long. In that case the only alternative allowed is that the whole piece should be recited recto tono (on one note), or sung to a Psalm tone; this may be accompanied by the organ.

RULES FOR INTERPRETATION.

There are two notations in actual use in Plainsong: the square traditional notation and its modern transcription on the five-line staff; we put them side by side.

Musical notation, to be practical, must represent both melody and rhythm. Melodic signs or notes represent the relative pitch of sounds; rhythmic signs, the length of sounds and the rhythmic movement of the melody. The only notes used in Plainsong are those of the Diatonic Scale of Doh with the sole addition of the flat.

I. — The Staff, the Clef, the Guide, the Flat.

The Staff.

In the traditional notation the Staff is of four lines only; lines and spaces are counted upwards thus:

When, as in figured music, the notes go beyond the staff, small lines (leger lines) are added, but never more than one, above or below the staff.

The Clef.

The Clef written at the beginning of the staff gives the name and place of the notes on the staff. There are two clefs in use: the Doh Clef:  marking the place of the Doh; the Fah Clef:  marking the place of the Fah.

These are simply the archaic forms of C and F. The Doh clef is placed sometimes on the second line, often on the third line and very often on the fourth line. The Fah Clef is placed, as a rule, on the third line, rarely on the fourth line (e. g.: offert. Veritas, p. 1203).

This shifting of the Clef is merely to enable melodies of different range to be written on the staff. Once the note indicated by the Clef is known, the reading of the other notes is only a matter of practice. For the fluent reading of Plainsong and the transposition of the melody at sight, the Tonic Sol-fa system is invaluable — almost indispensable — for the ordinary reader.

The Guide.

At the end of each stave line is a sign called the Guide indicating in advance the first note on the following stave. This sign is also used in the course of the same line when the extended range of the melody requires for its writing on the stave a change in the place of the Clef. Here the guide shows, in relation to the previous notation, the actual pitch of the first note after the change.

In this example the Doh following the change is sung at the same pitch as the Doh of the Guide; there is a change of Clef only, not a change of pitch. See Antiph. Cum appropinquaret, p. 584, in which a change in the position of the Clef occurs three times.

The Flat.

In the Vatican Edition the Flat holds good : a) for a whole word ; b) as far as the first bar line — even quarter-bar — which occurs after it. The Ta returns to its natural state with a new word, after any bar-line and, of course, whenever a natural (\natural) is placed before it. In a few pieces the Flat is placed near the Clef on each section of the stave ; it then makes flat every Te or B in the piece unless contradicted by a natural.

II. — The Modes, the Choice of Pitch, Bar-Lines.

For the benefit of those accustomed to modern music only, and in order to avoid any misunderstanding in the reading of Plainsong, a few remarks may here be made on the Modes, the choice of Pitch, and Bar-lines.

The Modes.

In modern music there are only two Modes or Scales in general use : the Major Scale built upon Doh, and the Minor Scale built upon Lah as the key note. The various keys in which these two Scales can be played or sung, affect only the pitch of the notes ; they remain the same Scales, only at a different pitch. A cursory glance at the Plainsong melodies, whether in the old or in the modern notation, might easily give the impression that they are in the Scale of Doh. Indeed they are read and treated as such by the ordinary singer. But this is only an optical or auricular illusion which a further glance at the tonic, or the characteristic intervals would dispel. While it is true to say that the melodies use only the material of the diatonic Scale of Doh, (with the important exception of Bb), we must not therefore conclude that they are necessarily or even frequently in the Scale or Mode of Doh. The numeral placed at the beginning of each piece would tell us otherwise. Apart altogether from the question of transposition, each note in this simple material of the scale of Doh, can become in its turn a modal tonic, provisional or final, regardless of where the semitone falls. Hence — if we also mention the difference of range and the modulations — a variety in mode or scale of which even the medieval theory of eight Modes gives an imperfect idea. In this respect the resourcefulness and variety of Plainsong far outstrip modern music. The following example in which each little formula makes us hear a different modal tonic and gives the impression of a different

Mode or Scale, illustrates, with the simple material of the Scale of Doh, this richness and variety :

The Pitch.

It must be clearly understood that in Plainsong the notation is not and was never meant to indicate the absolute but only the relative pitch of the melodic intervals. The two Clefs of Doh and Fah, and their different positions, have no other aim than to make possible or easier the writing of the melodies on the staff. Often these clefs could be interchanged, their positions could be different, as, in fact, is the case in the Manuscripts of Plainsong. It must, therefore, be well understood that the notes read on the staff are to be sung at the pitch which is within the compass of the singers, according to the size of the building, and the special character of the piece.

Bar-Lines.

It will be noticed that the bar-lines of modern music do not occur in Plainsong. This does not mean that there is no time or measure, but that there is no time or measure in the modern sense, and that there is no "strong beat" or "accent" occurring at regular intervals. Plainsong is an entirely different idiom. Its time like its rhythm is free — a free interlacing of binary and ternary groups (of course at the discretion not of the singers but of the composer) which, like the prose text which they clothe, glide along freely, in order and variety, forming periods with sections and phrases of unequal length and importance.

A. — SINGLE NOTES. — with or without rhythmic signs.

Explanation :

Column 1. In this column, the single notes without rhythmic signs have the value of a quaver in modern music. And as in modern music we usually have two or three quavers to the beat, so likewise in Plainsong, we have two or three single notes forming a compound beat or rhythmic group.

Three rhythmic signs may be added to these single notes; hence in Column 2. The vertical episema, (a) which marks the beginning of a compound beat and the rhythmic step of the movement, (see further on § VI).

Column 3. The horizontal episema which indicates a slight lengthening of the note. This stroke may also cover a whole group, but in such cases, the lengthening must not be too marked, in order to maintain the rhythmic unity of the group.

As regards the value of the lengthening, a good rule is: the oftener it occurs, the less we must mark it and vice versa. Notice also that, while the note lengthened by the horizontal episema may often be strong from its position in the melody or text, more frequently perhaps it must be weak; intensity is not inherent in any rhythmic sign.

Column 4. Here both the vertical and the horizontal episema are attached to the same note, thus indicating at once the beginning of a rhythmic group and a slight lengthening during which the voice dies away in order to mark the conclusion of a small melodic phrase.

Column 5. Here the dot doubles the note which precedes it.

IV. — Remarks on some of the above notes or groups.

1. Each note in Plainsong, whether isolated or in a group, whatever be its shape, has the same value, the value of a quaver in figured music; followed by a dot, its value is equivalent to a crochet. Evenness and regularity of the notes is the first and essential condition of a good rendering of the chant. In syllabic chant no syllable or note must break this regularity, yet here especially the light, uplifted accent of the words must give life, variety and movement to the singing. In neumatic pieces (those with groups) care must be taken to keep the exact relative value of the simple, double and triple notes. Very frequently a single note immediately preceding a long note and, still more, a single note between two long ones, is not given its full value; the same fault occurs in the case of the last note of a group leading to another group.

(a) We mention the strange names of these groups for the sake of completeness; there is nothing otherwise mysterious about them. They are sung in the ordinary way (See further, Liquescent Notes).

2. The virga is sometimes repeated; it is then called a bivirga or double virga which is represented in modern notation by a crochet or two tied quavers. For example :

3. The apostropha is never used alone; it may occur twice (distropha) or thrice (tristropha), and these again may be repeated :

The Tristropha is frequently met with in this form :

Formerly each of these two or three notes was characterised by a slight stress or impulse of the voice; in practice, we advise the joining of the notes in one sound. These double or triple notes, especially when repeated, may be sung with a slight crescendo or decrescendo according to their position in the word of the text or in the melodic line. A gentle and delicate repercussion (i. e. a fresh layer of sound) is needed at the beginning of each distropha or tristropha (cf. next example A. B. C. D.), as well as on the first note of any group which begins on the same degree as the strophicus. (Cf. examples E. F.). In the following examples the place of this repercussion is marked by the vertical episema, but usually the rule will be known.

4. The podatus: two notes, the lower of which is sung first; the higher note should be sung gently, and gracefully rounded off. If the podatus forms part of the upward movement of the melody and comes on the accented syllable of a word, its first note must receive a marked impulse.

5. Scandicus and climacus: these groups may be made up of three, four, five, or more notes. Care must be taken to have regularity in these groups, especially not to slide the descending diamond notes of the Climacus, which, notwithstanding their shape, have exactly the same value as the Virga at the beginning of the group.

6. The salicus: this group, as a rule of three notes, may also be made up of four or five notes. Not to be confused with the Scandicus, it can be recognised by the vertical episema placed under one of the notes which make up the group. The note thus marked should be emphasised and lengthened, just as in the case of the note which precedes the quilisma. (see 13):

If in an ascending group the vertical episema is placed over one of the notes it indicates a rather important ictus which should be brought out in the rendering. In the case of a group giving an interval of a fifth, the upper note whenever marked with the vertical episema should be notably lengthened:

7. The torculus: three notes, perfectly equal in length, the top one gently rounded off.

8. The porrectus: three notes, the first two of which are placed at the extremities of the thick oblique stroke:

9. The flexus, resupinus, subbipunctis, subtripunctis: for practical purposes these need not be studied; they are technical traditional names for compound groups which are rhythmically divided and sung according to the ordinary rules. (see further on § VI).

10. Liquescent notes: these are printed in smaller type but this does not affect their duration nor their execution, except in that they must be sung lightly. They occur when two vowels form a diphthong (autem, euge), or at the junction of certain consonants (Hosanna, tollis, mundi, etc.) or to introduce the semi-consonants j or i (ejus, alleluia).

11. Oriscus: a note placed at the end of a group, on the same degree, and very often at the end of a Torculus (see table of Neums); it forms a double note with the preceding one and should be treated lightly.

12. Pressus: two notes placed side by side on the same degree, the second of which is the first of a group. This may occur in two ways:

a) By a punctum being placed just before the first note of a group:

In the MSS some of these groups are not a Pressus, but Solesmes treats them as such in view of the notation of the Vatican Edition.

b) By the juxtaposition of two neums, the last note of the first being on the same degree as the first note of the second.

Podatus and Clivis 	Climacus and Clivis
Clivis and Clivis 	Scandicus and Climacus

The two notes placed side by side in the Gregorian notation combine when sung to form one note of double length; in the pressus, the ictus is placed on the first of these two notes.

13. The quilisma: this jagged note \sim is always preceded and followed by one or several notes (see examples in the table of neums); its value is the same as that of other notes, but it must always be rendered lightly. The note immediately before the quilisma should be notably lengthened, and be the most emphasised of the whole group even when preceded by a double note.

V. — Pauses, Breathing.

A single note has exactly the same value, in intensity and duration, as the syllable to which it is united. The approximate value of a syllable may be reckoned as a quaver.

Like speech, a Plainsong melody may be divided into periods, sections, and phrases, in which the last note or the last two notes of each division are lengthened. And as in speech, so here also, pauses must be in proportion to the importance of the rhythmic divisions. The ending of each division should always be softened; if a division ends with two double notes, the last should be the more notably softened, and no fresh impulse of the voice should be noticed on it.

1. The endings of short unimportant phrases do not, as a rule, allow the taking of breath; these are marked by the two episema attached to a punctum (square \blacksquare or diamond \blacklozenge), or more rarely by a dotted note ($\bullet \cdot$), sometimes followed by a quarter  or half bar. .

2. More important groups, forming small sections, are indicated in the same way; these are always followed by a quarter or half bar.

Often however, these quarter or half bars, especially in the shorter antiphons, merely indicate the rhythmic subdivision, and no breath should be taken.

3. The end of a section properly so called, which is made up as a rule of two or more phrases, is indicated by a half bar. Here it is generally necessary to take breath, yet without break in the movement; hence the dotted note before the bar must necessarily be shortened slightly — almost to half its value.

that, in this case, the Virga should be considered as the beginning of a new group :

Alle- lú- ia.

Al-le- lú- ia.

This third rule holds good only when it does not clash with rules 1 or 2.

a) Example in which rule 1 takes precedence :

In a salicus of three notes, the note marked with the vertical episema must also be lengthened as though it were marked with a horizontal episema (Cf. above : Salicus). Were it not for the difficulty of writing it, the latter would have been used instead.

b) Another example in which rule 2 prevails is the case of the Pressus or the Oriscus. Here the first of the two notes forming the double note is the place of the ictus or rhythmic step. Elsewhere it would be on the first note of the group.

In this connection it should be noticed that the following :  is not a Pressus preceded by a punctum :  but a Distropha followed by a Clivis :

As regards this last example it should be remembered that a repercussion (or fresh layer of voice) is required each time a note affected by the ictus is of the same degree as the one immediately preceding it.

Briefly then, the ictus or rhythmic step placed on the beginning of each group is dislodged by a Pressus, or Oriscus, or by the vertical episema already marked in the text.

If, in applying the three rules given above, we meet with some passages containing more than three single notes from one ictus to the next, we shall have to put in between, as a stepping stone, an ictus of subdivision. If we have four notes, this of course will give 2+2; if we have five notes we shall divide them either 2+3 or 3+2, according to what seems to be suggested by the melody of text, and to be the more natural arrangement.

In syllabic passages in which there is no vertical episema, and no long note or group appears, we shall decide for ourselves in one or other of the following ways :

rounded off like an arch, is not heavy or strongly stressed, is arsic and not thetic, we shall not be surprised to meet frequently in Plainsong accented syllables outside and independent of the ictus or rhythmic step. (a) Indeed the Plainsong masterpieces of the golden age clearly assert this independence. And this is perfectly musical, in full accord with the genius of the Latin language and the Roman pronunciation and accentuation so much desired by Pius X. To place the ictus or rhythmic step always and necessarily on the accented syllable, as modern musicians are wont to do in another idiom, would be, we maintain, to spoil the rhythm and melody, accent and words of our venerable melodies.

VII. — The basis of plainsong rhythm.

We have already defined the rhythm of Plainsong as a movement of the voice wherein it rises and falls in orderly fashion. It is a free interlacing of binary and ternary groups of notes so well balanced as to convey to, and produce in the mind a sense of order in the midst of variety. We constantly meet with this order in variety in all forms of art, indeed in nature itself. It is the mind's delight. Rhythm of every kind moves stepwise, but not necessarily with fixed mechanical regularity. All that is essential to it is proportion, balanced movement and repose, rise and fall, the due correlation and interdependence of parts producing a harmonious whole. Such is free rhythm, the rhythm of Plainsong.

The Plainsong composers — much less the interpreters — did not create this rhythm; they found it in outline, already in existence, in the Latin prose text which their music is intended to clothe and adorn. We must never lose sight of the fact that Plainsong is vocal Latin music, for this is the key to the understanding of its rhythmic and melodic structure. It has been grafted on, and has sprung out of, the natural rhythm and melody of the Latin words, phrases, sections, and periods for which it has been written.

In the Latin word the accented syllable is the vital arsic element; the final and weak penultimate syllables are soft, relatively weak, and thetic. Thus there is movement and repose, rhythm of an elementary kind in every word. Words of two syllables often intermingle with those of three syllables, thereby giving variety and interest to the rhythm of the text. e. g.

Each word is in itself a small rhythm which ends with the endings of the words. A succession of these small rhythms creates the small measure, the time from one thesis, step or ictus, to the next; the group of notes thus created forms a compound beat. v. g.

(a) The light and arsic character so essential to the Latin accent must always be brought out even when it coincides with the rhythmic ictus. When, as often happens, a single note is put on the accented syllable and a number of notes is put on the weak penultimate syllable, it is very important to round off and bring out gently the arsic character of the accent, v. g.

Rhythm : 1 2 3 1 2 3 1 2 1 2 1 2 1 2 3 1 2
 Grá-ti-as á-gi-mus tí-bi pró-pter má-gnam gló-ri-am tú-am.
 Measure : 1 2 1 2 3 1 2 1 2 1 2 1 2 3 1 2 1

Just as in 6-8 time e. g. three quavers form a beat, so in Plainsong the individual notes of the small measure — the notes from one ictus to the next — group themselves two by two or three by three and are treated like slurred notes in modern music. On the violin they would be played “in one bow”. These small measures are again stitched into and form part of the larger grouping in the general design which must never be lost sight of :

Another example with words, in which we find $\frac{2}{4}$ time :

Hence the fall or thesis of each rhythm is the beginning of each little measure or each compound beat. The interlacing of words of two and three syllables determines the corresponding interlacing of binary and ternary measures or beats. If, as often happens, we have more than three syllables in a word, groups for example of four, five, six or seven syllables, these as in music will naturally be divided into the simple elements of two and three, keeping thereby the stepwise movement of the rhythm. e. g.

 In-ef-fá-bi-lem nó-bis, Dó-mi-ne, mi-se-ri-cór-di-am tú-am cle-mén-ter o-stén-de.

Rhythm : 1 2 3 1 2 3
 Measure : 2 3 1 2 3

There is yet another element of rhythm. In reading the text, we observe (though they are not given in the MSS) the various punctuation marks and pauses which are necessary not only for the meaning of the text but also for the appreciation of the larger rhythm. The melody which is designed for the text is also divided into periods, sections, and phrases, each with its due pause and with its last note or notes lengthened and softened. These divisions, marked in all modern Editions (but not in the MSS) by the different bar lines, correspond to the natural phrasing of the text both musical and verbal, and are an indispensable condition of the wider rhythm. Again, in the verbal text there are further rhythmic subdivisions and groupings left unmarked in the text which nevertheless must be felt by the reader and intimated by tone of voice rather than by any material emphasis. Similarly, in the melodic text, there are rhythmic subdivisions and groupings which are more difficult to recognise and define. These again must be felt by the singer and intimated in the voice. In certain cases they are marked by the vertical episema in the Solesmes Editions, but marked or unmarked they must be taken account of by everybody; they are an extension of the principle at work in the introduction of bar lines. They give a foothold, balance and cohesion to the rhythm, and are implied in the natural rhythm of the words, or the rhythm of the melody, or the rhythmic indications of the manuscript.

Thus we see the principle which governs the rhythm of Plainsong. Once found in, and taken from, the Latin text, it has been applied instinctively by the Gregorian composer to the whole Gregorian art. But the composer is an artist, not a mechanic; the verbal text is the take-off of his flight. The melodic order has often suggested or imposed a rhythmic grouping independent of the words taken by themselves. The composer's artistic genius, as we see in the manuscripts, has often stressed certain notes, and in this way suggested such and such a rhythmic grouping. Because of its connection with the melodic element, the verbal rhythm has, at the same time, developed into musical rhythm with its own laws of tonality, modality and beauty, until, in the more ornate pieces, we have musical rhythm only. But this rhythm always keeps its freedom, a freedom determined on each occasion by the natural rhythm of the words, the actual elements of the melody or the indications of the Manuscripts.

VIII. — Rules for the Chanting of Psalms.

A Psalm-tone consists of the following parts : a) The Intonation. b) The Tenor, Dominant or Reciting note. c) The Cadences, the first of which is in the middle of the verse before the star, and is therefore called the Mediation; the second is at the end, and is therefore called the Final Cadence.

When the first part of the verse is very long it is subdivided by a Flex (marked by a cross †), so called because the voice bends down or drops to a lower note (flectere, to bend) which is doubled. Here, if necessary, breath may be taken, yet without break in the movement.

The simple and solemn formulae both for the Eight Tones and the Tonus Peregrinus are fully set out in this book at the beginning of each Psalm.

The Intonation is a formula at the beginning of the Psalm which connects the Antiphon with the Tenor or Dominant. It is made up of two or three notes or groups adapted to the syllables. Intonations of two notes or groups are adapted to the first two syllables of the verse; those of three notes or groups are adapted to the first three syllables. There is no exception to this rule.

In ordinary Psalmody the Intonation is used for the first verse only; the other verses begin directly on the Tenor or Reciting note. Whenever the Intonation has to be repeated for each verse — as in the Magnificat — this is always indicated.

When several Psalms or several divisions of a psalm (with Gloria Patri for each division) are chanted under the same Antiphon, the first verse of each should be intoned by the cantor as far as the Mediation. (Cf. Compline p. 264 et seq.)

The Tenor, Reciting note or Dominant includes all the notes which are sung at the same pitch from the Intonation to the Mediation and from the Mediation to the Final Cadence. Here the rules of good reading and phrasing are important, avoiding dull monotony by the delicate relief given to the accents

2. Which syllables are to be fitted to the accented notes in each Cadence? (Accent here includes not only the tonic but the secondary accent as also any syllable taking the place of the accent.)

Answer: those which are printed in heavy type.

3. Which Syllables should be fitted to the notes or groups of notes preparatory to the Accent?

Answer: those printed in Italics.

4. At what pitch should the extra note (printed hollow thus □) be sung?

Answer: its pitch is shown in the first verse of the Psalm.

An Extra note for the Accent when a Clivis occurs in the Cadence.

With a word accented on the second last syllable e. g. Redemptor, no difficulty arises, for then there is no extra note required and the Clivis is sung on the accented syllable. But with a word accented on the third last syllable, the accent is not sung on the Clivis but on an extra note placed immediately before it. This is done to preserve the smoothness of the Cadence.

A. Accent on the second last syllable.

Example :

séde a dextris mé- is in tó-to córde mé- o

B. Accent on the third last syllable.

Example :

órdinem Melchí-se-dech mágna ópe-ra Dómi-ni

But, it may be asked, how are we to recognise such Cadences and know the pitch of the extra note before the Clivis? When necessary, a Rubric forewarns us of their presence in a Psalm. They are also indicated on the staff by a bracket over the extra note and the Clivis (see example above), while in the text, the accent and the syllable sung on the Clivis are printed in heavy type.

Solemn psalmody.

The Solemn formulae for all the Tones are printed with the Magnificat (P. 207-218); they are classified in the same way as the Simple Tones. The Vatican Edition regards a Solemn Cadence of the 1st and 6th Modes as a Cadence with two accents. (a)

As we have received permission from Rome to consider it ad libitum as a Cadence with one accent and three preparatory notes, we have availed ourselves of this; thus all Cadences of the same design (i. e. leaving the Reciting note in a descending movement) can be treated in the same way. (b)

(a) This Cadence is not derived from the Simple Psalmody of the 1st Mode but from a Simple VI Mode Cadence of one accent with three preparatory notes.

(b) When we received this permission, which all may use, it was pointed out that our method was in conformity with the Decree of July 1912 on the rendering of monosyllables and Hebrew words in the Lessons, Versicles and Psalms.

Examples of Solemn Psalmody :

1.		Modes 1, 6.
2.		2, 8.
3.		4

Tonus peregrinus.

We have also permission to add a G ad libitum before B^b in the mediation of the Tonus Peregrinus. By this means the formulae becomes quite regular, leaves the Reciting note in a descending movement, and has one accent with three Preparatory syllables.

IX. — The reading and pronounciation of liturgical latin.

Plainsong being vocal and Latin music, neither its rhythm nor its melody can be rightly appreciated or sung apart from the meaning of the text, the correct pronounciation of the words, and their proper grouping into phrases. In other words, there must be good diction. No Choir should attempt to sing a melody before reading the text correctly and fluently. Nor is a knowledge of music sufficient; one must somehow understand the Latin text and its liturgical content and cultivate a kindred spirit in order to interpret aright the accompanying melody.

For good diction we must also cultivate a rhythmic sense; verbal rhythm and accent are of first-rate importance. It must always be remembered that while the accented syllable is the vigorous, life-giving, arsic element in a Latin word, the final and weak penultimate syllables are always soft, relatively weak, and thetic. Thus there is movement and repose, rise and fall — rhythm of an elementary kind — in every Latin word.

e. g. :

Pá-ter nó-ster, Dó-mi-nus, ad te

Ordinarily, in a Latin sentence, words of two syllables freely interlace with those of three syllables, and form a larger rhythm which is the charm of the well-balanced Latin prose of our great classical Collects (see § VII).

e. g. : Dó-mi-ne sán-cte, Pá-ter o-mní-pot-ens, ae-tér-ne Dé-us.

1 2 3 1 2 1 2 1 2 1 2 1 2 3 1 2

In good Latin diction — listen to a Roman Professor lecturing in Latin — the tonic accent stands out clearly, is lifted up lightly, rounded off and slightly lengthened, yet has the time-value of a single, not of a double note in music. Thus there is no flat, dull monotony which is indeed the execution (so gruesome to those listening) of many a venerable Plainsong Recitative. Good diction means good phrasing also, and the intelligent use of the Phraseological Accent. For just as the tonic accent gives cohesion and life to the word, so the phraseological accent draws together the separate words into groups, and gives a tonic prominence and influence to the important word, phrase, and pause. Thus the listeners are made to understand the text; they feel that the reader understands it also.

The correct pronunciation of Latin words, vowels and consonants is a rock of offence to many people. We are not here concerned with the delicate question of pronunciation in the Classical period, but only with the pronunciation of the living liturgical Latin of the Church. Our aim, in compliance with the wishes of his holiness Pius X, is to pronounce and speak Latin in the Roman Style so eminently suitable to Plainsong. For our purposes the vitally important element in this style is the rich, open, warm sounds of the vowels A and U. The other elements will, to be sure, receive our close attention; this one is primary and indispensable. Sing a piece of Plainsong, opening the mouth well, bringing out fully these vowel sounds; the effect is delightful, we realize immediately what a splendid difference they make. We must be careful also to give every syllable its full value, and not to slur over or clip off the weak penultimate syllable in a word. It is a common age-long fault (which has formed many words in French and Italian) to do this, and pronounce e. g. Domine as if it were Domne and dextera as if it were dextra. Very often, as if to prevent this, the early composers of Plainsong put a bunch of notes on such weak syllables, to the scandal of some moderns, who will confuse length with stress and accent.

Many have never learned the Roman pronunciation or know it imperfectly. Besides its great importance in Plainsong it makes for that uniformity which inspired the Vatican Edition itself; Unus Cultus, Unus Cantus. We therefore give a list of the correct pronunciation of the vowels and consonants to which reference can be made in case of doubt; it is advisable to peruse it from time to time.

Vowels and Diphthongs.

Each vowel has one sound; a mixture or sequence of sounds would be fatal to good Latin pronunciation; this is far more important than their exact length.

It is of course difficult to find in English the exact equivalent of the Latin vowels. The examples given here will serve as an indication; the real values can best be learned by ear.

A is pronounced as in the word Father, never as in the word can. We must be careful to get this open, warm sound, especially when A is followed by M or N as in Sanctus, Nam, etc.

E is pronounced as in Red, men, met; never with the suspicion of a second sound as in Ray.

I is pronounced as ee in Feet, never as i in milk or tin.

O is pronounced as in For, never as in go.

U is pronounced as oo in Moon, never as u in custom.

Y is pronounced and treated as the Latin I.

The pronunciation given for i, o, u, gives the approximate quality of the sounds, which may be long or short; care must be taken to bring out the accent of the word.

e. g. mártyr = márteer.

As a general rule when two vowels come together each keeps its own sound and constitutes a separate syllable.

e. g. diéi is di-é-i; fili is fi-li-i; eórum is e-ó-rum.

This applies to OU and AI :

e. g. prout is pro-oot; coutúntur = co-oo-toón-toor; áit is áh-eet.

But notice that AE and OE are pronounced as one sound, like E above,

e. g. caelum.

In Au, Eu, Ay the two vowels form one syllable but both vowels must be distinctly heard. The principle emphasis and interest belongs to the first which must be sounded purely. If on such a syllable several notes are sung, the vocalisation is entirely on the first vowel, the second being heard only on the last note at the moment of passing to the following syllable.

Examples : Lauda, Euge, Raymundus.

Rendered thus : Lá-uda

Rendered thus : E-uge

EI is similarly treated only when it occurs in the interjection :

Hei = Hei, otherwise Méi = Mé-i, etc.

U preceded by Q or NG and followed by another vowel as in words like qui and sanguis, keeps its normal sound and is uttered as one syllable with the vowel which follows : qui, quae, quod, quam, sanguis. But notice that cui forms two syllables, and is pronounced as koo-ee. In certain Hymns, on account of the metre, this word has to be treated as one syllable (Cf. Major Bethlem cui contigit. Lauds for the Epiphany).

Consonants.

The consonants must be articulated with a certain crispness; otherwise the reading becomes unintelligible, weak and nerveless.

C coming before e, ae, oe, i, y is pronounced like ch in Church.

e. g. caelum = che-loom; Cecilia = che-cheé-lee-a.

CC before the same vowels is pronounced T-ch.

e. g. ecce = et-che; siccitas = seét-chee-tas.

SC before the same vowels is pronounced like Sh in shed.

e. g. Descéndit = de-shén-deet.

Except for these cases C is always pronounced like the English K.

e. g. cáritas = káh-ree-tas.

CH is always like K (even before E or I).

e. g. Cham = Kam, máchina = má-kee-na.

G before e, ae, oe, i, y, is soft as in generous.

e. g. mági, génitor, Regina.

e. g. Gubernátor, Vigor, Ego.

GN has the softened sound given to these letters in French and Italian.

e. g. agneau, Signor, Monsignor.

The nearest English equivalent would be N followed by y.

e. g. Ah-nyoh, Regnum = Reh-nyoom; Magnificat = Mah-nyeeé-fee-caht.

H is pronounced K in the two words nihil (nee-keel) and mihi, (mee-kee) and their compounds. In ancient books these words are often written nichil and michi. In all other cases H is mute.

J often written as I, is treated as Y, forming one sound with the following vowel.

Jam = yam; alleluia = allelóoya; major = ma-yor.

R: when with another consonant, care must be taken not to omit this sound. It must be slightly rolled on the tongue v. g. Carnis.

Care must be taken not to modify the quality of the vowel in the syllable preceding the R :

e. g. Kýrie : Do not say Kear-ee-e but Kée-ree-e

Sápere : Do not say Sah-per-e but Sáh-pe-re

Diligere : Do not say Dee-lee-ger-e but Dee-lée-ge-re

S is hard as in the English word sea but is slightly softened when coming between two vowels.

e. g. misericórdia.

TI standing before a vowel and following any letter (except S, X, T.) is pronounced tsee.

e. g. PATÍENTIA = Pa-t-see-én-t-see-a.

CONSTITÚTIO = Con-stee-tú-t-see-o.

LAÉTIA = Lae-tée-t-see-a.

Otherwise the T is like the English T.

TH always simply T. Thómas, cathólicam.

X is pronounced ks, slightly softened when coming between two vowels.

e. g. exercitus.

XC before e, ae, oe, i, y = KSH.

e. g. Excélsis = ek-shél-sees.

Before others vowels XC has the ordinary hard sound of the letters composing it.

e. g. KSC excussórum = eks-coos-só-room.

Y in Latin is reckoned among the vowels and is sounded like I.

Z is pronounced dʒ. zizánia.

All the rest of the consonants B, D, F, K, L, M, N, P, Q, V are pronounced as in English.

Double Consonants must be clearly sounded

e. g. Bello = bel-lo, not the English bellow

Examples : Abbas, Joánnem, Innocens, piíssime, terra.

In the pronunciation and singing of a word the "Golden Rule" must always be kept :

"Never take breath just before a fresh syllable of a word".

Example :

ut non intré-tis in ten- ta- ti- ó- nem.

A person who is unable to sing this phrase from the quarter-bar to the end in one breath, must be careful not to breathe just before a fresh syllable (at a or b). The lesser evil would be to breathe after the long note and off its value :

in ten- ta- ti- ó- nem.

CHANGES IN THE LIBER USUALIS

As a result of the decree "Rubricae Breviarii et Missalis romani" of 25 July 1960 a number of changes have to be made in the present work.

The following pages give the substance of the decree for all that concerns these changes.

I. GENERAL RUBRICS

A) SUNDAYS.

Sundays are of I or II class.

The Sundays of the I class are :

- a) the four Sundays of Advent;
- b) the first four Sundays of Lent;
- c) the two Sundays of the Passion;
- d) Easter Day;
- e) Low Sunday;
- f) Whit Sunday (Pentecost).

Easter Day and Whit Sunday also are feasts of the I class with octave.

All other Sundays are of the II class.

Sunday's Office begins on Saturday at I Vespers and ends with Compline on Sunday.

A I class Sunday takes precedence of any feast whatever occurring on that day¹. However, when December 8 falls on Sunday the feast of the Immaculate Conception is kept that day in place of the Sunday.

A II class Sunday takes precedence of a II class feast occurring the same day.

However :

a) a feast of Our Lord of the I class — the Precious Blood on July 1 —, or of the II class — the Transfiguration, Aug. 6 —, coinciding with a II class Sunday takes the place of the Sunday, with all its rights and privileges : consequently there is no commemoration of the Sunday.

b) a II class Sunday takes precedence of the Commemoration of all the Faithful Departed (All Souls).

CONCURRENCE BETWEEN SUNDAYS AND FEASTS.

If I or II Vespers of a I or II class Sunday concur¹ with Vespers of a I or II class feast, it is the II Vespers of the concurrent Office of the same degree that has precedence, and the other Office is only commemorated.

Thus if Dec. 8 falls on Saturday, Vespers are of the feast with commemoration of Sunday. But if Dec. 8 falls on Monday, Vespers on Dec. 7 are of Sunday with commemoration of the feast.

If the Transfiguration (II class) falls on Saturday, Vespers that day are of the feast, without commemoration of the (II class) Sunday.

The Sunday Office excludes any feast that would be kept perpetually on Sunday; with the following exceptions :

- a)* the feast of the Holy Name of Jesus, which is kept on the Sunday between Jan. 2 and 5 (if there is no Sunday, on Jan. 2);
- b)* the feast of the Holy Family, Jesus, Mary and Joseph, which is kept on I Sunday after the Epiphany;
- c)* the feast of the Blessed Trinity, which is kept on I Sunday after Pentecost;
- d)* the feast of Christ the King, which is kept on the last Sunday of October;
- e)* I class feasts of Our Lord which in the calendars of dioceses or religious orders are at present kept on II class Sundays.

These feasts take the place of the Sunday occurring, with all its rights and privileges; consequently there is no commemoration of the Sunday.

¹ « Concurrence » is when Vespers of one day coincide with I Vespers of the next.

B) FERIAS.

By feria is meant every day of the week except Sunday.

There are four classes of ferias.

Ferias of the I class are :

- a) Ash Wednesday;
- b) all weekdays of Holy Week.

These ferias take precedence of any feast whatever, and only allow of a privileged commemoration.

Ferias of the II class are :

- a) weekdays of Advent from Dec. 17-23;
- b) Ember days of Advent, Lent and September.

These ferias give way to a II class feast of the universal Church, and are then only commemorated. For example the feast of St. Thomas Ap., Dec. 21, is kept with commemoration only of in the feria; the feast of St. Matthew, Sept. 21, if it coincides with an Ember day, is kept in the same way.

However, a II class feria takes precedence of a II class feast in the calendar of a diocese or religious order; the latter is only commemorated.

Ferias of the III class are :

a) weekdays of Lent or Passiontide, from Ash Wednesday to Saturday before Palm Sunday inclusive, that have not been mentioned above. These ferias do not allow of the celebration of III class feasts.

b) The ferias of Advent, to Dec. 16 inclusive, that have not been mentioned above. These ferias allow of the celebration of III class feasts.

If these ferias cannot be kept, they are commemorated.

All ferias not included above are ferias of the IV class. If they cannot be kept, they are not commemorated.

The Office of a feria begins with Matins and ends with Compline. However the Office of Saturday (except Holy Saturday) ends with None.

C) VIGILS.

A vigil is the liturgical day preceding a feast and preparatory to it.

The vigil of Easter, however, which is not a liturgical day, is kept in a special way.

There are three classes of vigils.

Vigils of the I class are :

a) the vigil of Christmas. If Dec. 24 falls on Sunday, the Office and Mass are of the vigil, without commemoration of the Sunday.

b) the vigil of Whit Sunday (Pentecost).

These vigils take precedence of all feasts and allow of no commemoration.

Vigils of the II class are :

the vigils of the Ascension, the Assumption, the Nativity of St. John the Baptist, and of SS. Peter and Paul.

These vigils take precedence of liturgical days of I or II class. If they cannot be kept, they are commemorated, according to the rubrics.

There is one vigil of the III class, that of St. Lawrence.

This vigil takes precedence of liturgical days of the IV class; if it cannot be kept, it is commemorated.

Vigils of the II and III class are simply omitted on any Sunday and on a I class feast, or even if the feast they would precede is transferred to another day or reduced to a simple commemoration.

The Office of a vigil begins with Matins and ends when the Office of the following day begins.

D) FEASTS

A feast means a liturgical day when the Church's public worship has the special object of honouring one of the mysteries of Our Lord, or of venerating Our Lady, the Holy Angels, the Saints, or the Blessed.

There are three classes of feasts :

a) feasts of the I class have the most solemn celebration. Their Office begins with their I Vespers on the previous day;

b) feasts of the II and III classes have an Office that normally extends from Matins to Compline of the same day;

c) however, II class feasts of Our Lord have I Vespers whenever they are kept on a Sunday which they displace.

E) OCTAVES.

An octave is the celebration of one of the greater feasts continued during eight consecutive days.

The only octaves that are kept are those of Christmas, Easter, and Whit Sunday; excluding all others, whether in the universal calendar or in that of a diocese or religious order.

There are two classes of octaves :

The octaves of Easter and Whit Sunday are of the I class as are all the days in these octaves.

The octave of Christmas is of the II class; as are the days in the octave; but the octave-day, Jan. 1, is of the I class.

There is a special rule for the octave of Christmas :

- a) on Dec. 26 is kept the feast of St. Stephen (II class);
- b) on Dec. 27 is kept the feast of St. John the Evangelist (II class);
- c) on Dec. 28 is kept the feast of the Holy Innocents (II class);
- d) on Dec. 29, commemoration of St. Thomas, Bp. and Martyr;
- e) on Dec. 31, commemoration of St. Silvester, Pope and Conf.;
- f) feasts which are not included in the universal calendar can only be kept if they are I class and in honour of the Saints celebrated on these days in the universal calendar; any others are transferred after the Octave.

On the Sunday in the octave of Christmas (Dec. 26-31) its Office is said, with commemoration of any feast that occurs, according to the rubrics, unless the Sunday coincides with a I class feast; in this case the Office is of the feast with commemoration of the Sunday.

F) THE LITURGICAL SEASONS.

a) The season of Advent.

It begins with I Vespers of the I Sunday of Advent and ends with None on Christmas Eve.

b) The Christmas season (tempus natalicium).

It begins with I Vespers of Christmas and lasts until Jan. 13 inclusive.

The time between these dates includes :

a) the season of the Nativity (tempus Nativitatis), from I Vespers of Christmas until None of Jan. 5 inclusive;

b) the season of the Epiphany, from I Vespers of the Epiphany until Jan. 13 inclusive.

c) The season of Septuagesima.

It begins with I Vespers of Septuagesima Sunday and ends with Compline of Tuesday after Quinquagesima.

d) The season of Lent (tempus quadragesimale).

It begins with Matins of Ash Wednesday and lasts until the Mass of the Easter Vigil exclusive.

It includes two periods :

a) the season of Lent (tempus Quadragesimae), from Matins of Ash Wednesday until None inclusive of the Saturday before the I Sunday of the Passion;

b) Passiointide, from I Vespers of the I Sunday of the Passion until the Mass of the Easter Vigil exclusive.

The week from the II Sunday of the Passion (Palm Sunday) until Holy Saturday inclusive is called Holy Week; the last three days of this week being known as the Triduum sacrum.

e) Paschal Time (tempus paschale).

It begins with the Mass of the Easter Vigil and ends with None of the Saturday after Whit Sunday.

It includes three periods :

a) the season of Easter (tempus Paschatis), from the Mass of the Easter Vigil until None inclusive of Wednesday, the vigil of the Ascension;

b) the season of the Ascension, from I Vespers of the Ascension until None inclusive of Saturday, the vigil of Whit Sunday;

c) the octave of Whit Sunday, from the Mass of the vigil until None inclusive of the following Saturday.

f) The season « per annum ».

It begins on Jan. 14 and lasts until None inclusive of the Saturday before Septuagesima Sunday, and again from I Vespers of Trinity Sunday (I Sunday after Pentecost) until None inclusive of the Saturday before the I Sunday of Advent.

G) THE GREATER AND LESSER LITANIES.

a) The Greater Litanies.

They are on April 25; but if this day is Easter Sunday or Monday they are transferred to Tuesday. They have no celebration in the Office, but only at Mass.

According to the conditions and customs of each church and region, of which the local Ordinary is judge, a procession takes place on this day, during which the Litany of the Saints is sung (the petitions are not doubled) with its prayers.

If there cannot be a procession, the Ordinary will appoint special prayers, in the course of which the Litany and its prayers will be said or sung as during a procession.

The Rogation Mass will as a rule be sung immediately after the procession; and it should follow the special prayers that replace the procession, even if they are said in the evening.

b) The Lesser Litanies or Rogation days.

The Lesser Litanies or Rogation days normally fall on the three days preceding Ascension day. However the local Ordinary may transfer them to another series of three days that are more convenient, according to the various conditions, customs, or needs of different regions.

The Lesser Litanies have no celebration in the Office but only at the Mass which follows the procession or other particular prayers. As regards the procession or prayers and the Mass or the commemoration, the same rule is to be followed as for the Greater Litanies.

H) COMMEMORATIONS.

What follows applies both to Mass and Office, both in the case of occurrence and of concurrence.

Commemorations are either privileged or ordinary.

Privileged commemorations are made at Lauds, Vespers and all Masses; ordinary commemorations are made at Lauds, at conventual Masses¹ and at all low Masses.

Privileged commemorations are those :

- a) of the Sunday;
- b) of a liturgical day of the I class;
- c) of the days in the octave of Christmas;
- d) of the September Ember days;
- e) of the weekdays of Advent, Lent, and the Passion;
- f) of the Greater Litanies, at Mass.

All other commemorations are ordinary.

¹ Conventual Mass is that which is celebrated together with the divine Office by those who are bound to the Office in choir.

In the Office and Mass of St. Peter there is always a commemoration of St. Paul, and vice versa. This commemoration is inseparable; and the two prayers are counted as one. It follows that :

a) in the Office of St. Peter or of St. Paul, the prayer of the day is followed at Lauds and Vespers by that of the other Apostle, under a single conclusion, without antiphon or versicle;

b) in the Mass of St. Peter or St. Paul, the prayer of the other Apostle is added, under a single conclusion, to that of the day;

c) but whenever the prayer of one of these Apostles is to be added as a commemoration, the other is added to it at once, before any other commemorations.

Commemorations are made as follows :

a) on liturgical days of the I class and at non-conventual sung Masses, only a single privileged commemoration is allowed;

b) on II class Sundays only one commemoration is allowed, namely of a II class feast; though this is omitted if a privileged commemoration must be made;

c) on other liturgical days of the II class, only one commemoration is allowed, whether privileged or ordinary;

d) on liturgical days of the III or IV class, only two commemorations are allowed.

In regard to the commemorations or prayers in question the following rules should also be observed :

a) the Office, Mass or commemoration of any feast or mystery of a single divine Person excludes the commemoration or prayer of another feast or mystery of the same divine Person;

b) the Office, Mass or commemoration of a Sunday excludes the commemoration or prayer of a feast or mystery of Our Lord, and vice versa;

c) the Office, Mass or commemoration of a season excludes another commemoration of the season;

d) in the same way the Office, Mass or commemoration of the Blessed Virgin or of any of the Saints or Blessed excludes another commemoration or prayer in which is asked the intercession of the same Blessed Virgin or the same Saint or Blessed; but this does not apply to the prayer of a Sunday or feria where the same Saint is mentioned.

The commemoration of the season always comes first. For the admission and order of other commemorations the order of the table of precedence must be followed (see that table in the decree).

Any commemoration that exceeds the number allowed for any liturgical day must be omitted.

II. RUBRICS FOR THE OFFICE

a) General Rules.

The canonical Hours of the Office are : Matins, Lauds, Prime, Terce, Sext, None, Vespers and Compline.

Among these, Matins, Lauds and Vespers are called greater Hours; Prime, Terce, Sext, None and Compline, lesser Hours. Compline, however, is usually considered separately in the rubrics.

The divine Office is said either in choir, or in common, or alone.

It is said in choir by a community that the Church's laws bind to the Office in choir; in common, by a community not bound to choir.

The following rules apply both to the Office in choir and in common (even if is recited by only two or three persons), and also to recitation alone unless the contrary is expressly noted.

b) The time when the canonical Hours should be said.

The canonical Hours of the divine Office were composed for the sanctification of the various times of the natural day. It follows that in order really to sanctify the day and to recite them with spiritual profit it is well to try to recite them at a time as close as possible to the true time of each canonical Hour.

Matins, for a good reason, may be said after mid-day of the preceding day, but not before two o' clock.

Lauds, the morning prayer, in choir or in common, are said in the morning; this is praiseworthy even in recitation alone.

Vespers, even in Lent and Passiontide, in choir or in common, are said after mid-day; which it is well to observe also in recitation alone.

As regards Compline, it is very fitting that all who are bound to recite the divine Office, religious especially, should say it as final night-prayers, even if, for a good reason, Matins of the following day has already been said.

When Compline is thus said at night, the Pater noster after the Ÿ. Adjutorium nostrum is omitted, and in its place, in choir or in common, a reasonable time is spent in examination of conscience; then Confiteor and what follows is said in the usual way. It is well to observe the same rule in the recitation alone.

c) Arrangement of the divine Office.

Feasts which have no I Vespers, and which for any reason acquire them under the new rubrics, borrow everything from II Vespers, with the exception of anything that may be given as proper to I Vespers.

THE VARIOUS PARTS OF THE OFFICE.

a) Beginning and end of the Hours.

The canonical Hours, whether in choir, in common, or alone begin as follows :

- a) Matins, with the Ÿ. Dómine, lábia méa apéries ;
- b) Lauds, the lesser Hours and Vespers, with the Ÿ. Déus, in adiutórium méum inténde ;
- c) Compline, with the Ÿ. Iúbe, dómne, benedicere.

The canonical Hours, in choir, in common, or alone, end as follows :

- a) Matins (if Lauds do not follow immediately), Lauds, Terce, Sext, None and Vespers, with the Ÿ. Fidélium ánimae ;
- b) Prime, with the blessing Dóminus nos benedicat ;
- c) Compline, with the blessing Benedicat et custódiat.

b) Conclusion of the Office.

The daily course of the divine Office concludes, after Compline, with the Antiphon of Our Lady with its Ÿ. and prayer, then the Ÿ. Divinum auxilium ; except on the last three days of Holy Week and in the Office of the Dead.

The remission of faults and indulgences granted for the recitation of the prayer Sacrosánctae is attached to this final Antiphon of Our Lady.

c) Hymns.

The hymns are said at each Hour, as given in the body of this book. But they are omitted : from Matins of Maundy Thursday until None of the Saturday in Easter Week, and in the Office of the Dead.

At the lesser Hours and at Compline the hymns assigned to those Hours are always said, except at Terce on Whit Sunday and during its Octave.

The proper hymns assigned to certain Hours are never transferred to another Hour.

Unless the contrary is expressed in these rubrics, each hymn is always said with the conclusion found in the Liber Usualis, excluding any change on account of a feast or season.

Commemoration of another Office never involves a proper doxology at the end of the hymns of the Office of the day.

d) Antiphons.

The antiphons are said at all the Hours before and after the psalms and canticles; one or more, according to the Office and the Hours, as shown in their place. But they are omitted at the lesser Hours and at Compline: on the last three days of Holy Week, on Easter Day and during its Octave, and at the Office of the Dead on November 2.

The antiphons are always said entire, before as well as after the psalms and canticles, at all the Hours, both greater and lesser. The asterisk after the opening words of the antiphons shows how far the intonation continues.

If the proper antiphons assigned to certain Hours cannot be said, they are omitted, not transferred.

In paschal time, allelúia is added at the end of the antiphons if there is none already. But from Septuagesima until Easter Eve, allelúia at the end of any antiphon is omitted.

e) Psalms and canticles.

When a psalm or canticle begins with the same words as those of the antiphon, these words are not repeated, and the psalm or canticle is begun with the word that follows those of the antiphon; provided allelúia is not to be added to the antiphon.

A psalm that cannot be said at the Hour to which it is specially assigned is not said at another Hour, but omitted.

At the end of the psalms and canticles, except the canticle Benedícite, Glória Pátri is said; but it is omitted on the last three days of Holy Week.

In the Office of the Dead, however, instead of the Ÿ. Glória Pátri, the Ÿ. Réquiem aetérnam is said, as shown in its place.

The Athanasian Creed is said only on Trinity Sunday, at Prime, after the psalms and before the repetition of the antiphon.

III. RUBRICS FOR THE MASS

A) GENERAL PRINCIPLES AND RULES.

The holy Sacrifice of Mass, celebrated in accordance with the canons and rubrics, is an act of public worship offered to God in the name of Christ and the Church. This is why the expression "private Mass" should be avoided.

The Mass with the divine Office constitutes the sum of all Christian public worship; the Mass, then, should normally conform to the Office of the day.

However, there also exist Masses which are out of the course of the Office, namely votive Masses and those of the Dead.

There are two kinds of Masses : Masses in cantu and said Masses.

A Mass in cantu is when the celebrant does in fact sing the parts reserved to him by the rubrics; otherwise it is a said Mass (Missa lecta).

The Mass in cantu, moreover, if celebrated with the sacred ministers, is called solemn Mass or high Mass; if sung without sacred ministers, Missa cantata.

High Mass celebrated by a Bishop, or some other who has the right to do so, with the solemn ceremonies laid down in the liturgical books, is called pontifical Mass.

Mass by its very nature demands that all who are present should take part in it, each in his proper way.

There are various ways in which the faithful can take an active part in the Sacrifice of Mass. Things must be so ordered, however, that any danger of abuse is removed and that the chief end of this participation may be obtained, which is the enrichment of the worship of God and the edification of his people.

This active participation by the faithful is dealt with at length in the Instruction concerning sacred music and the liturgy issued by the S. Congregation of Rites, 3 Sept. 1958.

B) CONVENTUAL MASS.

Conventual Mass (see the note of p. LVII) should follow Terce, unless the Superior, for a serious reason, should judge that it should follow Sext or None.

On Whitsun Eve conventual Mass follows None.

C) THE VARIOUS PARTS OF THE MASS.

1) The psalm Iúdica me, Deus, the Confiteor and the censuring of the altar.

The psalm Iúdica me, Deus with its antiphon, and the Confiteor with its absolution are said at the foot of the altar at every Mass whether sung or said; but they are omitted, together with the versicles that follow and the prayers Aufer a nobis and Orámus te, Dómine, on the following occasions :

a) Mass of the Purification of Our Lady that follows the blessing of candles and procession;

b) the Mass of Ash Wednesday that is sung after the blessing and imposition of ashes;

c) the Mass of Palm Sunday that follows the blessing of palms and procession;

d) the Mass of the Paschal Vigil;

e) the Rogation Mass that follows the procession of the Greater or Lesser Litanies;

f) the Masses that follow certain consecrations, according to the rubrics in the Roman Pontifical.

The psalm Iúdica me is omitted also :

a) in Masses of the season from the I Sunday of the Passion until the Evening Mass on Maundy Thursday;

b) at Masses of the Dead.

The censings that are obligatory at high Mass are allowed also at all sung Masses.

2) The prayers at sung Mass.

a) After the prayer proper to the Mass, a sung Mass other than conventual allows of no other prayer that but which is said under the same ending as the prayer of the Mass, and a single privileged commemoration (see the list, p. LVII).

This rule applies to conventual Mass only on liturgical days of the I class and at votive Masses¹ of the I class.

b) On II class Sundays no other prayer is allowed beyond the commemoration of a II class feast; but this is omitted if there is a privileged commemoration.

c) Other II class liturgical days and II class votive Masses only allow of one commemoration, namely one privileged or one ordinary.

d) III or IV class liturgical days or votive Masses allow of two additional prayers only.

A prayer that exceeds the number fixed for any liturgical day is omitted; it follows that on no pretext can the number of prayers exceed three.

When ever the words Flectámus génua, Leváte, occur in the Missal, they are said at high Mass by the deacon and at other Masses by the celebrant. Immediately afterwards all kneel and pray with the celebrant for a short space. When Leváte is said, all rise, and the celebrant says the prayer.

On the last Sunday but one in October, or some other Sunday appointed as "Missions Sunday" by the Bishop, the prayer for the Propagation of the Faith is added at all Masses under a single conclusion.

3) The lessons at Mass.

On Ember Saturdays five lessons precede the Epistle. At conventual Masses and ordination Masses all the lessons must always be read with their versicles and prayers. At other Masses, whether sung or said, only the first prayer can be said, that which corresponds to the Office, with Flectámus génua if it is to be said, and the first lesson with the gradual or the Alleluia; then, after Dóminus vobíscum, Et cum spírítu túo, and Orémus, said in the usual way, the second prayer without Flectámus génua, and any commemorations that may occur. The other lessons that follow are omitted with their versicles and prayers, and there follows at once the last lesson or epistle with the tract, and on Whit Saturday the sequence.

On an Ember Saturday and the Saturday Sitiéntes the Mass at which holy orders are conferred should be that of the Saturday, even if a I or II class feast is kept that day.

At sung Mass, everything the deacon, subdeacon or reader sing or read as part of their special function, is omitted by the celebrant.

After the gospel, especially on Sundays and feasts of obligation, a short sermon should be preached, as opportunity allows. But if this is done by a priest other than the celebrant, it should not overlap the celebrant's part and interfere with the people's participation in the Mass; the celebration of Mass must be suspended during the sermon and resumed afterwards.

4) The Creed.

The Creed is sung :

a) every Sunday, even if its Office is replaced by another or a II class votive Mass is celebrated;

b) on I class feasts and in I class votive Masses;

- c) on II class feasts of Our Lord and of Our Lady;
 d) during the Octaves of Christmas, Easter and Whit Sunday, even if an occurrent feast or a votive Mass is being celebrated;
 e) on the dies natalis of Apostles and Evangelists, and also on the feasts of St. Peter's Chair and of St. Barnabas.

The Creed is not said :

- a) in the Masses of Maundy Thursday and the Easter Vigil;
 b) on II class feasts, except those mentioned above;
 c) in II class votive Masses;
 d) in festive and votive Masses of the III or IV class;
 e) on account of a commemoration made at the Mass;
 f) in Masses of the Dead.

5) The offertory and communion antiphons.

These are sometimes followed by allelúia that forms part of the antiphon itself. In this case this allelúia is sung throughout the year, except from Septuagesima to Easter;

Ex. The offertory Beáta es, Virgo María, where formerly allelúia was omitted on July 2 and September 8.

6) Holy Communion.

The proper time for distributing holy Communion to the people is at Mass immediately after the Communion of the celebrant. The celebrant should do this himself, except when the number of communicants is so great that he needs to be helped by one or more other priests.

It is absolutely unfitting, that at the altar where Mass is being celebrated, Communion should be given by another priest apart from the proper time for Communion.

However, for a good reason, Communion may be given immediately before or after Mass, or even apart from Mass. In this case the form in the Roman Ritual is used.

Whenever holy Communion is given during Mass, the celebrant, having consumed the Precious Blood, and with no Confiteor said, omitting the absolution, immediately says Ecce Agnus Dei and three times Dómine, non sum dignus. He then distributes holy Communion.

7) The conclusion of Mass.

At the end of Mass Ite, missa est is said, with the answer Déo grátias. (In Masses XVI, XVII and XVIII of the Kyriale, Ite, missa est is taken from Mass XV. This is also allowed in all the Masses in which the Ite, missa est is sung without allelúia).

However :

a) at the Evening Mass on Maundy Thursday, that is followed by the solemn deposition of the Blessed Sacrament, and at other Masses followed by a procession (for instance on the feast of Corpus Christi), Benedicámus Dómino is sung, with answer Déo grátias, as in Mass II or XVI, exclusive of all others.

b) during the Easter octave, in Masses of the season, a double allelúia is added to Ite, missa est ;

c) in Masses of the Dead Requiescant in páce is said, with answer Amen.

The celebrant, having said Pláceat, gives the blessing; which is only omitted when Benedicámus Dómino or Requiescant in páce is said.

As last gospel, at every Mass the beginning of the gospel according to St. John is said. But on Palm Sunday at all Masses that are not followed by the blessing of palms and procession, the proper last gospel is said.

The last gospel is left out entirely :

a) at Masses when Benedicámus Dómino is said;

b) at the third Christmas Mass;

c) on Palm Sunday at the Mass that follows the blessing of palms and procession;

d) at the Mass of the Easter Vigil;

e) at Masses of the Dead followed by the Absolution at the catafalque;

f) at Masses that follow certain consecrations, according to the rubrics of the Roman Pontifical.

THE ORDINARY OF THE DIVINE OFFICE

a) Hymn melodies at the lesser Hours.

We have already seen, p. LX, that neither a feast nor a liturgical season any longer changes the doxology of the hymns. Since formerly it was the change of doxology that involved the change of melody, it follows that several of the hymn melodies will now disappear.

The following rules will now be observed :

For the two melodies given on Sunday for each lesser Hour, nothing is changed. The second, marked " On Solemn Feasts " will be kept for I class feasts.

In the same way the melodies given for the different seasons of the year will remain, but in conformity with the rules that follow :

1. Season of Advent : the two melodies given for Terce, p. 318, and Compline, p. 326, will still be used with their doxology.

2. Season of the Nativity until Jan. 5 at None : the melody for Compline, p. 367, and Terce, p. 407, will still be used, but with the doxology at Prime as on p. 224, at the other Hours, pp. 368 and 407; no longer the melody of the hymn of Christmas Vespers.

3. Season of the Epiphany: from Compline of January 5 until Compline of Jan. 13, the melody on pp. 455 and 458 is used, with the common doxology at Prime, p. 224, and at the other Hours, pp. 456 and 458.

4. Season of Lent and Passiontide: as in the Liber Usualis, pp. 531, 540, 569, 577.

5. Paschal time: from Compline of the Saturday in Easter Week until None of Wednesday, Eve of Ascension, the melodies given on pp. 808 and 268 are used, with the common doxology, at Prime p. 224; at the other Hours, pp. 268 and 808.

6. Season of the Ascension: pp. 844 and 846, with the common doxology, at Prime p. 224; at the other Hours, pp. 845 or 846.

7. Octave of Whit Sunday: as in the Liber Usualis, p. 862, with the common doxologies, at Prime, p. 224, at the other Hours, p. 863.

The rest of the melodies mentioned on p. 269 will no longer be used, as well as that given for feasts of Our Lady, p. 1256.

b) Sunday at Prime.

For the hymn, see above.

The antiphon p. 228 is to be sung entire both before and after the psalms from Christmas to Septuagesima and during the time after Pentecost.

The antiphon p. 229 is to be sung entire before and after the psalms during paschal time.

For feasts of Our Lord of the II class and the Purification of Our Lady, Febr. 2, if they fall on Septuagesima, Sexagesima or Quinquagesima Sundays, the antiphon is taken from Vespers of the feast.

The psalms given under n° II are no longer said.

The psalms given under n° III are said from Septuagesima until Palm Sunday inclusive, on the vigil and octave day of Christmas, during the Triduum sacrum, on I class feasts and on the days within the octaves of Easter and Whit Sunday, with the antiphons assigned to each day, unless the contrary is shown.

The Athanasian Creed is said only on Trinity Sunday.

p. 229. The chapter Regi saeculorum is said throughout the year, both on Sundays and weekdays.

In the short responsory Christe, Fili Dei vivi, the Ÿ. Qui sedes is changed in the offices and seasons that have a proper versicle; but the proper versicle of a commemorated feast is never said.

The Ÿ. Qui natus es de Maria Virgine is said from Christmas until January 5 inclusive, even on feasts, unless they have a proper versicle; and on feasts of Our Lady throughout the year; it is no longer said for the feast of Corpus Christi.

The Ÿ. Qui apparuisti is said from Jan. 6 to 13, even on feasts that occur, unless they have a proper versicle, e. g. the Holy Family, p. 470. It is also said on the Transfiguration, August 6.

p. 230. On the feast of the Immaculate Conception and other feasts of Our Lady during Advent, the Ÿ. Qui natus es de María Virgine is said.

p. 231. The Ÿ. Qui scándis is said from the Ascension to the vigil of Whit Sunday even on feasts that occur, unless they have a proper versicle.

The prayers (preces) are omitted.

p. 233. The short lessons at Prime : only those assigned to the various seasons are said, as follows :

- a) in Advent : Dómine, miserére nostri, p. 234;
- b) in the season of the Nativity : Ipsi períbunt, p. 411;
- c) in the season of the Epiphany : Omnes de Sába, p. 462;
- d) from II Sunday after Epiphany to I Sunday of Lent and from Trinity Sunday to Advent : Dóminus autem, p. 233;
- e) from I Sunday of Lent to the Ascension : as on p. 234;
- f) the season of the Ascension : Viri Galilaéi, p. 850;
- g) Whit Sunday and its octave : Judaéi quoque, p. 883.

c) Sunday at Terce, Sext and None.

For the hymns, see above, p. LXVIII.

The antiphon marked " during the year " is sung entire before and after the psalms, from Christmas to Septuagesima and during the time after Pentecost.

On II class feasts of Our Lord and the Purification of Our Lady, if they fall on Septuagesima, Sexagesima or Quinquagesima Sundays, the antiphon is taken from Vespers of the feast.

The Sunday psalms are also said on the vigil and octave day of Christmas, during the Triduum sacrum, on I class feasts, and on the days in the octaves of Easter and Whit Sunday, with the antiphons belonging to the Office of the day, unless the contrary is shown.

d) Sunday Vespers.

The antiphons are sung entire before and after the psalms. After the antiphon Dixit Dóminus the cantor intones the verse Donec pónam to the intonation assigned to verse 1 for paschal time. In paschal time itself, the psalm is intoned as it was formerly.

The five antiphons Dixit Dóminus, etc. are not used in Advent or paschal time.

Commemorations at Sunday Vespers are no longer made, except during Advent and Lent, and on Low Sunday, when a I class feast celebrated the following day should be commemorated.

Vespers end with the Ÿ. Fidélium ánimae with nothing added.

e) Sunday Compline.

Independently of Sunday, the Sunday psalms are also said during the Triduum sacrum, on the feast and during the octave of Easter until Friday inclusive, during the octaves of Christmas and Whit Sunday, and on I and II class feasts.

When Compline is sung in choir or in common, the Pater noster preceding the Ÿ. Adiutórium nóstrum is omitted, and in its place the examination of conscience, continued during a reasonable lapse of time, takes place; then the Confíteor is said, and the remainder as usual.

For the melody of the hymn, see above, p. LXVIII.

The prayers (preces) are not said. The Ÿ. Dóminus vobíscum always follows at once the Ant. Sálva nos.

f) Saturday Vespers (p. 307).

The psalms given are also said in Advent (with antiphons from Vespers of the Sunday), in Lent and on the Saturday in Easter Week with their own antiphons; except when a I class feast is kept the same day, for then the II Vespers of the feast are sung, with or without a commemoration of the Sunday.

If Dec. 8 is Sunday, on Saturday I Vespers of the feast are sung, with commemoration of the Sunday, as indicated above, p. LVII.

On other Saturdays of the year, if a I class feast is kept (or a II class feast of Our Lord) on the Saturday or Sunday, or a II class feast on the Saturday, Vespers of the feast are sung, with or without a commemoration of the Sunday.

g) Saturday Compline (p. 313).

If the preceding Vespers were those of a I or II class feast, the psalms of Sunday are said.

PROPER OF THE TIME

THE SEASON OF ADVENT

1. THE SUNDAYS of Advent are of the I class; they give way only to the Immaculate Conception.

However, if a I class feast is kept on the Saturday, II Vespers of the feast are sung with commemoration of the Sunday.

Except the Immaculate Conception, other I class feasts are transferred to Monday, with commemoration at Sunday Vespers.

Feasts of the II and III class that fall on Sunday are not commemorated or transferred.

2. THE WEEKDAYS from Dec. 17 to 23 and the Ember days are II class ferias; they give way to II class feasts of the universal Church, e. g. St. Thomas Ap.

The weekdays of Advent until Dec. 16 inclusive are III class ferias; they give way to III class feasts.

All these ferias are commemorated at all Masses and at Vespers of feasts. For the melody of the hymn at the lesser Hours, see p. LXVIII.

3. CHRISTMAS EVE is of the I class; it gives way to no feast and allows of no commemoration. If it falls on the IV Sunday of Advent, the latter gives way and is not commemorated; but keeps its I Vespers. At the lesser Hours, everything as in the Liber Usualis, with the Sunday psalms (at Prime, n^o III).

THE CHRISTMAS SEASON

1. CHRISTMAS DAY.

Four changes to be noted :

a) at Matins Ps. 88 Misericórdias Dómini, at the beginning of the III Nocturn, has now only its first 36 verses, after with Glória Pátri follows at once;

b) the Hymns of the lesser Hours keep their melody, but with the common doxology;

c) after the III Mass there is no last gospel;

d) at Vespers, St. Stephen is not commemorated except where it is I class, according to what is said below.

2. THE THREE DAYS AFTER CHRISTMAS (see p. LV).

A. Normally these feasts are II class. The following changes are to be noted :

a) at the lesser Hours, the hymns have the melody of Christmas and the common doxology; except at Compline, which has the Sunday psalms, the antiphons and psalms are those of the day of the week, pp. 279 A to 279 V. At the short R̄. of Prime, V̄. of Christmas;

b) in the Mass of the Holy Innocents Glória in excelsis and Allelúia are sung;

c) at Vespers on the feast of St. Stephen the hymn as on p. 1126 or 1127, and on that of St. John, p. 1115 or 1116, with the doxologies there given; commemoration only of the octave of Christmas (on Saturday, only of the Sunday);

d) if Sunday falls on one of these three days, the Office and Mass of the Sunday are celebrated, pp. 435-7; with commemoration only of the feast of the day at Lauds and at sung Mass, if conventual.

B. When one of these feasts is I class, as in a church dedicated to the Saint, or in a diocese in the case of the cathedral, the following rules are observed :

a) at I Vespers of St. John, ants. and pss. of Christmas, p. 412, chap. Qui timet Deum, p. 425, hymn Exsúltet orbis, p. 1115 or 1116, V̄. Valde honorándus, p. 426, ant. to Magn. Iste est Ioánnes, p. 420, tone of Magn. 1g, p. 207 or 213, com. of Christmas, p. 413 (or of Sunday, p. 433).

At I Vespers of Holy Innocents, ants. and pss. of Christmas, p. 412, chap. Vidi supra montem, hymn Salvéte, flóres, p. 431, V̄. Heródes irátus est; ant. to Magn. Hí sunt, p. 426, tone of Magn. 1a³, p. 207 or p. 213, com. of Christmas, p. 413 (or of Sun.);

b) at the lesser Hours, for the hymns, as above; the antiphons are those of the feast with the Sunday psalms (at Prime n^o III); at short R̄. at Prime, V̄. of Christmas;

c) at all Masses, commemoration of Christmas only (or of the Sunday if it occurs);

d) at II Vespers, see above for the hymns of St. Stephen and St. John; commemoration of Christmas only (or of the Sunday if it occurs).

If the feast falls on Sunday, the latter is only commemorated, as shown above.

If on the day before or after the feast there is another I class feast (other than Christmas), at I or II Vespers this feast only (or the occurring Sunday) is commemorated.

3. SUNDAY IN THE OCTAVE OF CHRISTMAS.

When Christmas Day falls on Sunday, the Office and Mass of the Sunday disappear altogether; for it cannot be kept on a weekday.

On any day in the octave, from Dec. 26 to 31, this Sunday takes precedence of any feast that is not of the I class, from Matins to Compline (for I Vespers gives way to a II class feast, with commemoration only of the Sunday).

When the Sunday coincides with a I class feast, it is commemorated, as said above.

For the observance of this Sunday, the following must be noted :

1. at both Vespers and at Mass, no commemoration of Christmas. At a non-conventual sung Mass, no commemoration; if it is conventual, only of an occurring II class feast;

2. at the lesser Hours, antiphons and psalms of Sunday (at Prime n^o I).

4. DAYS IN THE OCTAVE OF CHRISTMAS.

The feasts of St. Thomas, Dec. 29, and St. Silvester, Dec. 31, are now only commemorations.

The last three days of the year are liturgical days of the II class; they are observed as follows :

a) at Lauds, all as on Christmas Day (with commemoration of St. Thomas or St. Silvester);

b) at the lesser Hours, antiphons and psalms of the occurring weekday (pp. 279 ff.), the rest as on Christmas Day;

c) at Vespers, except Dec. 31, antiphons and psalms of II Vespers of Christmas Day; from the chapter as on the feast, unless they are I Vespers of Sunday or of a I class feast;

d) Compline of Sunday;

e) Mass as p. 439; no commemoration at a sung Mass, unless it is conventual.

On Dec. 29 and 31, commemoration of St. Thomas or St. Silvester in the sung Mass of the octave, if conventual.

But where St. Silvester is a I class feast, at II Vespers ant. and pss. of Christmas, from chap. from Common of Conf. Pont., with prayer p. 440, and com. of the Octave day following.

5. OCTAVE DAY OF CHRISTMAS (January 1).

This is of the I class. All as in the Liber Usualis, pp. 440-444.

6. FEAST OF THE HOLY NAME OF JESUS. — II class.

This is kept on the Sunday from Jan. 2 to 5; if there is none, then on Jan. 2. On Sunday, from Jan. 3 to 5, it has I Vespers, p. 445; but on a weekday none.

At the lesser Hours, antiphons and psalms of the occurring day; the rest of the feast. Where it is a I class feast, the proper antiphons are said, p. 445.

At non-conventual sung Mass, and at both Vespers, no commemoration.

Compline of Sunday.

When the feast is kept on Jan. 5, it is not commemorated at I Vespers of the Epiphany.

7. JANUARY 2-5.

These days are ferias of the season of the Nativity :

a) the ferial Office, antiphons and psalms of the occurring weekday; the rest, including the Ψ . in the short responsory at Prime, as for Christmas.

The Mass is that of January 1, with Glória and Christmas preface, but with no Creed or proper Communicantes.

b) On feasts which fall on these days, Ψ . of Christmas in short resp. at Prime, unless there is a proper Ψ .; but the feria is not commemorated.

8. EPIPHANY. — I class.

All as in the Liber Usualis, except the hymn at the lesser Hours, which keeps its melody but has the common doxology, Praésta, Páter piíssime, until Jan. 13 inclusive.

¶ When the exterior solemnity takes place on the Sunday which follows Jan. 6, there is no commemoration of the Holy Family, nor of the Sunday.

9. FIRST SUNDAY AFTER EPIPHANY :

FEAST OF THE HOLY FAMILY. — II class.

This feast has I Vespers, p. 467, except when it falls the day after the Epiphany.

At the lesser Hours, ant. and pss. of Sunday (at Prime n^o I); the rest, of the feast.

The two commemorations given at Mass and at both Vespers are no longer made; the same applies for the rubric placed at the beginning of II Vespers.

10. JANUARY 7-12.

These days are ferias of the season of the Epiphany.

a) In the ferial Office, ants. and pss. at all the Hours are of the weekday occurring; the rest, including the Ψ . and short \mathcal{R} . at Prime, as for the Epiphany, as also the prayer, except for the ferias after the I Sunday after Epiphany, which have the prayer of Sunday, Vota, quaesumus, p. 478.

At Vespers, ants. to Magnificat as follows :

Jan. 7 : Videntes stellam magi, p. 481;

Jan. 8 : Lux de luce, p. 482;

Jan. 9 : Interrogabat, p. 482;

Jan. 10 : Omnes de Saba, p. 482;

Jan. 11 : Admoniti magi, p. 483;

Jan. 12 : Tribus miraculis, p. 466.

The Mass is that of the Epiphany, except for the ferias after the I Sunday, when it is that of Sunday, p. 477, but with no Creed or proper Communicantes. There is no commemoration of the Epiphany.

b) On occurring feasts, Ψ . of the Epiphany in the short \mathcal{R} . at Prime, unless there is a proper Ψ .; but there is no commemoration of the Epiphany.

11. COMMEMORATION OF OUR LORD'S BAPTISM. —
(Jan. 13. — II class).

At Lauds and Vespers, all as on the Epiphany, except the prayer, p. 483.

At the lesser Hours, ants. of the day occurring, pp. 279 A ff.; the rest as on the Epiphany, except the prayer. Compline of Sunday.

The Mass, p. 483.

If this day falls on Saturday, Vespers are of the feast without com. of the Sunday following.

If it coincides with the I Sunday after Epiphany, the office is of the Holy Family, without com. either of Our Lord's Baptism or of the Sunday.

THE SEASON OF LENT

ASH WEDNESDAY is a I class feria; it gives way to no feast and allows only of a privileged commemoration. If it coincides with a I class feast, the latter is transferred to the next day (if free) and is commemorated at Wednesday Vespers.

For the omission of the prayers at the foot of the altar before Mass, see p. LXIII.

SUNDAYS OF LENT.

What was said for the Sundays of Advent applies equally to those of Lent (see p. LXXII).

The EMBER DAYS of Lent are II class ferias and have the same privileges as those of Advent.

OTHER FERIAS.

Except for the Ember days the remaining ferias from Thursday after Ash Wednesday to Saturday before Palm Sunday inclusive are III class ferias, which give way only to I and II class feasts. If their Office cannot be said, they are commemorated.

FRIDAY AFTER I SUNDAY OF THE PASSION.

The devotions that are customarily held this day in honour of the Sorrows of Our Lady may still take place; and two festive Masses of Our Lady's Sorrows are also allowed.

HOLY WEEK.

All the weekdays of Holy Week are I class ferias. Feasts of the I class which would fall in the time from Palm Sunday to Low Sunday inclusive are transferred after the latter. Other feasts are omitted.

From Palm Sunday, p. 578, until the Easter Vigil inclusive, p. 776MM, no change is to be made.

PASCHAL TIME

Easter Day and Whit Sunday are I class Sundays, and also are I class feasts with octave. The days of those octaves are all of the I class.

On Easter Day and Whit Sunday and on the octave days, at the lesser Hours the pss. are of Sunday; except at Prime, when the pss. are of feasts, pss. 53, 118¹ and 118².

These octaves allow of no feast; only of a privileged commemoration.

LOW SUNDAY. — I class.

As on pp. 808-815. No feast can be kept; except that at Vespers a I class feast falling next day is commemorated. If, for example, the Annunciation has been transferred to the Monday that follows: ant. Spiritus sanctus, p. 1414, V. Ave Maria, p. 1417, prayer Deus qui de beatæ, p. 1415.

FEASTS OF SAINTS IN PASCHAL TIME.

The disappearance of proper doxologies at certain feasts and seasons involves also that of proper melodies in paschal time for hymns that have another melody per annum.

Consequently :

— the hymn for Apostles in P. T. Tristes érant Apóstoli, p. 1121, undergoes no change either in melody or text; however, the doxology is not changed from Ascension to Pentecost, and Déo Pátri sit glória is said; — while on the contrary the two melodies of Déus tuórum militum proper to P. T. disappear with their doxology; one of the two melodies on p. 1126 or p. 1127, with that doxology, is sung throughout the year;

— the hymn for two or more Martyrs, Rex glorióse Mártyrum has been changed, melody and doxology, p. 1144.

— the hymn for the Common of Virgins, Iésu coróna Virginum, is sung throughout the year to the melody p. 1211 with its doxology; and the two melodies p. 1213 disappear;

— the hymn Fórtem viríli péctore is sung throughout the year to the melody at the top of p. 1234, and the two other melodies given at the foot of the same page disappear.

THE ROGATION DAYS.

See what is said above for the Litanies, p. LVII.

For the Greater and Lesser Litanies, in churches where the procession takes place, or where the Bishop has appointed special prayers, the Rogation Mass is said. It is a votive Mass of the II class, which cannot be said on I class feasts, Sundays, ferias and vigils.

The Rogation Mass, or the Mass of the day that takes its place if it is prevented, must be considered as part of the whole liturgical action, and is said regularly immediately after the procession or special prayers. At the beginning of Mass, the ps. Iúdica, the Confíteor and absolution, the versicles that follow and the prayers Aufer a nobis and Orámus te Dómine are all omitted.

The Liber Usualis has been altered.

ASCENSION EVE

This is a II class vigil, and gives way only to I or II class feasts; if it cannot be kept, it is commemorated according to the rubrics.

THE SEASON OF THE ASCENSION

ASCENSION DAY. — I class.

As pp. 844-853 without change; for the chant of the hymns at the lesser Hours, see above, p. LXIX.

II Vespers allow only of the commemoration of a I class feast of the B. V. Mary or of a Saint kept on Friday.

The days from the Friday after the Ascension until Whitsun Eve exclusive are ferias of the season of the Ascension.

a) In the ferial Office ants. and pss. at all the Hours are those of the occurring weekday as in P. T., pp. 279 A ff.; the rest, including the Ψ . of the short. R̄. at Prime, as on Ascension day.

Mass of Ascension day with Glória and preface of the Ascension, without Creed or proper Communicantes.

b) If a feast occurs, Ψ . of the Ascension in short R̄. at Prime, unless there is a proper Ψ ., but no commemoration of the feria.

SUNDAY AFTER THE ASCENSION.

As in the Liber Usualis, pp. 853-858, except the following :

a) at I Vespers, pss. of Saturday with ant. of P. T.; no commemoration of the Ascension;

b) Compline of Saturday;

c) at Prime, ant. and pss. of Sunday P. T.; the rest, including the Ψ . in short R̄., as on Ascension day;

d) at Terce, Sext and None, ant. and pss. of Sunday;

e) at Mass, no com. of the Ascension;

f) at II Vespers, ant. and pss. of Sunday P. T.; no com. of the Ascension.

WHITSUN EVE.

This is a I class vigil, and gives way to no feast and allows of no commemoration.

At the lesser Hours, ant. and pss. of Saturday, pp. 279 R ff.; the rest as on Ascension day, pp. 846 ff., with prayer of Sunday, p. 855.

The conventual Mass is sung after None, pp. 859-861.

WHIT SUNDAY AND ITS OCTAVE. — Every day is of the I class.

The rules to be followed are those already given for the octave of Easter; see above, p. LXXVII.

At the lesser Hours, pss. of Sunday, but at Prime as on feasts, pss. 53, 118¹ and 118².

For the hymns at Prime, Sext, None and Compline the melody is still that on p. 862, with the common doxology.

TRINITY SUNDAY. — I class.

All as in the Liber Usualis, pp. 907-916, but omitting com. of Sunday at both Vespers, at Lauds and at Mass; last gospel, the beginning of St. John.

At Prime, short lesson Dóminus autem, p. 233.

At II Vespers, com. of a I class feast of the B. V. Mary or of a Saint kept on the following day.

CORPUS CHRISTI. — I class.

All as in the Liber Usualis, pp. 917-959, except the following :

At Compline and the lesser Hours, hymns n^o 2 of the Sunday. At Prime, V. Qui sédes ad dexteram Pátris; short lesson, Dóminus autem, p. 233.

At Mass, common preface; on Sunday, of the H. Trinity (except in dioceses where the preface of the B. Sacrament is authorised).

When the procession of the Blessed Sacrament takes place after the Mass, see p. LXVI.

At II Vespers, com. of a I class feast of the B. V. Mary or of a Saint kept on the following day.

The Sundays and weekdays formerly in the octaves of Corpus Christi and of the Sacred Heart are kept exactly like other Sundays and ferias of the year.

The devotions customarily held on days in the octave of Corpus Christi may still take place. Where there is a procession, two Masses of the B. Sacrament are allowed on those days, as votive Masses of the II class.

THE SACRED HEART. — I class.

All as on pp. 965 ff., except the following :

At Compline and the lesser Hours, hymns n^o 2 of Sunday.

At II Vespers, com. of a I class feast of the B. V. Mary or of a Saint kept on the following day.

II AND III SUNDAYS AFTER PENTECOST.

The two Masses, pp. 961-964 and pp. 981-984, with no com. of the preceding feast, and with preface of the B. Trinity.

At the lesser Hours, all as on other Sundays, with as prayer the Collect at Mass.

At both Vespers, all as on other Sundays, except the ants. to Magnificat and the prayers, pp. 960 and 964, and pp. 980 and 985.

¶ On the II Sunday after Pentecost, if the feast of Corpus Christi was not a day of obligation, and on the III Sunday, one sung Mass and one low Mass or two low Masses of the preceding feast are allowed. These Masses have Glória and Creed.

Commemoration of the Sunday or an oratio imperata imposed by the Bishop is not allowed; but at a low Mass one other commemoration may be made.

If a I class feast falls on one of these Sundays, it is sufficient to add the prayers of the Bl. Sacrament or the Sacred Heart to those of the feast of the day, under one conclusion, without commemoration of the Sunday.

COMMON OF SAINTS

The rubric at the top of p. 1111 is replaced by what is given at the beginning of the Proper of Saints, p. LXXXII.

For the hymns, the general rule is as follows :

a) at the lesser Hours, the rubrics that show a proper melody and doxology P. T. are no longer observed;

b) at the greater Hours, the hymns of the Common out of P. T. are sung in P. T. as during the whole year, without either melody or doxology proper to P. T. See the particulars given on p. LXXVIII.

The anniversary of the dedication of a church is regarded as a feast of Our Lord. When it is of I or II class, and when it takes precedence of a Sunday, there is no commemoration of the latter, either in the Office or at Mass.

TIMES WHEN THE USE OF MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS IS FORBIDDEN

(Instruction of the S. Congregation of Rites, 3 Sept. 1958, concerning sacred music and the liturgy, chap. 3, n^o 4, F.).

1. Since organ music, and still more that of other instruments, constitutes an adornment of the liturgy, the use of these instruments must accord with the degree of rejoicing that belongs to each day and to each liturgical season.

2. Consequently, the music of the organ, and every other musical instrument, is forbidden in all liturgical actions, except Benediction of the B. Sacrament :

a) During the season of Advent; that is from I Vespers of the I Sunday of Advent until None of Christmas Eve.

b) During Lent and Passiontide; that is, from Matins of Ash Wednesday until Glória in excelsis of the Mass of the Easter Vigil.

c) On the Ember ferias and Saturday of September, if their Office and Mass are being said.

d) At the whole Office and Masses of the Dead.

3. Further, the music of instruments other than the organ is forbidden on Septuagesima, Sexagesima and Quinquagesima Sundays and the ferias that follow them.

4. There are the following exceptions to the above prohibitions :

a) The music of the organ and other instruments is allowed on feasts of obligation and holidays (except Sundays), as well as on the feast of the principal patron of the place, of the titular or dedication anniversary of the particular church, or of the founder of the religious congregation; or if some extraordinary solemnity is being kept.

b) The music of the organ only, or the harmonium, is allowed on the III Sunday of Advent and the IV Sunday of Lent; and on Maundy Thursday at the Mass of the Holy Oils, and from the beginning of the evening Mass "in cena Domini" until the end of Glória in excelsis.

c) The music of the organ or harmonium is also allowed at Mass and Vespers solely to support the singing.

The local Ordinaries can regulate the details of these prohibitions or permissions, having regard to approved customs of the place or country.

5. During the whole Triduum sacrum, that is, from midnight preceding Maundy Thursday until Glória in excélsis Déo of the Easter Vigil, the organ and harmonium must remain absolutely silent; they must not even be used to support the singing; apart from the exceptions given above, 4 b).

The music of organ and harmonium is equally forbidden during the Triduum sacrum, with no exception and notwithstanding any contrary custom, in any devotional exercises.

6. Parish priests, and others whom it concerns, should not fail fully to explain to the people the reason for this liturgical silence.

THE ORDINARY OF THE MASS.

Credo in unum Deum, Patrem omnipotentem, factorem caeli et terrae, visibilium omnium et invisibilium. Et in unum Dominum Jesum Christum, Filium Dei unigenitum. Et ex Patre natum ante omnia saecula. Deum de Deo, lumen de lumine, Deum verum de Deo vero. Genitum, non factum, consubstantialem Patri : per quem omnia facta sunt. Qui propter nos homines, et propter nostram salutem descendit de caelis. Et incarnatus est de Spiritu Sancto ex Maria Virgine : ET HOMO FACTUS EST. Crucifixus etiam pro nobis sub Pontio Pilato : passus, et sepultus est. Et resurrexit tertia die, secundum Scripturas. Et ascendit in caelum : sedet ad dexteram Patris. Et iterum venturus est cum gloria judicare vivos et mortuos : cujus regni non erit finis. Et in Spiritum Sanctum Dominum, et vivificantem : qui ex Patre, Filioque procedit. Qui cum Patre, et Filio simul adoratur, et conglorificatur : qui locutus est per Prophetas. Et unam, sanctam, catholicam et apostolicam Ecclesiam. Confiteor unum baptismum in remissionem peccatorum. Et exspecto resurrectionem mortuorum. Et vitam venturi saeculi. Amen.

Pater noster, qui es in caelis : Sanctificetur nomen tuum : Advēniat regnum tuum : Fiat voluntas tua, sicut in caelo, et in terra. Pānem nostrum quotidianum da nobis hodie : et dimitte nobis debita nostra, sicut et nos dimittimus debitoribus nostris. Et ne nos inducas in tentationem. R. Sed libera nos a malo. The Priest says silently : Amen.

Libera nos, quaesumus Dōmine, ab omnibus malis, praeteritis, praesentibus, et futuris : et intercedente beata et gloriosa semper Virgine Dei Genitrice Maria, cum beatis Apostolis tuis Petro et Paulo, atque Andrēa, et omnibus Sanctis, da propitius pacem in diebus nostris : ut ope misericordiae tuae adjuti, et a peccato simus semper liberi, et ab omni perturbatiōne securi. Per eundem Dōminum nostrum Jesum Christum Fīlium tuum. Qui tecum vivit et regnat in unitate Spíritus Sanctis Deus.

Per omnia saecula saeculorum.
R. Amen.

Pax Dōmini sit semper vobiscum.
R. Et cum spíritu tuo.

Haec commixtio et consecratiō Cōrporis et Sanguinis Dōmini nostri Jesu Christi fiat accipientibus nobis in vitam aeternam. Amen.

Agnus Dēi, qui tollis peccata mundi : miserere nobis.

Agnus Dēi, qui tollis peccata mundi : miserere nobis.

Agnus Dēi, qui tollis peccata mundi : dona nobis pacem.

In Masses for the Dead, the words miserere nobis, are replaced by dona eis requiem, and the word sempiternam is added the third time; also, the first of the following Prayers is omitted.

Domine Jesu Christe, qui dixisti Apostolis tuis : Pacem relinquo vobis, pacem meam do vobis : ne respicias peccata mea, sed fidem Ecclesiae tuae : eamque secundum voluntatem tuam pacificare et coadunare digneris : qui vivis et regnas Deus per omnia saecula saeculorum. Amen.

Dōmine Jesu Christe, Fili Dei vivi, qui ex voluntate Patris, cooperante Spíritu Sancto, per mortem tuam mundum vivificasti : libera me per hoc sacrosantum Corpus et Sanguinem tuum ab omnibus iniquitatibus meis et universis malis : et fac me tuis semper inhaerere mandatis, et a te numquam separari permittas : qui cum eodem Deo Patre, et Spíritu Sancto vivis et regnas Deus in saecula saeculorum. Amen.

Percēptio Cōrporis tui, Dōmine Jesu Christe, quod ego indignus sumere praesumo, non mihi provēniat in iudicium et condemnatiōnem : sed pro tua pietate prosit mihî ad tutamentum mentis et corporis, et ad medelam percipiendam : qui vivis et regnas cum Deo Patre in unitate Spiritus Sancti Deus, per omnia saecula saeculorum. Amen.

Panem caelestem accipiam, et nomen Domini invocabo.

Domine, non sum dignus ut intres sub tectum meum : sed tantum dic verbo, et sanabitur anima mea.

Corpus Domini nostri Jesu Christi custodiat animam meam in vitam aeternam. Amen.

Quid retribuam Domino pro omnibus quae retribuit mihi? Calicem salutaris accipiam, et nomen Domini invocabo. Laudans invocabo Dominum, et ab inimicis meis salvus ero.

Sanguis Domini nostri Jesu Christi custodiat animam meam in vitam aeternam. Amen.

Quod ore sumpsimus, Domine, pura mente capiamus : et de munere temporali fiat nobis remedium sempiternum.

Corpus tuum, Domine, quod sumpsi, et Sanguis, quem potavi, adhaereat visceribus meis : et praesta ; ut in me non remaneat scelerum macula, quem pura et sancta refecerunt sacramenta : Qui vivis et regnas in saecula saeculorum. Amen.

✠ Initium sancti Evangelii secundum Joannem. R. Gloria tibi, Domine.

IN principio erat Verbum, et Verbum erat apud Deum, et Deus erat Verbum. Hoc erat in principio apud Deum. Omnia per ipsum facta sunt : et sine ipso factum est nihil, quod factum est : in ipso vita erat, et vita erat lux hominum : et lux in tenebris lucet, et tenebrae eam non comprehendunt. Fuit homo missus a Deo, cui nomen erat Joannes. Hic venit in testimonium, ut testimonium perhiberet de lumine, ut omnes crederent per illum. Non erat ille lux, sed ut testimonium perhiberet de lumine. Erat lux vera, quae illuminat omnem hominem venientem in hunc mundum. In mundo erat, et mundus per ipsum factus est, et mundus eum non cognovit. In propria venit, et sui eum non receperunt. Quotquot autem receperunt eum, dedit eis potestatem filios Dei fieri, his qui credunt in nomine ejus, qui non ex sanguinibus, neque ex voluntate carnis, neque ex voluntate viri, sed ex Deo nati sunt. Et VERBUM CARO FACTUM EST, et habitavit in nobis : et vidimus gloriam ejus, gloriam quasi Unigeniti a Patre, plenum gratiae et veritatis. R. Deo gratias.

THE COMMON TONES OF THE MASS.

Tones for the Prayers.

1. Festal Tone.

This tone is used for Sundays and Feasts.

D Ominus vobiscum. R̄. Et cum sp̄-ri-tu tú-o.

O -rémus. Pr̄ces nóstras, quaésumus Dómine, cleménter ex-f Metrum. f Flex.

Another conclusion : Qui ví-vis et régnas cum Dé-o Pátre [or Qui técum or : con- fés- si sunt. (B).

per- cé- pi- mus.
 quae ré- cta sunt.

In the body of the Prayer, the metrum comes first, then the flex. In the conclusion, the opposite takes place. As a general rule, the metrum in the Prayer occurs at the colon; the flex at the semi-colon, or, if there is no semi-colon, at the first comma which follows the metrum when the sense allows this being done.

Attention is drawn to the fact that the words Jésum Christum Filium túm. by which a prayer sometimes ends, (e. g. on the Feast and on the Octave of St. Stephen) form part of the body of the Prayer itself. The conclusion therefore begins at the words Qui técum.

2. Ferial Tone.

A) On Ferials, at Votive Masses which are not solemn, and at Masses for the Dead, the Prayers are sung in the ferial tone, that is recto tono from beginning to end, with only a slight pause in those places where the metrum and the flex would have been used in the festal tone, and again at the ending.

B) However, there is another ferial tone which is used for the Prayers of the Litanies and of the Aspersions, and of other ceremonies of the same kind, such as the Washing of the feet, the Blessing of candles, of ashes, and of palms.

This second ferial tone is the same as the first ferial tone, except that, at the end of the Prayer and at the end of the conclusion, the voice is lowered a third — a minor third — for the flex.

The Prayers which precede the Mass of the Paschal Vigil, and the Prayers of the Blessing of the Fonts are sung in the first ferial tone.

The Prayers which are preceded by Flectámus génu-a. are also sung in the first ferial tone.

The Priest : The Deacon : The Sub-Deacon :

Orémus. Flectámus génu-a. Levá-te. Praésta...

The second ferial tone may be used for the Prayer Super pópulum. which is said in Lent after the admonition :

Humi-li- á-te cápi-ta véstra Dé-o.

¹ In accordance with the decree of the Sacred Congregation of Rites, dated July 8th 1912, if a monosyllable or a Hebrew word occur in the Lessons or Versicles, or at the mediant of the psalms, it is permissible to modify the ending (B) or to keep the ordinary modulation (A).

Ancient Tones ad libitum.

a) Solemn Tone.

All the Prayers of the Mass (except the Prayer Super populum) may be sung in this tone without distinction as to festal or ferial rite.

Prayer of St. Stephen.

Jésum Chrístum Fí-li-um tú-um. Qui técum ví-vit et régnat...

In this tone, the Prayer has only the flex, which occurs at the end of the first sub-division.

After the flex, as after any pause, the first syllable of the following word starts a tone lower than the dominant.

If the Prayer is longer than usual (as, for instance, the Prayers A cunctis. and Omnipotens sempitérne Dèus) the formula of the full stop may be repeated on condition that it be preceded each time by a flex.

When the Prayer is preceded by Flectámus génua :

Orémus. Flectámus génu-a. Levá-te. Pópu-lum tú-um...

(When the √. Dóminus vobiscum. has to be replaced by the √. Dómine exáudi. the following is used :

√. Dómine exáudi ora-ti-ónem mé-am. R̄. Et clámor mé-us ad te

b) Simple Tone.

This tone is used for the Prayers of the Aspersión, of the Blessings, of the Litanies, and for other Prayers of the same kind, except those which are preceded by Flectámus génua.

If this simple tone be adopted, it is used also for the Prayer Super pópulum. after the admonition Humiliáte cápita véstra. (as on p. 99).

Dó- mi- nus	est.		Dó- mi- nus	est.

The flex is made towards the middle of each sentence; it is omitted only if the sentence is very short. In the longer sentences, the flex may be repeated several times if the sense allows this being done. The metrum does not occur in this tone.

The flex is made by lowering the voice on the last syllable only, even if the penultimate syllable be not accented. At the full stop, the voice is lowered on the penultimate syllable, if this be short.

The interrogation has only one modulation : that which has already been indicated for the Prophecy. It is the same for the Epistle, the Gospel, and the Lessons. Very short interrogative sentences are sung as follows :

respondit : Quid vis fi-li? Quamóbrem? Sed quid? Quae?

However, the interrogatory formula must never be used ad the end, unless the Tu autem. is to follow. If an interrogation occurs at the end of the text to which the Tu autem. is not to be added, the ordinary cadential formula must be used.

Tone for the Epistle.

The Epistle is said recto tono. in an even, well-sustained voice without modulation, but the interrogation is made in the ordinary way, as in the tone for the Prophecy.

The second tone, as indicated below, may be used ad libitum. It was formerly in common use.

Conclusion: áurum et thus deferéntes, et láudem Dómino annuntiántes.

This conclusion is made with two accents, between which there should be a certain distance, the first accent being modulated before the last phrase of the sentence, or before the last words which have a complete sense in themselves.

This tone has the metrum and the full stop; the interrogation is made as for the Prophecy (p. 103). No inflexion is made at words introducing a quotation. In long sentences, the metrum may be repeated once or several times, if the meaning allow this, for the metrum may only occur where there is a certain completion in the sense. On the other hand, if the text is very short, or if the sense does not allow it, the metrum is omitted altogether.

There is no special rule for monosyllables and Hebrew words.

The ending has its proper modulation even when the text ends with an interrogation.

THE COMMON TONES.

2. It is sung in the Simple tone (see Compline, p. 263), at Prime, Terce, Sext, None, and Compline.

3. On very solemn feasts, at Vespers only, it may be sung as follows :

The Eight Tones of the Psalms.

The first verse of a psalm is always intoned by the Cantor with the formula of intonation proper to each tone. The following verses begin on the dominant. This rule is observed at all the Hours, even in the Office for the Dead.

This rule is applied also to the Psalms (or divisions of psalms) which are sung under one Antiphon, provided that each ends with the doxology Glória

Pátri, the formula of intonation being repeated by the Cantor at the first verse of each Psalm or each division. However, the intonation is not repeated if these Psalms are said under a single Glória Pátri. The formula of intonation is repeated at every verse of the Canticles Benedictus. Magnificat. and Nunc dimittis. even in the Office for the Dead.

For the Canticles Benedictus. and Magnificat. a more ornate modulation was formerly used at the intonation and at the mediant in each tone. These formulas may still be employed at least for the principal feasts. (1st and 2nd class).

However, a different interpretation is allowed. The inflexion of the voice may be replaced by a simple prolongation of the dominant (tenor) and a slight pause. These rules are applied also to monosyllables and Hebrew words. (S. C. of Rites, July 8th and Dec. 12th 1912).

¹ In accordance with the authorisation granted by Rome, a sol may be added ad libitum before the si at the mediant of the Peregrinus tone. Owing to this slight change, this formula becomes regular and is of 1 accent with 3 preparatory syllables.

The Tone " in directum. "

This tone is used for the Psalms which are said without an Antiphon : for instance Ps. 145 at Vespers for the Dead, Ps. 129 at Lauds for the Dead, Ps. 69 after the Litany of the Saints. The use of this tone is noted in the respective places.

At Easter and during the Octave of that feast, for the Psalms which are sung at the Hours without an Antiphon, and also for the Canticle Nunc dimittis, a special tone, indicated for those days, may be used. On Nov. 2nd, day of the Commemoration of all the Faithful Departed, another special tone is given ad libitum for the Psalms of the Little Hours and of Compline.

Tones for the Versicles.

1. On Sundays and Feasts, after the Nocturns, after the Hymns of Lauds and Vespers, and after the Short Responsory of the Little Hours :

℣. Di-rigá-tur Dó-mine orá-ti-o mé-a.

℟. Sicut incénsum in conspéctu tú-o.

Or according to a more recent custom :

℣. Di-rigá-tur Dó-mine orá-ti-o mé-a.

℟. Sicut incénsum in conspéctu tú-o.

2. In all other cases :

℣. Digná-re me laudá-re te Ví-r-go sacrá-ta. ... Dé-i Gé-nitrix.

℟. Da mí-hi virtú-tem contra hó-stes tú-o.

Dó-mi-ne su-per nos.
sperá-vi-mus in te.
in Je-rú-sa-lem.
prae-vé-ni-et te.
Jé-sus.

or : { Dó-mi-ne su-per nos.
sperá-vi-mus in te.
in Je-rú-sa-lem.
prae-vé-ni-et te.
Jé-sus.

At the end of a Versicle, Allelúia. is always treated as a Latin word.

If the Versicle is longer than usual, as at Prime after Pretiósá. or after the Litany of the Saints, the formulas of the flex and of the metrum may be introduced, these being the same as in the tone for the Chapter, p. 123.

On certain feasts of greater solemnity, the Versicle at Vespers is sung in a more ornate tone, as noted in the respective places.

A special tone is indicated at Matins and Lauds of the three last days of Holy Week, and at the Office for the Dead.

Tone for the Absolutions and Blessings.

At Matins, after each Nocturn :

Pá-ter nó-ster. Ÿ. Et ne nos indúcas in tenta-ti-ónem. R̄. Sed libera...

The Absolutions of the 2nd and 3rd Nocturns have only the metrum.

Tones for the Lessons.

1. Ordinary Tone.

Jube Dómine benedicere. and Blessing as has just been indicated, p. 119.

This tone is the same as that for the Prophecy, p. 102, except for the final formula, where the ordinary cadence for the full stop is used. After which, the conclusion is made as follows :

Tu autem Dómine mi-se-ré-re nó-bis. R̄. Dé-o grá-ti-as.

When an interrogation occurs at the end of a Lesson, the ordinary interrogatory formula is used, if the conclusion Tu autem Dómine. isto follow.

At the Office for the Dead and at Tenebrae, the Lessons end without Tu autem. and the final formula is sung as in the Tone for the Prophecies, p. 103, even if an interrogation occur at the end of the text.

2. Solemn Tone ad libitum.

This tone may be used at Matins on very solemn Feasts.

f Conclusion.

Tu autem Dómine mi-se-ré-re nó-bis. R̄. Dé-o grá-ti-as.

This tone has the flex and the metrum. However, if the sentence is short or if the sense does not allow it, the flex may be suppressed, and even the metrum. The flex must not be used without the metrum; but the metrum may be used without the flex. In long sentences, the flex and the metrum may be repeated, alternately, several times.

The flex is always made by lowering the voice a minor third, even if it occur at a monosyllable or a Hebrew word.

The interrogation is made as indicated on pp. 103-104; so also is the final formula when not followed by the conclusion Tu autem.

The Ancient tone, like the preceding one, uses the formulas of flex and of metrum, whenever the passage allows this. In long sentences, the flex and the metrum are repeated, alternately, once or several times according to the sense of the passage. Shorter sentences have only the metrum.

Tone for the Prayers.

On Sundays and Feasts, at Matins, Lauds, and Vespers, the principal Prayer and also the Prayers of the Suffrage and of the Commemorations are sung in the Festal tone, p. 98, or in the ancient Solemn tone, p. 100,

On these same days, at the Little Hours and at Compline, the Prayer is sung in the first Ferial tone (A), p. 99, or in the ancient Simple tone, p. 101.

However, when Terce is followed by Pontifical Mass, the Festal tone or the ancient Solemn tone is used for the Prayer of that Hour.

The second Ferial tone (B), p. 99, or, ad libitum, the ancient Simple tone is used for the Prayers following the Anthems of Our Lady at the end of Office, for the Prayer Dirigere. at Prime, for the Prayers which terminate with the short ending in the Office for the Dead and for Burials, and for other Prayers of the same kind.

The signs † and * which are marked in the Prayers are intended only for the Ancient tones ad libitum.

In the ancient Simple tone, the sign † indicates the place of the flex; the sign * the place of the metrum. If the former of these signs be absent, the flex is to be omitted.

In the ancient Solemn tone, the flex is made at the sign †; the sign * indicates merely a slight pause. If the sign † be not marked, the flex is to be made at the sign *.

Hypermetric Syllables in the Hymns.

According to a decree of the S. C. of Rites, dated May 14th 1915, hypermetric or redundant syllables in the Hymns may be elided, if this method of interpretation be considered easier or more fitting. Two methods are therefore allowed :

either (a) the pronunciation of the hypermetric syllable, by giving it the separate note allotted to it in the notation, according to the rules indicated in the official edition of the Roman Antiphonary.

or (b) the suppression of the hypermetric syllable by elision, thus keeping the ordinary melodic formula.

Hypermetric syllables are printed in italics in our editions.

¶. Déus in adiutorium. 250.

The Psalms and the Canticle are then said in the following order, with the five Antiphons indicated at the Proper of the Feast :

First Antiphon.

Psalm 92.

Dominus regnavit, decorem indutus est : * indutus est Dominus fortitudinem, et praeiinxit se.

Etenim firmavit orbem terrae, * qui non commovebitur.

Parata sedes tua ex tunc : * a saeculo tu es.

Elevaverunt flumina, Domine, * elevaverunt flumina vocem suam.

Elevaverunt flumina fluctus suos, * a vocibus aquarum multarum.

Mirabiles elationes maris : * mirabilis in altis Dominus.

Testimonia tua credibilia facta sunt nimis : * domum tuam decet sanctitudo, Domine, in longitudinem dierum.

Gloria Patri, et Filio, * et Spiritui Sancto.

Populus ejus, et oves pascuae ejus : † introite portas ejus in confessione, * atria ejus in hymnis : confitemini illi.

Quoniam melior est misericordia tua super vitas : * labia mea laudabunt te.

Sic benedicam te in vita mea : * et in nomine tuo levabo manus meas.

Sicut adipe et pinguedine repletur anima mea : * et labiis exultationis laudabit os meum.

Si memor fui tui super stratum meum, † in matutinis meditabor in te : * quia fuisti adiutor meus.

Et in velamento alarum tuarum exultabo, † adhaesit anima mea post te : * me suscepit dextera tua.

Ipsi vero in vanum quaesierunt animam meam, † introibunt in inferiora terrae : * tradentur in manus gladii, partes vulpium erunt.

Psalm 117.

Confitémini Dómino quóniam bonus : * quóniam in saeculum misericórdia ejus.

Dicat nunc Israel quóniam bonus : * quóniam in saeculum misericórdia ejus.

Dicat nunc dómus Aaron : * quóniam in saeculum misericórdia ejus.

Dicant nunc qui timent Dóminum : * quóniam in saeculum misericórdia ejus.

De tribulatione invocavi Dóminum : * et exaudivit me in latitudine Dóminus.

Dóminus mihi adjutor : * non timébo quid faciat mihi hómo.

Dóminus mihi adjutor : * et ego despiciam inimicos meos.

Bónum est confidere in Dómino, * quam confidere in hómine.

Bónum est sperare in Dómino, * quam sperare in principibus.

Omnes gentes circueierunt me : * et in nómine Dómini quia ultus sum in eos.

Circumdantes circumdedérunt me : * et in nómine Dómini quia ultus sum in eos.

Circumdedérunt me sicut ápes, † et exarsérunt sicut ignis in spinis : * et in nómine Dómini quia ultus sum in eos.

Impulsus evérsus sum ut eáderem : * et Dóminus suscepit me.

Fortitúdo méa et laus méa Dóminus : * et factus est mihi in salutem.

Vox exultationis et salutis * in tabernaculis justórum.

Déxtera Dómini fécit virtutem : † dextera Dómini exaltávit me, * dextera Dómini fécit virtutem.

Non móriar, sed vivam : * et narrábo ópera Dómini.

Castigans castigávit me Dóminus : * et mórti non tradidit me.

Aperíte mihi pórtas justítiae, † ingressus in éas confitebor Dómino : * haec pórtá Dómini, jústi intrábunt in éam.

Confitebor tibi quóniam exaudivisti me : * et factus es mihi in salutem.

Lápidem quem reprobavérunt aedificántes : * hic factus est in caput ánguli.

A Dómino factum est istud : * et est mirábile in óculis nóstris.

Haec est dies quam fécit Dóminus : * exultémus et laetémur in éa.

O Dómine sálvum me fac, † o Dómine bene prosperáre : * benedictus qui vénit in nómine Dómini.

Benediximus vóbis de dómo Dómini : * Deus Dóminus, et illúxit nobis.

Constitúite diem solémnem in condénsis, * usque ad eórnú altáris.

Deus méus es tu, et confitebor tibi : * Deus méus es tu, et exaltábo te.

Confitebor tibi quóniam exaudivisti me : * et factus es mihi in salutem.

Confitémini Dómino quóniam bonus : * quóniam in saeculum misericórdia ejus.

Glória Pátri, et Filio, * et Spiritui Sáncto.

Sicut érat in princípío, et núne, et sémper, * et in saecula saeculórum. Amen.

The Glória Pátri. is said at the end of all the Psalms, unless the contrary be indicated.

Ps. 118. Beáti immaculáti. p. 226.

II.

¶ From Septuagesima to Palm Sunday inclusive, instead of Ps. 117. Confitemini. the following two Psalms are said :

Psalm 92.

Dominus regnavit, decorem indutus est : * indutus est Dominus fortitudinem, et praeinxit se.

Etenim firmavit orbem terrae, * qui non commovebitur.

Parata sedes tua ex tunc : * a saeculo tu es.

Elevaverunt flumina, Domine, * elevaverunt flumina vocem suam.

Elevaverunt flumina fluctus suos, * a vocibus aquarum multarum.

Mirabiles elationes maris : * mirabilis in altis Dominus.

Psalm 99.

Jubilate Deo omnis terra : * servite Domino in laetitia.

Introite in conspectu ejus, * in exultatione.

Scitote quoniam Dominus ipse est Deus : * ipse fecit nos, et non ipsi nos.

Populus ejus, et oves pascuae ejus : † introite portas ejus in confessione, * atria ejus in hymnis : confitemini illi.

Laudate nomen ejus : quoniam suavis est Dominus, † in aeternum misericordia ejus, * et usque in generationem et generationem veritas ejus.

Ps. 118. Beati immaculati. as below.

III.

¶ On Privileged Vigils, and on all Feasts of which the Office may be celebrated on Sunday, no matter on what day the Feast itself should fall, Ps. 53. Deus in nomine tuo. is said as below instead of Ps. 117. Then follows the Ps. 118. Beati immaculati.

Psalm 53.

Deus in nomine tuo salvum me fac : * et in virtute tua iudicame.

Deus exaudi orationem meam : * auribus percipe verba oris mei.

Quoniam alieni insurrexerunt adversum me, † et fortes quaesierunt animam meam : * et non proposerunt Deum ante conspectum suum.

Ecce enim Deus adjuvat me : * et Dominus susceptor est animae meae.

Averte mala inimicis meis : * et in veritate tua disperde illos.

Voluntarie sacrificabo tibi, * et confitebor nomini tuo Domine : quoniam bonum est :

Quoniam ex omni tribulatione eripuisti me : * et super inimicos meos despexit oculus meus.

Psalm 118. I.

Beati immaculati in via : * qui ambulat in lege Domini.

Beati qui scrutantur testimonia ejus : * in toto corde exquirunt eum.

Non enim qui operantur iniquitatem, * in visis ejus ambulaverunt.

Tu mandasti * mandata tua custodiri nimis.

Utinam dirigantur viae meae, * ad custodiendas justificationes tuas!

Tunc non confundar, * cum perspexero in omnibus mandatis tuis.

Confitebor tibi in directione cordis : * in eo quod didici judicia justitiae tuae.

Justificationes tuas custodiam : * non me derelinquas usquequaque.

In quo corrigit adolescentior viam suam? * in custodiendo sermones tuos.

In tóto córde méo exquisivi te : * In repéllas me a mandátis tuis.

In córde méo abscondi elóquia tua : * ut non péccem tibi.

Benedictus es Dómine : * dóce me justificatiónes tuas.

In lábiis méis, * pronuntiávi omnia iudicia óris tui.

In vía testimoniórum tuórum delectátus sum, * sicut in ómnibus divitiis.

In mandátis tuis exereébor : * et considerábo vías tuas.

Psalm 118. II.

Retríbe servo tuo, vivífica me : * Et custódiam sermónes tuos.

Revéla óculos méos : * et considerábo mirabilia de lége tua.

Incola égo sum in térra : * non abscondás a me mandáta tua.

Concupívit ánima méa desideráre justificatiónes tuas, * in ómni tēmpore.

Incepásti supérbos : * maledícti qui declinant a mandátis tuis.

The Creed of St. Athanasius is said on the Feast of the Most Holy Trinity. It is also said on the Sundays after the Epiphany and after Pentecost, if the Office of the Sunday is said as in the Psalter; it is omitted if the Commemoration of a Double feast or of an Octave occurs on the Sunday.

The Athanasian Creed.

Quicumque vult sálvus esse, * ante omnia ópus est ut téneat catholicam fidem :

Quam nisi quisque íntegram in-violatámque serváverit, * absque dúbio in aetérnum peribit.

Fídes autem cathólica haec est : † ut únium Déum in Trinitáte, * et Trinitátem in unitáte venerémur :

Neque confundéntes persónas, * neque substántiam separántes.

Alia est enim persóna Pátris, ália Filii, * ália Spíritus Sáncti.

Sed Pátris, et Filii, et Spíritus Sáncti úna ést divinitas, * aequalis glória, coaetérna majéstas.

Quális Páter, talis Filius, * talis Spíritus Sánctus.

Aufer a me oppróbrium et contéptum : * quia testimónia tua exquisivi.

Etenim sedérunt príncipes, et advérsum me loquebántur : * sérvus autem tuus exercebátur in justificatióibus tuis.

Nam et testimónia tua meditátio méa est : * et consilium méum justificatiónes tuas.

Adhaésit pavíménto ánima méa : * vivífica mesecúndum vérbum túum.

Vías méas enuntiávi, et exaudísti me : * dóce me justificatiónes tuas.

Viam justificatiónum tuárum ínstrue me : * et exerceébor in mirabilibus tuis.

Dormitávit ánima méa prae taédio : * confirma me in vérbis tuis.

Viam iniquitátis ámove a me : * et de lége tua miserére méi.

Viam veritátis elégi : * iudicia tua non süm oblítus.

Adhaési testimóniis tuis Dómine : * noli mé confundere.

Viam mandatórum tuórum cucúrri, * cum dilatásti cor méum.

Incréátus Páter, increátus Filius, * increátus Spíritus Sánctus.

Imménsus Páter, imménsus Filius, * imménsus Spíritus Sánctus.

Aetérnus Páter, aetérnus Filius, * aetérnus Spíritus Sánctus.

Et tamen non trés aetérni, * sed únus aetérnus.

Sicut non tres increáti, nec trés imménsi, * sed únus increátus, et únus imménsus.

Simíliter omnipotens Páter, omnipotens Filius, * omnipotens Spíritus Sánctus.

Ita Déus Páter, Déus Filius, * Déus Spíritus Sánctus.

Et tamen non tres Dii, * sed únus ést Déus.

Ita Dóminus Páter, Dóminus Filius, * Dóminus Spíritus Sánctus.

Et tamen non tres Dómini, * sed únus est Dóminus.

Quia sicut singillátim unamquámque persónam Déum ac Dóminum confitéri christiána veritate compéllimur : * ita tres Déos aut Dóminos dicere cathólica religióne prohibémur.

Páter a nullo est factus : * nec creátus, nec génius.

Filius a Pátre sólo est : * non factus, nec creátus, sed génius.

Spíritus Sánctus a Pátre et Filio : * non factus, nec creátus, nec génius, sed procedens.

Unus ergo Páter, non tres Pátres : † únus Filius, non tres Filii : * únus Spíritus Sánctus, non tres Spíritus Sáncti.

Et in hac Trinitáte nihil prius aut postérius, † nihil május aut minus : * sed tótæ tres persónæ coaetérnae sibi sunt et coaequales.

Ita ut per ómnia, sicut jam supra dictum est, † et unitas in Trinitáte, * et Trinitas in unitáte veneránda sit.

Qui vult ergo sálvus ésse, * ita de Trinitáte sentiat.

Sed necessárium est ad aetérnam salutem, * ut Incarnatióem quoque Dómini nóstri Jésu Christi fidéliter erédât.

Est ergo fides récta, ut credámus et confiteámur, † quia Dóminus nóster Jésus Christus Déi Filius, * Déus et hómo est.

Déus est ex substántia Pátris ante saécula génius : * et hómo est ex substántia mátris in saéculo ná-tus.

Perfèctus Déus, perfèctus hómo : * ex ánima rationali et humana carne subsistens.

Aequalis Pátri secúndum divinitátem : * mínor Pátre secúndum humanitátem.

Qui licet Déus sit et hómo, * non dúo tamen, sed únus est Christus :

Unus autem non conversióne divinitátis in carnem, * sed assumptióne humanitátis in Déum :

Unus omníno non confusióne substántiæ, * sed unitáte persónæ.

Nam sicut ánima rationalis et cáro únus est hómo : * ita Déus et hómo únus est Christus.

Qui pássus est pro salute nóstra, descéndit ad inferos : * tértia die resurrexit a mórtuis.

Ascéndit ad caelos, sédet ad dexteram Déi Pátris omnipoténtis : * inde ventúrus est iudicáre vivos et mórtuos.

Ad cújus advéntum ómnes hómines resúrgere hábent cum corpóribus súis : * et redditúri sunt de factis própriis ratióem.

Et qui bóna egerunt, íbunt in vitam aetérnam : * qui vero mála in ígnem aetérnum.

Hæc est fides cathólica, † quam nisi quisque fidéliter firmitérque crediderit, * sálvus ésse non póterit.

Glória Pátri.

Psalm 118. III.

LEgem póne míhi Dómine víam justificatiónum tuárum : * et exquiram eam sémper.

Da míhi intelléctum, et scrutá-bor légem tuam : * et custódiam illam in tóto córde méo.

Déduc me in sémitam mandatórum tuórum : * quia ípsam vólui.

Inclína cor méum in testimónia tua : * et non in avarítiam.

Avérte óculos méos ne vídeant vanitátem : * in vía tua vivífica me.

Státue sérho tuo elóquium
tuum, * in timóre tuo.

Amputa oppróbrium méum quod suspiéatus sum : * quia júdicia tua jueúnda.

Ecce concupívi mandata tua : *
in aequitáte tua vivífica me.

Et veniat super me misericórdia tua Dómine : * salutáre tuum se-cúndum elóquium tuum.

Et respondébo exprobrántibus míhi vérbum : * quia sperávi in sermónibus tuis.

Et ne áuferas de ore méo vér-bum veritátis usquequáque : * quia in júdiciis tuis supersperávi.

Et custódiam légem tuam sém-per : * in saéculum et in saéculum saéculi.

Et ambulábam in latitúdine : *
quia mandata tua exquisivi.

Et loquébar in testimoniis tuis in conspéctu régum : * et non confundébar.

Et meditábar in mandátis tuis, *
quae diléxi.

Et levávi manus meas ad man-data tua, quae diléxi : * et exercébar in justificatiónum tuis.

Psalm 118. IV.

This Psalm and the next should each be intoned by the Cantor.

Memor ésto véربي túi sérho tuo, * in quo míhi spém dedisti.

Haec me consoláta est in humilitáte méa : * quia elóquium tuum vivíficávit me.

Supérbi iníque agébant usquequáque : * a lége autem tua non declinávi.

Mémor fúi júdiciórum tuórum a saéculo Dómine : * et consolátus sum.

Deféctio ténuit me, * pro peccatóribus derelinquéntibus légem tuam.

Cantábiles míhi érant justifica-tiónes tuae, * in lóco peregrinatiónis meae.

Mémor fúi nócte nóminis túi Dómine : * et custodívi légem tuam.

Haec fácta est míhi : * quia justificatiónes tuas exquisivi.

stodíre légem tuam.

Deprecátus sum faciém tuam in tóto córde méo : * miserére méi secúndum elóquium tuum.

Cogitávi vías meas : * et con-vérti pédes méos in testimónia tua.

Parátus sum, et non sùm turbátus : * ut custódiam mandata tua.

Fúnes peccatórum circumpléxi sunt me : * et légem tuam non sùm oblítus.

Média nócte surgébam ad confi-téndum tibi, * super júdicia justificatiónis tuae.

Párticeps égo sum ómnium ti-méntium te : * et custodiéntium mandata tua.

Misericórdia túa Dómine pléna est tērra : * justificatiónes túas dóce me.

Psalm 118. V.

Bonitatem fecisti cum servo tuo Dómine, * secúndum vĕrbum túum.

Bonitatem, et disciplinam, et sciéntiam dóce me : * quia mandátis tuis erédidi.

Priusquam humiliárer égo deliqui : * propterea elóquium túum eustodívi.

Bónus es tu : * et in bonitate túa dóce me justificatiónes túas.

Multiplicáta est super me iniquitas superbórum : * égo autem in tóto corde méo scrutábor mandáta túa.

Coagulátum est sicut lac eór eórum : * égo vero légem túam meditátus sum.

Bónum míhi quia humiliásti me : * ut díscam justificatiónes túas.

Bónum míhi lex óris tui, * super millia áuri et argéti.

Mánus tuæ fecérunt me, et plas-mavérunt me : * da míhi intel-léctum, et díscam mandáta túa.

Qui tíment te vidébunt me, et laetabúntur : * quia in vĕrba túa supersperávi.

Cognóvi Dómine quia aéqúitas júdicia túa : * et in veritate túa humiliásti me.

Fiat misericórdia túa ut conso-létur me, * secúndum elóquium túum servo tuo.

Véniant míhi miseratiónes tuæ, et vivam : * quia lex túa meditatio méa est.

Confundántur superbi, quia injú-ste iniquitatem fecérunt in me : * égo autem exercébor in mandátis tuis.

Convertántur míhi timóntes te : * et qui novérunt testimónia túa.

Fiat cor méum immaculátum in justificatióibus tuis, * ut non confúndar.

Defecérunt óculi méi in elóquium túum, * dicéntes : Quando consoláberis me ?

Quia fáctus sum sicut úter in pruina : * justificatiónes tuas non sùm oblitus.

Quot sunt díes sérví tui ? * quando fácies de persequéntibus mé iudícium ?

Narravérunt míhi iníqui fabulatiónes : * sed non ut lex túa.

In generatióem et generatióem veritas tua : * fundasti terram, et permanet.

Ordinatio tua perseverat dies : * quoniam omnia serviunt tibi.

Nisi quod lex tua meditatio mea est : * tunc forte periissem in humilitate mea.

In aeternum non obliviscar justificationes tuas : * quia in ipsis vivificasti me.

Tuus sum ego, salvum me fac : * quoniam justificationes tuas exquisivi.

Me expectaverunt peccatores ut perderent me : * testimonia tua intellexi.

Omnis consummationis vidi finem : * latum mandatum tuum nimis.

Psalm 118. VII.

Quomodo dilexi legem tuam Domine ! * tota die meditatio mea est.

Super inimicos meos prudentem me fecisti mandato tuo : * quia in aeternum mihi est.

Super omnes docentes me intellexi : * quia testimonia tua meditatio mea est.

Super senes intellexi : * quia mandata tua quaesivi.

Ab omni via mala prohibui pedes meos : * ut custodiam verba tua.

A judiciis tuis non declinavi : * quia tu legem posuisti mihi.

Quam dulcia faucibus meis eloquia tua ! * super mel ori meo.

A mandatis tuis intellexi : * propterea odivi omnem viam iniquitatis.

Lucerna pedibus meis verbum tuum, * et lumen semitis meis.

Juravi, et statui * custodire judicia justitiae tuae.

Humiliatus sum usquequaque Domine : * vivifica me secundum verbum tuum.

Voluntaria oris mei beneplacita fac Domine : * et judicia tua doce me.

Anima mea in manibus meis semper : * et legem tuam non sum oblitus.

Posuerunt peccatores laqueum mihi : * et de mandatis tuis non erravi.

Haereditate acquisivi testimonia tua in aeternum : * quia exultatio cordis mei sunt.

Declinate a me maligni : * et scrutabor mandata Dei mei.

Suscipe me secundum eloquium tuum, et vivam : * et non confundas me ab expectatione mea.

Adjuva me, et salvus ero : * et meditabor in justificationibus tuis semper.

Sprevisti omnes discedentes a judiciis tuis : * quia injusta cogitatio eorum.

Praevaricantes reputavi omnes peccatores terrae : * ideo dilexi testimonia tua.

Confige timore tuo carnes meas : * a judiciis enim tuis timeo.

DEus in adiutorium meum intende : * Domine ad adjuvandum me festina.

2. Confundantur et revereantur, * qui quaerunt animam meam.
3. Avertantur retrorsum et erubescant, * qui volunt mihi mala.
4. Avertantur statim erubescentes, * qui dicunt mihi : Euge, euge.
5. Exsultent et laetentur in te omnes qui quaerunt te, * et dicant semper : Magnificetur Dominus : qui diligunt salutare tuum.
6. Ego vero egenus et pauper sum : * Deus adjuva me.
7. Adjutor meus et liberator meus es tu : * Domine ne moreris.
8. Gloria Patri, et Filio, * et Spiritui Sancto.
9. Sicut erat in principio, et nunc, et semper, * et in saecula saeculorum. Amen.

Psalm 70. I.

IN te Domine speravi, non confundar in aeternum : * in justitia tua libera me, et eripe me.

2. Inclina ad me aurem tuam, * et salva me.
3. Esto mihi in Deum protectorem et in locum munitum : * ut salvum me facias.
4. Quoniam firmamentum meum, * et refugium meum es tu.
5. Deus meus eripe me de manu peccatoris, * et de manu contra legem agentis et iniqui :
6. Quoniam tu es patientia mea Domine : * Domine spes mea a juventute mea.
7. In te confirmatus sum ex utero : * de ventre matris meae tu es protector meus.
8. In te cantatio mea semper : † tamquam prodigium factus sum multis : * et tu adjutor fortis.
9. Repleatur os meum laude, ut cantem gloriam tuam : * tota die magnitudinem tuam.
10. Ne proicias me in tempore senectutis : * cum defecerit virtus mea, ne derelinquas me.
11. Quia dixerunt inimici mei mihi : * et qui custodiebant animam meam, consilium fecerunt in unum,
12. Dicentes : Deus dereliquit eum, † persequimini et comprehendite eum : * quia non est qui eripiat.
13. Deus ne elongeris a me : * Deus meus in auxilium meum respice.
14. Gloria Patri, et Filio, * et Spiritui Sancto.

Psalm 70. II.

Confundantur et deficiant detrahentes animae meae : * operiantur confusione et pudore qui quaerunt mala mihi.

2. Ego autem semper sperabo : * et adjiciam super omnem laudem tuam.

3. Os meum annuntiabit justitiam tuam : * tota die salutare tuum.

4. Quoniam non cognovi litteraturam, † introibo in potentias Domini : * Domine, memorabor justitiae tuae solius.

5. Deus docuisti me a juventute mea : * et usque nunc pronuntiabo mirabilia tua.

6. Et usque in senectam et senium, * Deus ne derelinquas me,

7. Donec annuntiem brachium tuum * generationi omni quae ventura est :

8. Potentiam tuam et justitiam tuam Deus, † usque in altissima quae fecisti magna : * Deus, quis similis tibi?

9. Quantas ostendisti mihi tribulationes multas et malas : † et conversus vivificasti me : * et de abyssis terrae iterum reduxisti me.

10. Multiplicasti magnificentiam tuam : * et conversus consolatus es me.

11. Nam et ego confitebor tibi in vasis psalmi veritatem tuam : * Deus, psallam tibi in cithara, Sanctus Israel.

12. Exsultabunt labia mea cum cantavero tibi : * et anima mea, quam redemisti.

13. Sed et lingua mea tota die meditabitur justitiam tuam : * cum confusi et reveriti fuerint qui quaerunt mala mihi.

IN illo tēpore : Cum audisset Joānes in vīnculis ōpera Christi, mittens duos de discipulis suis, ait illi : Tu es, qui ventūrus es, an aliū exspectāmus? Et respōdens Jesus ait illis : Eūntes renuntiāte Joāni, quae audistis, et vidistis. Caeci vident, claudi āmbulant, leprosi mundāntur, surdi āudiunt, mōrtui resūrgunt, pāuperes evangelizāntur : et beātus est, qui non fūerit scandalizātus in me. Illis autem abeūntibus, coepit Jesus dicere ad turbas de Joāne : Quid existis in desértum vidēre? arūndinem vento agitātam? Sed quid existis vidēre? hōminem mōllibus vestītum? Ecce qui mōllibus vestiūntur, in dōmibus regum sunt. Sed quid existis vidēre? prophētam? Etiam dico vobis, et plus quam prophētam. Hic est enim de quo scriptum est : Ecce ego mitto Angelum meum ante faciē tuam, qui praeparābit viam tuam ante te. Credo.

Joann. I. c.

IN illo tēpore : Misērunt Judaēi ab Jerosolymis sacerdotēs et levitas ad Joānnem, ut interrogārent eum : Tu quis es? Et confēssus est, et non negāvit : et confēssus est : Quia non sum ego Christus. Et interrogavērunt eum : Quid ergo? Elías es tu? Et dixit : Non sum. Prophēta es tu? et respōdit : Non. Dixērunt ergo ei : Quis es, ut respōsum demus his qui misērunt nos? Quid dicis de te ipso? Ait : Ego vox clamāntis in desēto : Dirigite viam Dōmini, sicut dixit Isaiās Prophēta. Et qui missi fūe-rant, erant ex Pharisaeis. Et interrogavērunt eum, et dixerunt ei : Quid ergo baptizas, si tu non es Christus, neque Elías, neque Prophēta? Respondit eis Joānes, dicens : Ego baptizo in aqua : médius autem vestrum stetit, quem vos nescitis. Ipse est, qui post me ventūrus est, qui ante me factus est : cujus ego non sum dignus ut solvam ejus corrigiam calceamenti. Haec in Bethānia facta sunt trans Jordānem, ubi erat Joānes baptizans.

FRatres : Rogámus vos per advéntum Dómini nostri Jesu Christi, et nostrae congregatiónis in ipsum : ut non cito moveámini a vestro sensu, neque terreámini, neque per spíritum, neque per ser-mónem, neque per epístolam tamquam per nos missam, quasi instet dies Dómini. Ne quis vos sedúcat ullo modo : quóniam nisi vénerit discéssio primum, et revelátus fú-erit homo peccáti, filius perditiónis, qui adversátur, et extóllitur supra omne quod dicitur Deus, aut quod cólitur, ita ut in templo Dei sédeat osténdens se tamquam sit Deus.
Non retinéti, quod cum adhuc es-sem apud vos, haec dicébam vobis?
Et nunc quid detíneat scitis, ut re-velétur in suo témpore. Nam mystérium jam operátur iniquitátis :
tantum ut qui tenet nunc, téneat, donec de médio fiat. Et tunc reve-lábitur ille iniquus, quem Dóminus Jesus interficiet spíritu oris sui, et déstruet illustratióne advéntus sui.

Párvulus enim natus est nobis, et fílius datus est nobis, et factus est principátus super húmerum ejus : et vocábitur nomen ejus, Admirábilis, Consiliá-rius, Deus, Fortis, Pater futúri saeculi, Princeps pacis. Homília sancti Gregórii Papae.

Quia, largiénte Dómino, Missá-rum solénnia ter hódie cele-bratúri sumus, loqui diu de evan-gélica lectione non póssumus; sed nos áliquid vel breviter dicere, Red-emptóris nostri Nativitas ipsa compéllit. Quid est enim, quod nascituro Dómino mundus describitur, nisi hoc, quod apérte monstrátur, quia ille apparébat in carne, qui electos suos adscríberet in aeternitate? Quo contra de réprobis per prophétam dicitur : Deleántur de libro vivén-tium, et cum justis non scribántur. Qui bene étiam in Bétlehem nascitur : Bétlehem quippe domus panis interpretátur. Ipse namque est, qui ait : Ego sum panis vivus, qui de caelo descéndi. Locus ergo, in quo Dóminus nascitur, domus panis ántea vocátus est; quia futúrum profécto erat, ut ille ibi per maté-riam carnis apparéret, qui electórum mentes intérna satietáte refí-ceret. Qui non in paréntum domo, sed in via nascitur; ut profécto osténderet, quia per humanitátem suam, quam assúmpserat, quasi in aliéno nascebátur. Tu autem, Dó-mine, miserére nobis.

Luc. 2.

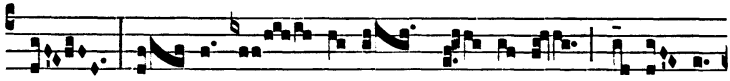

IN illo tempore : Exiit edictum a Caesare Augusto, ut describeretur universus orbis. Haec descriptio prima facta est a praeside Syriae Cyrino : et ibant omnes ut profiterentur singuli in suam civitatem. Ascendit autem et Joseph a Galilaea de civitate Nazareth, in Iudaeam in civitatem David, quae vocatur Bethlehém : eo quod esset de domo et familia David, ut profiteretur cum Maria desponsata sibi uxore praegnante. Factum est autem, cum essent ibi, impleri sunt dies ut pareret. Et peperit filium suum primogenitum, et pannis eum involvit, et reclinavit eum in praesepio : quia non erat eis locus in diversorio. Et pastores erant in regione eadem vigi-lantes, et custodiétes vigílias noctis super gregem suum. Et ecce Angelus Domini stetit juxta illos, et claritas Dei circumfúlsit illos, et timuerunt timóre magno. Et dixit illis Angelus : Nolite timére : ecce enim evangelizo vobis gáudium magnum, quod erit omni pópulo : quia natus est vobis hódie Salvátor, qui est Christus Dóminus, in civitate David. Et hoc vobis signum : Inveniétis infántem pannis involútum, et pósito in praesepio. Et súbito facta est cum Angelo multitúdo militiae caeléstis, laudántium Deum, et dicentium : Glória in altíssimis Deo, et in terra pax homínibus bonae voluntátis. Credo.

Multifariam, multisque modis olim Deus loquens pátribus in prophétis : novissime diébus istis locútus est nobis in Fílio, quem constituit haerédem universórum, per quem fecit et saécula : qui cum sit splendor glóriæ, et figúra substántiæ ejus, portánsque ómnia verbo virtútis suæ, purgatiónem peccatórum faciens, sedet ad dexteram majestátis in excélsis : tanto mélior Angelis efféctus, quanto différentius prae illis nomen haereditávit. Cui enim dixit aliquándo Angelórum : Filius meus es tu, ego hódie genui te? Et rursus : Ego ero illi in patrem, et ipse erit mihi in filium? Et cum iterum introducit primogénitum in orbem terræ, dicit : Et adórent eum omnes Angeli Dei. Et ad Angelos quidem dicit : Qui facit Angelos suos spíritus, et ministros suos flammam ignis. Ad Fílium autem : Thronus tuus, Deus, in saéculum saeculi : virga aequitatis, virga regni tui. Dilexisti justitiam, et odisti iniquitatem : propterea unxit te Deus, Deus tuus, oleo exultationis prae participibus tuis. Et : Tu in principio, Domine, terram fundasti : et opera manuum tuarum sunt caeli. Ipsi peribunt, tu autem permanebis, et omnes ut vestimentum veterascent : et velut amictum mutabis eos, et mutabuntur : tu autem idem ipse es, et anni tui non deficient.

Hunc ergo cum vidisset Petrus, dixit Jesu: Dómine, hic autem quid? Dicit ei Jesus: Sic eum volo manére, donec véniam, quid ad te? tu me séquere. Exiit ergo sermo iste inter fratres, quia discipulus ille non móritur. Et non dixit ei Jesus: Non móritur; sed: Sic eum volo manére, donec véniam, quid ad te? Matth. 2.

CUM natus esset Jesus in Bétlehem Juda in diébus Heródis regis, ecce Magi ab Oriénte venérunt Jerosólymam, dicétes : Ubi est qui natus est rex Judaeórum? Vídimus enim stellam ejus in Oriénte, et vénimus adoráre eum. Audiens autem Heródes rex, turbátus est, et omnis Jerosólyma cum illo. Et cóngregans omnes príncipes sacerdotum, et scribas pópuli, sciscitabátur ab eis, ubi Christus nascerétur. At illi dixérunt ei : In Bétlehem Judae : sic enim scriptum est per Prophétam : Et tu Bétlehem terra Juda, nequáquam mínima es in princípibus Juda : ex te enim éxiet dux, qui regat pópulum meum Israel. Tunc Heródes, clam vocátis Magis, diligénter didícit ab eis tempus stellae, quae apparuit eis :

et mittens illos in Bétlehem, dixit : Ite, et interrogáte diligénter de púero : et cum invenéritis, renuntiáte mihi, ut et ego véniens adorém eum. Qui cum audíssent regem, abiérunt. Et ecce stella, quam víderant in Oriénte, antecedebat eos, usque dum véniens staret supra, ubi erat puer. Vidétes autem stellam, gavisi sunt gáudio magno valde. Et intrátes domum, invenérunt púerum cum María matre ejus (Here all kneel), et procidétes adoravérunt eum. Et apértis thesáuris suis, obtulérunt ei múnera, aurum, thus, et myrrham. Et respónso accépto in somnis, ne redírent ad Heródem, per áliam viam revérsi sunt in regiónem suam.

audiébant, super prudéntia et respónsis ejus. Et vidéntes admiráti sunt. Et dixit mater ejus ad illum : Fili, quid fecísti nobis sic? ecce pater tuus, et ego doléntes quaerebá-mus te. Et ait ad illos : Quid est quod me quaerebátis? nesciebátis, quia in his, quae Patris mei sunt, opórtet me esse? Et ipsi non intellexérunt verbum, quod locútus est ad eos. Et descendit cum eis, et venit Názareth : et erat súbditus illis. Et mater ejus conservábat ómnia verba haec in corde suo. Et Jesus proficiébat sapiéntia, et aetáte, et grátia apud Deum et hómines. runt iter diéi, et requirébant eum inter cognátos et notos. Et non inveniéntes, regréssi sunt in Jerúsalem, requiréntes eum. Et factum est, post tríduum invenérunt illum in templo sedéntem in médio doctórum, audiéntem illos, et interrogántem eos. Stupébant autem omnes, qui eum audiébant, super prudéntia et respónsis ejus. Et vidéntes admiráti sunt. Et dixit mater ejus ad illum : Fili, quid fecísti nobis sic? ecce pater tuus, et ego doléntes quaerebámus te. Et ait ad illos : Quid est quod me quaerebátis? nesciebátis, quia in his, quae Patris mei sunt, opórtet me esse? Et ipsi non intellexérunt verbúm, quod locútus est ad eos. Et descendit cum eis, et venit Náza-reth : et erat súbditus illis. Et mater ejus conservábat ómnia verba haec in corde suo. Et Jesus proficiébat sapiéntia, et aetáte, et grátia apud Deum et hómines. Credo.

in corpore sive extra corpus nescio, Deus scit, quoniam raptus est in paradysum : et audivit arcana verba, quae non licet homini loqui. Pro hujusmodi gloriabor : pro me autem nihil gloriabor, nisi in infirmitatibus meis. Nam, et si voluero gloriari, non ero inspiens : veritatem enim dicam : parco autem, ne quis me existimet supra id quod videt in me, aut aliquid audit ex me. Et ne magnitudo revelationum extollat me, datus est mihi stimulus carnis meae, angelus satanae, qui me colaphizet. Propter quod ter Dominum rogavi, ut discederet a me : et dixit mihi : Sufficit tibi gratia mea : nam virtus in infirmitate perficitur. Libenter igitur gloriabor in infirmitatibus meis, ut inhabitet in me virtus Christi.

Et áliud cécidit supra petram : et natum áruit, quia

Vobis datum est nosse mysterium regni Dei, ceteris autem in parabolis : ut videntes non videant, et audientes non intelligant. Est autem haec parabola : Semen est verbum Dei. Qui autem secus viam, hi sunt qui audiunt : deinde venit diabolus, et tollit verbum de corde eorum, ne credentes salvi fiant. Nam qui supra petram : qui cum audierint, cum gaudio suscipiunt verbum : et hi radices non habent : qui ad tempus credunt, et in tempore tentationis recedunt. Quod autem in spinas cecidit : hi sunt, qui audierunt, et a sollicitudinibus, et divitiis, et voluptatibus vitae, euntes, suffocantur, et non referunt fructum. IN illo témpore : Assúmpsit Jesus duódecim, et ait illis : Ecce ascéndimus Jerosólymam, et consummábuntur ómnia, quae scripta sunt per prophétas de Filio hóminis. Tradétur enim géntibus, et illudétur, et flagellábitur, et conspuétur : et postquam flagelláverint, occídent eum, et tértia die resúrget. Et ipsi nihil horum intellexérunt, et erat verbum istud abscónditum ab eis, et non intelligébant quae dicebántur. Factum est autem, cum appropinquáret Jéricho, caecus quidam sedébat secus viam, mendícans. Et cum audíret turbam praetereúntem, interrogábat quid hoc esset? Dixérunt autem ei, quod Jesus Nazarénus transfret. Et clamávit dicens : Jesu, fili David, miserére mei. Et qui praeibant, increpábant eum ut tacéret. Ipse vero multo magis clamábat : Fili David, miserére mei. Stans autem Jesus, jussit illum addúci ad se. Et cum appropinquásset, interrogávit illum, dicens : Quid tibi vis fáciam? At ille dixit : Dómine, ut vídeam. Et Jesus dixit illi : Réspice, fides tua te salvum fecit. Et conféstim vidit, et sequebátur illum, magníficans Deum. Et omnis plebs ut vidit, dedit laudem Deo. Credo.

In illo tēpore : Ductus est Jesus in désertum a Spírítu, ut tentáretur a diabólo. Et cum jejúnasset quadraginta diébus, et quadraginta nóctibus, póstea esúriit. Et accédens tentátor, dixit ei : Si Fílius Dei es, dic ut lápides isti panes fiant. Qui respóndens, dixit : Scriptum est : Non in solo pane vivit homo, sed in omni verbo, quod procédit de ore Dei. Tunc assúpsit eum diabólus in sanctam civitátem, et státuit eum super pinnáculum templi, et dixit ei : Si Fílius Dei es, mitte te deórsum. Scriptum est enim : Quia Angelis suis mandávit de te, et in mánibus tollent te, ne forte offéndas ad lápidem pedem tuum. Ait illi Jesus : Rursum scriptum est : Non tentábis Dóminum Deum tuum. Iterum assúpsit eum diabólus in montem excélsus valde : et osténdit ei ómnia regna mundi, et glóriam eórum, et dixit ei : Haec ómnia tibi dabo, si cadens adoráveris me. Tunc dicit ei Jesus : Vade Sátana : scriptum est enim : Dóminum Deum tuum adorábis : et illi soli sérvies. Tunc reliquit eum diabólus : et ecce Angeli accessérunt, et ministrábant ei. Credo.

IN illo témpore : Erat Jesus ejiciens daemónium, et illud erat mutum. Et cum eiecisset daemónium, locútus est mutus, et admiratae sunt turbae. Quidam autem ex eis dixerunt : In Beélzebub príncipe daemoniórúm ejicit daemónia. Et álíi tentántes, signum de caelo quaerébant ab eo. Ipse autem ut vidit cogitátiones eórúm, dixit eis : Omne regnum in seípsum divísium desolábitur, et domus supra domum cadet. Si autem et sátanás in seípsum divísus est, quómodo stabit regnum ejus? quia dícitis in Beélzebub me ejicere daemónia. Si autem ego in Beélzebub ejicio daemónia : filii vestri in quo ejiciunt? Ideo ipsi júdices vestri erunt. Porro si in dígito Dei ejicio daemónia : profécto pervénit in vos regnum Dei. Cum fortis armátus custódit átrium suum, in pace sunt ea quae

Qui non est mecum, contra me est : et qui non cólligit mecum, dispérgit. Cum immúndus spíritus exierit de hómine, ámbulat per loca inaquósa, quaerens réquiem : et non invéniens, dicit : Revértar in domum meam, unde exívi. Et cum vénerit, invenit eam scopis mundátam, et ornátam. Tunc vadit, et assúmit septem álíos spíritus secum nequíores se, et ingressi hábitant ibi. Et fiunt novíssima hóminis illíus pejóra príoribus. Factum est autem, cum haec diceret : extóllens vocem quaedam múlier de turba, dixit illi : Beátus venter, qui te portávit, et úbera, quae suxísti. IN illo tempore : Abiit Jesus trans mare Galilaeae, quod est Tiberiadis : et sequebatur eum multitudo magna, quia videbant signa, quae faciebat super his, qui infirmabantur. Subiit ergo in montem Jesus : et ibi sedebat cum discipulis suis. Erat autem proximum Pascha, dies festus Judaeorum. Cum sublevasset ergo oculos Jesus, et vidisset quia multitudo maxima venit ad eum, dixit ad Philippum : Unde ememus panes, ut manducent hi? Hoc autem dicebat tentans eum : ipse enim sciebat quid esset factururus. Respondit ei Philippus : Ducentorum denariorum panes non sufficiunt eis, ut unusquisque modicum quid accipiat. Dicit ei unus ex discipulis ejus, Andreas, frater Simonis Petri : Est puer unus hic, qui habet quinque panes hordeaceos, et duos pisces : sed haec quid sunt inter tantos? Dixit ergo Jesus : Facite homines discumbere. Erat autem foenum multum in loco. Discubuérunt ergo viri, numero quasi quinque millia. Accépit ergo Jesus panes : et cum grátias egisset, distribuit discumbéntibus : similiter et ex piscibus quantum volébant. Ut autem impléti sunt, dixit discipulis suis : Colligite quae superaverunt fragmenta, ne pereant. Collegérunt ergo, et impleverunt duodecim cophinos fragmentorum ex quinque panibus hordeaceis quae superfuérunt his, qui manducaverant. Illi ergo homines cum vidissent quod Jesus fécerat signum, dicebant : Quia hic est vere Prophéta, qui venturus est in mundum. Jesus ergo cum cognovisset, quia ventúri essent ut rapérent eum, et fácerent eum regem, fugit iterum in montem ipse solus. Credo.

Proptérea vos non auditis, quia ex Deo non estis. Respondérunt ergo Judaéi, et dixerunt ei : Nonne bene dicimus nos quia Samaritánus es tu, et daemónium habes? Respondit Jesus : Ego daemónium non hábeo : sed honorífico Patrem meum, et vos inhonorástis me. Ego autem non quaero glóriam meam : est qui quaerat, et júdicet. Amen, amen dico vobis : si quis sermónem meum serváverit, mortem non vidébit in aetérnum. Dixerunt ergo Judaéi : Nunc cognóvimus quia daemónium habes. Abraham mórtuus est, et prophétae : et tu dicis : Si quis sermónem meum serváverit, non gustábit mortem in aetérnum. Numquid tu major es patre nostro Abraham, qui mórtuus est? et prophétae mórtui sunt. Quem teípsum facis? Respondit Jesus : Si ego glorífico meípsum, glória mea ficat me, quem vos dicitis quia Deus vester est, et non cognovistis eum :

ego autem novi eum : et si dixerero,

Immediately after the final V. Fidélium ánimae the blessing of palms begins.

THE SOLEMN PROCESSION OF PALMS

IN HONOUR OF CHRIST THE KING

PRELIMINARY

The solemn blessing of palms, the procession, and the Mass that follows, should be in the morning, at the usual time for the chief Mass.

However, in churches where numbers attend an evening Mass, the Bishop of the diocese may allow the blessing of palms, procession and subsequent Mass at some hour after noon, if for pastoral reasons there is real necessity, provided there is no blessing and procession in the morning at the same church.

The blessing of palms may not be held without the procession and Mass.

If in the place there is another church where the blessing can conveniently be held, there is no reason why the palms should not be blessed there. Then follows the procession to the principal church. The blessing of palms may not be held without the procession and Mass.

Since all the faithful can scarcely be present at the blessing of palms, care must be taken that blessed palms are ready in the sacristy or other suitable place, to be distributed to those who were not present.

Branches of palms, olives or other trees are used for the blessing and procession of palms. In accordance with local custom they are either prepared and brought to the church by the faithful, or are distributed to them after the blessing.

THE BLESSING OF PALMS

1. At a suitable time, after Terce in choir, the blessing of branches of palms, olives or other trees begins. The Aspérge is omitted.

2-3. The celebrant and sacred ministers wear red vestments, without maniple. Instead of chasuble, the celebrant wears a cope (optional in the simple rite).

4. If the faithful are not already holding their palms, these are placed on a table which is covered with a white cloth and placed in a convenient place in the sanctuary so that the people can see it.

5. When everything is ready, the celebrant and the sacred ministers [or servers]¹ genuflect or bow to the altar as usual, and go behind the table, facing the people.

While this is taking place, the following antiphon is sung :

Ant.

H

Osánna * fi-li-o Dávid : benedí-ctus qui vé-nit in nómine Dómi-ni. Rex Is- ra- òl : Hosánna in excél-sis.

6. Then the celebrant, with his hands joined, blesses the palms, singing the Collect to the ferial B tone (or the simple ancient tone).

Ÿ. Dóminus vobiscum.

All answer :

R̄. Et cum spíritu túo.

7. In the following Collect the celebrant should say : these branches of palms, or these branches of olives, or these branches of trees, or these branches of palms and olives, or these branches of palms (olives) and other trees.

Orémus.

Prayer

BEne † dic, quaesumus, Dómine, hos palmárum (or olivárum or aliárum árborum) ramos : † et praesta; ut, quod pópulus tuus in tui veneratiónem hodiérno die corporáliter agit, hoc spirituáliter summa devotióne perficiat, * de hoste victóriam reportádo et opus misericórdiae summópere diligéndo. Per Dóminum nostrum Jesum Christum.

8. Then the celebrant, saying nothing, sprinkles three times the palms on the table, then, at the rail, those that the people, as said above, may have in their hands ; or he may pass through the aisles of the church.

9. Next the celebrant puts incense in the thurible and blesses it ; then he censens the palms on the table, finally, from the rail (or the aisles) those held by the people.

The sacred ministers [or the servers] accompany the celebrant for both the aspersion and the censening of the palms, holding up the edge of his cope.

¹ The rubrics printed in square brackets concern churches where a deacon and subdeacon are not available.

THE DISTRIBUTION OF PALMS

10. When the blessing is over, the distribution of palms takes place in accordance with local custom.

11. An acolyte [or server] takes the celebrant's palm from the table and puts it on the credence-table; it will be given to him when the procession begins.

The celebrant goes to the altar with the sacred ministers (or servers) and after making reverence, goes up and kisses it in the middle; then, not taking his own palm-branch, or giving theirs to the ministers [or to the two servers with him], he turns to the people, and, helped by the ministers [or servers], distributes the blessed palms to all the clergy in order of dignity, or to the servers, all kneeling on the altar-step.

He then leaves the altar with his assistants and after making reverence goes to the rails or choir-screen, where he distributes the palms, first to the men, and then to the women.

12. When he begins to distribute the palms, these antiphons and psalms are sung as follows :

If these chants are not long enough, they are repeated until the distribution of palms is finished; if, on the other hand, the distribution ends first, the Glória Pátri is sung at once, followed by the antiphon.

When the distribution is ended, the celebrant goes to his place. There, helped by the ministers [or servers], he washes his hands, saying nothing. The table is then taken away.

THE READING OF THE GOSPEL

Solemn rite

13. After washing his hands, the celebrant, standing in his place, puts incense in the thurible and blesses it.

The deacon then takes the book, kneels on the lowest step of the altar, and says silently Munda cor meum. Then he rises, and with the subdeacon and acolytes makes reverence to the altar. He comes to the celebrant to ask his blessing. When this is given, he sings the Gospel as at High Mass.

The celebrant does not himself read the Gospel, but stands at the sedilia to listen to it.

Simple rite

[13a. If the ceremony is sung, the celebrant remains in his place, and blesses incense.

He then takes the book, goes with the servers to the altar, kneels on the lowest step, and bowing says silently Munda cor meum, Jube, Dómine, benedicere and Dóminus sit in corde meo.

He rises, makes reverence, goes to the Gospel side of the sanctuary, puts the book on the lectern covered in red, and censes it. Then he sings or reads the Gospel.]

14. + Sequentia sancti Evangelii secundum Matthaeum. 21, 1-9.

In illo témpore : Cum appropinquasset Jesus Jerosólymis, et venisset Béthphage ad montem Olivéti : tunc misit duos discipulos suos, dicens eis : « Ite in castéllum, quod contra vos est, et statim inveniétis ásinam alligátam, et pullum cum ea : sólvite, et addúcite mihi : et si quis vobis áliquíd dixerit, dicite, quia Dóminus his opus habet, et conféstim dimíttet eos ». Hoc autem totum factum est, ut adimplerétur quod dictum est per Prophétam, dicéntem : Dicite filiae Sion : Ecce Rex tuus venit tibi mansuétus, sedens super ásinam et pullum, filium subjugális. Eúntes autem discipuli, fecérunt sicut praecépit illis Jesus. Et adduxérunt ásinam et pullum : et imposuérunt super eos vestiménta sua, et eum désuper sedére fecérunt.

Plúrima autem turba straverunt vestiménta sua in via : álii autem caedébant ramos de arbóribus, et sternébant in via : turbae autem, quae praecedébant, et quae sequebántur, clamábant, dicéntes : « Hosánna filio David : benedíctus qui venit in nómine Dómini ».

15. When the Gospel is finished, the subdeacon takes the book for the celebrant to kiss, but the latter is not censed by the deacon.

THE PROCESSION WITH BLESSED PALMS

16. After the Gospel, the celebrant, with the ministers [or servers], returns to the foot of the altar, makes reverence and blesses incense. Then the deacon [or celebrant] turns to the people and says :

All
answer :

Procedámus in páce.

In nómine Chrísti. Amen.

The procession begins :

- a) first, the thurifer with smoking thurible ;
- b) then a second subdeacon, or acolyte [or server], carrying the cross unveiled,
- c) accompanied by two acolytes [or servers] with lighted candles ;
- d) next, the clergy in order of dignity [or other servers],
- e) after them, the celebrant, with head covered and carrying his palm-branch, accompanied by deacon and subdeacon [or two servers] holding the corners of his cope, but without palms.
- f) finally, the people, holding their blessed palms in their hands.

17. If possible, the procession goes outside the church for a fairly long way.

18. As the procession begins, all or some of the following antiphons may be sung :

After the Epistle, lecterns, quite unadorned, are placed in the sanctuary on the Gospel side. The Passion of Our Lord is sung or said in this way :

Solemn rite

It is sung or read by deacons. These, in amice, alb, girdle and purple stole, with two acolytes (or servers) without lights or incense, come to the foot of the altar, and there, kneeling on the lowest step and bowing, say silently Munda cor meum. Then aloud they ask the celebrant's blessing, saying Jube, domne, benedicere. The celebrant, turning towards them, answers aloud :

Dóminus sit in córdibus vestris, et in lábiis vestris, ut | evangélium suum : in nómine
digne et competénter annuntiétis | Patris, et Fílii, + et Spritus Sancti. They answer : Amen.

After the usual genuflexion or bow to the altar they go to the lecterns with the acolytes. They do not make the sign of the cross either on the book or on themselves when they begin to sing or read the Passion.

The celebrant, standing at his seat, listens to the Passion, and does not read it himself.

Simple rite

[The priest, having read the gradual and tract, says in the usual way in the middle of the altar : Munda cor meum, Jube, Dómine, and Dóminus sit in corde meo.

Then, at the altar on the Gospel side, he reads aloud or sings the Passion, not making the sign of the cross on the book or on himself at the beginning.

The Passion may be sung by three deacons, with the same ceremonies as for the solemn rite.

If there are only two deacons, they may sing or read the parts assigned to the Chronicler and the Synagogue ; that of Christ is taken by the celebrant, who remains at the altar, on the Gospel side, in chasuble.

Munda cor meum, in this case, is said silently by the celebrant bowing at the middle of the altar and by the deacons kneeling on the lowest step and bowing. All continue silently Jube, Dómine, benedicere and Dóminus sit in corde meo, as at low Mass.]

This method of singing or reading the Passion is also observed on the following Tuesday and Wednesday.

Passio Domini nostri Jesu Christi secundum Matthaeum.

26, 36-75; 27, 1-60

IN illo tēpore : Venit Jesus cum discipulis suis in villam, quae dicitur Gethsémani, et dixit discipulis suis : + Sedete hic, donec vadam illuc, et orem. C. Et assumpto Petro, et duobus filiis Zebedaei, coepit contristari, et maestus esse. Tunc ait illis : + Tristis est anima mea usque ad mortem : sustinete hic, et vigilate mecum. C. Et progressus pusillum, procidit in faciem suam, orans, et dicens : + Pater mi, si possibile est, transeat a me calix iste. Verumtamen non sicut ego volo, sed sicut tu. C. Et venit ad discipulos suos, et invenit eos dormientes : et dicit Petro : + Sic non potuistis una hora vigilare mecum? Vigilate, et orate, ut non intratis in tentationem. Spiritus quidem promptus est, caro autem infirma. C. Iterum secundo abiit, et oravit, dicens : + Pater mi, si non potest hic calix transire, nisi bibam illum, fiat voluntas tua. C. Et venit iterum, et invenit eos dormientes : erant enim oculi eorum gravati. Et relictis illis, iterum abiit, et oravit tertio, eundem sermonem dicens. Tunc venit ad discipulos suos, et dicit illis : + Dormite jam, et requiescite : ecce appropinquavit hora, et Filius hominis tradetur in manus peccatorum. Surgite, eamus : ecce appropinquavit qui me tradet.

C. Adhuc eo loquente, ecce Judas unus de duodecim venit, et cum eo turba multa cum gladiis, et fustibus, missi a principibus sacerdotum, et senioribus populi. Qui autem tradidit eum, dedit illis signum, dicens : S. Quemcumque osculatus fuero, ipse est, tenete eum. C. Et confestim accedens ad Jesum, dixit : S. Ave, Rabbi. C. Et osculatus est eum. Dixitque illi Jesus : + Amice, ad quid venisti? C. Tunc accesserunt, et manus injecerunt in Jesum, et tenuerunt eum. Et ecce unus ex his, qui erant cum Jesu, extendens manum, exemit gladium suum, et percutiens servum principis sacerdotum, amputavit auriculam ejus. Tunc ait illi Jesus : + Convertere gladium tuum in locum suum. Omnes enim, qui acceperint gladium, gladio peribunt. An putas, quia non possum rogare Patrem meum, et exhibebit mihi modo plus quam duodecim legiones Angelorum? Quomodo ergo implebuntur Scripturae, quia sic oportet fieri?

C. In illa hora dixit Jesus turbis : + Tamquam ad latronem existis cum gladiis, et fustibus comprehendere me : quotidie apud vos sedebam docens in templo, et non me tenuistis. C. Hoc autem totum factum est, ut adimplerentur Scripturae prophetarum. Tunc discipuli omnes, relicto eo, fugerunt.

At illi tenentes Jesum, duxerunt ad Caiapham principem sacerdotum, ubi scribae et seniores convenerant. Petrus autem sequebatur eum a longe, usque in atrium principis sacerdotum. Et ingressus intro, sedebat cum ministris, ut videret finem. Principes autem sacerdotum, et omne concilium, quaerebant falsum testimonium contra Jesum, ut eum morti traderent : et non inveniunt, cum multi falsi testes accessissent. Novissime autem venerunt duo falsi testes, et dixerunt : S. Hic dixit : Possum destrúere templum Dei, et post trídium reaedificáre illud. C. Et surgens princeps sacerdotum, ait illi : S. Nihil respóndes ad ea, quae isti advérsus te testificántur? C. Jesus autem tacébat. Et princeps sacerdotum ait illi : S. Adjúro te per Deum vivum, ut dicas nobis, si tu es Christus Filius Dei. C. Dicit illi Jesus : + Tu dixisti. Verúmtamen dico vobis, ámodo vidébitis Fílium hóminis sedéntem a dextris virtútis Dei, et veniéntem in núbibus caeli. C. Tunc princeps sacerdotum scidit vestiménta sua, dicens : S. Blasphemávit : quid adhuc egémus téstibus? Ecce nunc audístis blasphemíam : quid vobis vidéatur? C. At illi respóndentes dixerunt : S. Reus est mortis.

C. Tunc exspuérun't in fáciem ejus, et cólaphis eum cecidérunt, álii autem palmas in fáciem ejus dedérunt, dicétes : S. Prophetiza nobis, Christe, quis est qui te percússit? C. Petrus vero sedébat foris in átrio : et accessit ad eum una ancilla, dicens : S. Et tu cum Jesu Galilaéo eras. C. At ille negávit coram ómnibus, dicens : S. Néscio quid dicis. C. Exeúnte autem illo jánuam, vidit eum ália ancilla, et ait his, qui erant ibi : S. Et hic erat cum Jesu Nazaréno. C. Et íterum negávit cum juraménto : Quia non novi hóminem. Et post pusillum accessérunt qui stabant, et dixerunt Petro : S. Vere et tu ex illis es : nam et loquéla tua maniféstum te facit. C. Tunc coepit detestári, et juráre quia non novísset hóminem. Et continuo gallus cantávit. Et recordátus est Petrus verbi Jesu, quod díxerat : Priúsqvam gallus cantet, ter me negábis. Et egréssus foras, flevit amáre.

Mane autem facto, consílium iniérunt omnes príncipes sacerdotum, et senióres pópuli advérsus Jesum, ut eum morti tráderent. Et vinctum adduxérunt eum, et tradidérunt Póntio Piláto praésidi. Tunc videns Judas, qui eum trádidit, quod damnátus esset, paeniténtia ductus, rétulit trigínta argénteos príncípibus sacerdotum, et senióribus, dicens : S. Peccávi; tradens sánguinem justum. C. At illi dixerunt : S. Quid ad nos? Tu víderis. C. Et projectis argéteis in templo, recéssit : et ábiens, láqueo se suspéndit. Príncipes autem sacerdotum, accéptis argéteis, dixerunt : S. Non licet eos mittere in córbonam : quia prétium sánguinis est. C. Consílio autem ínito, emérunt ex illis agrum figuli, in sepultúram peregrinórum. Propter hoc vocátus est ager ille, Hacéldama, hoc est, ager sánguinis, usque in hodiérnum diem. Tunc implétum est, quod dictum est per Jeremíam prophétam, dicéntem : Et accéperunt trigínta argénteos, prétium appretiáti, quem appretiavérunt a fíliis Israél : et dedérunt eos in agrum figuli, sicut constitúit mihi Dóminus.

Jesus autem stetit ante praesidem, et interrogávit eum praeses, dicens : S. Tu es Rex Judaeórum? C. Dicit illi Jesus : + Tu dicis. C. Et cum accusarétur a príncípibus sacerdotum, et senióribus, nihil respóndit. Tunc dicit illi Pilátus : S. Non audis quanta advérsus te dicunt testimónia? C. Et non respóndit ei ad ullum verbum, ita ut mirarétur praeses vehementer. Per diem autem solémnem consuéverat praeses pópulo dimittere unum vinctum, quem voluissent. Habebat autem tunc vinctum insignem, qui dicebatur Barabbas. Congregatis ergo illis, dixit Pilatus : S. Quem vultis dimittam vobis : Barabbam, an Jesum, qui dicitur Christus? C. Sciebat enim quod per invidiam tradidissent eum. Sedente autem illo pro tribunali, misit ad eum uxor ejus, dicens : S. Nihil tibi et justo illi : multa enim passa sum hodie per visum propter eum. C. Principes autem sacerdotum, et seniores persuaserunt populis, ut peterent Barabbam, Jesum vero perderent. Respondens autem praeses, ait illis : S. Quem vultis vobis de duobus dimitti? C. At illi dixerunt : S. Barabbam. C. Dicit illis Pilatus : S. Quid igitur faciam de Jesu, qui dicitur Christus? C. Dicunt omnes : S. Crucifigatur. C. Ait illis praeses : S. Quid enim mali fecit? C. At illi magis clamabant, dicentes : S. Crucifigatur. C. Videns autem Pilatus quia nihil proficeret, sed magis tumultus fieret : accepta aqua, lavit manus coram populo, dicens : S. Innocens ego sum a sanguine justis hujus : vos vidistis. C. Et respondens universus populus dixit : S. Sanguis ejus super nos, et super filios nostros. C. Tunc dimisit illis Barabbam : Jesum autem flagellatum tradidit eis, ut crucifigeretur.

Tunc milites praesidis suscipientes Jesum in praetorium, congregaverunt ad eum universam cohortem : et exuentes eum, chlamydem coccineam circumdederunt ei : et plectentes coronam de spinis, posuerunt super caput ejus, et arundinem in dextera ejus. Et genu flexo ante eum, illudabant ei, dicentes :

S. Ave, Rex Judaeorum. C. Et exspuentes in eum, acceperunt arundinem, et percutiebant caput ejus. Et postquam illuserunt ei, exuerunt eum chlamyde, et induerunt eum vestimentis ejus, et duxerunt eum ut crucifigerent.

Exeuntes autem, inveniunt hominem Cyrenaeum, nomine Simonem : hunc angariaverunt, ut tolleret crucem ejus. Et venerunt in locum, qui dicitur Gólgatha, quod est Calvariae locus. Et dederunt ei vinum bibere cum felle mixtum. Et cum gustasset, noluit bibere. Postquam autem crucifixerunt eum, divisérunt vestimenta ejus, sortem mittentes : ut impleretur, quod dictum est per Prophétam, dicentem : Diviserunt sibi vestimenta mea, et super vestem meam miserunt sortem. Et sedentes, servabant eum. Et imposuerunt super caput ejus causam ipsius scriptam : Hic est Jesus Rex Judaeorum.

Tunc crucifixi sunt cum eo duo latrones : unus a dextris, et unus a sinistris. Praetereuntes autem blasphemabant eum, moventes capita sua, et dicentes : S. Vah, qui destruis templum Dei, et in triduo illud reaedificas : salva te ipsum. Si Filius Dei es, descende de cruce. C. Similiter et principes sacerdotum illudentes cum scribis et senioribus, dicebant : S. Alios salvos fecit, seipsum non potest salvum facere : si Rex Israel est, descendat nunc de cruce, et credimus ei : confidit in Deo : liberet nunc, si vult eum; dixit enim : Quia Filius Dei sum. C. Id ipsum autem et latrones, qui crucifixi erant cum eo, improperabant ei.

A sexta autem hora tenebrae factae sunt super universam terram usque ad horam nonam. Et circa horam nonam clamávit Jesus voce magna, dicens : + Eli, Eli, lamma sabactháni? C. Hoc est : + Deus meus, Deus meus, ut quid dereliquisti me? C. Quidam autem illic stantes, et audiéntes, dicébant : S. Elíam vocat iste. C. Et continuo currens unus ex eis, accéptam spóngiam implévit acéto, et impósuit arúndini, et dabat ei bíbere. Céteri vero dicébant : S. Sine, videámus an véniat Elías líberans eum. C. Jesus autem íterum clamans voce magna, emisit spíritum. (Here a pause is made, and all kneel.)

Et ecce velum templi scissum est in duas partes a summo usque deórsum : et terra mota est, et petrae scissae sunt, et monuménta apérta sunt : et multa córpora sanctórum, qui dormierant, surrexérunt. Et exéúntes de monuméntis post resurrectionem ejus, venérunt in sanctam civitátem, et apparuérunt multis. Centúrio autem, et qui cum eo erant, custodiéntes Jesum, viso terraemótu, et his, quae fiébant, timuérunt valde, dicéntes : S. Vere Fílius Dei erat iste. C. Erant autem ibi mulieres multae a longe, quae secútae erant Jesum a Galilaéa, ministrántes ei : inter quas erat María Magdaléne, et María Jacóbi, et Joseph mater, et mater filiórum Zebedaéi.

Cum autem sero factum esset, venit quidam homo dives ab Arimathaéa, nómine Joseph, qui et ipse discipulus erat Jesu. Hic accéssit ad Pilátum, et pétiit corpus Jesu. Tunc Pilátus jussit reddi corpus. Et accépto córpore, Joseph invólvit illud in síndone munda. Et pósuit illud in monuménto suo novo, quod exciderat in petra. Et advólvit saxum magnum ad óstium monuménti, et ábiit.

The Credo is said.

After the singing or reading of the Passion the celebrant does not kiss the book, and is not censed; and the servers, in the simple rite, do not answer Laus tibi, Christe. The same rule is followed on Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday when the Passion is sung or read.

ANte sex dies Paschae venit Jesus Bethániam, ubi Lázarus fuérat mórtuus, quem suscitávit Jesus. Fecerunt autem ei cenam ibi : et Martha ministrábat, Lázarus vero unus erat ex discumbéntibus cum eo. María ergo accépit libram unguénti nardi pístici pretiósí, et únxit pedes Jesu, et extérsit pedes ejus capíllis suis : et domus impléta est ex odóre unguénti. Dixit ergo unus ex discípulis ejus, Judas Iscariótes, qui erat eum traditúrus : « Quare hoc unguéntum non véniit trecéntis denáriis, et datum est egénis? » Dixit autem hoc, non quia de egénis pertinébat ad eum, sed quia fur erat, et lóculos habens, ea, quae mittebántur, portábat. Dixit ergo Jesus : « Sínite illam, ut in diem sepultúrae meae servet illud. Páuperes enim semper habétis vobíscum : me autem non semper habétis ». Cognóvit ergò turba multa ex Judaéis, quia illic est : et venérunt, non propter Jesum tantum, sed ut Lázarum vidérent, quem suscitávit a mórtuis.

Passio Domini nostri Jesu Christi secundum Marcum

IN illo témpore : Jesus et discí-puli ejus véniunt in praédium, cui nomen Gethsémani. Et ait discí-pulis suis : + Sedéte hic donec orem. C. Et assúmit Petrum, et Jacóbum, et Joánnem secum : et cœpit pavére, et tædere. Et ait illis : + Tristis est ánima mea usque ad mortem : sustinéte hic, et vigiláte. C. Et cum processísset páululum, prócidit super terram : et orábat, ut si fieri posset, transíret ab eo hora : et dixit : + Abba, Pater, ómnia tibi possible sunt, transfer cálicem hunc a me : sed non quod ego volo, sed quod tu. C. Et venit, et invénit eos dormiéntes. Et ait Petro : + Simon, dormis? non potuísti una hora vigiláre? Vigiláte, et oráte, ut non intrétis in tentatió-nem. Spíritus quidem promptus est, caro vero infirma. C. Et íterum ábiens orávit, eúmdem sermónem dicens. Et revérsus, dénuo invénit eos dormiéntes (erant enim óculi eórum graváti) et ignorábant quid respondérent ei. Et venit tértio, et ait illis : + Dormíte jam, et requiescíte. Súfficit : venit hora : ecce Fílius hóminis tradétur in manus peccatórum. Súrgite, eá-mus : ecce qui me tradet, prope est. C. Et, adhuc eo loquente, venit Judas Iscariotes, unus de duodecim, et cum eo turba multa cum gladiis, et lignis, a summis sacerdotibus, et scribis, et senioribus. Dederat autem traditor ejus signum eis, dicens : S. Quemcumque osculatus fuero, ipse est, tenete eum, et ducite caute. C. Et cum venisset, statim accedens ad eum, ait : S. Ave, Rabbi. C. Et osculatus est eum. At illi manus injecerunt in eum, et tenuerunt eum. Unus autem quidam de circumstantibus, educens gladium, percussit servum summi sacerdotis : et amputavit illi auriculam. Et respondens Jesus, ait illis : + Tamquam ad latronem existis cum gladiis et lignis comprehendere me? quotidie eram apud vos in templo docens, et non me tenuistis. Sed ut impleantur Scripturae. C. Tunc discipuli ejus relinquentes eum, omnes fugerunt. Adolescens autem quidam sequebatur eum amictus sindone super nudo : et tenuerunt eum. At ille, rejecta sindone, nudus profugit ab eis.

Et adduxerunt Jesum ad summum sacerdotem : et conveniunt omnes sacerdotes, et scribae, et seniores. Petrus autem a longe secutus est eum usque intro in atrium summi sacerdotis : et sedebat cum ministris ad ignem, et calefaciebat se. Summi vero sacerdotes, et omne concilium, quaerebant adversus Jesum testimonium, ut eum morti traderent, nec inveniabant. Multi enim testimonium falsum dicebant adversus eum : et convenientia testimonia non erant. Et quidam surgentes, falsum testimonium ferebant adversus eum, dicentes : S. Quoniam nos audivimus eum dicentem : Ego dissolvam templum hoc manu- factum, et per triduum aliud non manufactum aedificabo. C. Et non erat conveniens testimonium illorum. Et exurgens summus sacerdos in medium, interrogavit Jesum, dicens : S. Non respondes quidquam ad ea, quae tibi objiciuntur ab his? C. Ille autem tacebat et nihil respondit. Rursum summus sacerdos interrogabat eum, et dixit ei : S. Tu es Christus Filius Dei benedicti? C. Jesus autem dixit illi : + Ego sum : et videbitis Filium hominis sedentem a dextris virtutis Dei, et venientem cum nubibus caeli. C. Summus autem sacerdos scindens vestimenta sua, ait : S. Quid adhuc desideramus testes? Audistis blasphemiam : quid vobis videtur? C. Qui omnes condemnaverunt eum esse reum mortis.

Et coeperunt quidam conspuere eum, et velare faciem ejus, et colaphis eum caedere, et dicere ei : S. Prophetiza. C. Et ministri alapis eum caedebant.

Et cum esset Petrus in atrio deorsum, venit una ex ancillis summi sacerdotis : et cum vidisset Petrum calefacientem se, aspiciens illum, ait : S. Et tu cum Jesu Nazareno eras. C. At ille negavit, dicens : S. Neque scio, neque novi quid dicas. C. Et exiit foras ante atrium, et gallus cantavit. Rursum autem cum vidisset illum ancilla, coepit dicere circumstantibus : Quia hic ex illis est. At ille iterum negavit. Et post pusillum rursus qui astabant, dicebant Petro : S. Vere ex illis es : nam et Galilaeus es. C. Ille autem coepit anathematizare, et jurare : Quia nescio hominem istum, quem dicitis. Et statim gallus iterum cantavit. Et recordatus est Pe- trus verbi, quod dixerat ei Jesus : Priusquam gallus cantet bis, ter me negabis. Et cepit flere.

Et confestim mane consilium facientes summi sacerdotes, cum senioribus, et scribis, et universo concilio, vincientes Jesum, duxerunt, et tradiderunt Pilato. Et interrogavit eum Pilatus : S. Tu es Rex Judaeorum? C. At ille respondens, ait illi : + Tu dicis. C. Et accusabant eum summi sacerdotes in multis. gilatus autem rursus interrogavit eum, dicens : S. Non respondes quidquam? vide in quantis te accusant. C. Jesus autem amplius nihil respondit, ita ut miraretur Pilatus.

Per diem autem festum solébat dimittere illis unum ex vincis, quemcumque petissent. Erat autem qui dicebatur Barabbas, qui cum seditiosis erat vincis, qui in seditione fécerat homicidium. Et cum ascendisset turba, cepit rogare, sicut semper faciebat illis. Pilatus autem respondit eis, et dixit : S. Vultis dimittam vobis Regem Judaeorum? C. Sciébat enim quod per invidiam tradidissent eum summi sacerdotes. Pontifices autem concitaverunt turbam, ut magis Barabbam dimitteret eis. Pilatus autem iterum respondens, ait illis : S. Quid ergo vultis faciam Regi Judaeorum? C. At illi iterum clamaverunt : S. Crucifige eum. C. Pilatus vero dicebat illis : S. Quid enim mali fecit? C. At illi magis clamabant : S. Crucifige eum. C. Pilatus autem volens populo satisfacere, dimisit illis Barabbam, et tradidit Jesum flagellis caesum, ut crucifigeretur.

Milités autem duxerunt eum in atrium praetorii, et convocant totam cohortem, et induunt eum purpura, et imponunt ei plectentes spineam coronam. Et ceperunt salutare eum : Ave, Rex Judaeorum. Et percutiebant caput ejus arundine : et conspuiebant eum, et ponentes genua, adorabant eum. Et postquam illuserunt ei, exuerunt illum purpura, et induerunt eum vestimentis suis : et educunt illum, ut crucifigerent eum. Et angariaverunt praetereuntem quempiam, Simónem Cyrenaëum, venientem de villa, patrem Alexandri et Rufi, ut tolleret crucem ejus.

Et perducunt illum in Gólgotha locum, quod est interpretatum Calvariae locus. Et dabant ei bibere myrrhatum vinum : et non accepit. Et crucifigentes eum, diviserunt vestimenta ejus, mittentes sortem super eis, quis quid tolleret. Erat autem hora tertia : et crucifixerunt eum. Et erat titulus causae ejus inscriptus : Rex Judaeorum. Et cum eo crucifigunt duos latrones : unum a dextris, et alium a sinistris ejus. Et impleta est Scriptura, quae dicit : Et cum iniquis reputatus est. Et praetereuntes blasphemabant eum, moventes capita sua, et dicentes : S. Vah, qui destruis templum Dei, et in tribus diebus reaedificas : salvum fac te ipsum, descendens de cruce. C. Similiter et summi sacerdotes illudentes, ad alterutrum cum scribis dicebant : S. Alios salvos fecit, seipsum non potest salvum facere. Christus Rex Israël descendat nunc de cruce, ut videamus, et credamus. C. Et qui cum eo crucifixi erant convitiabantur ei. Et facta hora sexta, tenebrae factae sunt per totam terram, usque in horam nonam.

Et hora nona exclamávit Jesus voce magna, dicens : † Eloi, Eloi, lamma sabactháni? C. Quod est interpretátum : † Deus meus, Deus meus, ut quid dereliquisti me? C. Et quidam de circumstántibus audiéntes, dicebant : S. Ecce Elíam vocat. C. Currens autem unus, et implens spóngiam acéto, circumponénsque cálamo, potum dabat ei, dicens : S. Sínite, videámus si véniat Elías ad deponéndum eum. C. Jesus autem emíssa voce magna exspiravit. (Here a pause is made, and all kneel.)

Et velum templi scissum est in duo, a summo usque deórsum. Videns autem centúrio, qui ex advérso stabat, quia sic clamans exspirásset, ait : S. Vere hic homo Fílius Dei erat. C. Erant autem et mulieres de longe aspiciéntes : inter quas erat María Magdaléne, et María, Jacóbi minóris et Joseph mater, et Salóme : et cum esset in Galilaéa, sequebántur eum, et ministrábant ei, et áliae multae quae simul cum eo ascénderant Jerosólymam.

Et cum jam sero esset factum (quia erat Parascéve, quod est ante sábbatum), venit Joseph ab Arimathaéa, nóbilis decúrio, qui et ipse erat exspéctans regnum Dei, et audácter introívit ad Pilátum, et pétiit corpus Jesu. Pilátus autem mirabátur si jam obiísset. Et accersíto centuríone, interrogávit eum si jam mórtuus esset. Et cum cognovísset a centuríone, donávit corpus Joseph. Joseph autem mercátus síndonem, et depónens eum invólvit síndone, et pósuit eum in monumento, quod erat excísum de petra, et advólvit lápidem ad óstium monumenti.

HÆC dicit Dóminus Deus : Dícite filiae Sion : Ecce Salvátor tuus venit : ecce merces ejus cum eo. Quis est iste, qui venit de Edom, tinctis véstibus de Bosra? Iste formósus in stola sua, grádiens in multitúdine fortitúdinis suae. Ego, qui loquor justitiam, et propugnátor sum ad salvándum. Quare ergo rubrum est indumentum tuum, et vestiménta tua, sicut calcántium in torculári? Tórcular calcávi solus, et de géntibus non est vir mecum : calcávi eos in furóre meo, et conculcávi eos in ira mea : et aspérsus est sanguis eórum super vestiménta mea, et ómnia induménta mea inquinávi. Dies enim ultiónis in corde meo, annus redemptiónis meae venit. Circumspéxi, et non erat auxiliátor : quaesívi, et non fuit qui adjuváret : et salvávit mihi bráchium meum, et indignátio mea ipsa auxiliáta est mihi. Et conculcávi pópulos in furóre meo, et inebriávi eos in indignatióne mea, et detráxi in terram virtútem eórum. Lectio Isalae Prophetae. 53, 1-12

IN diébus illis : Dixit Isaias : Dómine, quis crédidit auditui nostro? et bráchium Dómini cui revelátum est? Et ascéndet sicut virgúltum coram eo, et sicut radix de terra sitiénti : non est spécies ei, neque decor : et vídimus eum, et non erat aspéctus, et desiderávimus eum : despéctum, et novíssimum virórum, virum dolórum, et sciéntem infirmitátem : et quasi abscón-ditus vultus ejus, et despéctus, unde nec reputávimus eum. Vere languóres nostros ipse tulit, et dolóres nostros ipse portávit : et nos putávimus eum quasi leprósum, et percússum a Deo, et humiliátum. Ipse autem vulnerátus est propter iniquitátes nostras, atrífrus est propter scélera nostra : disciplína pacis nostrae super eum, et livóre ejus sanáti sumus. Omnes nos quasi oves errávimus, unusquisque in viam suam declinávit : et pósuit Dóminus in eo iniquitátem ómnium nostrum. Oblátus est, quia ipse vóluit, et non apéruit os suum : sicut ovis ad occisiónem ducétur, et quasi agnus coram tondénte se obmutéscet, et non apériet os suum. De angústia, et de júdicio sublátus est : generatióem ejus quis enarrábit? quia abscíssus est de terra vivéntium : propter scelus pópuli mei percússi eum. Et dabit ímpios pro sepultúra, et dívitem pro morte sua : eo quod iniquitátem non fécerit, neque dolus fúerit in ore ejus. Et Dóminus vóluit contérrere eum in infirmitáte : si posúerit pro peccáto ánimam suam, vidébit semen longaévum, et volúntas Dómini in manu ejus dirigétur. Pro eo quod laborávit ánimá ejus, vidébit, et saturábitur : in sciéntia sua justificábit ipse ju-

suam, et cum sceleratis reputatus est: et ipse peccata multorum tulit, et pro transgressoribus rogavit.

Passio Domini nostri Jesu Christi secundum Lucam

IN illo tempore : Egressus Jesus ibat secundum consuetudinem in montem Olivarum. Secuti sunt autem illum et discipuli. Et cum pervenisset ad locum, dixit illis : + Orate, ne intratis in tentationem. C. Et ipse avulsus est ab eis quantum jactus est lapidis, et positus genibus orabat, dicens : + Pater, si vis, transfer calicem istum a me : verumtamen non mea voluntas, sed tua fiat. C. Apparuit autem illi angelus de caelo confortans eum. Et factus in agonia, prolixius orabat. Et factus est sudor ejus, sicut guttae sanguinis decurrentis in terram. Et cum surrexisset ab oratione, et venisset ad discipulos suos, invenit eos dormientes prae tristitia. Et ait illis : + Quid dormitis? Surgite, orate, ne intratis in tentationem.

C. Adhuc eo loquente, ecce turba : et qui vocabatur Judas, unus de duodecim, antecedebat eos : et appropinquavit Jesu, ut oscularetur eum. Jesus autem dixit illi : + Juda, osculo Filium hominis tradis? C. Videntes autem hi, qui circa ipsum erant, quod futurum erat, dixerunt ei : S. Domine, si percutimus in gladio? C. Et percussit unus ex illis servum principis sacerdotum, et amputavit auriculam ejus dexteram. Respondens autem Jesus, ait : + Sinite usque huc. C. Et cum tetigisset auriculam ejus, sanavit eum. Dixit autem Jesus ad eos, qui venerant ad se, principes sacerdotum, et magistratus templi, et seniores : + Quasi ad latronem existis cum gladiis, et fustibus? Cum quo-tidie vobiscum fuerim in templo, non extendistis manus in me : sed haec est hora vestra, et potestas tenebrarum.

C. Comprehendentes autem eum, duxerunt ad domum principis sacerdotum : Petrus vero sequebatur a longe. Accenso autem igne in medio atrii, et circumsedentibus illis, erat Petrus in medio eorum. Quem cum vidisset ancilla quaedam sedentem ad lumen, et eum fuisset intuita, dixit : S. Et hic cum illo erat. C. At ille negavit eum, dicens : S. Mulier, non novi illum. C. Et post pusillum alius videns eum, dixit : S. Et tu de illis es. C. Petrus vero ait : S. O homo, non sum. C. Et intervallum facto quasi horae unius, alius quidam affirmabat, dicens : S. Vere et hic cum illo erat : nam et Galilaeus est. C. Et ait Petrus : S. Homo, nescio quid dicis. C. Et continuo adhuc illo loquente cantavit gallus. Et conversus Dominus respexit Petrum. Et recordatus est Petrus verbi Domini, sicut dixerat : Quia priusquam gallus cantet, ter me negabis. Et egressus foras Petrus flevit amare.

Et viri, qui tenebant illum, illudabant ei, caedentes. Et velaverunt eum, et percutiebant faciem ejus : et interrogabant eum, dicentes : S. Prophetiza, quis est, qui te percussit? C. Et alia multa blasphemantes dicebant in eum.

Et ut factus est dies, convenerunt seniores plebis, et principes sacerdotum, et scribae, et duxerunt illum in concilium suum, dicentes : S. Si tu es Christus, dic nobis. C. Et ait illis : † Si vobis dixerero, non credetis mihi : si autem et interrogavero, non respondebitis mihi, neque dimittetis. Ex hoc autem erit Filius hominis sedens a dextris virtutis Dei. C. Dixérunt autem omnes : S. Tu ergo es Filius Dei? C. Qui ait : † Vos dicitis quia ego sum. C. At illi dixerunt : S. Quid adhuc desideramus testimónium? Ipsi enim audívimus de ore ejus.

C. Et surgens omnis multitúdo eorum, duxérunt illum ad Pilátum. Cœperunt autem illum accusare, dicentes : S. Hunc invenimus subvertentem gentem nostram, et prohibentem tributa dare Caesari, et dicentem se Christum regem esse. C. Pilátus autem interrogávit eum, dicens : S. Tu es Rex Judaeorum? C. At ille respondens, ait : † Tu dicis. C. Ait autem Pilátus ad principes sacerdotum, et turbas : S. Nihil invénio causae in hoc homine. C. At illi invalescebant, dicentes : S. Commovet populum, docens per universam Judaeam, incipiens a Galilaea usque huc.

C. Pilátus autem audiens Galilaeam, interrogávit si homo Galilaeus esset. Et ut cognóvit quod de Heródis potestate esset, remisit ad Heródem, qui et ipse Jerosólymis erat illis diébus. Heródes autem viso Jesu, gavisus est valde. Erat enim cupiens ex multo tempore videre eum, eo quod audierat multa de eo, et sperabat signum aliquod videre ad eo fieri. Interrogábat autem eum multis sermonibus. At ipse nihil illi respondebat. Stabant autem principes sacerdotum, et scribae constanter accusantes eum. Sprevit autem illum Heródes cum exercitu suo :

et illúsit indutum veste alba, et remisit ad Pilátum. Et facti sunt amici Heródes et Pilátus in ipsa die : nam ántea inimici erant ad invicem. Pilátus autem convocatis principibus sacerdotum, et magistratibus, et plebe, dixit ad illos : S. Obtulistis mihi hunc hominem; quasi avertentem populum, et ecce ego coram vobis interrogans, nullam causam invénio in homine isto ex his, in quibus eum accusatis. Sed neque Heródes : nam remisit vos ad illum, et ecce nihil dignum morte actum est ei. Emendatum ergo illum dimittam.

C. Necesse autem habebat dimittere eis per diem festum, unum. Exclamávit autem simul universa turba, dicens : S. Tolle hunc, et dimitte nobis Barábbam. C. Qui erat propter seditionem quamdam factam in civitate, et homicidium, missus in carcerem. Iterum autem Pilátus locutus est ad eos, volens dimittere Jesum. At illi succlamabant, dicentes : S. Crucifige, crucifige eum. C. Ille autem tertio dixit ad illos : S. Quid enim mali fecit iste? Nullam causam mortis invénio in eo : corripiam ergo illum, et dimittam. C. At illi instantes vocibus magnis, postulantes ut crucifigeretur. Et invalescebant voces eorum. Et Pilátus adjudicávit fieri petitionem eorum. Dimisit autem illis eum, qui propter homicidium et seditionem missus fuerat in carcerem, quem petebant : Jesum vero tradidit voluntati eorum.

Et cum dúcerent eum, apprehenderunt Simónem quemdam Cyrenensem, venientem de villa : et imposuerunt illi crucem portare post Jesum. Sequebatur autem illum multa turba populi, et mulierum, quae plangebant et lamentabantur eum. Convēsus autem ad illas Jesus, dixit : + Filiae Jerúsalem, nolite flere super me, sed super vos ipsas flete, et super filios vestros. Quóniam ecce venient dies, in quibus dicent : Beatae stériles, et ventres, qui non genuerunt, et úbera, quae non lactaverunt. Tunc incipient dicere móntibus : Cádite super nos; et cóllibus : Operite nos. Quia si in víridi ligno haec faciunt, in árido quid fiet?

C. Ducebantur autem et álii duo nequam cum eo, ut interficerentur. Et postquam venērunt in locum, qui vocátur Calváriae, ibi crucifixerunt eum : et latrónes, unum a dextris, et álterum a sinístris. Jesus autem dicebat : + Pater, dímítte illis : non enim sciunt quid faciunt. C. Dividentes vero vestiménta ejus, miserunt sortes. Et stabat pópulus spectans, et deridébant eum príncipes cum eis, dicentes : S. Alios salvos fecit : se salvum faciat, si hic est Christus Dei eléctus. C. Illudébant autem ei et mílites accedentes, et acétum offerentes ei, et dicentes : S. Si tu es Rex Judaeórum, salvum te fac. C. Erat autem et superscriptio scripta super eum lítteris graecis, et latínis, et hebraicis : Hic est Rex Judaeórum. Unus autem de his, qui pendébant, latrónibus, blasphemábat eum, dicens : S. Si tu es Christus, salvum fac temetípsum, et nos. C. Respóndens autem alter in-crepábat eum, dicens : S. Neque tu times Deum, quod in eádem damnatióne es. Et nos quidem juste, nam digna factis recipimus : hic vero nihil mali gessit. C. Et dicebat ad Jesum : S. Dómine, meménto mei, cum véneris in regnum tuum. C. Et dixit illi Jesus : + Amen dico tibi : Hódie mecum eris in paradíso.

C. Erat autem fere hora sexta, et ténebrae factae sunt in univérsam terram usque in horam nonam. Et obscurátus est sol : et velum templi scíssum est médium. Et clamans voce magna Jesus, ait : + Pater, in manus tuas comméndo spíritum meum. C. Et haec dicens, exspirávit. (Here a pause is made, and all kneel).

Videns autem centúrio quod factum fúerat, glorificávit Deum, dicens : S. Vere hic homo justus erat. C. Et omnis turba eórum, qui simul áderant ad spectáculum istud, et vidébant quae fiebant, percutientes pectora sua revertebantur. Stabant autem omnes noti ejus a longe, et mulieres, quae secútae eum erant a Galilaea, haec videntes.

Et ecce vir nómine Joseph, qui erat decúrio, vir bonus et justus : hic non consénserat consílio et áctibus eórum, ab Arimathaea civitáte Judaéae, qui exspectábat et ipse regnum Dei. Hic accessit ad Pilátum, et pétiit corpus Jesu : et depósitum involvit síndone, et pósuit eum in monumento excíso, in quo nondum quisquam pósitus fúerat.

*THE TIME FOR THE CELEBRATION OF THE DIVINE OFFICE
DURING THE TRIDUUM SACRUM*

During the Triduum Sacrum, i. e. Maundy Thursday, Good Friday and Holy Saturday, if the Office is said in choir or in common, the following rules are observed :

Matins and Lauds must not be anticipated the previous evening but said in the morning. But in churches where the Mass of the Holy Oils is said on Thursday morning, Matins and Lauds of Thursday may be anticipated on Wednesday evening.

The Little Hours are said at a suitable time.

Vespers are omitted on Maundy Thursday and Good Friday as they are replaced by the Solemn Liturgy of these two days : but on Holy Saturday Vespers are sung at the usual time.

Compline is said on Maundy Thursday and Good Friday after the Solemn Liturgy : it is omitted on Holy Saturday.

A FEW RUBRICS

At each Hour until Vespers of Holy Saturday inclusive the Glória Patri is omitted at the Responsories and at the end of the Psalms.

When the Office is sung, the last verse of each Psalm and Canticle is ended in the same way as the preceding verses, i. e. according to the ending indicated after the antiphon. The prayers are sung to the ferial tone B (or the ancient simple tone).

When the Office is recited, at every Hour, the voice drops a tone at the ending of each Psalm, Canticle, or division of these; Prayers are said aloud, and the ending is as for the Psalms, dropping a tone.

At Matins and Lauds of these three days and at Vespers on Holy Saturday the Office begins directly with the first antiphon. The antiphons are doubled.

In front of the altar on the Epistle side a triangular candle-stand is placed, each day, with fifteen candles, which are extinguished successively after each Psalm.

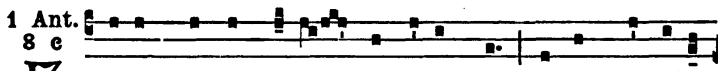

MAUNDY THURSDAY

Double of the First Class

AT MATINS

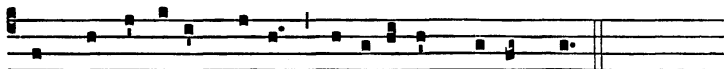

The altar is prepared with cross and six lighted candles, but without ornament.

LESSON IV

On Ps. 54, at verse 1

EXáudi, Deus, oratióem me-am, et ne despéxeris depre-catióem meam : inténde mihi, et exáudi me. Satagéntis, solliciti, in tribulatióne pósiti, verba sunt ista. Orat multa pátiens, de malo liberári desíderans. Súperest ut videámus in quo malo sit : et cum dícere céperit, agnoscámus ibi nos esse : ut communicáta tribulatióne, con-jungámus oratióem. Contristá-tus sum, inquit, in exercitatióne mea, et conturbátus sum. Ubi contristátus? ubi conturbátus?

In exercitatióne mea, inquit.
Hómines malos, quos pátitur, commemorátus est : eamdémque passiόnem malórum hóminum, exercitatiόnem suam dixit. Ne putétis gratis esse malos in hoc mundo, et nihil boni de illis ágere Deum. Omnis malus aut ideo vivit, ut corrigátur; aut ideo vivit, ut per illum bonus exerceátur.

UTinam ergo qui nos modo

 in Scriptúris sanctis manifestáti sunt nobis, quod ad ignem aetérnum sint destináti. Ipsórum tantum desperánda est corréctio, contra quos habémus occúltam luctam : ad quam luctam nos armat Apóstolus, dicens : Non est nobis colluctátió advérsus carnem et sánguinem : id est, non advérsus hómines, quos vidétis, sed advérsus príncipes, et potestátes, et rectóres mundi, tenebrárum harum. Ne forte cum dixísset, mundi, intelligeres daémones esse rectóres caeli et terrae, mundi dixit, tenebrárum harum : mundi dixit amatórum mundi : mundi dixit, impiórum et iniquórum : mundi dixit, de quo dicit Evangélium : Et mun-dus eum non cognóvit.

LESSON VI

QUÓNIAM vidi iniquitatem et contradictionem in civitate. Attende gloriam crucis ipsius. Jam in fronte regum crux illa fixa est, cui inimici insultaverunt. Effectus probavit virtutem : domuit orbem non ferro, sed ligno. Lignum crucis contuméliis dignum visum est inimicis, et ante ipsum lignum stantes caput agitabant, et dicebant : Si Filius Dei est, descendat de cruce. Extendebat ille manus suas ad populum non credentem, et contradicentem. Si enim justus est, qui ex fide vivit; iniquus est, qui non habet fidem. Quod ergo hic ait, iniquitatem : perfidiam intellige. Videbat ergo Dominus in civitate iniquitatem et contradictionem, et extendebat manus suas ad populum non credentem, et contradicentem : et tamen et ipsos expectans dicebat : Pater, ignosce illis, quia nesciunt quid faciunt.

The candles on the triangular candlestick having been extinguished as has already been explained, the one at the top of the triangle alone remains lighted. During the Canticle Benedictus, the candles on the altar are likewise extinguished one by one, from each side alternately, at every second verse, so that by the last verse all are extinguished. All other lights and lamps in the church are also put out.

After the repetition of the Antiphon at the Benedictus, all kneel and sing :

Then is sung, without Orémus, to the ferial tone B (or the ancient simple tone) :

On Thursday and Friday

All then rise and retire in silence.

AT THE LITTLE HOURS

The Little Hours are recited at a suitable time, without chant. The candles are not lit. These Hours begin directly with the Sunday Psalms, without an antiphon. At Prime the Psalm Deus, in nomine tuo is said as on feast days, p. 226 (new psalter, p. 14). After the Psalms, all kneel and say V. Christus factus est, etc. (as above), then the Pater noster is said in silence throughout, and the Collect Respice or Concède, as at Lauds. On these days the Martyrology and the whole of Pretiosa are omitted.*

THE MASS AND HOLY COMMUNION

On Maundy Thursday the ancient tradition of the Roman Church should be observed whereby all the priests and clerics assist at the sacrifice in Cena Domini, where it is fitting that they should receive Holy Communion. (Cf. C. J. C. can. 862).

Yet where pastoral reasons demand it, the local Ordinary may allow, besides the principal Mass in Cena Domini, one or two low Masses in each public church or oratory, and one only in semi-public oratories. But, if for some reason, the principal Mass in Cena Domini cannot be celebrated even with the simple rite, the Ordinary, for pastoral reasons, may allow two low Masses in public churches and oratories and one in semi-public oratories. The object of this is to make it possible for all the faithful on this holy day to be present at the sacrifice of the Mass and to receive the Body of Christ. These Masses are allowed during the same hours as the solemn Mass in Cena Domini.

On Maundy Thursday, Holy Communion may be given to the people only during the evening Masses or immediately afterwards; except in the case of the sick, to whom Holy Communion may be taken in the morning or afternoon.

The Bishop of the diocese may allow priests who have charge of two or more parishes to say twice the Mass in Cena Domini.

Where on Maundy Thursday, after the Mass in Cena Domini even with the simple rite, the Translation and Reservation of the B. Sacrament takes place, it is strictly required that the Good Friday afternoon Liturgy should be carried out in the same church or oratory.

THE MASS OF THE HOLY OILS

The blessing of the oil of catechumens and the oil of the sick and the consecration of Chrism take place during Mass in accordance with the Roman Pontifical, except for what is indicated below.

This blessing and the making of Chrism take place during this Mass of the Holy Oils, which is to be celebrated after Terce.

When the procession enters the church, the Introit antiphon is sung, and its psalm.

The psalm Júdica me, Deus, and Glória Pátri, are omitted.

Towards the end of the Preface, which is sung, in accordance with the Pontifical, over the Chrism to be consecrated, the words from "ut spirituális lavácri baptismatis" until "vestiménto incorrupti múnere induántur" are omitted. These words were formerly part of the proper Preface for consecrating the Chrism, but they have now been restored to their place in the Preface of the Mass.

The distribution of Holy Communion is not allowed at this Mass.

After the Communion the bishop performs the ablutions in the usual way, even if he is going to sing the solemn evening Mass.

THE SOLEMN EVENING MASS

Station at St. John Lateran

PRELIMINARY

The Mass must be celebrated at a convenient time in the evening, but not before 4 p. m. or after 9 p. m.

1. If there is a tabernacle on the high altar, it must be quite empty : a ciborium (or several ciboria) containing enough hosts for the communion of the clergy and people to-day and to-morrow must be placed on the altar to be consecrated at this Mass.

2. If there are not enough priests and clerics, the Mass is celebrated according to the usual rites of a sung Mass : the altar may be censed as at High Mass.

3. If there are enough clergy, it is extremely fitting for them to assist at the solemn evening Mass in choir.

4. The clergy will be in choir habit ; and priests and deacons with a white stole also. The celebrant and sacred ministers wear white vestments as usual for Mass.

FROM THE BEGINNING OF MASS TO THE GOSPEL

5. When everyone is ready, the procession comes through the church to the altar ; meanwhile the schola sings :

Our Lord prepares the apostles to receive the Holy Eucharist, the sign of His Love, by washing their feet. John 13, 1-15.

ANte diem festum Paschae, sciens Jesus quia venit hora ejus, ut tránseat ex hoc mundo ad Patrem, cum dilexisset suos, qui erant in mundo, in finem diléxit eos. Et cena facta, cum diábolus jam misisset in cor, ut tráderet eum Judas Simónis Iscariótae; sciens quia ómnia dedit ei Pater in manus, et quia a Deo exívit et ad Deum vadit; surgit a cena, et ponit vestiménta sua; et cum accepisset línteum, prae-cínxit se. Deinde mittit aquam in pelvim, et cœpit laváre pedes discipulórum, et extérgere línteo, quo erat prae-cíntus. Venit ergo ad Simónem Petrum. Et dicit ei Petrus : « Dómine, tu mihi lavas pedes? » Respóndit Jesus et dixit ei : « Quod ego fácio, tu nescis modo, scies autem póstea ». Dicit ei Petrus : « Non lavábis mihi pedes in aetérnum ». Respóndit ei Jesus :

« Si non lávero te, non habébis partem mecum ». Dicit ei Simon Petrus : « Dómine, non tantum pedes meos, sed et manus, et caput ». Dicit ei Jesus : « Qui lotus est, non indiget nisi ut pedes lavet, sed est mundus totus. Et vos mundi estis, sed non omnes ». Sciébat enim quisnam esset qui tráderet eum; proptérea dixit : Non estis mundi omnes. Postquam ergo lavit pedes eórum, et accépit vestiménta sua, cum recubísset íterum, dixit eis : « Scitis quid fécerim vobis? Vos vocátis me Magíster et Dómine, et bene dicitis; sum étenim. Si ergo ego lavi pedes vestros, Dóminus et Magíster : et vos debétis alter altérius laváre pedes. Exémplum enim dedi vobis, ut, quemámodum ego feci vobis, ita et vos faciátis ».

13. It is most suitable to have a brief sermon after the Gospel to explain the principal mysteries which this Mass recalls, i. e. the institution of the Holy Eucharist and of the Order of Priests, and also the commandment (mandatum) of Our Lord about fraternal charity.

Let the faithful be instructed about Our Lord's love for men, shewn by his institution "on the day before He suffered" of the Holy Eucharist which is both sacrifice and sacrament, the perpetual memorial of His Passion, to be celebrated for all time by the ministry of priests.

Let the faithful also be invited to come and give their due adoration to the Blessed Sacrament after Mass.

Lastly, where the rite of the Washing of the Feet takes place in church, let the faithful be instructed about its deep meaning as the sign of Our Lord's commandment of fraternal charity, and let them be encouraged to practice abundantly this day works of Christian charity.

14. To-day the Credo is omitted.

THE WASHING OF THE FEET

15. Where it is desirable for pastoral reasons, the Washing of the feet takes place after the sermon.

16. In the sanctuary or the nave, benches are prepared face to face for the twelve men whose feet will be washed : everything necessary will be prepared on a table at a suitable time.

17. The celebrant, having made reverence to the altar, goes to the bench and sits. The deacon and subdeacon [or the two principal servers] bring the twelve men two by two to the place prepared for them, during which time the schola or the clergy begin to sing or recite the antiphons, psalms and verses indicated below.

The twelve men who are chosen, having genuflected to the altar and bowed to the celebrant sitting in the sanctuary, take their places on the seats prepared ; the sacred ministers [or servers] help the celebrant. All take off their maniples, and the celebrant his chasuble, putting a towel around his waist.

18. The celebrant goes to the middle with the ministers [or servers], makes reverence to the altar, and begins the feet-washing as follows. He kneels before each one, the subdeacon [or second server] holds the right foot, while acolytes [or two other servers] have ready water and basin ; he washes the foot, then dries it, the deacon [or first server] handing the towel.

When the washing of the feet is nearly ended, the 8th antiphon Ubi caritas with its verses is begun. If necessary, some of the preceding antiphons may be omitted, but never this antiphon Ubi caritas.

19. The antiphons, psalms and verses to be sung or recited are these.

After the prayer, the twelve men, first genuflecting to the altar and bowing to the celebrant, are conducted back to their places, either in choir, if they are clergy, or to the special places assigned them, if laity.

21. Where the feet-washing takes place apart from the solemn Mass, the same rite is followed as above; but beginning with the singing of the Gospel Ante diem festum Paschæ with the usual ceremonies. The celebrant wears a white cope.

22. After the washing of the feet (or, where it does not take place, after the sermon) the Mass is continued in the usual way.

THE CANON

COMMUNICANTES, et diem sacratissimum celebrantes, quo Dominus noster Jesus Christus pro nobis est traditus : sed et memoriam venerantes, in primis gloriosae semper Virginis Mariae, Genitricis ejusdem Dei et Domini nostri Jesu Christi : sed et beatorum Apostolorum ac Martyrum tuorum, Petri et Pauli, Andreae, Jacobi, Joannis, Thomae, Jacobi, Philippi, Bartholomaei, Matthaei, Simonis et Thaddaei : Lini, Cleti, Clementis, Xysti, Corneli, Cypriani, Laurentii, Chrysogoni, Joannis et Pauli, Cosmae et Damiani : et omnium Sanctorum tuorum; quorum meritis precibusque concedas, ut in omnibus protectionis tuae muniamur auxilio. Per eundem Christum Dominum nostrum. Amen.

He now spreads out his hands over the Oblation, saying :

Hanc igitur oblationem servitutis nostrae, sed et cunctae familiae tuae, quam tibi offerimus, ob diem, in qua Dominus noster Jesus Christus tradidit discipulis suis Corporis et Sanguinis sui mysteria celebranda : quaesumus, Domine, ut placatus accipias, diesque nostros in tua pace disponas, atque ab aeterna damnatione nos eripi, et in electorum tuorum jubeas grege numerari. Per eundem Christum Dominum nostrum. Amen.

QUAM oblationem tu, Deus, in omnibus, quaesumus, benedictam, adscriptam, ratam, rationabilem, acceptabilemque facere digneris : ut nobis Corpus, et Sanguis fiat dilectissimi Filii tui Domini nostri Jesu Christi.

The censuring of the Blessed Sacrament customary at High Mass is performed to-day in a simple sung Mass by acolytes [or servers].

QUI pridie, quam pro nostra omniumque salute pateretur, hoc est, hodie, accepit panem in sanctas ac venerabiles manus suas, et elevatis oculis in caelum ad te Deum, Patrem suum omnipotentem, tibi gratias agens, bene dixit, fregit, dedique discipulis suis, dicens : Accipite, et manducate ex hoc omnes.

Hoc est enim Corpus meum.

Simili modo postquam cenátum est, accípiens et hunc praeclárum Cálícem in sanctas ac venerábiles manus suas, item tibi grátias agens, bene + díxit, deditque discípulis suis, dicens : Accípíte, et bíbite ex eo omnes.

Hic est enim Calix Sanguinis mei, novi et aetérni testaménti :
mystérium fidei :
qui pro vobis
et pro multis effundétur in remissionem peccatórum.

Haec quotiescúmque fecéritis, in mei memóriam faciétis.

And so on as at the Canon of the Mass, 17.

28. At the Agnus Dei, the response each time is : miserére nobis.

The kiss of peace is omitted to-day, as well as the first of the three prayers : Dómine Jesu Christe, qui dixísti. The Confíteor and absolution also are omitted.

29. After receiving the Precious Blood, the celebrant says Ecce Agnus Dei and three times Dómine, non sum dignus; then he gives Holy Communion in the usual way.

The sacred ministers receive first, then the priests, deacons, and other clerics in order; then the servers.

All come to the foot of the altar, two or four at a time; and, having genuflected, go to the top step, and kneeling, receive Christ's Body with all reverence; then they return to their place in the same order.

The faithful receive at the communion-rail.

But if the number of communicants is great, other priests in surplice and white stole may distribute Communion, either with the celebrant at the rail or in some other suitable place; taking care, however, that the good order and devotion of the faithful is not disturbed.

If a bishop distributes Holy Communion, the faithful do not kiss his ring before receiving It.

30. The Communion antiphon can be sung by the schola while the celebrant distributes the sacred hosts.

If there are several of them, and the altar has a tabernacle, one only is left on the corporal and the others are put in the tabernacle; they will be taken to the place of reservation after the altars are stripped. The celebrant now purifies the chalice and his fingers, saying the usual prayers.*

33. After this, Mass is continued in the usual way, but the celebrant genuflects each time he goes to or from the middle of the altar or crosses in front of the Blessed Sacrament. When he says Dóminus vobiscum he turns to the people, not from the middle but from the Gospel side, to avoid turning his back on the Blessed Sacrament.

THE SOLEMN TRANSLATION AND RESERVATION OF THE BLESSED SACRAMENT

1. Immediately after Mass there takes place the solemn translation and reservation of the Blessed Sacrament, which is kept in a ciborium for Holy Communion the next day.

2. A suitable place for the solemn reservation will be prepared in a chapel or on an altar in the church, as is prescribed by the Roman Missal, and it will be adorned as worthily as possible, with lights and flowers, but without relics and images of Saints.

In conformity with the decrees of the Sacred Congregation of Rites about avoiding or removing abuses in preparing this altar of Repose, an austerity in keeping with the liturgy of these days is strongly recommended.

3. The translation and reservation of the Blessed Sacrament takes place as follows :

The torches are lit, and the procession forms up in the usual way.

If possible a second fully vested subdeacon carries the cross; otherwise a cleric [server] does so.

The celebrant, standing at the foot of the altar, puts incense in two thuribles without a blessing [one thurible in the simple rite]. Then, kneeling, he censes the Blessed Sacrament three times.

He then puts on a white humeral veil, goes up the altar steps in the middle, genuflects, and receives standing the ciborium from the deacon: the latter covers it with the ends of the humeral veil.

The celebrant then comes down from the altar and goes forward under a canopy: two thurifers [or one server] cense the Blessed Sacrament continuously until the altar of Repose is reached.

The sacred ministers [or the servers] walk on each side of the celebrant.

During the procession the hymn Pänge, lingua, gloriósi Córporis mystérium is sung until the verse Tantum ergo exclusive; if necessary, the hymn is repeated from the second verse. If the procession is very long, other hymns, psalms or canticles may be sung.

Hymn. Pänge, lingua, p. 957.

4. When the altar of Repose is reached, the celebrant (helped by the deacon if necessary) puts down the ciborium on the altar. He then kneels, puts incense in the thurible and censes the Blessed Sacrament: meanwhile the Tantum ergo is sung.

Then the deacon [or the celebrant himself] puts the ciborium into the tabernacle or casket.

5. All then kneel and silently adore the Blessed Sacrament for a little while. When the sign is given, the celebrant and the sacred ministers [and the servers] rise, genuflect on both knees and bow, and then return to the sacristy, where the celebrant and the sacred ministers take off their white vestments. The celebrant and the deacon put on purple stoles.

6. If several ciboria need to be transferred, the same celebrant (or another priest or deacon, vested in a surplice, a white stole and a white humeral veil) carries them to the altar of Repose before the stripping of the altars is begun. He should do this in a simple way i. e. with two acolytes [servers] carrying lighted candles and another holding the ombrellino.

THE STRIPPING OF THE ALTARS

7. Then the celebrant and the sacred ministers [and the servers] go to the high altar, bow, rise and begin the stripping of the altars as follows.

The celebrant says the following antiphon in a clear voice :

Psalm 21, 19. Diviserunt sibi vestimenta mea : et super vestem meam miserunt sortem.

Adding the intonation of the same psalm.

1. Deus, Deus meus, respice in me : quare me dereliquisti? *

The chorus continue the recitation of this psalm until the stripping of the altars is completed.

longe a salute mea verba delictorum meorum. p. 749.

Or, according to the new psalter :

Ant. Dividunt sibi vestimenta mea, et de veste mea mittunt sortem.

Ps. Deus meus, Deus meus, quare me dereliquisti? p. 44*.

The celebrant and the sacred ministers [or servers] strip all the altars in the church except the one where the Blessed Sacrament is solemnly adored.

After stripping the altars they return to the high altar, and when the celebrant has repeated the antiphon Diviserunt or Dividunt they return to the sacristy.

8. Those who assist at the evening Mass do not say VESPERS to-day.

9. COMPLINE is recited in choir immediately afterwards; the candles are not lit and the office is not sung.

At Compline

The Jube domne, the Short Lesson, the Ψ . Adjutorium, and the Pater noster, are all omitted. Compline begins with the Confiteor, Misereatur, and Indulgentiam. Then the Ps. Cum invocarem, is recited, with the other Psalms of Sunday, p. 264 (new psalter, p. 25*), and the Canticle Nunc dimittis, p. 271 (new psalter, p. 26*).

Then all kneel and say :

On Thursday

Christus * factus est pro nobis obediens usque ad mortem.

On Friday is added :

Mortem autem crucis.

Then the Pater noster, in silence throughout, and afterwards the following Collect without Orémus, which is said in a clear voice with the drop of a whole tone on the last syllable, as in the psalms.

Prayer

Visita, quaesumus, Domine, custodiant; et benedictio tua habitationem istam, et omnes insidias inimici ab ea longe repelle : Angeli tui sancti habitent in ea, qui nos in pace sit super nos semper. But Per Dominum is said in silence, and then all depart.

10. Public adoration of the Blessed Sacrament takes place at the altar of Repose from the end of the Mass in Cena Domini. It should continue at least until midnight, when the memory of Our Lord's passion and death takes the place of the liturgical commemoration of the Holy Eucharist.

¶ In private recitation Vespers are said as on Holy Saturday, p. 776c, except for what follows :

Ant. 1. Cálicem salutáris accípíam, et nomen Dómini invocábo.

Ant. at Magnificat.

On Thursday

On Friday

Cum accepisset acétum, * dicit, et inclináto cápíte, emisit spirítum : Consummátum est : et tum.

Then the Ant. Christus factus est. and what follows as at Lauds, p. 659.

Protexísti me, Deus, a convéntu malignántium, a multitúdine operántium iniquitátem. Jam ipsum caput nostrum intueámur. Multi mártýres tália passi sunt, sed nihil sic elúcet, quómo- do caput mártýrum : ibi mélius intuémur, quod illi expérti sunt. Protéctus est a multitúdine malignántium, protegénte se Deo, protegénte carnem suam ipso Filio, et hómine, quem gerébat :

quia fílius hómínis est, et Fílius Dei est : Fílius Dei, propter formam Dei : fílius hómínis, propter formam servi, habens in potestáte pónere ánimam suam, et recipere eam. Quid ei potué- runt fácere inimíci? Occidérunt corpus, ánimam non occidérunt. Inténdite. Parum ergo erat, Dó- minum hortári mártýres verbo, nisi firmáret exémplo.

Nostis qui convéntus erat ma- lignántium Judaeórum, et quae multítudo erat operántium iniquitátem. Quam iniquitátem? Quia voluérunt occidere Dóminum Jesum Christum. Tanta ópera bona, inquit, osténdi vobis : propter quod horum me vultis occidere? Pértulit omnes infirmos eórum, curávit omnes lánguidos eórum, praedicávit regnum caelórum, non táciuit vitiá eórum, ut ipsa pótius eis displicérent, non médicus, a quo sanabántur. His ómnibus cura- tió nibus ejus ingrátí, tamquam multa febre phrenétici, insa- niéntes in médicum qui vénerat curáre eos, excogitavérunt consílium perdéndi eum : tamquam ibi volétes probáre, utrum vere homo sit, qui mori possit, an áliquid super hómines sit, et mori se non permíttat. Verbum ipsórum agnóscimus in Sapiéntia Salomónis : Morte turpíssima, inquit, condemnémus eum. Interrogémus eum : erit enim respéctus in sermónibus illius. Si enim vere Filius Dei est, líberet eum.

LESSON VI

GXacuérunt tamquam gládium linguas suas. Non dicant Judaéi : Non occídimus Christum. Etenim proptérea eum dedérunt júdici Piláto, ut quasi ipsi a morte ejus videréntur immúnes. Nam cum dixisset eis Pilátus : Vos eum occídite, responderunt : Nobis non licet occídere quemquam. Iniquitátem facínoris sui in júdicem hóminem refúndere volébant : sed numquid Deum júdicem fallébant? Quod fecit Pilátus, in eo ipso quod fecit, aliquántum párticeps fuit : sed in comparatióne illórum, multo ipse innocéntior. Institit enim quantum pótuit, ut illum ex eórum mánibus liberáret : nam proptérea flagellátum produxit ad eos. Non perseguéndo Dómi-num flagellávit, sed eórum furóri satisfácere volens : ut vel sic jam mitéscerent, et desinerent velle occídere, cum flagellátum vidérent. Fecit et hoc. At ubi perseveravérunt, nostis illum lavisse manus, et dixisse, quod ipse non fecisset, mundum se esse a morte illíus. Fecit tamen. Sed si reus, quia fecit vel invítus : illi innocéntes, qui coégérunt ut fáceret? Nullo módo. Sed ille dixit in eum senténciam, et jussit eum crucifigi, et quasi ipse occídit : et vos, o Judaéi, occídístis. Unde occídístis? Gládio linguae : acuístis enim linguas vestras. Et quando percussístis, nisi quando clamástis : Crucifige, crucifige?

Christus factus est is then sung, and all that follows is said, as on p. 659.

THE SOLEMN AFTERNOON LITURGY

Station at the Basilica of Holy Cross in Jerusalem

THE TIME OF ITS CELEBRATION

The solemn Liturgy is celebrated in the afternoon, about 3 p. m.; however, for pastoral reasons, it may begin earlier, from mid-day onwards or at a later hour, but not after nine o'clock.

THE PASTORAL PREPARATION

Let the faithful be instructed in the right understanding of to-day's Liturgy, in which

- a) after sacred readings and prayers, p. 721,
- b) the Passion of Our Lord is solemnly sung, p. 729;
- c) prayers are offered for the needs of the Church and of the whole human race, p. 732;
- d) then the whole Christian community, clergy and laity, devoutly adore the Holy Cross, p. 735;
- e) and lastly, in accordance with the rubrics of the revised Ordo and the custom of many centuries, all who are in good dispositions and who wish to do so may go to Holy Communion, so as to receive more abundant fruits of the Redemption through the devout reception of the Body of Our Lord which was delivered up for all men to-day, p. 745.

Let priests also insist that the faithful be recollected to-day and not forget the laws of fasting and abstinence.

1. The altar should be completely bare, without crucifix, candles or altar-cloths.

2. If there are not enough priests or clerics, the Solemn afternoon Liturgy of to-day is performed by the celebrant with the assistance of servers as noted below []; but if clergy are present, it is very fitting for them to assist in choir

3. Hence all wear choir-dress; the celebrant and deacon are vested in amice alb, girdle and black stole, the subdeacon in amice, alb and girdle.

3bis. Until the Holy Cross is unveiled, neither clergy nor servers genuflect to the altar, but only bow their heads. But when the Cross has been unveiled until the beginning of the Easter Vigil exclusive, all genuflect before the Cross on the principal altar.

THE FIRST PART OF THE LITURGY:

THE LESSONS

4. When everyone is ready, the procession moves through the church to the altar in silence, the acolytes [or servers] leading, carrying no lights.

5. The clergy, ministers [or servers] and the celebrant bow to the altar when they reach it; then the celebrant and sacred ministers prostrate themselves before the altar, while the rest go to their places in choir and remain kneeling and bowing [the servers kneel in the sanctuary, bowing near the celebrant]. All pray in silence for a little while.

6. When the sign is given, the bow is ended but all remain kneeling; the celebrant alone stands facing the altar steps, and with his hands joined sings the following Prayer to the ferial tone B (or ancient simple tone) :

Prayer.

DEUS, qui peccáti vétéris hereditáriam mortem, in qua posteritátis genus omne succéserat, Christi tui, Dómini nostri, passióne solvísti : † da, ut, conformés eidem facti; sicut imáginem terrénae natúrae necessitáte portávimus, * ita imáginem caeléstis grátiae sanctificatióne portémus. Per eúndem Christum Dóminum nostrum.

All answer : Amen.

7. After the Prayer the celebrant and the ministers [or servers] go back to their places. Meanwhile an unadorned lectern is placed in the sanctuary and a reader sings the first Lesson, while all sit and listen. The Lesson begins without a title, and Tu autem is not said at the end.

[7a. If the liturgy is sung and there is a capable reader, a lectern, uncovered, is placed in the middle of the sanctuary and the reader, in surplice, sings the first Lesson without title. The celebrant, servers and people sit and listen.

If the liturgy is not sung, or there is no reader, the celebrant himself, standing in his place before an uncovered lectern, sings or reads the Lesson].

LESSON I

Os. 6, 1-6

HÆC dicit Dóminus : In tribulatione sua mane consurgent ad me : Venite, et revertámur ad Dóminum : quia ipse cepit, et sanábit nos : percútiét, et curábit nos. Vivificábit nos post duos dies : in die tértia suscitábit nos, et vivémus in conspéctu ejus. Sciémus, sequemúrque, ut cognoscámus Dóminum : quasi dilúculum præparátus est egrésus ejus, et véniet quasi imber nobis temporáneus, et serótinus terrae. Quid fáciám tibi, Ephraim? Quid fáciám tibi, Juda? misericórdia vestra quasi nubes matutína : et quasi ros mane pertránsiens. Propter hoc dolávi in prophétis, occídí eos in verbis oris mei : et júdicia tua quasi lux egrediéntur. Quia misericórdiam vólui, et non sacrificium, et sciéntiam Dei plus quam holocáusta.

The following Responsory is sung by the schola and clergy, or recited by the celebrant with the servers :

DEUS, a quo et Judas reátus sui pœnam, et confessiónis suae latro praémium sumpsit, concéde nobis tuae propitiatiónis efféctum : * ut, sicut in passióne sua Jesus Christus, Dóminus no-ster, diversa utrisque intulit stimpénda meritórum ; * ita nobis, abláto vetustátis errore, resurrectiόνis suae grátiam largiátur : Qui tecum vivit et regnat in unitáte Spíritus...

9. After the Prayer there is another Lesson, sung at the lectern by the subdeacon, likewise without a title and without Deo grátias at the end.. The celebrant and all the others sit and listen.

[9a. A reader reads the Lesson at the lectern, or else the celebrant does so standing in his place.]

LESSON II

Ex. 12, 1-11

IN diébus illis : Dixit Dóminus ad Móysen et Aaron in terra Ægypti : « Mensis iste, vobis princípium ménsium : primus erit in ménsibus anni. Loquimini ad univérsum cœtum filiórum Israël, et dícite eis : Décima die mensis hujus tollat unusquisque agnum per familias et domos suas. Sin autem minor est númerus, ut sufficere possit ad vescéndum agnum, assúmet vicinum suum, qui junctus est dómui suae, juxta númerum animárum, quae sufficere possunt ad esum agni. Erit autem agnus absque mácula, másculus, annículus : juxta quem ritum tollétis et haedum. Et servábitis eum usque ad quartam décimam diem mensis hujus : immolábitque eum univérsæ multitúdo filiórum Israël ad vésperam. Et sument de ságuine ejus, ac ponent super utrúmque postem, et in superlimináribus domórum, in quibus cómedent illum. Et edent carnes nocte illa assas igni, et ázynos panes cum lactúcis agréstibus. Non comedétis ex eo crudum quid, nec coctum aqua, sed tantum assum igni : caput cum pédibus ejus, et intestínis vorábitis. Nec remanébit quidquam ex eo usque mane. Si quid resíduum fúerit, igne comburétis. Sic autem comedétis illum : Renes vestros accingétis, et calceaménta habébitis in pédibus, tenéntes báculos in mánibus, et comedétis festinánter est enim Phase, id est tránsitus Dómini ».

The Responsory is sung by the schola or by the clergy.

Solemn rite

10. After the second Lesson (and its Responsory) unadorned lecterns are placed in the sanctuary on the Gospel side and the singing (or reading) of our Lord's Passion according to St John takes place as follows :

It is sung or read by deacons ; and these, in amice, girdle and black stole, with two acolytes [or servers] without lights or incense, after bowing to the altar, stand before the celebrant standing in his place. They bow deeply, and the celebrant says :

Dóminus sit in còrdibus vestris, et in lábiis vestris. Standing erect, they answer : Amen.

They then bow to the altar again and go to the Gospel side where they begin to sing or read the Passion of our Lord at the unadorned lecterns : all the others listen. The celebrant, uncovered, stands in his place to listen.

Simple rite

[10a. If the celebrant himself reads or sings the Passion, he goes to the middle of the sanctuary with two servers. Bowing deeply towards the altar, he says aloud :

Dóminus sit in corde meo et in lábiis meis. Amen.

After bowing to the altar, he goes to the Gospel side of the sanctuary, and at an uncovered lectern reads or sings the Passion, signing neither the book nor himself. The servers remain near him. At the end, the celebrant does not kiss the book, and the servers do not answer Laus tibi, Christe.

Three deacons may sing or read the Passion. All is done as in the solemn rite. If there are only two deacons, these may sing or read the parts assigned to the Chronicler and the Synagogue ; that of Christ is taken by the celebrant wearing his stole crossed on his breast. Accompanied by two servers, the deacons come to the foot of the altar with the celebrant between them. All bow deeply saying silently :

Dóminus sit in corde meo et in lábiis meis. Amen.

They stand upright, bow to the altar and go to the Gospel side of the sanctuary to sing or read the Passion. The celebrant stands on the Chronicler's right, in the first place, nearest the altar.]

Passio Domini nostri Jesu Christi secundum Joannem

18, 1-40 ; 19, 1-42

IN illo témpore : Egréssus est Jesus cum discipulis suis trans torrentem Cedron, ubi erat hortus, in quem introiit ipse, et discipuli ejus. Sciébat autem et Judas, qui tradébat eum, locum : quia frequénter Jesus convénerat illuc cum discipulis suis. Judas ergo cum accepisset cohórtem, et a pontificibus et pharisaéis ministros, venit illuc cum latérnis, et fáribus, et armis. Jesus itaque sciens ómnia, quae ventúra erant super eum, processit, et dixit eis : + Quem quaéritis? C. Respondérunt ei : S. Jesum Nazarénum. C. Dicit eis Jesus : + Ego sum. C. Stabat autem et Judas, qui tradébat eum, cum ipsis. Ut ergo dixit eis : Ego sum : abiérunt retrórsum, et cecidérunt in terram. Iterum ergo interrogávit eos : + Quem quaéritis? C. Illi autem dixerunt : S. Jesum Nazarénum. C. Respondit Jesus : + Dixi vobis, quia ego sum : si ergo me quaéritis, sínite hos abíre. C. Ut implerétur sermo, quem dixit : Quia quos dedísti mihi, non pérdidi ex eis quemquam.

Simon ergo Petrus habens gládium edúxit eum : et percússit pontificis servum : et abscídit aurículam ejus dexteram. Erat autem nomen servo Malchus. Dixit ergo Jesus Petro : + Mitte gládium tuum in vagínam. Cálicem, quem dedit mihi Pater, non bibam illum? C. Cohors ergo, et tribúnus, et ministri Judaeórum comprehendérunt Jesum, et ligavérunt eum.

Et adduxérunt eum ad Annam primum; erat enim socer Cáiphae, qui erat pón tifex anni illius. Erat autem Cáiphas, qui conslium déderat Judaeis : Quia expedit unum hóminem mori pro pópulo. Sequebátur autem Jesum Simon Petrus, et álius discipulus. Discipulus autem ille erat notus pontífici, et introiit cum Jesu in átrium pontíficis.

Petrus autem stabat ad óstium foris. Exiit ergo discipulus álius, qui erat notus pontífici, et dixit ostiárie : et introduxit Petrum. Dicit ergo Petro ancilla ostiária : S. Numquid et tu ex discipulis es hóminis istius? C. Dicit ille : S. Non sum. C. Stabant autem servi, et ministri ad prunas : quia frigus erat, et calefaciébant se : erat autem cum eis et Petrus stans, et calefaciens se.

Pón tifex ergo interrogávit Jesum de discipulis suis, et de doctrína ejus. Respondit ei Jesus : + Ego palam locútus sum mundo : ego semper dócui in synagóga, et in templo, quo omnes Judaéi convéniunt : et in occulto locútus sum nihil. Quid me intérrogas? intérroga eos, qui audiérunt quid locútus sim ipsis : ecce hi sciunt quae díxerim ego. C. Haec autem cum dixisset, unus assistens ministrorum dedit álapam Jesu, dicens : S. Sic respondes pontífici? C. Respondit ei Jesus : + Si male locútus sum, testimónium pérhibe de malo : si autem bene, quid me caedis?

C. Et misit eum Annas ligátum ad Cáipham pontíficem. Erat autem Simon Petrus stans et calefáciens se. Dixérunt ergo ei : S. Numquid et tu ex discípulis ejus es? C. Negávit ille, et dixit : S. Non sum. C. Dicit ei unus ex servis pontíficis, cognátus ejus, cujus absceídít Petrus auriculam : S. Nonne ego te vidi in horto cum illo? C. Iterum ergo negávit Petrus : et statim gallus cantávit.

Addúcunt ergo Jesum a Cáipha in praetórium. Erat autem mane : et ipsi non introiérunt in praetórium, ut non contaminaréntur, sed ut manducárent Pascha. Exívit ergo Pilátus ad eos foras, et dixit : S. Quam accusatiónem affértis advérsus hóminem hunc? C. Respondérunt et dixérunt ei : S. Si non esset hic malefáctor, non tibi tradidissémus eum. C. Dixit ergo eis Pilátus : S. Accípíte eum vos, et secúndum legem vestram judicáte eum. C. Dixérunt ergo ei Judaéi : S. Nobis non licet interficere quemquam. C. Ut sermo Jesu implerétur, quem dixit, significans qua morte esset moritúrus.

Introívit ergo iterum in praetórium Pilátus, et vocávit Jesum, et dixit ei : S. Tu es Rex Judaeórum? C. Respondit Jesus : + A temetípso hoc dicis, an álíi dixérunt tibi de me? C. Respondit Pilátus : S. Numquid ego Judaéus sum? Gens tua et pontífices tradidérunt te mihi : quid fecísti? C. Respondit Jesus : + Regnum meum non est de hoc mundo. Si ex hoc mundo esset regnum meum, ministri mei útique decertárent, ut non tráderer Judaéis : nunc autem regnum meum non est hinc. C. Dixit itaque ei Pilátus : S. Ergo Rex es tu? C. Respondit Jesus : + Tu dicis quia Rex sum ego. Ego in hoc natus sum, et ad hoc veni in mundum, ut testimónium perhíbeam veritáti : omnis, qui est ex veritáte, audit vocem meam. C. Dicit ei Pilátus : C. Quid est veritas? C. Et cum hoc dixisset, iterum exívit ad Judaéis, et dicit eis : S. Ego nullam invénio in eo causam. Est autem consuetúdo vobis ut unum dimíttam vobis in Pascha : vultis ergo dimíttam vobis Regem Judaeórum? C. Clamavérunt ergo rursus omnes, dicétes : S. Non hunc, sed Barábbam. C. Erat autem Barábbas latro.

Tunc ergo apprehéndit Pilátus Jesum, et flagellávit. Et mílites plectétes corónam de spinis, imposuérunt cápiti ejus : et veste purpúrea circumdedérunt eum. Et veniébant ad eum, et dicébant : S. Ave, Rex Judaeórum. C. Et dabant ei álapas. Exívit ergo iterum Pilátus foras, et dicit eis : S. Ecce addúco vobis eum foras, ut cognoscátis, quia nullam invénio in eo causam. C. (Exívit ergo Jesus portans corónam spíneam et purpúreum vestiméntum.) Et dicit eis : S. Ecce homo. C. Cum ergo vidissent eum pontífices et ministri, clamábant, dicétes : S. Crucífíge, crucífíge eum. C. Dicit eis Pilátus : S. Accípíte eum vos, et crucífíge : ego enim non invénio in eo causam. C. Respondérunt ei Judaéi : S. Nos legem habémus, et secúndum legem debet mori, quia Fílium Dei se fecit. C. Cum ergo audisset Pilátus hunc sermónem, magis tímuit.

Et ingrèssus est praetórium iterum : et dixit ad Jesum : S. Unde es tu? C. Jesus autem respónsum non dedit ei. Dicit ergo ei Pilátus : S. Mihi non lóqueris? nescis quia potestátem hábeo crucifigere te, et potestátem hábeo dimítere te? C. Respondit Jesus : + Non habéres potestátem advérsum me ullam, nisi tibi datum esset désuper. Proptérea, qui me trádidit tibi, majus peccátum habet. C. Et exínde quaerébat Pilátus dimítere eum. Judaéi autem clamábant, dicétes : S. Si hunc dimíttis, non es amícus Caésaris. Omnis enim, qui se regem facit, contradíct Caésari. C. Pilátus autem cum audisset hos sermónes, addúxit foras Jesum, et sedit pro tribunáli, in loco, qui dicitur Lithóstrotos, hebráice autem Gábbatha. Erat autem Parascéve Paschae, hora quasi sexta, et dicit Judaéis : S. Ecce Rex vester. C. Illi autem clamábant : S. Tolle, tolle, crucifige eum. C. Dicit eis Pilátus : S. Regem vestrum crucifigam? C. Respondérunt pontífices : S. Non habémus regem, nisi Caésarem. C. Tunc ergo trádidit eis illum ut crucifigerétur. Suscéperunt autem Jesum, et eduxérunt. Et bájulans sibi crucem, exívit in eum, qui dicitur Calváriae, locum, hebráice autem Gólgotha : ubi crucifixerunt eum, et cum eo álios duos, hinc et hinc, médium autem Jesum.

Scrípfit autem et títulum Pilátus : et pósuit super crucem. Erat autem scriptum : Jesus Nazaréus, Rex Judaeórum. Hunc ergo títulum multi Judaeórum legérunt, quia prope civitátem erat locus, ubi crucifixus est Jesus.

Et erat scriptum hebráice, graece, et latine. Dicébant ergo Pilátó pontífices Judaeórum : S. Noli scribere, Rex Judaeórum, sed quia ipse dixit : Rex sum Judaeórum. C. Respondit Pilátus : S. Quod scripsi, scripsi.

C. Milites ergo cum crucifixissent eum, accepérunt vestiméta ejus et fecérunt quátuor partes : unicuíque míliti partem, et túnica. Erat autem túnica inconsútilis, désuper contéxta per totum. Dixérunt ergo ad ínvicem : S. Non scindámus eam, sed sortiámur de illa cujus sit. C. Ut scriptúra implerétur, dicens : Partíti sunt vestiméta mea sibi : et in vestem meam misérunt sortem. Et mílites quidem haec fecérunt.

Stabant autem juxta crucem Jesu mater ejus, et soror matris ejus María Cléophae, et María Magdaléne. Cum vidisset ergo Jesus matrem, et discipulum stantem, quem diligébat, dicit matri suae : + Múlier, ecce fílius tuus. C. Deínde dicit discipulo : + Ecce mater tua. C. Et ex illa hora accépit eam discipulus in sua.

Póstea sciens Jesus quia ómnia consummáta sunt, ut consummaretúr Scriptúra, dixit : + Sítio. C. Vas ergo erat pósitum acéto plenum. Illi autem spóngiam plenam acéto, hyssópo circumponétes, obtulérunt ori ejus. Cum ergo accepisset Jesus acétum, dixit : + Consummátum est. C. Et inclinátocápíte, trádidit spíritum. (Here a pause is made, and all kneel).

C. Judaéi ergo, quóniam Parascéve erat, ut non remanérent in cruce córpora sábbato, erat enim magnus dies ille sábbati, rogavérunt Pilátum, ut frangeréntur eórum crura, et tolleréntur. Venérunt ergo mílites : et primi quidem fregérunt crura, et alté-rius qui crucifixus est cum eo.

Ad Jesum autem cum venissent, ut vidérunt eum jam mórtuum, non fregérunt ejus crura, sed unus militum lancea latus ejus aperuit, et continuo exívit sanguis, et aqua. Et qui vidit, testi-mónium perhibuit : et verum est testimónium ejus. Et ille scit, quia vera dicit : ut et vos credátis.
Facta sunt enim haec ut Scri-ptúra implerétur : Os non com-minuétis ex eo. Et iterum ália Scriptúra dicit : Vidébunt in quem transfixérunt.

Post haec autem rogávit Pilátum Joseph ab Arimathaea, eo quod esset discipulus Jesu,

occúltus autem propter metum Judaeórum, ut tólleret corpus Jesu. Et permísit Pilátus. Venit ergo, et tulit corpus Jesu. Venit autem et Nicodémus, qui vénerat ad Jesum nocte primum, ferens mixtúram myrrhae et áloës, quasi libras centum. Acceperunt ergo corpus Jesu, et ligavérunt illud línteis cum aromátibus, sicut mos est Judaéis sepelíre.
Erat autem in loco, ubi crucifixus est, hortus : et in horto monu-méntum novum, in quo nondum quisquam pósitus erat. Ibi ergo propter Parascéven Judaeórum, quia juxta erat monuméntum, posuérunt Jesum.

SECOND PART OF THE LITURGY :
THE SOLEMN COLLECTS,
ALSO CALLED THE PRAYER OF THE FAITHFUL

12. When the singing or reading of the Passion is finished, the celebrant, at the sedilia, puts on a black cope, the deacon and subdeacon a black dalmatic and tunicle.

Meanwhile, two acolytes [or two servers] spread a single linen cloth on the altar and put the book in the middle on a cushion or stand.

Then the celebrant, with the ministers [or servers], goes to the altar ; he mounts the steps, and kisses the altar. Standing in the middle, by the book, he begins the solemn Collects, while the sacred ministers [or servers], one on either side of him, lift the edge of his cope.

13. The solemn Collects are said as follows :

The celebrant begins with an introduction which announces a particular intention ; he sings it, with hands joined, to the special tone given in the Missal. He then sings Orémus ; the deacon [or the celebrant] adds Flectámus genua, and all, including the celebrant, kneel and pray silently for a little while. When the deacon [or the celebrant] sings Leváte, all rise, and the celebrant with hands extended sings the Collect to the ferial tone A (or the ancient solemn tone).

THIRD PART OF THE LITURGY :
THE ADORATION OF THE HOLY CROSS

14. After the solemn collects, the celebrant and ministers [or servers], bowing to the altar, go back to the sedilia by the shortest way : the celebrant takes off his cope, the ministers the dalmatic and tunicle : the solemn adoration of the Cross then begins.

A large Cross is used whose figure is covered by a purple veil which can be easily removed.

15. The Cross is first brought from the sacristy to the middle of the sanctuary, while all stand. It is carried in this way : the celebrant and the subdeacon stay at their bench, standing ; the deacon goes to the sacristy with the acolytes [or servers] and from there he brings the Cross in procession to the church. The acolytes [or servers] go first, then the deacon with the Cross, walking between two more acolytes [or servers] who carry lighted candles.

When they reach the sanctuary, the celebrant and subdeacon go to meet them, and the celebrant receives the Cross in the middle, in front of the altar.

[15a. The celebrant goes to the sacristy with the servers and from there brings in the Cross, as above.]

16. The holy Cross is then unveiled in this way :

The celebrant, holding the Cross, with deacon and subdeacon [first and second servers] on either side, and two acolytes [servers] with lighted candles, goes to the Epistle side on floor-level, stands facing the people, and uncovers the top of the cross a little. An acolyte [server] holds the book ; the celebrant intones alone, at a low pitch, Ecce lignum Crúcis, and the sacred ministers sing it with him as far as Veníte, adorémus, which is sung by the schola and all the people, standing.

[In the simple rite, the celebrant alone sings or reads the antiphon as far as Veníte, adorémus, which is sung by all.]

ANTIPHON AT THE UNVEILING OF THE CROSS

	The celebrant	The ministers with the celebrant
6
E	Cce lí-gnum Crú-cis, in quo sá-lus mún-

di pe-pén- dit.

All : R̄. Ve- ní- te, ad- o-ré- mus.

After the antiphon, all, except the celebrant with the Cross and the candle bearers, kneel and adore in silence for a few moments.

The celebrant then goes to the middle of the altar and uncovers the Cross completely. He raises it, and in a higher key sings again Ecce lignum Crucis. The others join in the singing and kneel down, as before.

The celebrant then goes to the middle of the altar and uncovers the Cross completely; he then raises it, and in a still higher key sings again Ecce lignum Crucis. The others then join in the singing and kneel down, as before.

17. After its unveiling the solemn adoration of the Cross takes place in this way : the unveiled Cross is given by the celebrant to two acolytes [or servers] who stand on the predella in the middle of the altar facing the people; they hold it on each side by the arms so that the foot of the Cross rests on the steps.

Meanwhile the two other acolytes [or servers] who held the lighted candles place them on each side of the Cross on the predella, and they kneel there on each side of the predella facing the Cross.

Having given the Cross to the acolytes [servers], the celebrant with the ministers [servers], comes down from the altar, genuflects to the Cross, and goes to the sedilia.

The adoration of the Cross then begins as follows : first the celebrant comes alone, then the sacred ministers, then the clergy and lastly the servers. If it can be done conveniently, they all take their shoes off, and they approach the Cross one after the other : after a simple genuflection made three times, they kiss the feet of the crucifix.

18. When the celebrant, ministers, clergy and servers have completed their adoration of the Cross, it is carried to the communion-rail by the two acolytes [or two servers] accompanied by the two other acolytes with lighted candles. It is held there in the same way as indicated above so that the faithful can come past the Cross as it were in procession, the men first and then the women. They devoutly kiss the feet of the crucifix after making a simple genuflection.

If the adoration of the Cross cannot be carried through without difficulty and hindrance to good order and devotion, it may be modified as follows : when the clergy, or the servers, have finished their adoration the celebrant takes the Cross from the servers; standing at the top of the altar steps, and first briefly exhorting the people to adore the holy Cross, he holds it up, offering it for their adoration, for a few moments.

19. While the adoration of the Cross is taking place, the schola (divided into two choirs) sings the Reproaches and other chants, while the celebrant sacred ministers, servers and all who have returned from the adoration of the Cross sit and listen.

The singing is continued for as long as the adoration continues. It always ends with the doxology Sempiterna sit beatae Trinitati gloria from the hymn Pänge, lingua, gloriósi láuream certáminis, p. 745.

FOURTH PART OF THE LITURGY : HOLY COMMUNION

20. At the end of the adoration of the Cross, the Cross itself is brought back to the altar by the acolytes [or servers] who held it, accompanied by the other two acolytes [or servers] with lighted candles : it is placed in the middle of the altar, and if the construction of the altar allows, in a high place where it can be seen by the faithful ; but it must not hinder the celebrant from performing the remaining ceremonies at the same altar. The lighted candles are placed on the altar on either side near the Cross. When the Cross is placed on the altar, all rise and remain standing.

21. The celebrant and deacon then take off their black stoles and put on purple vestments, viz. a stole and chasuble for the celebrant, a stole and dalmatic for the deacon and a tunicle for the subdeacon.

22. Then the deacon brings the burse to the altar and unfolds the corporal in the usual way. An acolyte [or server] places on the altar a small vessel of water and a purificator (for the celebrant to wash and dry his fingers after Holy Communion), and he also moves the book to the Gospel side.

[22 a. Before the procession begins, the priest places the corporal on the altar and unfolds it in the usual way.]

23. When all is ready, the Blessed Sacrament is brought back to the high altar for Holy Communion as follows :

The celebrant and the subdeacon, the clergy and the people all stay in their places in silence.

The deacon goes to the altar of repose with two acolytes and another cleric to hold the ombrellino. On this altar are two candlesticks with lighted candles in them, which the acolytes use for what follows.

All kneel at the altar of repose, and the deacon takes the ciborium from the tabernacle. He then receives the humeral veil, covers the ciborium with the ends of it, and brings the ciborium to the high altar.

[23 a. Everything is done by the celebrant with the servers.]

24. They come back there in the same order as they went : the ombrellino is carried over the Blessed Sacrament, the acolytes carry lighted candles on each side : everyone else kneels. Meanwhile the schola sings the following antiphons :

1 Ant.
A -do-rá-mus te, * Chrí-ste, et benedí-cimus tí-bi, qui-a per Crúcem tú-am redemísti mún-dum.

2 Ant.
8
P ER lí-gnum * sé-rvi fá-cti sú-mus, et per sán-ctam

Fí-li-us Dé-i red- é-mit nos.

3 Ant.

Alvá-tor múndi, sálva nos : * qui per Crúcem et Sángui-nem rede-místi nos, auxi-li-á-re nó-bis, te depre-cámur, Dé-us nóster.

25. When they reach the high altar, the deacon [priest] and the acolytes [servers] go up the steps, and the deacon [priest] places the ciborium on the corporal, while the acolytes [servers] put their candles on the altar. All three then genuflect, while the humeral veil is taken from the deacon by an acolyte [server]; then the deacon goes to the Epistle side. The acolytes [servers] come down on each side and stand on the lowest step of the altar.

26. The celebrant and the subdeacon come to the altar, genuflect on both knees, go up the steps and genuflect with the deacon. The celebrant then recites in an audible voice (not singing) the prelude to the Our Father : Orémus. Praecéptis salutáribus móniti.

But, since the Pater noster is the prayer for the Communion, all present, clergy, servers and people, standing, recite it in Latin with the celebrant, gravely and distinctly; and all add Amen at the end.

The celebrant, with hands joined, alone :

Orémus. Praecéptis salutáribus móniti, et divína institutióne formáti, audémus dicere :

The celebrant keeps his hands joined, and all present continue with him :

PATER NOSTER, QUI ES IN CÆLIS : *

SANCTIFICETUR NOMEN TUUM. *

ADVENIAT REGNUM TUUM. *

FIAT VOLUNTAS TUA, SICUT IN CÆLO, ET IN TERRA. *

PANEM NOSTRUM QUOTIDIANUM DA NOBIS HODIE : *

ET DIMITTE NOBIS DEBITA NOSTRA, *

SICUT ET NOS DIMITTIMUS DEBITORIBUS NOSTRIS. *

ET NE NOS INDUCAS IN TENTATIONEM; *

SED LIBERA NOS A MALO. *

AMEN.

27. The celebrant alone continues, aloud and distinctly, with his hand extended :

Libera nos, quaesumus, Dó- túris : et intercedente beata et mine, ab omnibus malis, gloriósa semper Vírgine Dei Gepraeteritis, praesentibus, et fu- nitrice María, cum beatis apó-stolis tuis Petro et Paulo, atque Andréa, et ómnibus Sanctis, he does not cross himself da propítius pacem in diébus nostris; ut, ope misericórdiae tuae adjúti, et a peccáto simus semper líberi et ab omni perturbatióne secúri. Per eúmdem Dóminum nostrum Jesum Christum Fílium tuum : Qui tecum vivit et regnat in unitáte Spíritus Sancti Deus, per ómnia saécula saeculórum.

All answer : Amen.

28. The celebrant at once recites in a subdued voice the following prayer : he makes the usual inclination and places his joined hands on the altar :

Percéptio Córporis tui, Dómine Jesu Christe, quod ego indignus súmere praesúmo, non mihi provéniat in júdicium et condemnatióem : sed pro tua pietáte prosit mihi ad tutaméntum mentis et córporis, et ad medéllam percipiéndam : Qui vivis et regnas cum Deo Patre in unitáte Spíritus Sancti Deus, per ómnia saécula saeculórum. Amen.

29. The deacon [or the celebrant] uncovers the ciborium; the celebrant genuflects, takes one of the hosts holding it over the ciborium, bows and striking his breast says three times :

Domine, non sum dignus, ut intres sub tectum meum : sed tantum dic verbo, et sanábitur ánima mea.

30. After this he signs himself with the Blessed Sacrament, and then adds in a subdued voice :

Corpus Dómini nostri Jesu Christi custódiat ánimam meam in vitam aetérnam. Amen.

He reverently receives Holy Communion and then waits a little while meditating on the Blessed Sacrament.

31. At once the deacon [or servers and the others who are present] say the Confiteor in the usual way. The celebrant genuflects, turns towards the people with his hands joined before his breast, and says in an audible voice :

Misereátur vestri omnípotens Deus... All answer : Amen.

The celebrant continues :

Indulgéntiam, absolutiónem... All answer : Amen.

32. He then turns towards the altar, genuflects and takes the ciborium; he turns back towards the people in the usual way in the middle of the altar and says aloud :

Ecce Agnus Dei, ecce qui tollit peccáta mundi.

He then adds, three times :

Dómine, non sum dignus, ut intres sub tectum meum : sed tantum dic verbo, et sanábitur ánima mea.

And he begins to distribute Holy Communion as indicated for Maundy Thursday, p. 679, n. 29. Priests and deacons wear purple stoles.

If there is a great number of communicants, other priests, wearing surplice and purple stole, may distribute Holy Communion, either with the celebrant at the rails, or at some other fit place, provided all care is taken for the good order and devotion of the people.

If it is necessary to bring another ciborium (or more) to the altar from the place of reservation to communicate the people, another priest or deacon, if one is available, shall do so, wearing surplice and purple stole; or the celebrant himself, with two servers with lights and a third with ombrellino.

33. While Holy Communion is being distributed, Psalm 21, Déus, Déus meus may be sung, or else one or other of the responsories from Matins of Good Friday.

To-day Holy Communion can be distributed outside the afternoon Liturgy only to the sick who are in danger of death.

34. After the communion the celebrant purifies his fingers and dries them, saying nothing. He then replaces the ciborium in the tabernacle.

35. Then the celebrant stands in the middle of the altar with the book in front of him and the sacred ministers on either side of him, and with his hands joined he sings the three following collects in the ferial tone B (or the ancient simple tone), in thanksgiving. All stand and answer : Amen.

Orémus.

Second prayer

Third prayer

Reminíscere miseratiónum tuárum, Dómine, † et fámulos tuos aetérna protectióne sanctífica, * pro quibus Christus, Filius | tuus, per suum cruórem, instituit paschále mystérium. Per eúmdem Christum Dóminum nostrum. R̄. Amen.

36. The celebrant and the sacred ministers go down the altar steps, genuflect, and return to the sacristy with the acolytes [or servers].

The high altar is stripped bare, except for the Cross and candlesticks.

37. To-day Vespers are omitted. Compline is recited in choir, p. 686; the candles are not lit.

38. At a convenient time the Blessed Sacrament is brought privately to a place of reservation : a lamp burns there as usual. The high altar is stripped by the acolytes [servers], leaving only the Cross and candles.

In private recitation of the Divine Office, Vespers are said by those who have not been present at the afternoon Liturgy as indicated above, p. 687.

Priests who have charge of two or more parishes may be allowed by the Bishop of the diocese to repeat the Good Friday Liturgy, but not in the same parish, and only within the limits of time shown above, p. 720, for its celebration.

HOLY SATURDAY

Double of the First Class

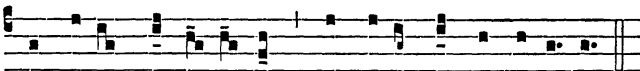

The faithful should be carefully instructed about the special Liturgy of Holy Saturday. It is a day of great sorrow, when the Church waits by the tomb of Our Lord, meditating on His Passion and Death; the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass is not offered, and the altars are stripped; until, after the Solemn Vigil (or awaiting of Our Lord's Resurrection in the night) all this gives place to the joy of Easter, which overflows into the following days.

THE DIVINE OFFICE

AT MATINS

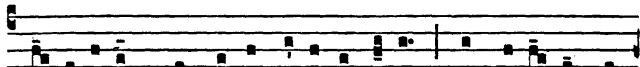

The altar must be bare, except for the Cross and four (lighted) candles, that remained after the Good Friday Liturgy.

After the Confiteor and absolution, the Sunday psalms are said at once. When they are ended, the Cantic of Simeon, the Nunc dimittis, is said, then Pater noster and the Collect Visita, quaesumus. Everything else is omitted.

4. As the solemn celebration of the Paschal Vigil takes the place of the night Office of Easter Sunday, Matins of this same Sunday are omitted, but during the solemn Mass of the Vigil LAUDS are sung, as indicated below, p. 776KK. The Office of Easter Sunday continues at PRIME.

Those who do not assist at the solemn Paschal Vigil are bound to say Matins and Lauds of Easter Sunday as in the Roman Breviary.

¶ Where the custom still prevails of blessing houses on Holy Saturday, the Bishop shall take measures that this shall be carried out at a suitable time, before or after Easter, by the parish priest, or other clergy with the care of souls, delegated by him. They shall take this opportunity for a fatherly visitation of their people, and ascertain their spiritual state (can. 462, n. 6).

THE TIME OF THE PASCHAL VIGIL

The rules concerning the time for celebrating the Easter Vigil are as follows :

a) The Vigil should start at an hour that allows of beginning the Mass about midnight of Easter Eve to Easter Day.

b) However, if, in special circumstances, local or personal, and for serious public and pastoral reasons, the Ordinary judges it better to advance the time of celebrating the Vigil, still it must not begin before dusk or at least not before sunset.

c) Leave to advance the time of the Vigil cannot be granted by the Bishop to the whole diocese or region without distinction, but only to churches or places where there is real necessity. The proper time ought to be kept at least at the cathedral, and in all other churches, especially those of religious, where this can be done without grave inconvenience.

THE HOLY COMMUNION

During Holy Saturday, only those in danger of death may communicate outside the Mass of the Paschal Vigil or immediately after it. Those who communicate after Saturday midnight cannot do so again on Easter Day.

The faithful must abstain from all solid food and alcoholic drink for three hours before Communion.

THE PASCHAL VIGIL

Station ad St. John Lateran

The plan and purpose of this Vigil is to signify and recall by the liturgy how grace and life sprang up for us from the death of our Lord.

Thus our Lord himself — the light of the world, (John 8, 12) — is presented to us under the sign of the Paschal candle : for He has scattered the darkness of our sins by the grace of his light, p. 776j;

Then the solemn Praise of Easter (Exsultet) is announced, describing the splendour of the holy night of the Resurrection, p. 776m;

Then are commemorated God's mighty works of the Old Testament, which are pale images of the wonders of the New Testament, p. 776p;

The water of Baptism is blessed, in which, buried with Christ to die to sin, we rise again with him to walk in a new life. (Rom. 6, 4.), p. 776x;

We then engage ourselves by renewing our Baptismal promises to bear witness before all men and in all our life to the grace which Christ merited for us and conferred on us at Baptism, p. 776dd;

Lastly, after imploring the prayers of the Church triumphant, we end the sacred Vigil with the solemn Mass of the Resurrection, p. 776hh.

THE BLESSING OF THE NEW FIRE

1. The altars are covered with cloths at a suitable time, but the candles are not lit until the beginning of Mass. Meanwhile fire is struck from flint, and from this, charcoal is lighted.

2. The celebrant is vested in amice, alb, girdle, purple stole and cope [or without chasuble]; the sacred ministers wear amice, alb and girdle, the deacon a purple stole and dalmatic and the subdeacon a purple tunicle.

3. The ministers [or servers] assemble with cross, holy water and incense either at the door of the church, or in the porch, or even inside the church, wherever the people can best follow the ceremony, and the celebrant blesses the new fire, saying what follows to the ferial tone B [or the simple ancient tone] :

℣. Dóminus vobíscum.

| ℞. Et cum spírítu túo.

Orémus.

Prayer

tuae claritátis, puris méntibus,

He then sprinkles the fire with holy water three times, in silence.

4. An acolyte [or server] takes the lighted charcoal which has been blessed and puts it in the thurible; the celebrant puts in incense, blesses it as usual, and censes the fire three times.

THE BLESSING OF THE PASCHAL CANDLE

5. After the blessing of the new fire, an acolyte [or a server] brings the paschal candle to the middle, in front of the priest. The priest with a style inscribes a cross between the outer holes made to receive the grains of incense¹. At the head of this cross he then traces the Greek letter Alpha, and at the foot Omega, and between the arms four figures, the date of the current year. At the same time he says the following words aloud :

- 1) Christus heri et hódie (he marks the vertical line),
- 2) Príncipium et Finis (he marks the horizontal line),
- 3) Alpha (above the vertical line he writes A)
- 4) et Omega (below the vertical line he writes Ω);
- 5) Ipsius sunt témpora (he writes the first figure of the year in the left upper angle of the cross)
- 6) et saécula (he writes the second in the right upper angle);
- 7) Ipsi glória et impérium (he writes the third in the left lower angle)
- 8) per univérsa aeternitátis saécula. Amen (he writes the fourth in the right lower angle).

¹ There is no reason why the signs the priest inscribes on the candle should not have been already marked with paint or in some other way.

6. When the inscribing of the cross and other signs is done, the deacon [or a server] presents the grains of incense to the priest. If they are not yet blessed, the celebrant thrice sprinkles them with holy water and thrice censes them, saying nothing. Then he fixes the five grains in their holes, saying aloud :

- | | |
|----------------------------|-------|
| 1) Per sua sancta vúlnera | |
| 2) gloriósa | 1 |
| 3) custódiat | 4 2 5 |
| 4) et consérvet nos | 3 |
| 5) Christus Dóminus. Amen. | |

7. Then the deacon [or a server], lighting a small candle at the new fire, gives it to the priest, who with it lights the paschal candle, saying aloud :

Lumen Christi glorióse resurgéntis Díssipet ténebras cordis et mentis.

8. At once the priest blesses the lighted paschal candle, singing to the ferial tone B [or ancient simple tone], with hands joined :

Ÿ. Dóminus vobíscum. R̄. Et cum spírítu túo.

Orémus.

Prayer

Veniat, quaésumus, omnípotens Deus, super hunc incensum céreum larga tuae bene + dictionis infúsió : et hunc noctúrnum splendórem invisibilis regenerátor inténde; ut non solum sacrificium, quod hac nocte litátum est, arcána lúminis tui

R̄. Amen.

9. During this time the lights in the church are extinguished. And candles are distributed to clergy and people, unless they already have them, to be carried in the procession into the church and lit from the paschal candle.

THE PROCESSION OF THE PASCHAL CANDLE

Solemn rite

Simple rite

10. Then the celebrant again puts incense in the thurible; the deacon takes off his purple vestments and puts on a white stole and dalmatic, he then takes the lighted paschal candle, and the procession is formed as follows :

- the thurifer, first of all,*
- then the subdeacon with the cross,*
- the deacon with the lighted candle,*
- the celebrant immediately after him,*
- then the clergy in order,*
- lastly the people.*

[10a. Then the priest takes off his purple vestments and puts on a white stole and dalmatic; he then puts incense again in the thurible; then he takes the lighted paschal candle and the procession is formed as follows :

- the thurifer, first of all,*
- then the cross-bearer,*
- immediately after him, the celebrant with the lighted candle,*
- then the other servers,*
- lastly the people.]*

11. When the deacon [or priest] has entered the church, he stands erect and sings alone :

Lúmen Chrí-sti.

All the others except the subdeacon [or cross-bearer] and thurifer kneel towards the paschal candle and answer :

R̄. Dé-o grá-ti-as.

All rise, and the celebrant lights his own candle from the paschal candle [a server lights a candle for the priest].

The deacon [or priest] goes to the middle of the church, and sings there in the same way but in a higher key :

LUMEN CHRISTI

Then all kneel and answer as before :

DEO GRATIAS

The candles of the clergy [or servers] are then lit from the paschal candle.

The third time he goes in front of the altar, in the middle of the choir, and again sings in a still higher key :

LUMEN CHRISTI

All kneel a third time, and answer :

DEO GRATIAS

The candles of the faithful and the lamps of the church are then lit from the paschal candle.

THE PASCHAL PRAISE

Solemn rite

12. The celebrant then goes to his place in choir on the Epistle side ; the subdeacon with the cross stands on the Gospel side, behind the lectern ; the clergy take their places in the stalls.

The deacon places the paschal candle on a small stand in the middle of the choir, and when the celebrant has put incense in the thurible, the deacon takes the book and asks for a blessing in these words :

Jube, domne, benedícere.

The celebrant answers :

Dóminus sit in corde tuo, et	schále praeconium : In nómine
in lábiis tuis, ut digne et com-	Patris, et Filii, † et Spíritus peténter annúnties suum pa-	Sancti. Amen.

Simple rite

[In the sanctuary, the thurifer stands near the credence-table and the cross-bearer on the Gospel side facing the lectern ; the celebrant puts the paschal candle on a small stand in the middle of the sanctuary and goes to his place; the rest of the servers stand on either side of him.

Having first put incense in the thurible, the celebrant takes the book from the chief server: then he kneels on the lowest step of the altar, towards the Epistle side, and says silently:

Jube, Dómine, benedicere.

Dóminus sit in corde meo, et in | ténter annúntiem suum paschále
lábiis meis, ut digne et compe- | praecónium. Amen].

13. After this the deacon [or the priest] goes to the lectern, which is covered with a white cloth, puts the book on it, and censes it; he then goes all round the paschal candle, censing it also.

All now rise, and stand as for the Gospel; the deacon sings [or the priest himself sings or reads] the solemn Praise of Easter in front of the paschal candle and the processional cross, with the altar on his right and the nave of the church on his left.

All hold their lighted candles throughout the Exúltet.

Dómino Dé-o nóstro. R̄. Dígnum et jústum est.

VEre dignum et justum est, invisibilem Deum Patrem omnipotentem Filiúmque ejus unigénitum, Dóminum nostrum Jesum Christum, toto cordis ac mentis afféctu et vocis ministério personáre. Qui pro nobis aetérno Patri Adae débitum solvit : et vétéris piáculi cautiónem pio cruóre detérsit.

Haec sunt enim festa paschália, in quibus verus ille Agnus occíditur, cujus sánguine postes fidélium consecrántur.

Haec nox est, in qua primum patres nostros, filios Israél eductos de Ægýpto, mare Rubrum sicco vestígio transíre fecisti.

Ægýptum nox est, quae peccatórum ténebras, colúmnae illuminatione purgávit.

Haec nox est, quae hódie per univérsam mundum in Christo credéntes, a vítiis saéculi et caligine peccatórum segregátos, reddit grátiae, sóciat sanctitáti.

Haec nox est, in qua destrúctis vínculis mortis, Christus ab ínferis victor ascéndit. Nihil enim nobis nasci prófuit, nisi rédimi profuísset.

O mira circa nos tuae pietátis dignátio!

O inaestimábilis diléctio caritátis : ut servum redímeres, Fílium tradidísti!

O certe necessary Adae peccátum, quod Christi morte delétum est!

O felix culpa, quae talem ac tantum mérui habére Redemptórem!

O vere beáta nox, quae sola mérui scire tempus et horam, in qua Christus ab ínferis resurréxit! Haec nox est, de qua scriptum est : Et nox sicut dies illuminábitur : et nox illuminátio mea in deliciis meis.

Hujus igitur sanctificátio noctis fugat scélera, culpas lavat : et reddit innocéntiam lapsis, et mœstis laetítiam. Fugat ódia, concórdiam parat, et curvat impéria.

In hujus igitur noctis grátia, súscipe, sancte Pater, incénsi hujus sacrificium vespertinum : quod tibi in hac Cérei oblatiône solémni, per ministrórum manus de opéribus apum, sacrosáncta reddit Ecclésia.

Sed jam colúmnae hujus praecónia nóvimus, quam in honórem Dei rútilans ignis accéndit. Qui licet sit divisus in partes, mutuáti tamen lúminis detriménta non novit. Alitur enim liquántibus ceris, quas in substántiam pretiósae hujus lámpadis, apis mater edúxit.

O vere beáta nox, quae exspoliávit Ægýptios, ditávit Hebraeos! Nox, in qua terrénis caeléstia, humanis divína jungúntur.

Orámus ergo te, Dómine : ut Céreus iste in honórem tui nóminis consecrátus, ad noctis hujus caliginem destruéndam, inefficiens perseverét. Et in odórem suavitátis accéptus, supérnis lumínaribus misceátur. Flammas ejus lúcifer matutíus invéníat. Ille, inquam, lúcifer, qui nescit occásus. Ille, qui regressus ab ínferis, húmáno géneri sérénus illúxit.

Precámur ergo te, Dómine : ut nos fámulos tuos, omnémque clerum, et devotíssimum pópulum : una cum beatíssimo Papa nostro N. et Antístite nostró N., quiéte témporum concéssa, in his paschálibus gáudiis, assídua protectióne régere, gubernáre, et conserváre dignéris.

Réspice étiam ad eos, qui nos in potestáte regunt, et, ineffábili pietátis et misericórdiae tuae múnere, dirige cogitatíones eórum ad justítiam et pacem, ut de terréna operositáte ad caeléstem pátriam pervéniant cum omni pópulo tuo.

Per eúndem Dóminum nostrum Jesum Christum Fílium tuum : Qui tecum vivit et regnat in unitáte Spíritus Sancti Deus :

per ómni- a saécu-la saecu-lórum. R̄. Amen.

THE READINGS OR LESSONS

Solemn rite

The subdeacon puts the cross near the credence-table, on the Epistle side, then joins the celebrant.

An acolyte removes the white covering from the lectern or places an uncovered lectern ready for the Lessons.

The Lessons are then sung without title or Deo grátias at the end. They are sung in the middle of the choir by a capable reader in surplice, so placed that he has the paschal candle in front of him, the altar on his right, and the nave of the church on his left. The servers and people all sit and listen.

Simple rite

[After the Praise of Easter, the celebrant goes back to his place, takes off the white dalmatic and stole and again puts on the purple stole and cope, helped by the servers.

The cross-bearer puts the cross near the credence-table, on the Epistle side. A server removes the white covering from the lectern or places an uncovered lectern ready for the Lessons.

The celebrant, in purple cope and stole, goes to the lectern for the Lessons.

If there is a capable reader, he may sing or read the Lessons, in a surplice ; in that case the celebrant sits and listens, and remains at his seat to sing the Collects.

The Lessons are read without a title and without Deo grátias at the end. They are sung in the middle of the choir in such a way that the reader [or priest] has the paschal candle in front of him, the altar on his right, and the church door on his left. The servers and people all sit and listen].

LESSON I

Gen. 1, 1-31 and 2, 1-2

IN principio creávit Deus caelum et terram.

Terra autem erat inánis, et vácuá, et ténebrae erant super fáciem abyssi : et Spíritus Dei ferebátur super aquas.

Dixítque Deus : « Fiat lux ». Et facta est lux. Et vidit Deus lucem quod esset bona : et divisit lucem a ténebris. Appellávitque lucem Diem, et ténebras Noctem : factúmque est vespere, et mane, dies unus.

Dixit quoque Deus : « Fiat firmaméntum in médio aquárum : et dívidat aquas ab aquis ». Et fecit Deus firmaméntum, divisítque aquas, quae erant sub firmaménto, ab his, quae erant super firmaméntum. Et factum est ita. Vocávitque Deus firmaméntum Caelum : et factum est vespere, et mane, dies secúndus.

Dixit vero Deus : « Congregéntur aquae, quae sub caelo sunt, in locum unum : et appáreat árida ». Et factum est ita. Et vocávit Deus áridam, Terram : congregationésque aquárum appellávit Mária. Et vidit Deus quod esset bonum.

Et ait : « Gérminet terra herbam viréntem, et faciéntem semen, et lignum pomíferum fáciens fructum juxta genus suum, cujus semen in semetípso sit super terram ». Et factum est ita. Et prótulit terra herbam viréntem, et faciéntem semen juxta genus suum, lignúmque fáciens fructum, et habens unumquódque seméntem secúndum spéciem suam. Et vidit Deus quod esset bonum. Et factum est vespere, et mane, dies tértius.

Dixit autem Deus : « Fiant luminária in firmaménto caeli, et dívidant diem ac noctem, et sint in signa, et témpora, et dies, et annos : ut lúceant in firmaménto caeli, et illúminent terram ». Et factum est ita. Fecítque Deus duo luminária magna : lumináre majus, ut praeésset diéi : et lumináre minus, ut praeésset nocti : et stellas. Et pósuit eas in firmaménto caeli, ut lucérent super terram, et praeésset diéi ac nocti, et díviderent lucem ac ténebras. Et vidit Deus quod esset bonum. Et factum est vespere, et mane, dies quartus.

Dixit étiam Deus : « Prodúcant aquae réptile ánimae vivéntis, et volátile super terram sub firmaménto caeli ». Creavítque Deus cete grándia, et omnem ánimam vivéntem atque motábilem, quam prodúxerant aquae in spécies suas, et omne volátile secúndum genus suum. Et vidit Deus quod esset bonum. Benedixítque eis, dicens : « Créscite, et multiplicámini, et repléte aquas maris : avésque multiplicéntur super terram ». Et factum est vespere, et mane, dies quintus.

Dixit quoque Deus : « Prodúcat terra ánimam vivéntem in génere suo : juménta, et reptília, et béstias terrae secúndum spécies suas ». Factúmque est ita. Et fecit Deus béstias terrae juxta spécies suas, et juménta, et omne réptile terrae in génere suo. Et vidit Deus quod esset bonum, et ait : « Faciámus hóminem ad imáginem, et similitúdinem nostram : et praesit píscibus maris, et volatilibus caeli, et béstiis, univérseque terrae, omníque réptili, quod movétur in terra ». Et creávit Deus hóminem ad imáginem suam : ad imáginem Dei creávit illum, másculum et féminam creávit eos.

Benedixítque illis Deus, et ait : « Créscite, et multiplicámini, et repléte terram, et subjícite eam, et dominámini píscibus maris, et volatílibus caeli, et univérsis animántibus, quae movéntur super terram ». Dixítque Deus : « Ecce dedi vobis omnem herbam affe-réntem semen super terram, et univérsa ligna, quae habent in semetipsis seméntem géneris sui, ut sint vobis in escam : et cunctis animántibus terrae, om-níque vólucris caeli, et univérsis quae movéntur in terra, et in quibus est ánima vivens, ut hábeant ad vescéndum ». Et factum est ita. Vidítque Deus cuncta, quae fécerat : et erant valde bona. Et factum est vé-spere, et mane, dies sextus.

Igitur perfecti sunt caeli, et terra, et omnis ornátus eórum. Complevítque Deus die séptimo opus suum quod fécerat : et requiévit die séptimo ab univérso ópere quod patrátat.

All now rise.

The celebrant [or the priest standing at the lectern or at his seat] says :

and all kneel with the celebrant to pray in silence for a few moments. When the deacon [or the celebrant] has said :

all rise ; the celebrant, with his hands joined, sings the Collect to the ferial tone A (or the ancient solemn tone), while an acolyte [server] holds the book for him.

Prayer

Ex. 14, 24-31 and 15, 1

IN diébus illis : Factum est in vigília matutína, et ecce respiciens Dóminus super castra

Ægyptiórum per colúmnam ignis et nubis, interfécit exércitum eórum : et subvértit rotas cúrruum, ferebantúrque in profúndum. Dixérunt ergo Ægýptii : « Fugiámus Israélem : Dóminus enim pugnat pro eis contra nos ». Et ait Dóminus ad Móysen : « Exténde manum tuam super mare, ut revertántur aquae ad Ægýptios super currus, et équites eórum ». Cumque extendisset Móyses manum contra mare, reversum est primo dilúculo ad priórem locum : fugientibúsque Ægýptiis occurrérunt aquae, et invólvit eos Dóminus in médiis flúctibus. Reversaéque sunt aquae, et operuérunt currus et équites cuncti exércitus Pharaónis, qui sequéntes ingressi fúerant mare : nec unus quidem superfuit ex eis. Filii autem Israél perrexérunt per médium sicci maris, et aquae eis erant quasi pro muro a dextris et a sinístris : liberavítque Dóminus in die illa Israél de manu Ægyptiórum. Et vidérunt Ægýptios mórtuos super littus maris, et manum magnam, quam exercúerat Dóminus contra eos : timuítque pópulus Dóminum, et credidérunt Dómino, et Móysi servo ejus. Tunc cécinít Móyses, et filii Israél, carmen hoc Dómino, et dixerunt :

IN diébus illis : Scripsit Móyses ergo scripsit Móyses verba legis hujus in volúmine, atque complévit : præcépít Levítis, qui portábant arcam fœderis Dómini, dicens : « Tóllite librum istum, et pónite eum in látère arcae fœderis Dómini. Dei vestri : ut sit ibi contra te

THE FIRST PART OF THE LITANY

18. When the Collect after the fourth Lesson is finished, all kneel. The Litany of the Saints is sung without doubling the invocations, until Propitius esto exclusive.

The Litany is sung by two cantors kneeling in the middle of the sanctuary; the celebrant kneeling in his place. If there are no cantors, it is sung or said by the celebrant himself, kneeling with the servers on the lowest step of the altar towards the Epistle side.

Meanwhile a vessel of baptismal water to be blessed, with everything else needed for the blessing, is prepared in the sanctuary, on the Epistle side, where the people can see it.

THE BLESSING OF WATER FOR BAPTISM

20. After the invocation Omnes Sánti et Sántae Déi, all rise. If cantors sung the Litany, they return to their places.

The celebrant and ministers [servers] make reverence to the altar, and proceed to the blessing of baptismal water.

21. They stand before the vessel of water — which should be suitably decorated — as follows :

a) The celebrant stands facing the people with the vessel in front of him, the paschal candle on his right, a second subdeacon or cleric [server] with the cross on his left.

b) The ministers [servers] stand on either side of the celebrant, and help him in the ceremonies as required.

c) An acolyte [server] holds the missal for the celebrant, unless a lectern is used.

The celebrant, with hands joined, sings to the ferial tone A (or the ancient simple tone) :

Ÿ. Dóminus vobíscum. R̄. Et cum spírítu tuo.

Orémus.

Prayer

OMnípotens sempitérne Deus, adésto magnae pietátis tuae mystériis, adésto sacraméntis : † et ad recreándos novos pópulos, quos tibi fons baptismatis párturit, spírítum adoptiónis emítte; * ut, quod nostrae humilitátis geréndum est ministério, virtútis tuae impleátur efféctu. Per Dóminum nostrum Jesum Christum, Fílium tuum : Qui tecum vivit et regnat in unitáte Spírítus Sancti Deus :

He then continues to the tone of the Preface, with his hands joined :

Per ómnia saécula saeculórum. (to the ferial tone, p. 776M).

Per ómnia saécula saeculórum. R̄. Amen. Ÿ. Dóminus vobíscum. R̄. Et cum spírítu túo. Ÿ. Sursum córda. R̄. Habémus ad Dóminum. Ÿ. Grátias agámus Dómino Déo nóstro. R̄. Dignum et jústum est.

inter ipsa mundi primórdia ferebátur : ut jam tunc virtútem sanctificatiónis, aquárum natúra concíperet. Deus, qui nocéntis mundi crímina per aquas ábluens, regeneratiónis spéciem in ipsa dilúvii effusióne signásti : ut, uníus ejusdémque eleménti mystério, et finis esset vítiis, et orígo virtútibus. Réspice, Dómine, in faciém Ecclésiæ tuæ, et múltiplica in ea regeneratiónes tuas, qui grátiae tuæ affluéntis ímpetu laetíficas civitátem tuam : fontémque baptismatis áperis toto orbe terrárum géntibus innovándis : ut, tuæ majestátis império, sumat Unigéniti tui grátiam de Spírítu Sancto.

Vere dignum et justum est, aequum et salutáre, nos tibi semper et ubíque grátias ágere, Dómine, sancte Pater, omnípotens aetérne Deus : Qui invisíbili poténtia, sacramentórum tuórum mirábiliter operáris efféctum : et licet nos tantis mystériis exsequéndis simus indigni : tu tamen grátiae tuæ dona non déserens, étiam ad nostras preces aures tuæ pietátis inclínas. Deus, cujus Spírítus super aquas,

With his hand, the celebrant divides the water in the form of a cross; he then wipes his hand and continues :

QUI hanc aquam, regenerándis homínibus præparátam, arcána sui núminis admixtióne fecúndet : ut, sanctificatióne concépta, ab immaculáto divíni fontis útero, in novam renáta creatúram, progénies caeléstis emérgat : et quos aut sexus in córpore, aut aetas discérnit in témpore, omnes in unam páriat grátia mater infántiam. Procul ergo hinc, jubénte te, Dómine, omnis spírítus immúndus abscédat : procul tota nequítia diabólicae fraudis absístat. Nihil hic loci hábeat contrárie virtútis admixtio : non insidiádo circúmvolet : non laténdo subrépat : non inficiéndo corrúmpat.

He touches the water with his hand :

SIT haec sancta et innocens creatúra, líbera ab omni impugnatóris incúrso, et totíus nequítiae purgáta discéssu. Sit fons vivus, aqua regénerans, unda puríficans : ut omnes hoc lavácro salutífero diluéndi, operánte in eis Spírítu Sancto, perfectæ purgatiónis indulgéntiam consequántur.

He makes the sign of the cross three times over the water saying :

UNDE benedico te, creatúra aquae, per Deum + vivum, per Deum + verum, per Deum + sanctum : per Deum, qui te, in princípío, verbo separávit ab árida : cujus Spírítus super te ferebátur.

Here he divides the water with his hand and throws some of it towards the four quarters of the world, saying :

QUI te de paradísi fonte manáre fecit, et in quátuor flumínibus totam terram rigáre præcépit. Qui te in desérto amáram, suavitate indita, fecit esse potábilem, et sitiénti pópulo de petra produxit. Bene + dico te et per Jesum Christum Filium ejus únicum, Dóminum nostrum : qui te in Cana Galilaeae signo admirábili, sua poténtia convértit in vinum. Qui pédibus super te ambulávit : et a Joánné in Jordáne in te baptizátus est. Qui te una cum ságuine de látere suo produxit : et discipulis suis jussit, ut credétes baptizaréntur in te, dicens : « Íte, docéte omnes gentes, baptizántes eos in nómine Patris, et Filii, et Spírítus Sancti ».

Then the celebrant, without chant, says :

HÆC nobis præcépta servántibus, tu, Deus omnipotens, clemens adésto : tu benignus aspíra.

He breathes thrice upon the water in the form of a cross, saying :

TU has simplices aquas tuo ore benedícito : ut præter naturálem emundatiónem, quam lavándis possunt adhibére corpóribus, sint étiam puríficándis méntibus effícaces.

He sinks the Paschal Candle into the water three times, singing each time, in the tone of the Preface :

DESCÉNDAT in hanc plenitudinem fontis virtus Spírítus Sancti.

Before removing the Candle he breathes three times upon the water :

TOTÁMQUE hujus aquae substántiam, regenerándi fecúndet efféctu.

He takes the Candle out of the water and says :

HIC ómnium peccatórum máculae deleántur : hic natúra ad imáginem tuam cóndita, et ad honórem sui reformáta principi, cunctis vetustátis squalóribus emundétur : ut omnis homo, sacraméntum hoc regeneratiónis ingrèssus, in verae innocéntiae novam infántiam renascátur. He says the rest without chant : Per Dóminum nostrum Jesum Christum Fílium tuum : qui ventúrus est judicáre vivos, et mórtuos, et saéculum per ignem. R̄. Amen.

Then a cleric [or server] takes some of this water, which is to be used for sprinkling the people after the renewal of Baptismal promises as on p. 776EE, n. 25, and for sprinkling in houses and elsewhere.

When this is done, the celebrant pours some oil of Catechumens on the water in the form of a cross, and says aloud :

Sanctificétur et fecundétur fons iste Oleo salutis renascéntibus ex eo, in vitam aetérnam. R̄. Amen.

Then he pours chrism into the water, saying :

Infúsio Chrismatis Dómini nostri Jesu Christi, et Spíritus Sancti Parácliti, fiat in nómine sanctae Trinitátis. R̄. Amen.

Finally, he pours chrism and oil of catechumens both together into the water, saying :

Commixtio Chrismatis sanctificatiónis, et Olei unctiúnis, et aquae baptismatis, páriter fiat in nómine Pa + tris, et Fi + lii, et Spíritus + Sancti. R̄. Amen.

He then mixes the oil with the water.

THE SACRAMENT OF BAPTISM

If the sacrament of Baptism is to be administered, it is given in the usual way. Nevertheless, especially if several are to be baptized, the ceremonies of the Roman Ritual which precede the actual conferring of Baptism, i. e. for the Baptism of Infants until the words "Credis in Deum" (tit. II, chap. II, n. 17), and for the Baptism of Adults until the words "Quis vocáris?" (tit. II, chap. IV, n. 38) may be anticipated on the morning of Holy Saturday.

The celebrant, to administer Baptism, changes his purple stole and cope for white ones ; these he may keep on for the procession to the font.

Baptism of infants

The celebrant asks by name each one who is to be baptized : (the god-father answers) :

N. Credis in Deum Patrem omnipoténtem, Creatórem caeli et terrae? R̄. Credo.

Credis in Jesum Christum, Fílium ejus únicum, Dóminum nostrum, natum, et passum? R̄. Credo.

Baptism of adults

The celebrant asks each candidate separately :

Quis vocáris?

He answers : N.

He asks each separately :

Credis et in Spiritum Sanctum, sanctam Ecclesiam catholicam, Sanctorum communionem, remissionem peccatorum, carnis resurrectionem, et vitam aeternam. R \dot{y} . Credo.

Immediately afterwards the celebrant asks by name each one who is to be baptized :

N. Vis baptizári?

The godfather answers : Volo.

Then the godfather or the godmother (or both) hold the child. The celebrant takes the baptismal water and pours it three times in the form of a cross on the child's head. At the same time he says distinctly and attentively the following words to each one :

N. Quid petis?

He answers : Baptismum.

Vis baptizári?

He answers : Volo.

The candidate, with his head and neck bare, leans over the basin. At the same time the godfather or godmother (or both) place a hand on his shoulder. The celebrant takes some baptismal water, pours it three times in the form of a cross on the head of the candidate, and at the same time says distinctly and attentively the following words to each one :

N. EGO TE BAPTIZO IN NOMINE PA + TRIS, he pours a 1 time, ET FI + LI, he pours a 2 time, ET SPIRITUS + SANCTI, he pours a 3 time.

The water which flows from the head of the baptized person must be received into a basin, which is afterwards emptied into the font.

Then the celebrant takes some holy Chrism with his thumb, and traces the sign of the cross on the top of the child's head, saying to each one :

Then the celebrant takes some holy Chrism with his thumb, and traces the sign of the cross on the top of the head of the person baptized, saying to each one :

Deus omnipotens, Pater Domini nostri Jesu Christi, qui te regeneravit ex aqua et Spiritu Sancto, quique dedit tibi remissionem omnium peccatorum (he marks the sign of the cross), ipse te liniat + Chrismate salutis in eodem Christo Jesu Domino nostro in vitam aeternam.

R \dot{y} . Amen.

Ÿ. Pax tibi.

R \dot{y} . Et cum spiritu tuo.

The celebrant wipes his fingers with cotton-wool and also the head which he has just anointed. He then places on the child's head a white linen cloth to take the place of a white garment, saying to each one :

R \dot{y} . Amen.

Ÿ. Pax tecum.

R \dot{y} . Et cum spiritu tuo.

The celebrant wipes his fingers with cotton-wool and also the head which he has just anointed. He then places on the head of the newly-baptized person a white linen cloth and gives him a white garment. He says to each one :

Accipe vestem candidam, quam perferas immaculatam ante tribunal Domini nostri Jesu Christi, ut hab eas vitam aeternam.

R \dot{y} . Amen.

And the newly baptized person takes off his clothes to put on the new white garment, which the celebrant has just given him, or at least puts it on over his ordinary clothes.

He then gives to the child or the godfather a lighted candle, saying :

Then the celebrant places a lighted candle in his right hand, saying :

Accipe lámpadem ardéntem, et irreprensíbilis custódi Baptísum tuum : serva Dei mandáta, ut, cum Dóminus vénerit ad núptias, possis occurrere ei una cum ómnibus sanctis in aula caelésti et vivas in saécula saeculórum. R̄. Amen.

The neophyte keeps this lighted candle in his hand for the rest of the ceremony except when he receives Confirmation.

The celebrant then says (in the plural if they are more than one) :

N. Vade (Ite) in pace, et Dóminus sit tecum (vobíscum). R̄. Amen.

If a bishop is present who can lawfully confer the sacrament of Confirmation, the neophytes receive it from him.

The neophytes devoutly receive Holy Communion at the Mass which follows.

22. When the Blessing (and Baptism) is finished, the baptismal water is carried to the font, in procession. The celebrant puts incense in the thurible and blesses it. The procession takes place as follows :

- a) the thurifer goes first,
- b) then the subdeacon or cleric with the cross,
- c) the clergy,
- d) then the deacon with the vessel of water — unless an acolyte carries it,
- e) finally the celebrant with head covered.

- [a) the thurifer goes first,
- b) then the cross-bearer,
- c) then the servers,
- d) then one or more servers carrying the baptismal water,
- e) finally the celebrant, with head covered].

The paschal candle remains in its place : meanwhile the following is sung :

He then censes the Font.

All then go back in silence to the choir, and the renewal of Baptismal promises begins.

23. If however the baptistry is separate from the church and it is preferable to bless the water in the baptistry itself, the procession goes to the font after the invocation Sancta Trinitas, unus Deus, miserere nobis, in this order :

- a) first a cleric with the lighted paschal candle,
- b) then a subdeacon with the cross, or a cross-bearer between two acolytes with lighted candles,
- c) then the clergy in order,
- d) lastly the celebrant with the sacred ministers.

The cantors and people remain in their places and continue the Litany. If necessary, they repeat the invocations from Sancta Maria, ora pro nobis.

The Blessing of the water takes place as above, except that the Canticle Sicut cervus is sung on the way to the font, and the celebrant sings the Prayer Omnipotens sempiternus Deus, respice propitius, p. 776CC, n. 22, before beginning the blessing of the font, p. 776X, n. 21.

After the Blessing all return to the church in silence, to begin the Renewal of Baptismal promises.

RENEWAL OF THE PROMISES OF BAPTISM

24. After the Blessing of the water for Baptism and its transfer to the font, or, in churches where this Blessing has not taken place, after the first part of the Litany, the Renewal of Baptismal promises takes place, during which all, except the celebrant and his ministers [servers], should stand, holding lighted candles in their hands.

25. The celebrant, at his seat, changes his purple vestments for a white stole and cope. Meanwhile the candles of the clergy and all present are lit from the paschal candle.

The celebrant puts incense in the thurible, and goes with the ministers [servers] to the foot of the altar. They make reverence; then he censens the paschal candle. Standing near it and turned towards the people [or else from the pulpit or ambo], he then begins as follows.

All stand holding their lighted candles.

Holy Mother Church, dearest brethren, recalling in this most holy night the death and burial of our Lord Jesus Christ, in order to return his love is keeping vigil, and, celebrating his glorious resurrection, rejoices with great joy.

Since, as the Apostle teaches, we have been buried with Christ through baptism into death, so, as Christ rose again from the dead, we should live and move in newness of life. We know that our human nature as it was has been crucified with Christ, that henceforward we may not serve sin. Let us then think of ourselves as dead indeed to sin, but alive to God in Christ Jesus our Lord.

So then, dearest brethren, now our Lenten time of training is over, let us renew the promises of Holy Baptism, by which once we renounced Satan and his works and also that world which is God's enemy, and promised to God faithful service in the Holy Catholic Church.

I ask you therefore :

PRIEST : Do you renounce Satan?

PEOPLE : We do renounce him.

PRIEST : And all his works?

PEOPLE : We do renounce them.

PRIEST : And all his pomps?

PEOPLE : We do renounce them.

PRIEST : Do you believe in God, the Father almighty, Creator of heaven and earth?

PEOPLE : We do believe.

PRIEST : Do you believe in Jesus Christ his only Son our Lord, who was born, and suffered?

PEOPLE : We do believe.

PRIEST : Do you also believe in the Holy Ghost, the Holy Catholic Church, the communion of Saints, the forgiveness of sins, the resurrection of the body, and life everlasting?

PEOPLE : We do believe.

PRIEST : And now let all of us together pray to God, in the prayer our Lord Jesus Christ has taught us :

PEOPLE : Our Father...

PRIEST : And may God almighty, Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who has given us birth anew from water and the Holy Ghost and forgiven us our sins, himself preserve us by his grace in the same Christ Jesus our Lord unto eternal life.

PEOPLE : AMEN.

Then the Priest sprinkles the people with the holy water that was put aside, as said above, p. 776z, n. 21, during the blessing of the water for Baptism; but if this was omitted, ordinary holy water is used.

26. For the Priest's address and the Renewal of Promises the language of the country may be employed, provided the translation has the Ordinary's approval.

Then all extinguish and lay down the candles, and kneel for the chant of the second part of the Litany.

THE SECOND PART OF THE LITANY

27. After the Renewal of baptismal promises, if there are cantors or other clerics to sing the Litany, the celebrant and ministers [servers] make reverence to the altar and return to the sacristy.

If there are no cantors or clerics, the celebrant kneels on the lowest step of the altar, towards the Epistle side, and completes the singing or recitation of the Litany from Propitius esto, the people answering. The invocations are not doubled. When the Litany is ended, the celebrant and ministers go to the sacristy.

28. The celebrant himself and the ministers go to the sacristy, and put on white vestments for the celebration of Mass.

29. Meanwhile, the paschal candle is put on its candlestick at the Gospel corner, and the altar is made ready for Mass, with lighted candles and flowers.

THE MASS OF THE PASCHAL VIGIL

1. At the end of the Litany the cantors solemnly intone Kýrie, eléison, p. 16; the celebrant with the ministers [servers] goes to the altar.

After reverence to the altar, omitting the Ps. Júdica me, Deus, and the Confiteor, the celebrant goes up at once and kisses the altar in the middle. Then he blesses incense as usual, and censes the altar.

[In the simple rite, incense may be used as in the solemn rite, provided Mass is sung].

Then, standing at the middle of the altar, he says at once Kýrie, eléison, as usual.

2. When the choir has finished Kýrie, eléison, he intones Glória in excélsis; the church bells are rung and the organ plays; where it is the custom, bells are rung within the church; statues and pictures are uncovered.

The bells should be rung as follows :

a) In places where there is only one church, the bells will be rung when the singing of the Glória begins.

b) In places where there are several churches, whether the ceremonies take place at the same or at different times, the bells in each church will be rung at the same time as in the cathedral or the principal church. If there is any doubt about which of these churches is the principal one, recourse will be had to the Bishop.

The celebrant, to the festal tone (or to the solemn ancient tone), sings :

Orémus.

Matth. 28, 1-7

Vespere autem sabbati, quae lucescit in prima sabbati, venit Maria Magdalene, et altera Maria, videre sepulcrum. Et ecce terraemotus factus est magnus. Angelus enim Domini descendit de caelo : et accedens revolvit lapidem, et sedebat super eum : erat autem aspectus ejus sicut fulgur : et vestimentum ejus sicut nix. Prae timore autem ejus exterriti sunt custodes, et facti sunt velut mortui.	Respondens autem Angelus, dixit mulieribus : « Nolite timere vos : scio enim, quod Jesum, qui crucifixus est, quaeritis : non est hic : surrexit enim, sicut dixit. Venite, et videte locum ubi positus erat Dominus. Et cito euntes, dicite discipulis ejus quia surrexit : et ecce praecedit vos in Galilaeam : ibi eum videbitis. Ecce praedixi vobis ».

After saying Pláceat tibi, sancta Trinitas the celebrant gives the blessing in the usual way. The Last Gospel is omitted, and all return to the sacristy.

At a convenient time, the Blessed Sacrament reserved for the sick is brought back to the altar.

The paschal candle remains on its stand, and should be lit at sung Mass and Vespers. It may however also be lit at low Masses celebrated with some solemnity and other liturgical functions. It remains in place until the Mass of the Ascension ; when the Gospel of that Mass is ended, it is extinguished ; and afterwards the candle and its stand are removed.

IN illo tēpore : Duo ex discipulis Jesu ibant ipsa die in castēllum, quod erat in spātio stadiōrum sexaginta ab Jerūsalem, nōmine Emmaus. Et ipsi loquebantur ad invicem de his omnibus, quae acciderant. Et factum est, dum fabularentur, et secum quaerent : et ipse Jesus appropinquans ibat cum illis : oculi autem illōrum tenebantur, ne eum agnoscerent. Et ait ad illos : Qui sunt hi sermōnes, quos confertis ad invicem ambulantes, et estis tristes? Et respondens unus, cui nomen Clēophas, dixit ei : Tu solus peregrinus es in Jerūsalem, et non cognovisti quae facta sunt in illa his diēbus? Quibus ille dixit : Quae? Et dixerunt : De Jesu Nazaréno, qui fuit vir prophēta potens in opere et sermōne, coram Deo, et omni pōpulo : et quōmodo eum tradiderunt summi sacerdotēs, et principes nostri in damnatiōnem mortis, et crucifixerunt eum. Nos autem sperabāmus, quia ipse esset redemptūrus Israel; et nunc super haec omnia, tertia dies est hōdie, quod haec facta sunt. Sed et mulieres quaedam ex nostris terruerunt nos, quae ante lucem fuerunt ad monumētum, et non invēto corpore ejus, venerunt, dicentes se etiā visiōnem Angelōrum vidisse, qui dicunt eum vivere. Et abiērunt quidam ex nostris ad monumētum: et ita invenērunt sicut mulieres dixerunt, ipsum vero non invenērunt. Et ipse dixit ad eos : O stulti, et tardi corde ad credēdum in omnibus, quae locūti sunt prophētae! Nonne haec oportuit pati Christum, et ita intrāre in glōriam suam? Et incipiens a Mōyse, et omnibus prophētis, interpretabatur illis in omnibus scriptūris, quae de ipso erant. Et appropinquaverunt castēllo, quo ibant : et ipse se finxit longius ire. Et coegerunt illum, dicentes : Mane nobiscum, quōniam advesperāscit, et inclināta est jam dies. Et intravit cum illis. Et factum est, dum recumberet cum eis, accepit panem, et benedixit, ac fregit, et porrigēbat illis. Et aperti sunt oculi eōrum, et cognoverunt eum; et ipse evānuit ex oculis eōrum. Et dixerunt ad invicem : Nonne cor nostrum ardens erat in nobis, dum loqueretur in via, et aperiret nobis Scriptūras? Et surgentes eādē hora regressi sunt in Jerūsalem; et invenērunt congregatos undecim et eos, qui cum illis erant, dicentes : Quod surrexit Dominus vere, et apparuit Simōni. Et ipsi narrabant quae gesta erant in via : et quōmodo cognoverunt eum in fractiōne panis. Credo.

IN illo tempore : Stetit Jesus in medio discipulorum suorum, et dicit eis : Pax vobis : ego sum, nolite timere. Conturbati vero, et conterriti, existimabant se spiritum videre. Et dixit eis : Quid turbati estis, et cogitationes ascendant in corda vestra? Videte manus meas, et pedes, quia ego ipse sum : palpite, et videte : quia spiritus carnem, et ossa non habet, sicut me videtis habere. Et cum hoc dixisset, ostendit eis manus, et pedes. Adhuc autem illis non credentibus, et mirantibus prae gaudio, dixit : Habetis hic aliquid, quod manducetur? At illi obtulerunt ei partem piscis assi, et favum mellis. Et cum manducasset coram eis, sumens reliquias, dedit eis. Et dixit ad eos : Haec sunt verba, quae locutus sum ad vos, cum adhuc essem vobiscum, quoniam necesse est impleri omnia quae scripta sunt in lege Moysi, et Prophetis, et Psalmis de me. Tunc aperuit illis sensum, ut intelligerent Scripturas. Et dixit eis : Quoniam sic scriptum est, et sic oportebat Christum pati, et resurgere a mortuis tertia die : et praedicari in nomine ejus paenitentiam, et remissionem peccatorum in omnes gentes. In illo tempore : Manifestávit se iterum Jesus discipulis ad mare Tiberiadis. Manifestávit autem sic : Erant simul Simon Petrus, et Thomas, qui dicitur Dídymus, et Nathánaël, qui erat a Cana Galilaëae, et filii Zebedaëi, et alii ex discipulis ejus duo. Dicit eis Simon Petrus : Vado piscári. Dicunt ei : Venimus et nos tecum. Et exierunt, et ascenderunt in navim : et illa nocte nihil prendiderunt. Mane autem facto, stetit Jesus in líttore : non tamen cognoverunt discipuli quia Jesus est. Dixit ergo eis Jesus : Púeri, numquid pulmentárium habétis? Responderunt ei : Non. Dicit eis : Míttite in dexteram navíggii rete, et inveniétis. Misérunt ergo : et jam non valébant illud tráhere prae multitudíne piscium. Dixit ergo discipulus ille, quem diligébat Jesus, Petro : Dóminus est. Simon Petrus cum audísset quia Dóminus est, túnica succinxit se (erat enim nudus) et misit se in mare. Alii autem discipuli navíggio venérunt (non enim longe erant a terra, sed quasi cúbitis ducéntis), trahéntes rete piscium. Ut ergo descendérunt in terram, vidérunt prunas pósitas, et piscem superpósitum, et panem. Dicit eis Jesus : Afférte de piscibus, quos prendidístis nunc. Ascéndit Simon Petrus, et traxit rete in terram, plenum magnis piscibus centum quinquagínta tribus. Et cum tanti essent, non est scissum rete. Dicit eis Jesus : Veníte, prandéte. Et nemo audébat discumbéntium interrogáre eum : Tu quis es? sciéntes, quia Dóminus est. Et venit Jesus, et áccipit panem, et dat eis, et piscem simíliter. Hoc jam tértio manifestátus est Jesus discipulis suis, cum resurrexísset a mórtuis. Credo.

IN diébus illis : Angelus Dómini locútus est ad Philíppum, dicens : Surge, et vade contra meridiánum, ad viam, quae descendit ab Jerúsalem in Gazam : haec est desérta. Et surgens ábiit. Et ecce vir Æthiops, eunúchus, potens Candácis reginae Æthiopum, qui erat super omnes gazas ejus : vénerat adoráre in Jerúsalem : et re-vertebátur sedens super currum suum, legénsque Isaíam prophétam. Dixit autem Spíritus Philíppo : Accéde, et adjúnge te ad currum istum. Accúrrens autem Philíppus, audivit eum legéntem Isaíam prophétam, et dixit : Putásne intélligis quae legis? Qui ait : Et quómodo possum, si non áliquis osténderit mihi? Rogavítque Philíppum ut ascénderet, et sedéret secum. Locus autem Scriptúrae, quem legébat, erat hic : Tamquam ovis ad occisió-nem ductus est : et sicut agnus coram tondénte se, sine voce, sic non apéruit os suum. In humilitáte judicium ejus sublátum est. Generationem ejus quis enarrábit, quóniam tollétur de terra vita ejus? Respóndens autem eunúchus Philíppo, dixit : Obsecro te, de quo Prophéta dicit hoc? de se, an de álio áliquo? Apériens autem Philíppus os suum, et incípiens a Scriptúra ista, evangelizávit illi Jesum. Et dum irent per viam, venérunt ad quamdam aquam : et ait eunúchus : Ecce aqua, quid próhibet me baptizári? Dixit autem Philíppus : Si credis ex toto corde, licet. Et respóndens, ait : Credo Fílium Dei esse Jesum Christum. Et jussit stare currum : et descenderunt utérque in aquam, Philíppus, et eunúchus, et baptizávit eum. Cum autem ascéndissent de aqua, Spíritus Dómini rápuit Philíppum, et ámplius non vidit eum eunúchus. Ibat autem per viam suam gaudens. Philíppus autem invéntus est in Azóto, et pertránsiens evangelizábat civitatibus cunctis (donec veniret Caesaréam) nomen Dómini Jesu Christi.

IN illo tēpore : Cum sero esset die illo, una sabbatorum, et fores essent clausae, ubi erant discipuli congregati propter metum Iudaeorum : venit Jesus, et stetit in medio, et dixit eis : Pax vobis. Et cum hoc dixisset, ostēdit eis manus, et latus. Gavisi sunt ergo discipuli, viso Dōmino. Dixit ergo eis iterum : Pax vobis. Sicut misit me Pater, et ego mitto vos. Haec cum dixisset, insufflavit : et dixit eis : Accipite Spīritum Sanctum : quorum remisēritis peccata, remittuntur eis : et quorum retinueritis, retenta sunt. Thomas autem unus ex duodecim, qui dicitur Didymus, non erat cum eis, quando venit Jesus. Dixérunt ergo ei alii discipuli : Vidimus Dóminum. Ille autem dixit eis : Nisi videro in manibus ejus fixuram clavórum, et mittam dígitum meum in locum clavórum, et mittam manum meam in latus ejus non credam. Et post dies octo, iterum erant discipuli ejus intus, et Thomas cum eis. Venit Jesus januis clausis, et stetit in médio, et dixit : Pax vobis. Deinde dicit Thomae : Infer dígitum tuum huc, et vide manus meas, et affer manum tuam, et mitte in latus meum : et noli esse incrédulus, sed fidéls. Respóndit Thomas, et dixit ei : Dóminus meus, et Deus meus. Dixit ei Jesus : Quia vidísti me, Thoma, credidísti : beáti, qui non viderunt, et credidérunt. Multa quidem et alia signa fecit Jesus in conspéctu discipulórum suórum, quae non sunt scripta in libro hoc. Haec autem scripta sunt, ut credátis, quia Jesus est Christus Filius Dei : et ut credentes, vitam habeátis in nómine ejus. Credo.

Et si ille perseveraverit pulsans : dico vobis, et si non dabit illi surgens, eo quod amicus ejus sit, propter improbitatem tamen ejus surget, et dabit illi quot-quot habet necessarios. Et ego dico vobis : Petite, et dabitur vobis : quaerite, et inveniatis : pulsate, et aperiatur vobis. Omnis enim qui petit, accipit : et qui quaerit, invenit : et pulsanti aperiatur. Quis autem ex vobis patrem petit panem, numquid lapidem dabit illi? Aut pisces : numquid pro pisce serpentem dabit illi? Aut si petierit ovum : numquid porriget illi scorpionem? Si ergo vos cum sitis mali, nostis bona dare filiis vestris : quanto magis Pater vester de caelo dabit spiritum bonum petentibus se?

Lectio Actuum Apostolorum. Act. I.

Primum quidem sermonem feci de omnibus, o Theophile, quae coepit Jesus facere et docere, usque in diem, qua praecipiens Apostolis per Spiritum Sanctum, quos elegit, assumptus est : quibus et praebuit seipsum vivum post passionem suam in multis argumentis, per dies quadraginta apprensus eis, et loquens de regno Dei. Et convalescens, praecipit eis ab Jerosolymis ne discederent, sed exspectarent promissionem Patris, quam audistis (inquit) per os meum; quia Joannes quidem baptizavit aqua, vos autem baptizabimini Spiritu Sancto non post multos hos dies. Igitur qui convenerant, interrogabant eum, dicentes : Domine, si in tempore hoc restitues regnum Israel? Dixit autem eis : Non est vestrum nosse tempora vel momenta, quae Pater posuit in sua potestate; sed accipietis virtutem superveniens Spiritus Sancti in vos, et eritis mihi testes in Jerusalem, et in omni Iudaea, et Samaria, et usque ad ultimum terrae. Et cum haec dixisset, videntibus illis, elevatus est, et nubes suscepit eum ab oculis eorum. Cumque intuerentur in caelum euntem illum, ecce duo viri adstiterunt juxta illos in vestibus albis, qui et dixerunt : Viri Galilaei, quid statis adspicientes in caelum? Hic Jesus, qui assumptus est a vobis in caelum, sic veniet, quemadmodum vidistis eum euntem in caelum.

At illi dixerunt ad eum : Sed neque si Spíritus Sanctus est, audívimus. Ille vero ait : In quo ergo baptizáti estis? Qui dixerunt : In Joánnis baptísmate. ET Pater meus diliget eum, et ad eum veniémus, et mansiónem apud eum faciémus. Pensáte, fratres caríssimi, quanta sit ista dignitas, habére in cordis hospítio advéntum Dei. Certe, si domum nostram quisquam dives aut praépotens amicus intráret, omni festinántia domus tota mundarétur, ne quid fortásse esset, quod óculos amici intrántis offénderet. Tergat ergo sordes pravi óperis, qui Deo praéparat domum mentis. Sed videte quid Veritas dicat : Veniemus, et mansiōnem apud eum faciemus. In quorūdam etenim corda venit, et mansiōnem non facit : quia, per compunctiōnem quidem, Dei respectum percipiunt, sed tentatiōnis tempore hoc ipsum, quo compuncti fuerant, obliviscuntur : sicque ad perpetranda peccata redeunt, ac si haec minime planxissent.

In illo tempore : Dixit Jesus discipulis suis : Si quis diligit me, sermonem meum servabit, et Pater meus diliget eum, et ad eum veniemus, et mansionem apud eum faciemus : qui non diligit me, sermones meos non servat. Et sermonem quem audistis, non est meus; sed ejus, qui misit me, Patris. Haec locutus sum vobis, apud vos manens. Paraclitus autem Spiritus Sanctus, quem mittet Pater in nomine meo, ille vos docebit omnia, et suggeret vobis omnia, quaecumque dixerit vobis. Pacem relinquo vobis, pacem meam do vobis : non quomodo mundus dat, ego do vobis. Non turbetur cor vestrum, neque formidet. Audistis quia ego dixi vobis : Vado, et venio ad vos. Si diligeretis me, gauderetis utique, quia vado ad Patrem; quia Pater major me est. Et nunc dixi vobis priusquam fiat : ut cum factum fuerit, credatis. Jam non multa loquar vobiscum. Venit enim princeps mundi hujus, et in me non habet quidquam. Sed ut cognoscat mundus, quia diligo Patrem, et sicut mandatum dedit mihi Pater, sic facio. Credo.

IN diébus illis : Apériens Petrus os suum, dixit : Viri fratres, nobis praecépít Dóminus praedicáre pópulo : et testificári, quia ipse est, qui constitútus est a Deo iudex vivórum et mortuórum. Huic omnes Prophéetae testimónium pérhibent, remissionem peccatórum accipere per nomen ejus omnes, qui credunt in eum. Adhuc loquente Petro verba hæc, cécidit Spíritus Sanctus super omnes, qui audiébant verbum.

Et obstupuérunt ex circumcisióne fidéles, qui vénerant cum Petro : quia et in nátiónes grátia Spíritus Sancti effúsa est. Audiébant enim illos loquéntes linguis, et magnificántes Deum. Tunc respóndit Petrus : Numquid aquam quis prohibére potest, ut non baptizéntur hi, qui Spíritum Sanctum acceperunt sicut et nos? Et jussit eos baptizári in nómine Dómini Jesu Christi.

IN illo tempore : Dixit Jesus Nicodemus : Sic Deus dilexit mundum, ut Filium suum unigenitum daret : ut omnis, qui credit in eum, non pereat, sed habeat vitam aeternam. Non enim misit Deus Filium suum in mundum, ut iudicet mundum, sed ut salvetur mundus per ipsum. Qui credit in eum, non iudicatur : qui autem non credit, iam iudicatus est : quia non credit in nómine unigeniti Filii Dei. Hoc est autem iudicium : quia lux venit in mundum, et dilexerunt homines magis tenebras, quam lucem : erant enim eorum mala opera. Omnis enim qui male agit, odit lucem, et non venit ad lucem, ut non arguantur opera ejus : qui autem facit veritatem, venit ad lucem, ut manifestentur opera ejus, quia in Deo sunt facta. Credo.

IN illo tempore : Dixit Jesus Pharisaeis : Amen, amen dico vobis : qui non intrat per ostium in ovile ovium, sed ascendit aliunde, ille fur est, et latro. Qui autem intrat per ostium, pastor est ovium. Huic ostiarius aperit, et oves vocem ejus audiunt, et proprias oves vocat nominatim, et educit eas. Et cum proprias oves emisit, ante eas vadit : et oves illum sequuntur, quia sciunt vocem ejus. Alienum autem non sequuntur, sed fugiunt ab eo : quia non novérunt vocem alienorum.

Hoc proverbium dixit eis Jesus. Illi autem non cognoverunt quid loqueretur eis. Dixit ergo eis iterum Jesus : Amen, amen dico vobis, quia ego sum ostium ovium. Omnes quotquot venerunt, fures sunt, et latrones, et non audierunt eos oves. Ego sum ostium. Per me si quis introierit, salvabitur : et ingredietur, et egredietur, et pascula inveniet. Et ecce viri portántes in lecto hómīnem, qui erat paralyticus : et quærébant eum inférre, et pónere ante eum. Et non inveniéntes qua parte illum inférrent prae turba, ascéndérunt supra tectum, et per tégulas summiserunt eum cum lecto in médium ante Jesum. Quorum fidem ut vidit, dixit : Homo, remittuntur tibi peccata tua. Et coeperunt cogitare Scribae, et Pharisaei, dicentes : Quis est hic, qui loquitur blasphemias? Quis potest dimittere peccata, nisi solus Deus? Ut cognovit autem Jesus cogitationes eorum, respondens dixit ad illos : Quid cogitatis in cordibus vestris? Quid est facilius dicere : Dimittuntur tibi peccata ta ; an dicere : Surge, et ambula? Ut autem sciatis quia Filius hominis habet potestatem in terra dimittendi peccata (ait paralytico) : Tibi dico, surge, tolle lectum tuum, et vade in domum tuam. Et confestim consurgens coram illis, tulit lectum, in quo jacebat : et abiit in domum suam, magnificans Deum. Et stupor apprehendit omnes, et magnificabant Deum. Et repleti sunt timore, dicentes : Quia vidimus mirabilia hodie. Credo.

Sermo sancti Thomae Aquinatis.

Immensa divinae largitatis beneficia, exhibita populo Christiano, inestimabilem ei conferunt dignitatem. Neque enim est, aut fuit aliquando tam grandis natio, quae habeat deos appropinquantes sibi, sicut adest nobis Deus noster. Unigenitus siquidem Dei Filius, suae divinitatis volens nos esse participes, naturam nostram assumpsit, ut homines deos faceret, factus homo. Et hoc insuper, quod de nostro assumpsit, totum nobis contulit ad salutem. Corpus namque suum pro nostra reconciliatioe in ara Crucis hostiam obtulit Deo Patri, sanguinem suum fudit in pretium simul et lavacrum : ut redempti a miserabili servitute, a peccatis omnibus mundaremur. Ut autem tanti beneficii jugis in nobis maneret memoria, corpus suum in cibum, et sanguinem suum in potum, sub specie panis et vini sumendum, fidelibus dereliquit. Tu autem Domine miserere nobis. ℞. O pretiosum et admirandum convivium, salutiferum et omni suavitate replétum! Quid enim hoc convivio pretiosius esse potest? in quo non carnes vitulorum et hircorum, ut olim in Lege, sed nobis Christus sumendus proponitur verus Deus. Quid hoc sacramento mirabilius? In ipso namque panis et vinum in Christi corpus et sanguinem substantialiter convertuntur: ideoque Christus, Deus et homo perfectus, sub modici panis et vini specie continetur. Manducatur itaque a fidelibus, sed minime laceratur: quinimo, diviso Sacramento, sub qualibet divisionis particula integer perseverat. Accidéntia autem sine subjecto in eodem subsistunt, ut fides locum habeat, dum visibile invisibiliter sumitur aliéna specie occultatum: et sensus a deceptiône reddántur immunes, qui de accidéntibus júdicant sibi notis.

Similiter et cálicem, postquam coenavit, dicens : Hic calix novum testaméntum est in meo ságuine : hoc facite, quotiescúmque bibétis, in meam commemorationem. Quotiescúmque enim manducábitis panem hunc, et cálicem bibétis, mortem Dómini annuntiábitis, donec véniat. Itaque quicúmque manducáverit panem hunc, vel biberit cálicem Dómini indigne, reus erit córporis et ságuinis Dómini. Probet autem seípsum homo : et sic de pane illo edat, et de cálice bibat. Qui enim manducat et bibit indigne, júdicium sibi manducat et bibit : non dijúdicans corpus Dómini.

IN illo tēpore : Dixit Jesus Pharisaeis parabolam hanc : Homo quidam fecit coenam magnam, et vocavit multos. Et misit servum suum hora coenae dicere invitatis ut venirent, quia jam parata sunt omnia. Et coeperunt simul omnes excusare. Primus dixit ei : Villam emi, et necesse habeo exire, et videre illam : rogo te, habe me excusatum. Et alter dixit : Juxta boum emi quinque, et eo probare illa : rogo te, habe me excusatum. Et alius dixit : Uxorē duxi : et ideo non possum venire. Et reversus servus nuntiavit haec domino suo. Tunc iratus paterfamilias, dixit servo suo : Exi cito in plateas, et vicinos civitatis : et pauperes, ac debiles, et caecos, et claudos introduce huc. Et ait servus : Domine, factum est ut imperasti, et adhuc locus est. Et ait dominus servo : Exi in vias, et sepes : et compelle intrare, ut impleatur domus mea. Dico autem vobis, quod nemo virorum illorum, qui vocati sunt, gustabit coenam meam. Credo.

Ephes. 3.

Fratres : Mihi, omnium sanctorum minimo, data est gratia haec, in gentibus evangelizare investigabiles divitias Christi, et illuminare omnes, quae sit dispensatio sacramenti absconditi a saeculis in Deo, qui omnia creavit : ut innotescat principatibus et potestatibus in caelestibus per Ecclesiam multiformis sapientia Dei, secundum praefinitionem saeculorum, quam fecit in Christo Jesu, Domino nostro, in quo habemus fiduciam et accessum in confidentia per fidem ejus. Hujus rei gratia flecto genua mea ad Patrem Domini nostri Jesu Christi, ex quo omnis paternitas in caelis et in terra nominatur, ut det vobis secundum divitias gloriae suae, virtute corroborari per Spiritum ejus in interiolem hominem, Christum habitare per fidem in cordibus vestris : in caritate radicati et fundati, ut possitis comprehendere, cum omnibus sanctis, quae sit latitudo, et longitudo, et sublimitas, et profundum : scire etiam supereminentem scientiae caritatem Christi, ut impleamini in omnem plenitudinem Dei.

Venērunt ergo mīlites : et primi quidem fregērunt crura et altērius, qui crucifixus est cum eo. Ad Jesum autem cum venissent, ut vidērunt eum jam mōrtuum, non fregērunt ejus crura, sed unus mīlitum lāncea latus ejus apēruit, et continuo exivit sanguis et aqua. Et vocavit illum, et ait illi : Quid hoc audio de te? redde rationem villicationis tuae : jam enim non poteris villicare. Ait autem villicus intra se : Quid faciam, quia dominus meus aufert a me villicationem? fodere non valeo, mendicare erubescio. Scio quid faciam, ut, cum amotus fuero a villicatione, recipiant me in domos suas. Convocatis itaque singulis debitoribus domini sui, dicebat primo : Quantum debes domino meo? At ille dixit : Centum cados olei. Dixitque illi : Accipe cautionem tuam : et sede cito, scribe quinquaginta. Deinde alii dixit : Tu vero quantum debes? Qui ait : Centum coros tritici. Ait illi : Accipe litteras tuas, et scribe octoginta. Et laudavit dominus villicum iniquitatis, quia prudenter fecisset : quia filii hujus saeculi prudentiores filiis lucis in generatione sua sunt. IN illo tempore : Dixit Jesus discipulis suis : Beati óculi, qui vident quae vos vidétis. Dico enim vobis, quod multi prophetae et reges voluerunt videre quae vos vidétis, et non viderunt; et audire quae auditis, et non audierunt. Et ecce quidam Legisperitus surrexit, tentans illum, et dicens : Magister, quid faciéndum vitam aeternam possidébo? At ille dixit ad eum : In lege quid scriptum est? quomodo legis? Ille respóndens dixit : Diliges Dóminum Deum tuum ex toto corde tuo, et ex tota ánima tua, et ex ómnibus viribus tuis, et ex omni mente tua : et próximum tuum sicut teipsum. Dixitque illi : Recte respondísti : hoc fac, et vives. Ille autem volens justificáre seipsum, dixit ad Jesum : Et quis est meus próximus? Suscípens autem Jesus, dixit : Homo quidam descendébat ab Jérusalem in Jéricho, et incidit in latrónes, qui étiam despoliáverunt eum : et plagis impositis abierunt, semivivo relicto. Accidit autem, ut sacerdos quidam descendéret eádem via : et viso illo, prae-terivit. Similiter et Levíta, cum esset secus locum, et vidéret eum, pertránsiit. Samarítanus autem quidam iter faciens, venit secus eum : et videns eum, misericórdia motus est. Et apprópians, alligávit vúlnera ejus, infúdens óleum et vinum : et impónens illum in juméntum suum, duxit in stábulum, et curam ejus egit. Et áltera die prótulit duos denários, et dedit stabulário, et ait : Curam illius habe : et quodcúmque supererogáveris, ego cum rediero, reddam tibi. Quis horum trium vidétur tibi próximus fuisse illi, qui incidit in latrónes? At ille dixit : Qui fecit misericórdiam in illum. Et ait illi Jesus : Vade, et tu fac similiter. Credo.

Hoc autem dico : testaméntum confirmátum a Deo, quae post quadringéntos et triginta annos facta est lex, non írritum facit ad evacuándam promissionem. Nam si ex lege heréditas, jam non ex promissione. Abrahæ autem per repromissionem donávit Deus. Quid igitur lex? Propter transgressionés pósito est, donec veniret semen, cui promiserat, ordináta per Angelos in manu mediátoris. Mediátor autem únus non est : Deus autem unus est. Lex ergo advérsus promissa Dei? Absit. Si enim data esset lex, quae posset vivificáre, vere ex lege esset justítia. Sed conclúsit Scriptúra omnia sub peccáto, ut promissio ex fide Jesu Christi darétur credéntibus.

IN illo tempore : Ibat Jesus in civitatem, quae vocatur Naim : et ibant cum eo discipuli ejus, et turba copiosa. Cum autem appropinquaret portae civitatis, ecce defunctus efferebatur filius unicus matris suae : et haec vidua erat : et turba civitatis multa cum illa. Quam cum vidisset Dominus, misericordia motus super eam, dixit illi : Noli flere. Et accessit, et tetigit loculum. (Hi autem, qui portabant, steterunt.) Et ait : Adolescens, tibi dico, surge. Et resedit qui erat mortuus, et coepit loqui. Et dedit illum matri suae. Accipit autem omnes timor : et magnificabant Deum dicentes : Quia propheta magnus surrexit in nobis : et quia Deus visitavit plebem suam. Credo.

Et respōdēns Jesus, dixit ad Legisperitos et Pharisaeos, dicens : Si licet sabbato curāre? At illi tacuerunt. Ipse vero apprehensum sanāvit eum ac dimisit. Et respōdēns ad illos, dixit : Cujus vestrum āsinus, aut bos in pūteum cadet, et non continuo extrahet illum die sabbati? Et non poterant ad haec respondere illi. Sed cum vocatus fueris, vade, recumbe in novissimo loco : ut, cum venerit qui te invitavit, dicat tibi : Amice, ascende superius. IN illo témpore : Accessérunt ad Jesum Pharisaei : et interrogávit eum unus ex eis legis doctor, tentans eum : Magister, quod est mandátum magnum in lege? Ait illi Jesus : Diliges Dóminum Deum tuum ex toto corde tuo, et in tota ánima tua, et in tota mente tua.

Hoc est máximum et primum mandátum. Secúndum autem símile est huic : Diliges próximum tuum, sicut teípsum. In his duóbus mandátis unívérsa lex pendet, et prophétae. Congregávit autem Pharisaeis, interrogávit eos Jesus, dicens : Quid vobis vidétur de Christo? cujus filius est? Dicunt ei : David. Ait illis : Quomodo ergo David in spiritu vocat eum Dominum, dicens : Dixit Dominus Domino meo : Sede a dextris meis, donec ponam inimicos tuos scabellum pedum tuorum? Si ergo David vocat eum Dominum, quomodo filius ejus est? Et nemo poterat ei respondere verbum : neque ausus fuit quisquam ex illa die eum amplius interrogare. Credo.

✠ Sequentia sancti Evangelii secundum Lucam. Luc. 13.

IN illo témpore : Dicébat Jesus turbis hanc similitúdinem : Ár- borem fici habébat quidam plantátam in vínea sua, et venit quaerens fructum in illa, et non invénit. Dixit autem ad cultórem víneae :

Ecce anni tres sunt ex quo venio quaerens fructum in ficulnea hac, et non invenio : succide ergo illam : ut quid etiam terram occupat? At ille respondens, dicit illi : Domine, dimitte illam et hoc anno, usque dum fodiam circa illam, et mittam stercora : et si quidem fecerit fructum : sin autem, in futurum succides eam. Erat autem docens in synagoga eorum sabbatis. Et ecce mulier, quae habebat spiritum infirmitatis annis decem et octo : et erat inclinata, nec omnino poterat sursum respicere. Quam cum videret Jesus, vocavit eam ad se, et ait illi : Mulier, dimissa es ab infirmitate tua. Et imposuit illi manus, et confestim erecta est, et glorificabat

Deum. Respondens autem archisynagogus, indignans quia sabbato curasset Jesus, dicebat turbae : Sex dies sunt, in quibus oportet operari : in his ergo venite, et curamini, et non in die sabbati. Respondens autem ad illum Dominus, dixit : Hypocritae, unusquisque vestrum sabbato non solvit bovem suum, aut asinum a praesepio, et ducit ad aquam? Hanc autem filiam Abrahae, quam alligavit satanas, ecce decem et octo annis, non oportuit solvi a vinculo isto die sabbati? Et cum haec diceret, erubescerant omnes adversarii ejus : et omnis populus gauderet in universis, quae gloriose fiebant ab eo.

Et cum coepisset rationem ponere, oblatus est ei unus, qui debebat ei decem milia talenta. Cum autem non haberet unde redderet, jussit eum dominus ejus venundari, et uxorem ejus, et filios, et omnia quae habebat, et reddi. Procidens autem servus ille, orabat eum, dicens : Patientiam habe in me, et omnia reddam tibi. Misertus autem dominus servi illius, dimisit eum, et debitum dimisit ei. Egressus autem servus ille, invenit unum de conservis suis, qui debebat ei centum denarios : et tenens suffocabat eum, dicens : Redde quod debes. Et procidens servus ejus, rogabat eum, dicens : Patientiam habe in me, et omnia reddam tibi. Ille autem noluit : sed abiit, et misit eum in carcerem, donec redderet debitum. Videntes autem conservi ejus quae fiebant, contristati sunt valde : et venerunt, et narraverunt domino suo omnia, quae facta fuerant. Tunc vocavit illum dominus suus, et ait illi : Serve nequam, omne debitum dimisi tibi, quoniam rogasti me : nonne ergo oportuit et te misereri conservi tui, sicut et ego tui misertus sum? Et iratus dominus ejus, tradidit eum tortoribus, quoadusque redderet universum debitum. Sic et Pater meus caelestis faciet vobis, si non remisistis unusquisque fratri suo de cordibus vestris.

Lectio Epistolae beati Pauli Apostoli ad Colossenses. Col. 1. b.

FRatres : Non cessámus pro vobis orántes et postulántes, ut impleámmini agnitióne voluntátis Dei, in omni sapiéntia et intelléctu spiritali : ut ambulétis digne Deo per omnia placéntes : in omni ópere bono fructificántes, et crescéntes in sciéntia Dei : in omni virtúte confortáti secúndum poténtiam clari-tátis ejus, in omni paciéntia, et longanimitáte cum gáudio, grátias agéntes Deo Patri, qui dignos nos fecit in partem sortis sanctorum in lúmine : qui eripuit nos de potestate tenebrarum, et tránstulit in regnum Filii dilectiónis suae ; in quo habémus redemptiónem per sánguinem ejus, remissionem peccatorum.

† Sequentia sancti Evangelii secundum Matthaeum. Matth. 24. b.

IN illo témpore : Dixit Jesus discipulis suis : Cum vidéritis abominatióne desolatiónis, quae dicta est a Daniéle prophéta, stantem in loco sancto : qui legit, intélligat : tunc qui in Judaéa sunt, fúgiant ad montes : et qui in tecto, non descéndat tollere áliquid de domo sua : et qui in agro, non revertátur tollere tunicam suam. Vae autem praegnántibus, et nutriéntibus in illis diébus. Oráte autem, ut non fiat fuga vestra in hieme, vel sábbato. Erit enim tunc tribulatio magna, qualis non fuit ab infitio mundi usque modo, neque fiet. Et nisi breviáti fuissent dies illi, non fieret salva omnis caro : sed propter electos breviábuntur dies illi. Tunc si quis vobis dixerit : Ecce hic est Christus, aut illic : nolite crédere. Surgent enim pseudochristi et pseudoprophétae, et dabunt signa magna, et prodigia, ita ut in errorem inducántur (si fieri potest) étiam electi. Ecce praedixi vobis. Si ergo dixerint vobis : Ecce in desérto est, nolite exíre ; ecce in penetrálibus, nolite crédere. Sicut enim fulgur exit ab Oriénte, et paret usque in Occidéntem : ita erit et advéntus Filii hóminis. Ubiúmque fúerit corpus, illic congregabúntur et áquilae. Statim autem post tribulatióne mdiérum illorum sol obscurábitur, et luna non dabit lumen suum, et stellae cadent de caelo, et virtútes caelorum commovebúntur : et tunc parébit signum Filii hóminis in caelo : et tunc plangent omnes tribus terrae : et videbunt Filium hóminis veniéntem in núbibus caeli cum virtúte multa, et majestáte. Et mittet Angelos suos cum tuba, et voce magna : et congregábunt eléctos ejus a quátuor ventis, a summis caelorum usque ad términos eorum. Ab árbore autem fici discite parábolam : cum jam ramus ejus tener fúerit, et fólia nata, scitis quia prope est aestas : ita et vos, cum vidéritis haec ómnia, scitote quia prope est in jánuis. Amen dico vobis, quia non praeteribit generatio haec, donec ómnia haec fiant. Caelum et terra transibunt, verba autem mea non praeteribunt. Credo.

Elíam, álíi vero Jeremíam, aut unum ex prophétis. Dicit illis Jesus: Vos autem quem me esse dicitis? Respóndens Simon Petrus, dixit: Tu es Christus, Fílius Dei vivi. Respóndens autem Jesus, dixit ei: Beátus es, Simon Bar Jona: quia caro et sanguis non revelávit tibi, sed Pater meus, qui in caelis est.

Et ego dico tibi, quia tu es Petrus, et super hanc petram aedificábo Ecclésiám meam, et portae inferi non praevalébunt advérsus eam. Et tibi dabo claves regni caelórum. Et quodcúmque ligáveris super terram, erit ligátum et in caelis: et quodcúmque sólveris super terram, erit solútum et in caelis.

IN illo tēpore : Dixit Jesus discipulis suis : Cum audieritis praelia et seditiōnes, nolite terreri : oportet primum haec fieri, sed nondum statim finis. Tunc dicebat illis : Surgent gens contra gentem, et regnum adversus regnum. Et terraemotus magni erunt per loca, et pestilentiæ, et fames, terrorisque de caelo, et signa magna erunt. Sed ante haec omnia injicient vobis manus suas, et persequentur tradentes in synagogas et custodias, trahentes ad reges et praesides propter nomen meum : continget autem vobis in testimonium. Pōnite ergo in cordibus vestris, non praemeditari quemadmodum respondeatis. Ego enim dabo vobis os, et sapientiam, cui non poterunt resistere et contradicere omnes adversarii vestri. Trademini autem a parentibus, et fratribus, et cognatis, et amicis, et morte afficient ex vobis : et eritis odio omnibus propter nomen meum : et capillus de capite vestro non peribit. In patientia vestra possidebitis animas vestras.

IN illo tempore : Dixit Jesus discipulis suis : Vos estis sal terrae. Quod si sal evanuerit, in quo salietur? Ad nihilum valet ultra, nisi ut mittatur foras, et conculcetur ab hominibus. Vos estis lux mundi. Non potest civitas abscondi supra montem posita. Neque accendunt lucernam, et ponunt eam sub modio, sed super candelabrum, ut luceat omnibus, qui in domo sunt. Sic luceat lux vestra coram hominibus, ut videant opera vestra bona, et glorificent Patrem vestrum, qui in caelis est. Nolite putare, quoniam veni solvere legem, aut prophetas : non veni solvere, sed adimplere. Amen quippe dico vobis, donec transeat caelum et terra, iota unum, aut unus apex non praeteribit a lege donec omnia fiant. Qui ergo solverit unum de mandatis istis minimis, et docuerit sic homines, minimus vocabitur in regno caelorum : qui autem fecerit, et docuerit, hic magnus vocabitur in regno caelorum.

Lectio Epistolae beati Pauli Apostoli ad Corinthios. 1. Cor. 7. e.

Fratres : De virginibus praecéptum Dómini non hábeo, consíllium autem do, tamquam miseri-córdiam consecútus a Dómino, ut sim fidélis. Existimo ergo hoc bo-num esse propter instántem neces-sítatem, quóniam bonum est hómini sic esse. Alligátus es uxóri?
noli quaérere solutiónem. Solútus es ab uxóre? noli quaérere uxórem.
Si autem accéperis uxórem, non peccásti. Et si núpserit virgo, non peccávit : tribulatiónem tamen carnis habébunt hujúsmodi. Ego autem vobis parco. Hoc itaque dico, fratres : Tempus breve est : réli-quum est, ut et qui habent uxóres, tamquam non habétes sint : et qui flent, tamquam non flentes : et qui gaudent, tamquam non gau-déntes : et qui emunt, tamquam non possidétes : et qui utántur hoc mundo, tamquam non utántur :

praéterit enim figúra hujus mundi.
Volo autem vos sine sollicitúdine esse. Qui sine uxóre est, solli-cítus est quae Dómini sunt, quómodo pláceat Deo. Qui autem cum uxóre est, solli-cítus est quae sunt mundi, quómo-
do pláceat uxóri, et divisus
est. Et múlier innúpta, et virgo, cógitat quae Dómini sunt : ut sit sancta córpore et spíritu : in Christo Jesu Dómino nostro.

Manum suam aperuit inopi, et palmas suas extendit ad pauperem. Non timebit domus suae a frigoribus nivis : omnes enim domestici ejus vestiti sunt duplicibus. Stragulatam vestem fecit sibi : byssus et purpura indumentum ejus. Nobilis in portis vir ejus, quando

Et ecce vir nómine Zachaéus : et hic princeps erat publicanórum, et ipse dives : et quaerebat vidére Jesum, quis esset : et non póterat prae turba, quia statúra pusillus erat. Et praecúrrens ascendit in árborem sycómorum, ut vidéret eum ; quia inde erat transitúrus. Et cum venisset ad locum, suspiciens Jesus vidit illum, et dixit ad eum : Zachaée, festínans descénde ; quia hódie in domo tua opórtet me manére. Et festínans descendit, et excepit illum gaudens. Et cum vidérent omnes, murmurábant, dicéntes, quod ad hóminem peccatórem divertisset. Stans autem Zachaéus, dixit ad Dóminum : Ecce dimídium bonórum meórum, Dómine, do paupéribus et si quid áliquem defraudávi, red do quádruplum. Ait Jesus ad eum : Quia hódie salus dómui huic facta est : eo quod et ipse fílius sit Abrahae. Venit enim Fílius hómini quaerere, et salvum fácere, quos perierat. Credo.

Et ingressus Angelus ad eam, dixit : Ave grátia plena : Dóminus tecum : benedicta tu in muliéribus. Quae cum audisset, turbáta est in sermó-ne ejus : et cogitábat qualis esset ista salutatio. Et ait Angelus ei : Ne timeas, María, invenisti enim grátiam apud Deum : ecce concíp-ies in útero, et páries filium, et vocábis nomen ejus Jesum. Hic erit magnus, et Fílius Altíssimi vocábitur, et dabit illi Dóminus Deus se-dem David patris ejus : et regnabit in domo Jacob in aetérnum, et regni ejus non erit finis. Dixit autem María ad Angelum : Quómodo fiet istud, quóniam virum non cognó-sco? Et respóndens Angelus, dixit ei : Spíritus Sanctus supervéniet in te, et virtus Altíssimi obumbrábit tibi. Ideóque et quod nascétur ex te Sanctum, vocábitur Fílius Dei. Et ecce Elisabeth cognáta tua, et ipsa concépit filium in senectúte sua : et hic mensis sextus est illi, quae vocá-tur stérilis : quia non erit impossibile apud Deum omne verbum. Dixit autem María : Ecce ancílla Dómini, fiat mihi secúndum verbum tuum.

FRatres : Mulieres viris suis súbditae sint, sicut Dómino : quóniam vir caput est mulieris : sicut Christus caput est Ecclesiae : ipse salvátor corpóris ejus. Sed sicut Ecclesia subiecta est Christo, ita et mulieres viris suis in ómnibus. Viri, dilígite uxóres vestras, sicut et Christus diléxit Ecclesiam, et seípsum trádidit pro ea, ut illam sanctificáret, mundans lavácro aquae in verbo vitae, ut exhibéret ipse sibi gloriósam Ecclesiam, non habentem máculam, aut rugam, aut áliquid hujúsmodi, sed ut sit sancta et immaculáta. Ita et viri debent dilígere uxóres suas ut corpóra sua. Qui suam uxórem dilígít, seípsum dilígít. Nemo enim unquam carnem suam ódio hábuit : sed nutrit et fovet eam, sicut et Christus Ecclesiam, quia membra sumus corpóris ejus, de carne ejus et de óssibus ejus. Propter hoc relínquet homo patrem et matrem suam, et adhaerebit uxori suae, et erunt duo in carne una. Sacramentum hoc magnum est, ego autem dico in Christo et in Ecclesia. Verumtamen et vos singuli, unusquisque uxorem suam sicut seipsum diligit : uxor autem timeat virum suum.

The Proper of the Saints.

Whenever any part of an Office or a Mass is not mentioned as Proper to a Saint, it is taken from the Common.

The Psalms of Sunday are said at Lauds, at the Little Hours, and at Compline on the feasts of Our Lord, of the Blessed Virgin Mary, of the Angels, of St John the Baptist, of St Joseph, of the Apostles and Evangelists, and on every feast which is a Double of the first or second class, but not during the common or simple Octaves of these feasts. At Prime, the Psalms are those indicated for Feasts. At Vespers, if the Psalms are not mentioned in the Proper, they are to be taken from the Common.

On feasts of double major or double minor rite and during Common or simple octaves, the Antiphons and Psalms of the feria are said at Vespers. However, if a double major or double minor feast has Antiphons proper to the feast, these Antiphons are said at Vespers with the psalms proper to them or taken from the Common.

Dominus possedit me in initio via-rum suarum, antequam quidquam faceret a principio. Ab aeterno ordinata sum, et ex antiquis, antequam terra fieret. Nondum erant abyssi et ego jam concepta eram : necdum fontes aquarum eruperant : necdum montes gravi mole constiterant : ante colles ego parturiebar : adhuc terram non fecerat, et flumina, et cardines orbis terrae. Quando praeparabat caelos, aderam : quando certa lege et gyro vallabat abyssos : quando aethera firmabat sursum, et librabat fontes aquarum : quando circumdabat mari terminum suum, et legem po-nebat aquis, ne transirent fines suos ;

quando appendebat fundamenta terrae. Cum eo eram cuncta componens : et delectabar per singulos dies, ludens coram eo omni tempore, ludens in orbe terrarum, et deliciae meae esse cum filiis hominum. Nunc ergo filii, audite me :
Beati qui custodiunt vias meas.
Audite disciplinam, et estote sapientes, et nolite abjicere eam. Beatus homo qui audit me, et qui vigilat ad fores meas quotidie, et observat ad postes ostii mei. Qui me invenit, inveniet vitam, et hauriet

IN diébus illis : Saulus adhuc spi-rans minárum et caedis in discipulos Dómini, accessit ad principem sacerdotum, et pétiit ab eo epístolas in Damáscum ad synagógas, ut si quos invenisset hujus viae viros ac mulieres, vinctos perdúceret in Jerúsalem. Et cum iter fáceret cón-tigit ut appropinquáret Damáscó : et súbito circumfúlsit eum lux de caelo. Et cadens in terram, audívit vocem dicentem sibi : Saule, Saule, quid me perséqueris? Qui dixit :
 Quis es, Dómine? Et ille : Ego sum

Jesus, quem tu perséqueris. Durum est tibi contra stímulum calcitráre.
 Et tremens ac stupens, dixit : Dómine, quid me vis fácere? Et Dómi-nus ad eum : Surge, et ingrédere civitátem, et ibi dicétur tibi quid te opórteat fácere. Viri autem illi, qui comitabántur cum eo, stabant stupefácti, audíentes quidem vocem, néminem autem vidéntes. Surréxit autem Saulus de terra, apertisque óculis nihil vidébat. Ad manus autem illum trahéntes, introduxérunt Damáscum. Et erat ibi tribus diébus non videns, et non manducávit, neque bibit. Erat autem quidam discipulus Damásci, nómine Ananías : et dixit ad illum in visu Dóminus : Ananía. At ille ait : Ecce ego, Dómine. Et Dóminus ad eum : Surge, et vade in vicum qui vocátur Rectus, et quaere in domo Judae Saulum nómine Tarsensem : ecce enim orat. (Et vidit virum, Ananiam nómine, introeúntem et imponéntem sibi manus, ut visum recipiat.) Respondit autem Ananías : Dómine, audivi a multis de viro hoc, quanta mala fécerit sanctis tuis in Jerúsalem; et hic habet potestátem a princípibus sacerdotum alligandi omnes qui invocant nomen tuum. Dixit autem ad eum Dóminus : Vade, quóniam vas electiónis est mihi iste, ut portet nomen meum coram géntibus, et régibus, et filiis Israel. Ego enim ostendam illi, quanta oporteat eum pro nómine meo pati. Et ábiit Ananías, et introiit in domum : et impónens ei manus, dixit : Saule frater, Dóminus misit me Jesus, qui apparuit tibi in via, qua veniebas, ut vídeas, et impleáris Spíritu Sancto. Et confestim ceciderunt ab óculis ejus tamquam squamae, et visum recépit : et surgens baptizátus est. Et cum accepisset cibum, confortátus est. Fuit autem cum discipulis qui erant Damásci, per dies áliquot. Et continuo in synagógis praedicábat Jesum, quóniam hic est Filius Dei. Stupébant autem omnes qui audiébant, et dicébant : Nonne hic est, qui expugnábat in Jerúsalem eos qui invocábant nomen istud : et huc ad hoc venit, ut vinctos illos dúceret ad príncipes sacerdotum? Saulus autem multo magis convalescébat, et confundébat Judaeos qui habitábant Damásci, affirmans quóniam hic est Christus.

Carissimi : Omnis qui non est justus, non est ex Deo, et qui non diligit fratrem suum : quóniam haec est annuntiatio, quam audístis ab infíto, ut diligátis alterutrum. Non sicut Cain, qui ex maligno erat, et occidit fratrem suum. Et propter quid occidit eum? Quóniam ópera ejus maligna erant : fratris autem ejus justa. Nolíte mirári, fratres, si odit vos mundus. Nos scimus, quóniam niam transláti sumus de morte ad vitam, quóniam dilígimus fratres. Qui non diligit, manet in morte : omnis qui odit fratrem suum, homicida est. Et scitis, quóniam omnis homicida non habet vitam aetérnam in semetípso manéntem. In hoc cognóvimus caritátem Dei, quóniam ille ánimam suam pro nobis pósuit : et nos debémus pro frátribus ánimas pónere.

IN diébus illis : Exsúrgens Petrus in médio fratrum, dixit (erat autem turba hóminum simul, fere centum vigínti) : Viri fratres, opórtet impléri Scriptúram, quam praedíxit Spíritus Sanctus per os David de Juda, qui fuit dux eórú qui comprehendérunt Jesum ; qui connumerátus erat in nobis, et sortitus est sortem ministérii hujus. Et hic quidem possédit agrum de mercéde iniquitátis, et suspénsus crépuit médius : et diffúsa sunt ómnia víscera ejus. Et notum factum est ómnibus habitántibus Jerúsalem, ita ut appellaré tur ager ille, lingua eórú, Hacéldama, hoc est, ager ságuinis. Scriptum est enim in libro Psalmórum : Fiat commorató eórú desérta, et non sit qui inhábitet in ea : et episcopátum ejus accípiat alter. Opórtet ergo ex his viris, qui nobíscum sunt congregáti in omni témpore, quo intrávit et exívit inter nos Dóminus Jesus, incípiens a baptísmate Joánnis usque in diem qua assúptus est a nobis, testem resurrectiónis ejus nobíscum fieri unum ex istis. Et statuérunt duos, Joseph qui vocabátur Bársabas, qui cognominátus est Justus, et Matthíam. Et orántes dixérunt : Tu, Dómine, qui corda nosti ómnium, osténde quem elégeris ex his duóbú unum, accípere locum ministérii hujus et apostolátus, de quo praevaricátus est Judas, ut abiret in locum suum. Et dedérunt sortes eis ; et cécidit sors super Matthíam, et annumerátus est cum úndecim Apóstolis.

Amen dico vobis : Quisquis non recēperit regnum Dei velut p̄r̄vulus, non intrābit in illud. Et complēxans eos et impōnens manus super illos, benedicēbat eos. Et cum egrēssus esset in viam, procūrens quidam genu flexo ante eum, rogābat : Ma-

At ille respondens ait illi : Magister, haec omnia observavi a juventute mea. Justus cor suum tradet ad vigilándum dilúculo ad Dóminum qui fecit illum, et in conspéctu Altíssimi deprecábitur. Apériet os suum in oratióne, et pro delictis suis deprecábitur. Si enim Dóminus magnus volúerit, spírítu intelligéntiae replébit illum : et ipse tamquam imbres mittet elóquia sapiéntiae suae, et in oratióne confitébitur Dómino : et ipse diriget consilium ejus et disciplínam, et in absconditis suis consiliábitur. Ipse palam fáciat disciplínam doctrinae suae, et in lege testaménti Dómini gloriábitur. Colaudábunt multi sapiéntiam ejus, et usque in saéculum non delébitur. Non recédet memória ejus, et nomen ejus requirétur a generatióne in generatióne. Sapiéntiam ejus enarrábunt gentes, et laudem ejus enuntiábit ecclésia.

IN illo tēpore : Dixit Jesus discipulis suis : Cum persequētur vos in civitate ista, fugite in aliam. Amen dico vobis, non consummābitis civitates Israel, donec veniat Filius hōminis. Non est discipulus super magistrum, nec servus super dōminum suum. Sūfficit discipulo, ut sit sicut magister ejus : et servo, sicut dōminus ejus. Si patremfamilias Beélzebug vocaverunt, quanto magis domésticos ejus? Ne ergo timueritis eos. Nihil enim est opertum, quod non revelabitur; et occultum, quod non sciētur. Quod dico vobis in tēnebris, dicite in lumine : et quod in aure auditis, praedicāte super tecta. Et nolite timere eos qui occidunt corpus, animam autem non possunt occidere : sed pōtius timete eum qui potest et animam et corpus pērdere in gehēnnam.

Lectio libri Sapientiae. Sap. 10.

Justum deduxit Dominus per vias rectas, et ostendit illi regnum Dei, et dedit illi scientiam sanctorum: honestavit illum in laboribus, et complevit labores illius. In fraude circumvenientium illum affuit illi, et honestum fecit illum. Custodivit illum ab inimicis, et a seductoribus tutavit illum, et certamen forte dedit illi, ut vinceret et sciret quoniam omnium potentior est sapientia. Haec venditum justum non dereliquit, sed a peccatoribus liberavit eum: descenditque cum illo in foveam, et in vinculis non dereliquit illum, donec afferret illi sceptrum regni, et potentiam adversus eos qui eum deprimebant: et mendaces ostendit qui maculaverunt illum, et dedit illi claritatem aeternam. Haec populum justum, et semen sine querela liberavit a nationibus, quae illum deprimebant. Intravit in animam servi Dei, et stetit contra reges horrendos in portentis et signis. Et reddidit justis mercedem laborum suorum.

IN illo témpore : Factum est et in alio sabbato, ut intráret Jesus in synagógam, et docéret. Et erat ibi homo, et manus ejus dextera erat árida. Observábant autem scribae et pharisaéi, si in sabbato curáret : ut invenirent unde accusárent eum. Ipse vero sciébat cogitatiónes eórum. Et ait hómini, qui habébat manum áridam : Surge, et sta in médium. Et surgens stetit. Ait autem ad illos Jesus : Interrogo vos, si licet sabbatis benefácere, an male : ánimam salvam fácere, an pérdere? Et circumspéctis ómnibus dixit hómini : Exténde manum tuam. Et exténdit : et restitúta est manus ejus. Ipsi autem repléti sunt insipiéntia, et colloquebántur ad invicem, quidnam fácerent Jesu.

Lectio Epistolae beati Pauli Apostoli ad Corinthios. 1. Cor. 1.

FRatres : Verbum crucis, pereuntibus quidem stultitia est; iis autem qui salvi fiunt, id est nobis, Dei virtus est. Scriptum est enim : Perdam sapientiam sapientium, et prudentiam prudentium reprobabo. Ubi sapiens? ubi scriba? ubi conquisitor hujus saeculi? Nonne stultum fecit Deus sapientiam hujus mundi? Nam quia in Dei sapientia non cognovit mundus per sapientiam Deum; placuit Deo per stultitiam praedicationis salvos facere credentes. Quoniam et Judaei signa petunt, et Graeci sapientiam quaerunt : nos autem praedicamus Christum crucifixum, Judaeis quidem scandalum, Gentibus autem stultitiam, ipsis autem vocatis Judaeis atque Graecis, Christum Dei virtutem et Dei sapientiam. Quia quod stultum est Dei, sapientius est hominibus; et quod infirmum est Dei, fortius est hominibus. Ex ipso autem vos estis in Christo Jesu, qui factus est nobis sapientia a Deo, et justitia, et sanctificatio, et redemptio.

IN illo tēpore : Dixit Jesus discipulis suis : Nihil opertum est quod non reveletur ; neque absconditum, quod non sciatur. Quoniam quae in tēnebris dixistis, in lumine dicentur, et quod in aurem locuti estis in cubiculis, praedicabitur in tectis. Dico autem vobis amicis meis : Ne terreāmini ab his qui occidunt corpus, et post haec non habent amplius quid faciant. Ostendam autem vobis quem timeatis : Timeate eum, qui postquam occiderit, habet potestatem mittere in gehēnnam ; ita dico vobis, hunc timeate. Nonne quinque passerēs véneunt dipōndio, et unus ex illis non est in oblivione coram Deo ? Sed et capilli capitis vestri omnes numerati sunt. Nolite ergo timere ; multis passeribus pluris estis vos. Dico autem vobis : Omnis quicumque confessus fuerit me coram hominibus, et Filius hominis confitebitur illum coram Angelis Dei.

IN illo tempore : Erat homo ex Pharisaeis, Nicodémus nómine, princeps Judaeórum. Hic venit ad Jesum nocte, et dixit ei : Rabbi, scimus quia a Deo venísti magíster : nemo enim potest haec signa fácere quae tu facis, nisi fúerit Deus cum eo. Respondit Jesus, et dixit ei : Amen, amen, dico tibi, nisi quis renátus fúerit dénuo, non potest vidére regnum Dei. Dicit ad eum Nicodémus : Quómodo potest homo nasci, cum sit senex? Numquid potest in ventrem matris suae iteráto introíre et renáscí? Respondit Jesus : Amen, amen, dico tibi, nisi quis renátus fúerit ex aqua et Spíritu Sancto, non potest introíre in regnum Dei. Quod natum est ex carne, caro est : et quod natum est ex spíritu, spíritus est. Non miréris quia dixi tibi : Opórtet vos nasci dénuo. Spíritus ubi vult spirat, et vocem ejus audis, sed nescis, unde veníat aut quo vadat : sic est omnis qui natus est ex spíritu. Respondit Nicodémus et dixit ei : Quómodo possunt haec fieri? Respondit Jesus et dixit ei : Tu es magíster in Israel, et haec ignóras? Amen, amen, dico tibi, quia, quod scimus, loquimur, et quod vídimus, testámur, et testimónium nostrum non accípitis. Si terrena dixi vobis, et non créditis : quómodo, si díxero vobis caeléstia, credétis? Et nemo ascendit in caelum, nisi qui descendit de caelo, Fílius hóminis, qui est in caelo. Et sicut Móyses exaltávit serpéntem in deserto; ita exaltári opórtet Fílium hóminis, ut omnis qui credit in ipsum, non péreat, sed hábeat vitam aetérnam.

Carissime : Viduas honora, quae vere viduae sunt. Si qua autem vidua filios aut nepotes habet, discat primum domum suam regere, et mutuam vicem reddere parentibus : hoc enim acceptum est coram Deo. Quae autem vere vidua est, et desolata, speret in Deum, et instet obsecrationibus et orationibus, nocte ac die. Nam quae in deliciis est, vivens mortua est. Et hoc praecipe, ut irreprehensibiles sint. Si quis autem suorum, et maxime domesticorum curam non habet, fidem negavit, et est infideli deterior. Vidua eligatur non minus sexaginta annorum, quae fuerit unius viri uxor, in operibus bonis testimonium habens, si filios educavit, si hospitio recepit, si sanctorum pedes lavit, si tribulationem patientibus ministravit, si omne opus bonum subsecuta est.

IN illo tempore : Dixit Jesus discipulis suis : Ecce, ego mitto vos sicut oves in medio luporum. Estote ergo prudentes sicut serpentes, et simplices sicut columbae. Cavete autem ab hominibus. Tradent enim vos in conciliis, et in synagogis suis flagellabunt vos : et ad praesides et ad reges ducemini propter me in testimonium illis et gentibus. Cum autem tradent vos, nolite cogitare, quomodo aut quid loquamini : dabitur enim vobis in illa hora, quid loquamini. Non enim vos estis, qui loquamini, sed Spiritus Patris vestri, qui loquitur in vobis. Tradet autem frater fratrem in mortem, et pater filium : et insurgent filii in parentes, et morte eos afficient : et eritis odio omnibus propter nomen meum : qui autem perseveraverit usque in finem, hic salvus erit. Elisabeth implétum est tempus parié-ndi, et pé-perit filium. Et audiérunt vicini et cognáti ejus, quia magnificávit Dóminus misericórdiam suam cum illa, et congratulabántur ei. Et factum est in die octávo, venérunt circumcidere pú-erum, et vocábant eum nómine patris sui Zacharíam. Et respóndens mater ejus, dixit : Nequáquam, sed vocábitur Joánnes. Et dixerunt ad illam : Quia nemo est in cognatióne tua, qui vocétur hoc nómine. Innuébant autem patri ejus, quem vellet vocári eum. Et póstulans pugillárem, scripsit, dicens : Joánnes est nomen ejus. Et miráti sunt univér-si. Apértum est autem illico os ejus et lingua ejus, et loquebátur benedí-cens Deum. Et factus est timor super omnes vicinos eórum : et super ómnia montána Judaéae divulga-bántur ómnia verba haec : et posué-runt omnes, qui audierant, in corde suo, dicétes : Quis, putas, puer iste erit? Etenim manus Dómini erat cum illo. Et Zacharías, pater ejus, replétus est Spíritu Sancto, et prophétávit, dicens : Benedictus Dóminus, Deus Israel, quia visitávit et fecit redemptiónem plebis suae.

Deus, qui hodiernam diem Apostolorum tuorum Petri et Pauli martyrio consecrasti : † da Ecclesiae tuae, eorum in omnibus sequi praeceptum ; * per quos religionis sumpsit exordium. Per Dominum.

Lectio Actuum Apostolorum. Act. 12.

In diebus illis : Misit Herodes rex manus, ut affligeret quosdam de Ecclesia. Occidit autem Jacobum fratrem Joannis gladio. Videns autem, quia placeret Judaeis, apposuit ut apprehenderet et Petrum. Erant autem dies azymorum. Quem cum apprehendisset, misit in carcerem, tradens quatuor quaternionibus militum custodiendum, volens post Pascha producere eum populo. Et Petrus quidem servabatur in carcere. Oratio autem fiebat sine intermissione ab Ecclesia ad Deum pro eo. Cum autem producturus eum esset Herodes, in ipsa nocte erat Petrus dormiens inter duos milites, vinctus catenis duabus : et custodes ante ostium custodiebant carcerem. Et ecce, Angelus Domini astitit : et lumen refulsit in habitaculo : percussoque lateri Petri, excitavit eum dicens : Surge velociter. Et ceciderunt catenae de manibus ejus. Dixit autem Angelus ad eum : Praecingere, et calcea te caligas tuas. Et fecit sic. Et dixit illi : Circumda tibi vestimentum tuum, et sequere me. Et exiens sequebatur eum, et nesciebat quia verum est, quod fiebat per Angelum : existimabat autem se visum videre. Transeuntes autem primam et secundam custodiam, venerunt ad portam ferream quae ducit ad civitatem : quae ultrò aperta est eis. Et exeuntes processerunt vicum unum : et continuo discessit Angelus ab eo. Et Petrus ad se reversus, dixit : Nunc scio vere, quia misit Dominus Angelum suum, et eripuit me de manu Herodis et de omni expectatione plebis Judaeorum.

At illi dixerunt : Alii Joannem Baptistam, alii autem Elíam, alii vero Jeremíam aut unum ex Prophétis. Dicit illis Jesus : Vos autem quem me esse dicitis? Respondens Simon Petrus, dixit : Tu es Christus, Filius Dei vivi. Respondens autem Jesus, dixit ei : Beátus

Et ego dico tibi, quia tu es Petrus, et super hanc petram aedificábo Ecclésiám meam, et portae inferi non praevalébunt advérsus eam. Et tibi dabo claves regni caelórum. Et cum egrēssus esset in viam, procurrens quidam, genu flexo ante eum, rogābat eum : Magīster bone, quid faciāam, ut vitam aetērnā percipiāam? Jesus autem dixit ei : Quid me dicis bonum? Nemo bonus, nisi unus Deus. Praecēpta nosti : Ne adūlteres, ne occidas, ne furēris, ne falsum testimōnium dixeris, ne fraudem fēceris, honōra patrem tuum et matrem. At ille respondens, ait illi : Magīster, haec ōmnia observāvi a juventūte mea. Surgam, et circuibo civitatem; per vicos et plateas quaeram quem diligit anima mea: quaeivi illum, et non inveni. Invenérunt me vigiles qui custodiunt civitatem. Num quem diligit anima mea vidistis? Paululum cum pertransissem eos, inveni quem diligit anima mea: tenui eum, nec dimittam, donec introducam illum in domum matris meae, et in cubiculum genitricis meae. Adjuro vos, filiae Jérusalem, per capreas cervosque camporum, ne suscitétis, neque

Pone me ut signaculum super cor tuum, ut signaculum super brachium tuum: quia fortis est ut mors dilectio, dura sicut inférnus aemulatio: lampades ejus, lampades ignis atque flammarum. Aquae multae non potuerunt extinguere caritatem, nec flumina obruent illam: si dederit homo omnem substantiam domus suae pro dilectione, quasi nihil despiciet eam.

Videns autem pharisaeus qui vocaverat eum, ait intra se, dicens: Hic, si esset propheta, sciret utique, quae et qualis est mulier quae tangit eum: quia peccatrix est. Et respondens Jesus, dixit ad illum: Simon, habeo tibi aliquid dicere. At ille ait: Magister, dic. Duo debitores erant cuidam foeneratori: unus debebat denarios quingentos, et alius quinquaginta. Non habentibus illis unde redderent, donavit utrisque. Quis ergo eum plus diligit? Respondens Simon, dixit: Aestimo quia is cui plus donavit. At ille dixit ei: Recte judicasti. Et conversus ad mulierem, dixit Simoni: Vides hanc mulierem? Intravi in domum tuam, aquam pedibus meis non dedisti: haec autem lacrimis rigavit pedes meos, et capillis suis tersit. Osculum mihi non dedisti: haec autem, ex quo intravit, non cessavit osculari pedes meos. Oleo caput meum non unxisti: haec autem unguento unxit pedes meos. Propter quod dico tibi: Remittuntur ei peccata multa, quoniam dilexit multum. Cui autem minus dimittitur, minus diligit. Dixit autem ad illam: Remittuntur tibi peccata. In illo tempore : Facta est conventio inter discipulos, quis eorum videretur esse major. Dixit autem eis Jesus : Reges gentium dominantur eorum ; et qui potestatem habent super eos, benefici vocantur. Vos autem non sic : sed qui major est in vobis, fiat sicut minor : et qui praecessor est, sicut ministrator. Nam quis major est, qui recumbit, an qui ministrat ?

Nonne qui recumbit ? Ego autem in medio vestrum sum, sicut qui ministrat. Vos autem estis, qui permansistis mecum in tentationibus meis : et ego dispono vobis, sicut disposuit mihi Pater meus regnum, ut edatis et bibatis super mensam meam in regno meo : et sedeatis super thronos, judicantes duodecim tribus Israel.

sed in manifestatióne veritátis commendántes nosmetípsos ad omnem consciéntiam hóminum coram Deo. Quod si étiam opértum est Evangélium nostrum : in iis, qui péreunt, est opértum : in quibus Deus hujus saéculi excaecávit mentes infidélium, ut non fúlgeat illis illuminatió Evangélii glóri-Christi, qui est imágo Dei. Non enim nosmetípsos praedicámus, sed Jesum Christum Dóminum nostrum : nos autem servos vestros per Jesum : quóniam Deus, qui dixit de ténebris lucem splendé-scere, ipse illúxit in córdibus nostris ad illuminatióem sciéntiae claritátátis Dei, in fácie Christi Jesu.

Omnia enim propter vos : ut grátia abúndans, per multos in gratiárum actiόe, abúndet in glóriam Dei.
Propter quod non deficiamus : sed licet is, qui foris est, noster homo corrumpátur : tamen is, qui intus est, renovátur de die in diem. Id enim, quod in praesénti est momentáneum et leve tribulatióis nostrae, supra modum in sublimitáte aetérnum glóri-ae pondus ope-rátur in nobis, non contemplánti-bus nobis quae vidéntur, sed quae non vidéntur. Quae enim vidéntur, temporáli-ae sunt : quae autem non vidéntur, aetérnae sunt.

IN diébus illis : Stans Paulus in médio Areopági, ait : Viri Athenienses, per ómnia quasi supersticiosiores vos vídeo. Praetériens enim, et videns simulácula vestra, invéni et aram, in qua scriptum erat : Ignóto Deo. Quod ergo ignorantes cólitis, hoc ego annúntio vobis. Deus, qui fecit mundum, et ómnia, quæ in eo sunt, hic caeli et terrae cum sit Dóminus, non in manufáctis templis hábitat, nec manibus humanis cólitur indigens áliquo, cum ipse det ómnibus vitam, et inspiratióem, et ómnia : fecitque ex uno omne genus hóminum inhabitáre super univérsam faciém terrae, definiens statúta témpora, et téminos habitatiónis eórum, quaerere Deum, si forte attréctent eum, aut invéniant, quamvis non longe sit ab unoquóque nostrum. In ipso enim vívimus, et movémur, et sumus : sicut et quidam vestrórum poëtarum dixerunt : Ipsius enim et genus sumus. Genus ergo cum simus Dei, non debémus aestimáre auro, aut argéto, aut lápidi, sculptúrae artis, et cogitatiónis hóminis, Divinum esse simile. Et témpora quidem hujus ignorántiae despiciens Deus, nunc annúntiat homínibus ut omnes ubique poeniténtiam agant, eo quod státuit diem, in quo judicatúrus est orbem in aequitate, in viro, in quo státuit, fidem praebens ómnibus, súscitans eum a mórtuis. Cum audissent autem resurrectiόem mortuórum, quidam quidem irridébant, quidam vero dixerunt : Audiémus te de hoc íterum. Sic Paulus exívit de médio eórum. Quidam vero viri adhaeréntes ei, credidérunt : in quibus et Dionýsius Areopagíta, et múlier nómine Dámaris, et álii cum eis.

Lectio libri Tobiae. Tob. 12.

IN diébus illis : Dixit Angelus Raphaél ad Tobíam : Sacraméntum regis abscondere bonum est : ópera autem Dei reveláre et confitéri honoríficum est. Bona est orátio cum jejúnió, et eleemósyna magis quam thesáuros auri recóndere : quóniam eleemósyna a morte liberat, et ipsa est, quae purgat peccáta, et facit inveníre misericórdiam et vitam aetérnam. Qui autem faciunt peccátum, et iniquitátem, hostes sunt ánimae suae. Manifésto ergo vobis veritátem, et non abscondam a vobis occúltum sermónem. Quando orábas cum lácrimis, et sepeliébas mórtuos, et derelinquebas prándium tuum, et mórtuos abscondébas per diem in domo tua, et nocte sepeliébas eos, ego óbtuli oratiónem tuam Dómino. Et quia accéptus eras Deo, necesse fuit ut tentátio probáret te. Et nunc misit me Dóminus ut curárem te, et Saram uxórem filii tui a daemónio liberárem. Ego enim sum Raphaél Angelus, unus ex septem, qui astámus ante Dóminum.

FRatres : Grátias ágimus Deo Patri, qui dignos nos fecit in partem sortis sanctorum in lumine, qui eripuit nos de potestate tenebrarum, et transtulit in regnum Filii dilectionis suae, in quo habemus redemptionem per sanguinem ejus, remissionem peccatorum : qui est imago Dei invisibilis, primogenitus omnium creaturae; quoniam in ipso condita sunt univēsa in caelis et in terra, visibilia et invisibilia, sive throni, sive dominationes, sive principatus, sive potestates : omnia per ipsum, et in ipso creata sunt, et ipse est ante omnes, et omnia in ipso constant. Et ipse est caput corporis Ecclesiae, qui est principium, primogenitus ex mortuis, ut sit in omnibus ipse primatum tenens; quia in ipso complacuit omnem plenitudinem inhabitare, et per eum reconciliare omnia in ipsum, pacificans per sanguinem crucis ejus, sive quae in terris, sive quae in caelis sunt, in Christo Jesu Domino nostro.

Fratres : Unicuíque nostrum primum in inferiôres partes terrae? data est grátia secúndum mensúram donatiónis Christi. Propter Qui descéndit, ipse est et qui ascéndit super omnes caelos, ut impléret quod dicit : Ascéndens in altum, ómnia. Et ipse dedit quosdam quidem apóstolos, quosdam autem prophétas, álios vero evangelistas, álios autem pastóres et doctóres ad consummationem sanctorum in opus ministerii, in aedificationem corporis Christi; donec occurramus omnes in unitatem fidei, et agnitionis Filii Dei, in virum perfectum, in mensuram aetatis plenitudinis Christi.

In illo tempore : Dixit Jesus discipulis suis : Haec mando vobis, ut diligatis invicem. Si mundus vos odit, scitote quia me priorem vobis odio habuit. Si de mundo fuissetis, mundus, quod suum erat, diligeret : quia vero de mundo non estis, sed ego elegi vos de mundo, propterea odit vos mundus. Mementote sermonis mei, quem ego dixi vobis : Non est servus major domino suo. Si me persecuti sunt, et vos persecuentur : si sermonem meum servaverunt, et vestrum servabunt.

Sed haec omnia facient vobis propter nomen meum : quia nesciunt eum qui misit me. Si non venissem, et locutus fuissetis eis, peccatum non haberent : nunc autem excusationem non habent de peccato suo. Qui me odit, et Patrem meum odit. Si opera non fecissem in eis, quae nemo alius fecit, peccatum non haberent : nunc autem et viderunt, et oderunt et me et Patrem meum. Sed ut adimpleatur sermo qui in lege eorum scriptus est : Quia odio habuerunt me gratis. Credo.

Lesson I.

Job 7, 16-21.

PArce mihi, Dómine; nihil enim sunt dies mei. Quid est homo, quia magnificas eum? aut quid appónis erga eum cor tuum? Vísitas eum dilúculo, et súbito probas illum. Usquequo non parcis mihi, nec dimíttis me, ut glútiam salívam meam? Peccávi, quid fáciam tibi, o custos hóminum? quare posuísti me contrárium tibi, et factus sum mihimetípsi gravis? Cur non tollis peccátum meum, et quare non aufers iniquitátem meam? ecce nunc in púlvere dórmiám : et si mane me quaesíeris, non subsistám.

Lesson II.

Job 14, 1-6.

Homo natus de muliere, brevi vivens tempore, replétur multis misériis. Qui quasi flos egréditur et contéritur, et fugit velut umbra, et numquam in eódem statu pérm-
net. Et dignum ducis super hujus-cémodi aperíre óculos tuos, et addúcere eum tecum in júdicium? Quis potest fácere mundum de immúndo concéptum sémine? Nonne tu, qui solus es? Breves dies hóminis sunt, númerus ménsium ejus apud te est : constituísti términos ejus, quí praeteríri non póterunt.

CURATIO fúneris, condítio sepulchrae, pompa exsequiárum, magis sunt vivórum solátia, quam subsidia mortuórum. Nec ideo tamen contemnéndam et abjiciéndam sunt córpora defunctórum maximéque justórum ac fidélium, quibus tamquam órganis et vasis ad ómnia bona ópera sancte usus est spíritus. Si enim patérna vestis et ánnulus, ac si quid hujúsmodi, tanto cárius est pósteris, quanto erga paréntes

Verum, etsi álqua necéssitas vel humári córpora, vel in sacris locis humári nulla data facultáte permíttat, non sunt praetermitténdae supplicatiónes pro spíritibus mortuórum : quas faciéndas pro ómnibus in christiána

Scio enim quod Redémptor meus vivit, et in novíssimo die de terra resurrecturus sum : et rursus circúmdabor pelle mea, et in carne mea vidébo Deum meum. Quem visúrus sum ego ipse, et óculi mei conspectúri sunt, et non álíus : repósita est haec spes mea in sinu meo.

major afféctus; nullo modo ipsa spernéndam sunt córpora, quae úti-que multo familiárius atque conjúctius quam quaelibet induménta gestámus. Haec enim non ad ornáméntum vel adjutórium, quod adhibétur extrínsecus, sed ad ipsam natúram hóminis pértinent. Unde et antiquórum justórum fúnera officiósam pietáte curáta sunt, et exséquiae celebratae, et sepulchra provisá : ipsique, cum víverent, de sepeliéndis vel étiam transferéndis suis corpóribus fíliis mandavérunt.

Si autem deéssent istae supplicatiónes, quae fiunt recta fide ac pietáte pro mórtuis, puto quod nihil prodésset spíritibus eórum, quámliet in locis sanctis exánima córpora poneréntur.

Lesson VI.

Cap. 18.

QUAE cum ita sint, non existimémus ad mórtuos, pro quibus curam gérimus, pervenire, nisi quod pro eis sive altáris, sive oratiónum, sive eleemosynárum sacrificiis solémniter supplicámus: quamvis non pro quibus fiunt, ómnibus prosint; sed iis tantum pro quibus, dum vivunt, comparátur ut prosint. Sed quia non discérnimus qui sint, opórtet ea pro regenerátis ómnibus fácere, ut nullus eórum praetermittátur, ad quos haec beneficia possint et débeant pervenire. Mélius enim supérerunt ista eis, quibus nec ob-sunt nec prosunt; quam eis déerunt, quibus prosunt. Diligéntius tamen facit haec quisque pro necessariis suis, quo pro illo fiat similiter a suis. Córpori autem humádo quidquid impénditur, non est praesídium salutis, sed humanitátis officium, secúndum afféctum, quo nemo umquam carnem suam ódio habet. Unde opórtet ut quam potest pro carne próximi curam gerat, cum ille inde recésserit, qui gerébat. Et si haec faciunt qui carnis resurrecciónem non credunt, quanto magis debent fácere qui credunt; ut cörperi mórtuo, sed tamen resurrectúro et in aeternitáte mansúro, impénsus ejúsmodi officium sit étiam quodámmodo ejúsdem fidei testimoniúm!

R̄. Ne recordéris. p. 1792.

IN THE THIRD NOCTURN.

Lesson VII.

Cap. 15, 12-22.

De Epístola prima beáti Pauli Apóstoli ad Corínthios.

SI Christus praedicátur quod resurréxit a mórtuis, quómodo quidam dicunt in vobis quóniam resurrecciónis mortuórum non est? Si autem resurrecciónis mortuórum non est, neque Christus resurréxit. Si autem Christus non resurréxit, inánis est ergo praedicatio nostra, inánis est et fides vestra. Invenímur autem et falsi testes Dei: quóniam testimonium díximus advérsus Deum, quod suscitáverit Christum, quem non suscitávit, si mórtui non resúrgunt. Nam, si mórtui non resúrgunt, neque Christus resurréxit. Quod si Christus non resurréxit, vana est fides vestra; adhuc enim estis in peccátis vestris. Ergo et qui dormiérunt in Christo, perierunt. Si in hac vita tantum in Christo sperántes sumus, miserabilióres sumus ómnibus homínibus. Nunc autem Christus resurréxit a mórtuis, primitiae dormiéntium: quóniam quidem per hóminem mors, et per hóminem resurrecciónis mortuórum. Et sicut in Adam omnes moriúntur, ita et in Christo omnes vivificábúntur.

R̄. Peccántem. p. 1797.

Lesson VIII.

Cap. 15, 35-44.

SED dicet aliquis: Quómodo resúrgunt mórtui? qualive corpore vénient? Insípiens, tu quod séminas non vivificátur, nisi prius moriátur. Et quod séminas, non corpus, quod futúrum est, séminas; sed nudum granum, ut puta tritici, aut alicújus ceterórum. Deus autem dat illi corpus sicut vult: et unicuique séminum próprium corpus. Non omnis caro, eadem caro: sed ália quidem homínium, ália vero pécorum, ália volúcrum, ália autem píscium. Et cörpera caeléstia, et cörpera terréstria: sed ália quidem caeléstium glória, ália autem terré-

Lesson IX.

ECce mystérium vobis dico : Omnes quidem resurgémus, sed non omnes immutábitur. In momento, in ictu óculi, in novissima tuba : canet enim tuba, et mórtui resúrgent incorrupti : et nos immutábitur. Cap. 15, 51-58.

est mors in victória. Ubi est, mors, victória tua? ubi est, mors, stimulus tuus? Stímulus autem mortis peccátum est : virtus vero peccáti lex. Deo autem grátias, qui dedit nobis victóriam per Dóminum nostrum Jesum Christum. Itaque, fratres mei dilécti, stábiles estóte et inmóviles : abundántes in ópere Dómini semper, sciéntes quod labor vester non est inánis in Dómino.

Longe fecísti nótos méos a me : * posuérun[t] me abominatióne[m] sibi.

Tráditus sum, et non egrediébar : * óculi méi languérunt prae inópia.

Clamávi ad te, Dómine, tóta die : * expándi ad te mánu[m] méas.

Numquid mórtuis fácies mirabilia : * aut médici suscitábunt, et confitebúntur tibi?

Numquid narrábit áliquis in sepúlcro misericórdiam túam, * et veritátem túam in perditióne?

Numquid cognoscéntur in ténébris mirabilia túa, * et justítia túa in térra obliuiónis?

Et égo ad te, Dómine, clamávi : * et mane oratio méa praevéniet te.

Ut quid, Dómine, repéllis oratióne[m] méam : * avértis faciém túam a me?

Pauper sum égo, et in labóribus a juventúte méa : * exaltátus autem, humiliátus sum et conturbátus.

In me transierunt irae tuae : *
et terrores tui conturbaverunt me.

Circumdedérunt me sicut aqua tota die : * circumdedérunt me simul.

Elongasti a me amicum et próximum : * et notos meos a miséria.

Réquiem aetérnam * dona eis, Dómine.

Et lux perpétua * luceat eis.

Psalm 27.

AD te, Dómine, clamábo, Dées
més, ne sileas a me: † nequán-do táceas a me * et assimilabor descendentibus in lácum.

Exáudi, Dómine, vócem depreca-tiónis meae dum oro ad te : * dum extollo manus meas ad téplum sánctum túum.

Ne simul tráhas me cum peccatóribus : * et cum operántibus ini-quitátem ne pèrdas me :

Qui loquúntur pácem cum próximo suo, * mála autem in córdi-bus eórum.

Da illis secúndum ópera eórum, * et secúndum nequítiam adinventionum ipsórum.

Secúndum ópera mánuum eórum tribue illis : * rédde retributióem eórum ipsis.

Quóniam non intellexérunt ópera Dómini, † et in ópera mánuum ejus : * destrues illos, et non aedi-ficábis eos.

Benedictus Dóminus : * quóniam exaudivit vócem deprecatiós meae.

Dóminus adjutor méus et protéctor méus : * in ipso sperávit cor méum, et adjutus sum.

Et reflóruit cáro méa : * et ex voluntate méa confitébor éi.

Dóminus fortitúdo plébis suae : *
et protéctor salvatiónum Christi súi est.

Sálvum fac pópulum túum, Dómine, et benedic haereditáti tuae : *
et rége eos, et extolle illos usque in aetérnum.

Réquiem aetérnam * dona eis,
Dómine.

Et lux perpétua * luceat eis.

Psalm 31.

BEati quórum remissae sunt iniquitátes : * et quórum técta sunt peccáta.

Beátus vir cui non imputávit Dó-minus peccátum, * nec est in spíritu ejus dólus.

Quóniam tacui, inveteráverunt óssa méa, * dum clamárem tota die.

Quóniam die ac nócte graváta est super me manus tua : * convér-sus sum in aerúmna méa, dum configitur spina.

Delictum méum cógnitum tibi feci : * et injustítiam méam non abseóndi.

Dixi : Confitébor advérsus me injustítiam méam Dómino : * et tu remisísti impietátem peccáti méi.

Pro hac orábit ad te ómnis sánctus, * in témpore opportúno.

Verúmtamen in dilúvio aquárum multárum, * ad eum non approxi-mábunt.

Tu es refúgium méum a tribula-tióné, quae circumdedit me : * ex-sultatio méa, érue me a circumdántibus me.

Intelléctum tibi dábo, et ínstruam te in vía hac qua gradiéris : * fir-mábo super te óculos meos.

Nolíte fieri sicut équus et mólus, *
quibus non est intelléctus.

In cámo et fréno maxillas eórum constringe, * qui non approxímant ad te.

Multa flagélla peccatórís, * sperántem autem in Dómino misericórdia circúmdabit.

Laetámini in Dómino, et exsul-táte, jústi : * et gloriámini, ómnes récti corde.

Réquiem aetérnam * dona eis,
Dómine.

Et lux perpétua * luceat eis.

Psalm 37. I.

Quóniam sagíttae túae infixae |

me mánum túam.

Et lux perpetua * luceat eis.

Psalm 37. II.

AMici mei et proximi mei * adversum me appropinquaverunt et steterunt.

Et qui juxta me erant, de longe steterunt : * et vim faciebant, qui quaerebant animam meam.

Et qui inquirebant mala mihi, locuti sunt vanitates : * et dolos tota die meditabantur.

Ego autem tamquam surdus non audiebam : * et sicut mutus non aperiens os suum.

Et factus sum sicut homo non audiens, * et non habens in ore suo redargutiones.

Quoniam in te, Domine, speravi : * tu exaudies me, Domine Deus meus.

Quia dixi : Nequando supergrediantur mihi inimici mei : * et dum commoventur pedes mei, super me magna locuti sunt.

Quoniam ego in flagella paratus sum : * et dolor meus in conspectu meo semper.

Quoniam iniquitatem meam annuntiabo : * et cogitabo pro peccato meo.

Inimici autem mei vivunt, et confirmati sunt super me : * et multiplicati sunt qui oderunt me inique.

Qui retribuunt mala pro bonis, detrahebant mihi : * quoniam sequer bar bonitatem.

Ne derelinquas me, Domine, Deus meus : * ne discesseris a me.

Intende in adiutorium meum, * Domine Deus salutis meae.

The following is then said kneeling :

℣. Et ne nos inducas in tentationem. ℞. Sed libera nos a malo.

℣. A porta inferi. ℞. Erue, Domine, animas eorum.

Réquiem aeternam * dona eis, Domine.

Psalm 55.

Miserere mei, Deus, quoniam conculcavit me homo : * tota die impugnans tribulavit me.

Conculcaverunt me inimici mei tota die : * quoniam multi bellantes adversum me.

Ab altitudine diei timebo : * ego vero in te sperabo.

In Deo laudabo sermones meos, in Deo speravi : * non timebo quid faciat mihi caro.

Tota die verba mea execrabitur : * adversum me omnes cogitationes eorum in malum.

Inhabitabunt et absecedent : * ipsi calcaneum meum observabunt.

Sicut sustinuerunt animam meam, pro nihilo salvos facies illos : * in ira populos confringes.

Deus, vitam meam annuntiavi tibi : * posuisti lacrimas meas in conspectu tuo.

Sicut et in promissione tua : * tunc convertentur inimici mei retrorsum.

In quacumque die invocavero te : * ecce cognovi quoniam Deus meus es.

In Deo laudabo verbum, † in Domino laudabo sermonem : * in Deo speravi, non timebo quid faciat mihi homo.

The Burial Service.

The Bearing of the Corpse to the church.

The Priest, vested in surplice and black stole, sometimes even in black cope, goes to the house of the deceased, accompanied by the Clergy. He is preceded by the Cross-bearer and an acolyte carrying holy water.

The priest sprinkles the corpse with holy water and intones the antiphon Si iniquitâtes.

Psalm 129.

DE profundis clamavi ad te Dómine : * Dómine exáudi vócem méam.

Fiant áures tuæ intendentes * in vócem deprecationis meae.

Si iniquitâtes observáveris Dómine : * Dómine, quis sustinêbit?

Quia apud te propitiatio est : * et propter légem tuam sustinui te Dómine.

Sustinuit ánima méa in vérbo

The Antiphon is repeated : Si iniquitâtes observáveris Dómine : Dómine, quis sustinêbit?

The corpse is then borne to the church. On leaving the house, the priest solemnly intones the Antiphon :

If it be necessary on account of the distance to the church, the Gradual Psalms are added : Ad Dóminum cum tribulárer, p. 1773, etc., or other psalms are said from the Office of the Dead. At the end of each psalm, the V. Réquiem aetérnam dóna éi Dómine. is said. The chant of the psalms should continue, if possible, until the church is reached.

Whilst entering the church, the Antiphon is repeated :

E Xsultábunt Dómino óssa humili-á-ta.

When the procession has entered, one of the cantors intones the following Responsory, which is continued by two alternate choirs.

The bier is placed in the middle of the church, with the feet of the corpse to the High Altar, if a lay person. If the deceased be a priest, he is placed facing the people. Lighted candles are placed around the bier. If there be no reason for delay, the Office for the Dead is then said, with the Invitatory, the three Nocturns, and Lauds. The Antiphons are doubled.

When funerals take place in the evening, Vespers and Matins are said, or Matins only, or the first Nocturn only.

Vespers for the Dead, p. 1772.

Matins for the Dead, p. 1779.

Lauds for the Dead, p. 1799.

At the end of the Office, after the repetition of the Antiphon of the Benedictus : Ego sum resurrectio, (or, if Lauds are not said, after the Nocturn or Nocturns of Matins,) the following is said. (For the Chant, see p. 1770).

Páter noster. continued in silence.

☩. Et ne nos indúcas in tentatiónem. R̄. Sed libera nos a málo.

☩. A pórtá ínferi. R̄. Erue Dómine ánimam éjus.

☩. Requíescat in páce. R̄. Amen.

According to circumstances, this Prayer is replaced by one of those given on p. 1777-1779.

During Lauds, the Celebrant and his attendants go to the sacristy to vest. If there is no reason for delay, the Mass for the Day of Burial is then said, p. 1807.

The Absolution.

After Mass, the Priest, vested in a black cope, goes to the bier for the ceremony called the Absolution. The Cross-bearer stands at the head of the deceased between two acolytes, bearing lighted candles. The priest stands at the foot of the bier opposite the Cross and recites the following Prayer, which is never altered even if said for a woman or for several deceased.

NON intres in iudicium cum ser- vo tuo Dómine, quia nullus apud te justificábitur homo, nisi per te ómnium peccatórum ei tribuátur	remissio. Non ergo eum, quaesu- mus, tua judiciális senténtia premat, quem tibi vera supplicati6 fidei christiánae comméndat : sed grátia

† The ☩. Requiem aeternam and Requiescat. are not said after the Prayer, if it be followed immediately by Mass or the Absolution.

All the Prayers of the Office for the Dead and at the Absolution are sung recto tono in the first ferial tone, or, if preferred, in the second ferial tone as indicated on p. 99.

Only the Prayers of Mass and of the Office end with the long conclusion; the other Prayers end with the shorter conclusion.

If the burial is to take place now, the procession goes to the cemetery singing the Ant. In paradísum. If the burial is not yet to take place, this Antiphon is sung in the church and is followed by the Ant. Ego sum. p. 1769, the Benedictus, and the remaining prayers which are never omitted.

This Antiphon may be repeated on the way to the cemetery; the Gradual psalms or Psalms from the Office of the Dead may also be sung.

If the grave has not yet been blessed, the Priest blesses it on his arrival by saying the following Prayer :

Orémus.

(When the grave is for one person only, the Prayer is altered as follows : et cujus corpus hic sepelitur, ánimam ejus... laetétur).

The Priest next sprinkles the body and the grave with holy water and incenses them. He then intones the following Antiphon :

THE OFFICE FOR THE DEAD.

*At the Office for the Dead, the Antiphons are doubled whenever the Office is celebrated solemnly. They are also doubled on the day of the burial, on the day following the announcement of the death, on the third, seventh, and thirtieth days after the death, and on the anniversary days (even on such general anniversaries as, for instance, the Anniversary of all the deceased of a religious order or the Anniversary of those who fell in war.) At the end of each psalm, the V̄. Réquiem aeternam * dona eis Dómine. Et lux perpétua * luceat eis is always said, even if the Office be for one person only. The first verse of each psalm is always intoned as indicated, even when the Antiphons are not doubled.*

AT VESPERS.

If Vespers are said on the day of the burial, the Office begins directly by the first Antiphon, after the Responsory Subvenite, or after the Vespers of the day. On all other occasions, Pater and Ave are first said silently.

AT MATINS.

When Matins are said on the day of the burial, the Office begins directly by the Invitatory, after the chant of the Responsory Subvenite. or after Matins and Lauds of the day. On all other occasions, Pater, Ave, and Credo are first said silently.

The Invitatory is said whenever there are three Nocturns, even if the Office be of semi-double rite. It is also said when there is only one Nocturn, if the Office be of double rite. Otherwise it is omitted.

On the day of the Commemoration of all the Faithful departed, the entire Office is said with three Nocturns. On all other occasions, three Nocturns or one Nocturn may be said at choice. If only one Nocturn be said, it varies according to the day of the week. On Sunday, Monday, and Thursday, the first Nocturn is said; on Tuesday and Friday, the second Nocturn; on Wednesday and Saturday, the third. However, if only one Nocturn be said on the day of burial, it is always the first Nocturn.

Lesson I.

Job 7, 16-21.

Parce mihi Dómine : nihil enim sunt dies mei. Quid est homo, quia magnificas eum? aut quid apónis erga eum cor tuum? Visitas eum dilúculo, et súbito probas illum. Usquequo non parcis mihi, nec dimittis me, ut glútiám salivám meam? Peccávi, quid fáciám tibi o custos hóminum? Quare posuísti me contrárium tibi, et factus sum mihimetípsi gravis? Cur non tollis peccátum meum, et quare non aufers iniquitátem meam? Ecce nunc in púlvere dórmíam : et si mane me quaesieris, non subsístam.

At the end of the Lessons, Tu autem. is not said, nor any other conclusion.

Lesson IV.

Job 13, 22-28.

Respónde mihi : quantas hábeo iniquitátes et peccáta, scélera mea et delícta osténde mihi. Cur faciém tuam abscondís, et arbitráris me inimicum tuum? Contra fólium, quod vento rápítur, osténdís poténtiam tuam, et stípulam siccám perséqueris. Scribis enim contra amaritúdines, et consúmere me vis peccátis adolescéntiae meae. Posuísti in nervo pedem meum, et observásti omnes sémitas meas, et vestígia pedum meórum considerásti : qui quasi putrédo consuméndus sum, et quasi vestiméntum, quod coméditur a tinea.

Lesson V.

Job 14, 1-6.

Homo, natus de muliere, brevi vivens témpore, replétur multis misériis. Qui quasi flos egréditur et contéritur, et fugit velut umbra, et numquam in eódem statu pémanet. Et dignum ducis super hujuscémodi aperire óculos tuos, et addúcere eum tecum in iudícium? Quis potest fácere mundum de im- múnido concéptum sémine? Nonne tu, qui solus es? Breves dies hóminis sunt, número ménsium ejus apud te est : constituísti términos ejus, qui praeteriri non póterunt. Lesson VII.

Job. 17, 1-3 and 11-15.

Spiritus meus attenuabitur, dies mei breviabuntur, et solum mihi superest sepulcrum. Non peccavi, et in amaritudinibus moratur oculus meus. Libera me Domine, et pone me juxta te, et cujusvis manus pugnet contra me. Dies mei transierunt, cogitationes meae dissipatae sunt, torquentes cor meum.

Noctem vertérunt in diem, et rursum post ténebras spero lucem. Si sustinéro, inférnus domus mea est, et in ténebris stravi léctulum meum. Putrédini dixi : Pater meus es, mater mea, et soror mea, vermis. Ubi est ergo nunc praestolatio mea, et patientiam meam quis considerat?

MASSES FOR THE DEAD.

¶ On All Souls' day Nov. 2, every priest may celebrate three Masses. The first Mass is that given below, which is the Mass specially assigned to this day. This is the only Mass which may be sung. The second Mass is that of the Anniversary day, 1816; but in the Collect the words quorum anniversarium depositiónis diem commemorámus are omitted. The third is the Daily Mass for the Dead. p. 1817, with only one Collect Deus véniae largitor. In this Collect the words nostrae congregatiónis fratres, propínquos et benefactóres, qui... are replaced by ánimas famulórum famularúmque tuárum, quae... The Sequence is said at the three Masses.

Collect.

FIdélium Deus ómnium Cónditor et Redemptor, animábus famulórum famularúmque tuárum remissionem cunctórum tríbe peccatórum : ut indulgéntiam, quam semper optavérunt, piis supplicatióibus consequántur : Qui vivis et regnas cum Deo Patre, in unitáte Spiritus Sancti, Deus.

Lectio Epistolae beati Pauli Apostoli ad Corinthios. 1. Cor. 15. g.

FRatres : Ecce mystérium vobis dico : Omnes quidem resurgemus, sed non omnes immutábitur. In momento, in ictu óculi, in novissima tuba : canet enim tuba, et mórtui resúrgent incorrupti : et nos immutábitur. Opórtet enim corruptibile hoc indúere incorruptiónem ; et mortále hoc indúere immortalitátem. Cum autem mortále hoc in-dúerit immortalitátem, tunc fiet sermo qui scriptus est : Absórpta est mors in victória. Ubi est mors victória tua? ubi est mors stímulus tuus? Stímulus autem mortis peccátum est : virtus vero peccáti lex. Deo autem grátias, qui dedit nobis victóriam per Dóminum nostrum Jesum Christum.

† Sequentia sancti Evangelii secundum Joannem. Joann. 5. d.

IN illo témpore : Dixit Jesus turbis Judaeórum : Amen, amen dico vobis, quia venit hora, et nunc est, quando mórtui audient vocem Filii Dei : et qui audierint, vivent. Sicut enim Pater habet vitam in semet-ípsa, sic dedit et Fílio habere vitam in semetípso : et potestátem dedit ei iudicium facere, quia filius hóminis est. Nolite mirári hoc, quia venit hora, in qua omnes, qui in monu-méntis sunt, áudient vocem Fílii Dei : et procedent, qui bona fecerunt, in resurrectionem vitæ : qui vero mala egérunt, in resurrectionem iudicii.

FRatres : Nólumus vos ignoráre de dormiéntibus, ut non contristémini, sicut et céteri, qui spem non habent. Si enim crédimus quod Jesus mórtuus est et resurréxit ; ita et Deus eos qui dormiérunt per Jesum, addúcet cum eo. APPENDIX II

Prayers for the Forty Hours

At the Exposition of the Blessed Sacrament :

After Mass, the Celebrant, at the sedilia, having taken off the chasuble and maniple and put on a cope, puts incense into two thuribles, giving no blessing.

Kneeling on the lowest step of the altar, he incenses the Blessed Sacrament. Then he receives the humeral veil.

The Procession follows, while Pánge, lingua is sung. p. 957.

After the Procession, the Deacon places the Blessed Sacrament on the throne, the Celebrant meanwhile putting off the humeral veil. Tántum ergo Sacraméntum is then sung; at Genitóri the Blessed Sacrament is incensed in the usual way.

When Tántum ergo is ended, Pánem de caélo etc. is not said, but the Cantors at once begin the Litany of the Saints, p. 1882.

On the day of Deposition :

After Mass, the Celebrant, at the sedilia, takes off chasuble and maniple, and puts on a cope. The Ministers lay aside their maniples; and all return to the altar.

The Litany of the Saints is sung, and the following prayer as far as the Ÿ. Dómine, exáudi orationem méam inclusive.

The Celebrant stands and puts incense into two thuribles, giving no blessing. He incenses the Blessed Sacrament, and receives the humeral veil.

The Procession follows while Pánge, lingua is sung, p. 957.

After the Procession the Blessed Sacrament is placed on the altar, and Tántum ergo is sung. At Genitóri the Celebrant puts incense into a thurible, and incenses the Blessed Sacrament.

At the end of Tántum ergo there follows Pánem de caélo etc. The Celebrant stands, and (omitting Dóminus vobiscum) sings all the prescribed prayers. Afterwards he again kneels down and sings the Ÿ. Dómine exáudi etc. The Cantors sing Exáudiat nos etc., and the Celebrant adds Fidélium ánimae etc. on a lower note.

Finally the Celebrant receives the humeral veil and gives Benediction in the usual way.

Lectio libri Sapientiae. Sap. 8.

Proposui sapientiam adducere mihi ad convivendum; sciens, quoniam mecum communicabit de bonis, et erit allocutio cogitationis et taedii mei. Habébo, propter hanc, claritatem ad turbas, et honorem apud seniores juvenis: et acutus inveniar in iudicio, et in conspectu potentium admirabilis ero, et facies principum mirabuntur me. Tacentem me sustinebunt, et loquentem me respicient, et sermonante me plura, manus ori suo imponent. Praeterea habébo, per hanc, immortalitatem; et memoriam aeternam his, qui post me futuri sunt, relinquam. Dispónam populos, et nationes mihi erunt subditae. Timebunt me audientes reges horrendi. In multitudinem videbor bonus, et in bello fortis.

Et accepto calice, gratias egit, et dixit: Accipite et dividite inter vos. Dico enim vobis quod non bibam de generatione vitis, donec regnum Dei veniat. Et accepto pane, gratias egit, et fregit, et dedit eis, dicens: Hoc est corpus meum, quod pro vobis datur: hoc facite in meam commemorationem.  argēto et absque ulla commuta-

 comedite bonum, et delectabitur

 Inclinate aurem vestram, et venite ad me : audite, et vivet invocate eum dum prope est.

 Derelinquat impius viam suam

IN illo tēpore : Dixit Jesus discipulis suis : Ego sum vitis vera : et Pater meus agricola est. Omnem pālmitem in me non ferentem fructum, tollet eum : et omnem, qui fert fructum, purgābit eum, ut fructum plus āfferat. Jam vos mundi estis propter sermōnem, quem locūtus sum vobis. Manēte in me : et ego in vobis. Sicut palmes non potest ferre fructum a semetipso, nisi mānserit in vite; sic nec vos, nisi in me manseritis. Ego sum vitis, vos pālmities : qui manet in me, et ego in eo, hic fert fructum multum : quia sine me nihil potēstis fācere. Si quis in me non mānserit : mittētur foras sicut palmes, et arēscet, et colligent eum, et in ignem mittent, et ardet. Si manseritis in me, et verba mea in vobis manserint : quodcūque volueritis, petētis, et fiet vobis. In hoc clarificātus est Pater meus, ut fructum plūrimum afferātis, et efficiāmini mei discipuli. Sicut dilēxit me Pater, et ego dilēxi vos. Manēte in dilectione mea. Si praecepta mea servaveritis, manēbitis in dilectione mea, sicut et ego Patris mei praecepta servāvi, et māneo in ejus dilectione. Haec locūtus sum vobis : ut gāudium meum in vobis sit, et gāudium vestrum impleatur. Hoc est praeceptum meum ut diligātis invicem, sicut dilēxi vos.

Lectio Epistolae beati Pauli Apostoli ad Thessalonicenses
1 Thess. 2, 2-9

Fratres : Fidúciam habúimus in Deo nostro loqui ad vos Evangélium Dei in multa sollicitú-dine. Exhortátio enim nostra non de erróre, neque de immun-dítia, neque in dolo, sed sicut probáti sumus a Deo, ut cre-déretur nobis Evangélium : ita lóquimur non quasi homínibus placéntes, sed Deo qui probat corda nostra. Neque enim ali-quándo fúimus in sermóne adula-tiónis, sicut scitis : neque in occasióne avarítiae : Deus testis est : nec quaeréntes ab homínibus glóriam, neque a vobis, neque ab áliis. Cum possémus vobis óneri esse ut Christi Apóstoli : sed facti sumus párvuli in médio vestrum, tamquam si nutrix fóveat filios suos. Ita deside-rántes vos, cúpide volebámus trádere vobis non solum Evan-gélium Dei, sed étiam ánimas nostras : quóniam caríssimi nobis facti estis. Mémoires enim estis, fratres, labóris nostri, et fatiga-tiónis : nocte ac die operántes, ne quem vestrum gravarémus, prae-dicávimus in vobis Evangélium Dei.

Videns autem turbas, misértus est eis : quia erant vexáti, et jacéntes sicut oves non habéntes pastórem. Tunc dicit discípulis suis : Messis quidem multa, operárii autem pauci. Lectio libri Apocalypsis beati Joannis Apostoli.

Apoc. 12, 1, 5, 14 and 15-16.

Signum magnum apparuit in caelo: Mulier amicta sole, et luna sub pedibus ejus, et in capite ejus corona stellarum duodecim. Et peperit filium masculinum, qui recturus erat omnes gentes in virga ferrea: et raptus est filius ejus ad Deum, et ad thronum ejus. Et datae sunt mulieri alae duae aquilae magnae ut volaret in desertum in locum suum. Et misit serpens ex ore suo post mulierem, aquam tantamquam flumen, ut eam faceret trahi a flumine. Et adjuvit terra mulierem, et aperuit terra os suum, et absorbit flumen, quod misit draco de ore suo.
